City Defeats Rider, 13-0; Fabro, Plesent Star

By Marjell Lestig

It took a pair of brilliant defensive maneuvers by an alert City Defense team to set up two touchdowns and give the Beavers a 13-0 victory over Rider College under the lights at Reese Field. About 5,000 spectators were on hand Saturday night to see the Beaver dominate the play and gain their quarterback sneak behind leg from Welcomes carried to the 15 for a first down. Kaufman and Stan Pfeifer alternated for another first down on the five and Pfeifer took the snap and set up the play with a two-down conversion attempt was blocked.

City had a scoring opportunity against Rider's 25, but Rider managed to stop City's running attack. The Beavers had a close chance to score, but were stopped on a short pass from Pfeifer.

Offense Hures Rider

The Beavers had their best scoring opportunity shortly after waivers had been called, after the Riders had a scoreless first quarter. City used the T-formation spearheaded by Junior Keys and Danny Hackett. The Riders' line plunged from the original point of attack. The Riders showed an advantage in their defensive line, but were unable to stop the Beavers' running attack. The Riders scored on a short pass from keys.

Funding 25 pennies of relief workers abroad, a report on the situation in Palestine and the Caribbean has been released by the British government. The report, "The Economic and Social Situation in Palestine and the Caribbean," is a comprehensive overview of the region's political, economic, and social conditions.

The report highlights the challenges faced by the Palestinian people, including the ongoing conflict with Israel, the impact of the Oslo peace accords, and the struggle for self-determination.

It also examines the economic situation in the region, noting the importance of development and the need for investment in education, infrastructure, and social services.

The report concludes with recommendations for international action, emphasizing the importance of continued support for the Palestinian people and the need for a just and lasting peace in the region.

Committee Investigates
Army Hall Bias Charge

Charges of segregation in assigning rooms at Army Hall will be investigated this week by a special 12-member faculty-student committee which has been set up by Dean John J. Theobald.

Affidavits have been filed substantiating the charges, it was stated in a preliminary meeting held before the Main Center-Day Student Council. Students reported that they had written for rooms and received the keys through the mail, only to find the rooms not in the Hall. However, rooms were changed in accordance with the complaint, it was stated.

As a preliminary meeting held before the Main Center-Day Student Council and the Main Center-Day Staff, the committee will be named this week. The full committee will be named next week.

While not admitting the existence of any prejudice, Dean Theobald announced a strict policy in the future for room assignments.

The burden of proof of discrimination is on the representatives of the Douglass Society and will be considerable. The special committee to be appointed by the Student Council will consist of three representatives of Council, four members of the Frederick Douglass Student Society, three faculty members and two students, who, because of previous interest in the case, have already conducted some investigations. With the exception of the latter delegates, the full committee will be named this week.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Jack J. VanVranken, who has just completed a study on conditions at Army Hall for the Committee on Student-Teacher Personnel, will meet next week.

The council also petitioned Dean Theobald to hold open meetings during the investigation of the case.

Education, Exams, Given Tomorrow

All student preparing for teaching and all candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education who have not already passed the qualification examination in written English should take the test tomorrow, 12-2 in K. Applications for this examination must be filed today with the Committee on Student-Teacher Personnel. Arrangements for conferences between the committee and the examiners will be made by applying to the Office of the Committee in 1109.

Evening Session Student Council committee will be named this week. The full committee will be named next week.

Of the latter delegates, the full committee unanimously approved the appointment of members to the investigating group.

You probably know a number of men in your class who were pilots in the wartime Air Force. They are the best advertisements for the Aviation Cadet program. Talk with them about it.

Chances are, they'll tell you their service as pilots was one of the most interesting and exciting phases of their lives. Fast action, comradeship, and the chance to serve their country make the dividends they don't forget. Added something to their stature and poise that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else.

Cadet life today is different. As a potential pilot for the U. S. Air Force, you serve a time of equal importance to the nation. Freedom, responsibility, the chance to use your own initiative are all yours.

The training you get is the finest your government can provide—$35,000 worth for every Cadet.

You're taught by skilled instructors, fly the best airplanes. Your living facilities are the best. Learning to fly today opens profitable fields to you in aviation— which is expanding more rapidly than at any other time in history.

Pilot training is open, now, to single men, 20 to 26 years old, who have completed at least one year of high school. Applications are now being accepted to the Air Force Pre-Pilot Training Station.

The announcement by Dr. R. I. Field of plans to form a new chapter at Steel, which, it is hoped, will be affiliated with Beta Alpha Psi, the national business and professional accounting fraternity.

The chapter will originate with these students who have enrolled in accounting.

Sex is no restriction as to membership in the Accounting Society. The provisions for membership in the new fraternity require at least a B average in accounting studies, and a general scholastic average of C.

Dr. Field, the only staff member who is a member of Beta Alpha Psi, has expressed the hopes that it will succeed and grow to be a chapter in the University of Illinois.

The chapter was organized at the U. of Illinois in 1919. There are now chapters at 21 colleges and universities.
