City, Staggmen Battle to 9-9 in Grid Opener

By Marty Dedwiler

Way back in 1947 Dr. Harold Parker thought that he had coached his last thriller team to victory in a track meet. Saturday night it looked as if Parker would once again taste triumph. For two periods the eleventh completely out played Susquehanna. Then at the start of the second half the invaders found their stride and began to collapse, the backfield developed a case of "better-finished game" and Susquehanna tied it 9-9 in the season's opener.

Combining the kickoff formation with the "I-7" the Lavender made a spectacular effort. Two beautiful kicks by quarterback Frank Moran put Susquehanna against the wall. After Murray Berkey of the Boston Terriers had hooked up to the 4-yard line then attacked stalled, and on fourth down, suicider Sam Newman dropped from the wing to the 33-yard line and kicked a goal.

City's line, led by Harry Weber and himself, held the Susquehanna ground attack cold, cold. For the entire period the Lavender took over on the Staggmen's 21-yard line. They made a first down, and Newman rifled a beautiful pass to the City 9-9 yard at half time.

The second was a gem of a touchdown. As we have been predicting the CONY Centennial Celebration: perhaps it was in the air. Paulie Weber, Leo Wagner, Gooch Grantham, and Carl Slabaugh suddenly the Staggmen found themselves in a 9-9 tie. The line put up a staunch defense, then converted into a touchdown. Later Don Zebrowski also threw a touchdown pass from the Granada.

Continental Committee Plans For Semester

Entering the second year of their three-year term, the Continental Committee of the Centennial Fund met recently to prepare their activities for this semester. Larry Shzok, chairman, placed in the hands of financial editors and Irwin Roll was chosen to head the publicity of the committee.

The committee is asking for volunteers to aid in committee work and aid in soliciting contributions. Committees working with the financial committee will be the subject of many other news stories.

The proposed budget stated by a member of the Continental Committee last Thursday, the 16th, was adopted by the Board of Higher Education.

Bill To Ban Subversives Pending Before BHE

At a meeting of the Board of Higher Education last week, the Schults Amendment which would empower the board to determine "disloyal" campus organizations and drive them from the city colleges was referred for further review to the Board's Committee on Legislation and By-Laws.

Spring by Henry B. Schults, board member, but the summer comes and goes. The Board of Higher Education, normally, do not meet on Mondays. The by-law committee is due to report its decision the third Monday of this month.

If the bill is adopted it will be put up for action by a majority of the board. The report of the committee to the bill is expected to become intense in the next few weeks. Opponents charge that the board's final meeting last

Ticker's Staff Elects Editors

In the regular elections for the spring semester, Thursday, the staff chose the new editors for the present semester. Henry Brief, who is also editor-in-chief, was re-elected to the position of Managing Editor. Also, Elly Lewitz retained their positions as Sports and Technical Editors.

Henry Brief, who is also editor-in-chief of the Ticker, will be the News Editor, and Marty Frischberg will be the poet.

Irwin Bankhead, who served as editor-in-chief last year, will serve as Features Editor, as has been his usual practice. As the term of the school year ends, the Ticker will end its term.

Your American high school was once a bastion of old-fashioned education. It was designed to prepare students for the rigors of college, to instill in them a sense of discipline and respect for authority. But today, the American high school is a far cry from what it used to be. The curriculum is watered down, the teaching methods are outdated, and the students are more concerned with social media than with learning. This is not to say that American high schools are not effective, but they are certainly different from what they used to be.

The Second Century

The Second Hundred Years have begun. The City College, in fact, is beginning to celebrate its centennial. This year, the college will host a series of events and activities to commemorate this important milestone. The college has come a long way since its founding in 1913, and it continues to be an important institution in the city and beyond.

City is no more than a glorified high school because they make it so.

I immediately realized the aim, the purpose of the Schutt—raeudn—to continue to broaden the scope of the City College. The Second Hundred Years have begun—In much the same manner as the United States. The study grant program opportunities for study were curv...
