Beat NYU Rally In PET; SC Asks Return of Players

By Ira Bernstein

Student Council recommended the reinstatement of Ed Roman, Al Roth and Ed Warner in the fall semester, by an 11-10 vote with three abstentions. Letters conveying Council's stand, taken Friday, will be forwarded to the Board of Higher Education President, David M. Wright and the faculty.

Along with the letters urging reinstatement, SC will include the reasons for the recent negative and affirmative votes. Whereas the vote was very close, several of those voting against reinstatement said that they did so because they were against action until after the trial. Some said that they were not necessarily opposed to the players return, but preferred to wait for further developments.

During the meeting, which lasted until 1 AM, they asked the Board of Estimate to include in the city budget funds for all our athletic groups and activities. This request was passed unanimously.

Council voted to set up its own mimeographed newspaper to help publicize its meetings and activities. Ralph Rehmet was elected to act as Ticker's representative to the Associated Student Council. The TICKER governing board was formed to serve as the students' official newspaper. The elections will be held today outside the Department of Student Life, 511.

Theatre Tix

Tickets for 'Theatre's spring production, "Detective Story,"' to be presented in Pauline Edwards Theater March 16 and 17, are now on sale on the ninth floor.

Tickets are selling at $7.90 and $12.20 for balcony, mezzanine and orchestra respectively. They are being sold on a first come, first served basis.

Songsters Now Receive Credit

Students who are in the Gramercy Chorus will receive credit for each semester they are in the chorus retroactive to last semester, announced Professor Walter Brandt, director.

Thursday is the last day when students may join. Students may still receive credit for this semester if they register by Thursday.

The course was reorganized last semester by Professor Walter Brandt, faculty advisor, who now elects their own officers and regular attendance is taken.

The group meets on Thursday between 12:30 and 2 in 4S. Students do not have to be good singers in order to join. Alts and tenors are particularly needed.

Live CCNY' is Theme of Activities Fair; Females, Club Booths to Vie for Awards

"Live CCNY" will be the theme of the semi-annual Activities Fair to be held Thursday and Friday from 10-3 in Lounges A, B and C. The Fair is a primary means for students to get acquainted with the various organizations on campus and club social activities.

The theme is based on the idea that students should make the most of the Fair and get to know each other by joining as many activities as possible.

Featured at the Fair will be the "Queen of the Fair" contest and the presentation of an award for the best booth. Any prospective "Queen" may have her photograph taken at the Camera Club booth, Henry Lowenthal, Mel Linn and Eleanor Nissen will judge the best booth.

Besides having their picture appear in the metropolitan newspapers, the Queen will receive an 8 by 10 framed portrait and a personal gift. She will be selected from five finalists on the Thursday following the Fair in Lounge C. The selection will be based on poise, charm and intelligence as well as on beauty.

A scroll will be awarded to the club having the most attractive booth, and to the Retailing Society, which was last semester's winner.

The freshmen will be brought to the Fair from Freshman Chapel Friday in order to introduce them to some of the student organizations.

In commenting on the seventh Activities Fair, Bill Schacther, its chairman, said, "It is a new opportunity to the students to compare over 30 of the organizations existing in the School. The students can enrich their lives at the College by joining the proper student groups."

"Not only do the students have a chance to make a wise choice, but the clubs have an opportunity to build up their respective organizations," said Al Ryan, chairman of Inter-Club Board, which is sponsoring the Fair.
DRAFT BRINGS WORRIES TO ALL KINDS OF FEMALES

In reference to remarks made in last week's column concerning the benefits to be derived from the introduction of athletic scholarships in the various scholastic institutions of the city, we wish to present the view that the granting of such scholarships would have a detrimental effect on the scholastic and athletic standards of the institution. If an institution were to introduce athletic scholarships, it cannot be gainsaid that the students who are granted such scholarships would be the cream of the student body, and the competition among the students for such scholarships would be keen. However, it must be realized that the admission of such students to the institution would not automatically mean that they would be the best students in the institution, but rather that they would be the best students in the institution who were willing to compete for such scholarships. The introduction of athletic scholarships would, therefore, be a dangerous precedent, as it would encourage the admission of students who are not qualified for the institution.

City to Face Jaspers In Annual Cage Feud

By Marvin Hochreiser and Ralph Kelemen

Two schools scandalized by basketball canons recently had a bad place in the mythical Subway Conference when City College and Manhattan renew their annual rivalry at Madison Square Garden, Thursday night.

Victories must be scored by either team involved in the series of bride scandals was not hurt by the revelation because it involved last year's players. City on the other hand has lost the services of Ed Roman, Ed Warner and Al Roeh.

Both of the teams feature wins over St. Francis and Brooklyn aside losses to St. John's and Fordham. However, the Kelly Greens have beaten one more local rival, NYU.

Led by 6'4' Junius Kellogg, the team's high scorer with 276 points, the Jaspers have compiled an overall record of 16-6 for the campaign. Kellogg, the big center who was recently honored in the DePaul game, is the tallest player ever to perform at the college. He started slow and is steadily improving. He is only a soph.

The Jaspers have had their way of big men to throw at the Beavers. At one of the forward posts is the 6'6' Dan Wills, who was relegated to the bench until the DePaul game when he was rushed into action to replace Kellogg who was too nervous to be of any use to the team because of his first game experience. That night Junius threw in all of the seven shots he took, but one of the most amazing performances of the season.

The J-A-S-E-R-S

The others that will probably start are Andy McCormack, 6-1, at the forward posts and long range shot; 6-4 and Fred Schwartz, 6-4, at the center. The Jaspers started for the first time last year. Lewis is a 6'3' ball worker with the grippe.

In the preliminary to the varsity fencers, the freash met St. John's, lost, 65-61 defeat. However, they were 20 points behind with only fourteen minutes left when they put on a spurt and came within striking distance.

Leopards Defeat Wrestlers; Saporas's Condition Better

By Morton Weinstein

Continuing undefeated in two years of wrestling, Jerry Steinberg and Tom Woods nevertheless could not again City to triumph over Lafayette in their match at Easton, Pa. Failing to emulate their triumph brothers, the Beaver matmen lost to meet by a score of 15-10.

Tommy Woods began the afternoon's activities by taking a decision in the 125 lb. match. He then wrestled in the 133 lb. match, 147, 227 and unlimited class, respectively.

In the 137 lb. contest, Joe Cottral wrestled a draw with his Leopard adversary, Bob Cohen. Both went the 137 lb. match in the only pin suffered by City in the afternoon.

Due to his illness, Coach Joe Saporas was again unable to attend the wrestling match. However, he is recovering, and left the hospital last week to recuperate at his home in Jersey City. In the meantime, the team is being handled by Bill Laughlin, a member of this year's team who worked toward eligibility in order to participate with the team coach.

Fencers Bow To Kaydets; Finish Against Yale, NYU

Regular competition ends this week for the City College fencing team, which began priming themselves for the 33rd Annual Championship of the ILA, which will be held at Wellesley, Mass. and Harvard.

The Beavers welcome the Yale University fencing team, which will host to New York University Saturday, Saturday.

Three schools must be scored by the Beavers in both contests this week if better than a 500 record is to be set. City will play fencers. It is their last home of Lavender where their next meet is scheduled to host to New York University Saturday.

The disappointing record this season is largely accounted for by the rebuffing of the Beaver line-up caused by Irvin Ackerman's enlistment in the Navy.

Tix Sale

Those who have bought nacon- tories for Thursday's match will not be able to exchange them at the Garden. The night of the game for seats will be shown at the box office. The price of each game, to be played Tuesday night, will go on sale Thursday afternoon at the Garden office. The sale will run as usual.
