Students Vote Tomorrow; Put Referendums on Ballot

Student Aide Pay Question To Be Decided on Ballot

The second referendum on the election ballot Tuesday will read: "Because of the severe budget cuts for student aides, resolved that unappropriated fees monies be used to pay for student aides in the central treasurer's office for the current semester."

Unappropriated fees monies from which these salaries would be paid come from available late receipts and other miscellaneous sources. It is claimed that the appropriation would have no effect on the normal budgetary allotments of fees to extra-curricular activities. A "yes" vote would mean that the central treasurer's office would be abolished.

Functioning as the financial and social counselor and banker for all student organizations at the College, the central treasurer also keeps a complete set of financial records for all classes. The candidates for the office run on " get their hands on the money" slogan. The hands of the central treasurer's office are "the only hands you would want to work with," according to the candidates.

At the present time, if the fee is not appropriated, certain groups at the College would be unable to work their budgets through the treasurer's office. The elimination of the student aide offices would necessitate a cut in the services of the office and would cripple the whole extra-curricular program," stated Harry Mial, central treasurer, Downtown.

The proposal is for a "yes" and an "no" vote. If the proposal is passed, the salaries and disbursements passed through the hands of the central treasurer's office. Under the new budget cut, all student assistants would be eliminated. The money for salaries of student aides for the current semester is being paid out of unappropriated fees. This was authorized by the Fees Committee as a temporary measure.

Little Interest In Elections?

In last semester's election issue, the following statement was made: "Revealing a lack of interest in student political affairs, several classes have no candidates running for certain posts." The situation has not improved this term. Candidates are running unopposed for 10 class offices. The class of Upper '53 is a particular victim, with three classes running for only the presidential and vice presidential posts. Only one candidate has run for any of the 10 class offices, and only one student is running for any of the presidential races while the vice president's office is uncontested in 3 classes.

The following arguments were given in favor of NSA:

1. The accomplishments of NSA have been nil and not worthy of membership.
2. NSA has cost the College over one thousand dollars for the last two years, at the rate of $628 a year.
3. NSA discusses issues of political and international vein which have no direct effect upon student welfare.

The United States National Student Association is an organization of college student bodies, represented through their student government. It was created to serve the need for a representation of college students, an organization designed to serve the American student community, and to promote student interests and welfare.

The following arguments were given in favor of NSA:

1. NSA functions as a clearing house for information, a forum for debate, and a search directed towards the establishment, strengthening and development of student government.

The following arguments were given against NSA:

1. NSA has cost the College over one thousand dollars for the last two years, at the rate of $628 a year.
2. NSA discusses issues of political and international vein which have no direct effect upon students. Their discussion, "Should We Drop the Atomic Bomb in Case of War," is an example of this.

Council, Class Vote Methods

Tomorrow, starting at 10 o'clock classes will be held for Student Council and class officers. Members of the election committee will take ballots to 10 o'clock classes, and the majority rule in the student body, who will be allowed to vote.

All students who do not have 10 o'clock classes will be allowed to cast their ballots at a booth which will be set up on the third floor of the Administration building. The booth will be open from 11-4. Students who will only have 10 o'clock classes will cast a vote for Student Council Executive officers and candidates for their particular class.

BARB DUNES
When an alleged Executive Committee conducts elections in disregard of the "Standards of Council," which are already in place, I believe that the student body and any other student concerned should be made aware of such an action. While it is true that the President of the Student Council has absolute power in matters of elections, I believe that the Public Relations Committee has the responsibility to initiate a committee which in effect would have the right to disqualify such elections. When an administration is charged as unconstitutional, I would like to know what the administration is doing wrong in the eyes of the student body. As far as the election results, I believe that the administration should not be held to a term limit, and continue to work with the election committee to improve the integrity of the election. The most important thing to be remembered is that the Public Relations Committee does exist, and should maintain a high standard of integrity.
