Pledges Now Available To School-Wide Prom

Pledges for the School-Wide Prom, to be held May 3 at the City Center Ballroom, 135 West 53 Street, are now on sale on the ninth floor. The Student Council Prom Committee announces that making four hundred bids available, the committee set the cost at $2. The complete charge of the semi-formal is $6, the $4 balance to be payable within one month of the affair.

A committee obtained from Student Council members, representatives on Inter-Club Board and Class Council members.

Because of the limited number of tickets available, the ducks will be offered on a class basis with the largest amount going to students in the senior year.

The Prom, the major activity of Council this semester, has been in the planning stage since September. Enoch Light and his orchestra will supply the music while Eileen Barton of "If I Knew You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Cake" fame is expected to entertain.

In addition to the entertainment, the Prom will honor President Florence N. Wright, who will retire sometime in August. The affair will also serve as a farewell to new boys who will enter the service.

In contrast to the potato chips and punch which have become associated with School functions, arrangements have been made to serve hors d'oeuvres.

The School-Wide dance will mark the first time a Prom will be held for the entire Business Department. The Prom Committee stressed the point that the affair is open only to students and that tickets should be secured promptly because of the limited supply.

The form must be submitted by March 15, Students may also submit forms to the forms committee at 1109 for Daytime students. The Prom Committee will circulate questions with the forms.

It's Same Old Story
As Five Rips B'klyn

By Larry Pollack

It couldn't compare with Lavender fives of old, but this year's edition of the City College basketball team still had enough to hand Brooklyn College it's annual drubbing to, and with an overflow crowd of more than 1,500 at the Main Gym Saturday, the largest ever to witness a contest at the Beaver hangout.

The City men had boosted a string of 16 straight victories over the hapless Brooklynites in duels dating back to 1934, but with the Lavender departure to a more showy "it's-our-own" set, it seemed like this would finally be the year for change.

But once the game got under way, it was the same old story. Breaking fast from the start, the Beavers soon raced to a 13-0 advantage at the five-minute mark of the opening period and were never headed thereafter.

Pacing the Lavender during these early moments were Captain Jerry Domershick, who wound up high man for the evening with 15 points, and Bobby Logan, who tied for runner-up honors along with Merv Shorr, both tallying 14.

Coach Tubby Raskin's Brooklyn quintet then rallied for three quick points, the scoring the Manhattan-and-Gold to within three points, 15-12, but that was the closest the Lavender were to come. The Beavers, playing what Coach Nat Hobnan termed "our best game of the season," pulled away again to a 21-12 edge at the end of the quarter, 15-12, and capitalized on some poor shooting from the field and the foul line by the Kingsmen (they only converted 8 of 24 in the latter department) to roll to a 31-26 lead at halftime.

The Brooklyn five played their best ball of the night in the third quarter. After the Lavender extended the margin to 42-29 midway in the period, the Kingsmen managed to eat the deficit down to eight points at the 7:30 mark. Hereafter, they were to work again, and with Shorr and Marty Garkin controlling the loose balls, the Beavers led by 40-30 at the end of the third period. Garkin scored ten points for the evening on his return to action after recovering from an illness that kept him out.

City Mermen Sunk
By Violets, 45-39

The City College swimming team was beaten for the first time in league competition Saturday by NYU in a very closely contested meet, 45-39, at the University Heights pool. Individual honors went to the Beavers' Howie Schoenauer, who took first in the 220, 100 and 440-yd. freestyle events. Bob Silverstein took first in the 150 yd. individual medley and 200 yd. breaststroke for the homesters.

Wednesday the Citymen encountered their traditional foe, the Manhattan pool and easily disposed of them. Howie Schoenauer was again a stand alone performer, capturing the 220 and 440-yd. freestyle events.

Last week City traveled to Scheenadty to absorb a 56-29 trouncing by Union College.

Beavers Face St. Francis
In Annual Hoop Encounter
At B'klyn Columbus Club

By Stan Fink

With victories over Manhattan and Fordham already to their credit, the St. Francis College quintet, one of the stronger hoop powers in the local area, will be out to number City among their fallen foes tomorrow night at the Columbus Club, 1 Prospect Park, West, in Brooklyn.

The Terriers, currently sporting an impressive 15-5 record, will have a decided height advantage over the inexperienced Beavers, and are expected to field their starting five averages.

Regular tournament positions in the Terriers' lineup, under the direction of team Captain Ray Radomski (one of the smaller operatives on the squad, standing only 6-0) and Jack Walsh. Commerce Quintet
Conquers Airmen

By Joe Lawerc

Trying to start a new winning streak, the Business Beavers edged out a rough and hustling Floyd Bennett Five, 63-60, at the latter's home court.

Although it was won by Cagers were leading throughout, the game. Victory was never in doubt as City showed superior rebound strength.

Pacing the Polanskys were Howie Buss and Jack Chudnoff scoring 22 and 16 points respectively. Bob Pettit, William Burn and Bill Marden hit double figures for the losers with 18, 15, and 14 points respectively.

From the opening whistle to the end of the first quarter each team played slow and cautious, both feeling out each other. City lead at the end of the quarter by 16-14.

After the two minute mark of the second quarter the Flyers switched to a zone defense. At this point, City started to roll up the score. Chudnoff, hitting with a set and a one-handed pass two foul shots put the City Five ahead, 38-26 at the end of the first half.

With a two point lead the Flyers from Bennett Airfield started a comeback. A jump shot of the Manhattan game last week.

City left no doubt in the fourth quarter, as to the eventual victor. Finding itself down 15 points, the accurately shooting Beaver quintet ripped up to a 22-point advantage, 63-41, before the Airmen threw in his second stringers to mop up with three minutes remaining in the game.

In the Manhattan game last Tuesday, the City men were no match for the taller Jaspers, losing by a 71-33 count after falling behind by 49-19 at the half. Joe Loprete led the Kelly Green with 21 markers.

Beaver Boxers Beaten

In a series of bloody encounters that produced a good deal of the hardhat, most closely contested bouts ever viewed at the Cardinals' Broadland Gymnasium, Yuster Strobe, undoubtedly the most popular visit ever to grace the University. The City College visitor's squad dropped its initial meet of the year to the veterans of a veteran Catholic University team, 65-1/2-1/2, before 1,250 roaring fans.

106-pound Richie Evans initiated the evening's entertainment, tying up with the home team's Joe Walsh, for a bout which saw the latter lad cop the decision, 30-20.

With five seconds remaining in the final round, Catholic's John Cronin was awarded a TKO over Murray Rothstein, round and over the 132 lb. class. Both took turns rocking each other with right-hand jabs in the early rounds, but the referee stopped the bout when Rothstein, evidently blinding hope nampered his breathing.

Cool and poised, Howie Greenberg bloody bout took place in the 147 lb. division, at Catholic's 6-foot-3 Jack Bernie (Spider) Panone knocked out the second round. Chocolate Kiss grabbed the canvas to hold on and avert a seemingly imminent knockout as the round came to a close. Both boxers, blood spattered and weary, fought a well-matched round, with the, roughing CU battling much of the better of the two with his shorter opponent, who had evidently pushed himself out in the preceding rounds trying for the KO.

City scored its lone victory when Co-captain James Hess retained his opponent repeatedly by a vicious two-fisted body attack. Accusing decision over John Spinale in the 156 lb. class.

Despite losing 8 lbs. in 5 days, 165-pounder - Frank Quizan, wagged a clever battle until he fell after one minute and one-half round, the stiff body blows of his stronger adversary, Clifford Sisler.

City's fifth defeat came when Ken Den Outer decided Co-captain Howie Greenberg in a scorecard decision over 175 lb. class.

Heavyweight southpaw Arnold Slontowski, congratulated by the opposing coach for his startling efforts, lost a decision to Catho­lic's Pete Larsen that was even disappointing by the home enthusiasts.
