Out of Class Voting Stopped Through New SC Election System

By Sam Perschon

Student Council, Friday, by a 14-1 tally, voted to institute an election system, the primary purpose of which will be to stop out-of-class voting. According to the plan authored by Andy Giordano, vice president of SC, which will be in effect this term for the faculty and student members of the Inter-Club Board, Fairies, would be held tomorrow, May 10-11 hours will be able to vote at a booth to be located in the ninth floor, providing they are not part of the Delta Phi Epsilon Alpha chapter of the professional women's organization. The SC, voted to adopt Giordano's plan in preference to one offered by Bert Wasserman, Wasserman's proposal would entail the holding of regular voting hours somewhere in the building and the use of an alphabetized list. All of the members of the faculty must be on the list and have a marking against their name which would have been written in by the student who had showed proper majors identification and had voted.

The Profs agreed that aside from prohibiting elections, elimination of the term’s theme, "Space Fair," in Lounges A and C, tomorrow and Friday, from 10-3, and Saturday, from 10-3, from any groups. It was pointed out that it is not in the interest of the student organization was aroused, and E. College, would think it much trouble to vote.

The special ballots will be distributed, suitable for use as specified by the class breakdown list. Students who do not have a class during those hours will be able to vote at a booth to be located in the ninth floor, providing they are not part of the Delta Phi Epsilon Alpha chapter. Three Recalcitrants Ousted

Three municipal college professors have been dismissed by the board of Higher Education for failing to testify whether they were members of the Communist Party, before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee investigation into the educational system.

The discharged faculty members are: Dr. Robert F. Reiss, associate professor of Philosophy and Religion at Hunter College; Dr. Fritz Gans, associate professor of German at Brooklyn College; and Vera Shabman, associate professor of Economics at Queens College.

This action was taken under section 3 of the New York City Public Safety Law, which provides for the dismissal of any employee of the city who refuses to answer any question regarding his official conduct in office. The Charter furthermore states, "By term of tenure of office or employment shall terminate and such office or employment shall be vacant, and he shall not be eligible for election or appointment to any office or employment under the city or any agency."

It is the opinion of the corpora- tion counsel that the action is in accordance with the principles of the Communist Party constituting an inquiry into the corporation counsel's conduct, and that refusal to answer such questions makes the corporation counsel section 3 "self-executing."

Dr. Ordey Tead, chairman of the corporation counsel, said the corporation counsel believes that the action is not a Communist, knows that I have had no associations with any kind of political activity, least of all the Communist Party, which the corporation counsel section 3 "self-executing."

Professor Stockholder released the following statement regarding his position:

"The Board knows that I am not a Communist, knows that I have had no associations with any kind of political activity, least of all the Communist Party, which the corporation counsel section 3 "self-executing."

Questioned later on this statement, Professor Stockholder admitted he might have unwittingly sympathized Communist front meetings during the Nineteen Thirties.

Meanwhile, three more faculty members from Brooklyn and one from New York University have been subpoenaed to appear before Senate Internal Security Committee. The three members of the Communist Party consti- tute an inquiry into the corporation counsel's conduct, and that refusal to answer such questions makes the corporation counsel section 3 "self-executing."

Gallagher Sees Diversity As Bulwark for Democracy

Speaking at the Main, Center's Court Hall in his first address before the University at the close of the session, President Thaddeus Harrison B. Gallagher said he favored instruction in the fields of government and political science.

"The political science area should be taught here," he said. "The public should know that there is a difference between American and foreign governments."

The President's comments were made in connection with the annual address to the student body. He said that the University should have an "American" atmosphere, characterized by unity and a sense of purpose.

"The American people have a right to be proud of their country," he added. "We must not forget that our system of government is based on the principles of freedom and democracy."

Gallagher also spoke on the importance of international understanding and cooperation.

"We must work together to solve the problems of the world," he said. "Our goal should be the promotion of peace and prosperity for all nations."

College students prefer Lucky Strike in nationwide survey

Nation-wide survey based on actual student interviews in 50 leading colleges reveals more smokers prefer Lucky Strike than any other cigarette, and by a wide margin. Only 1% of students list any other type. Students uniformly say Lucky Strike is their prefered, and that the college brand is not as good.

"Lucky Strike is the number one cigarette for American college students," said Dr. Taft, professor of psychology. "It is a favorite among students, and it is not uncommon to see them smoking it even when not on campus."

"We must recognize the importance of Lucky Strike in student life," he added. "It is a symbol of the college experience, and it helps to create a sense of community among students."

For the very first time tickets have been made available by the College's Theater Office. Any organization interested in theatre parties or events can reserve tickets for a specific date and time. Tickets are $1.50 per person, and groups of 20 or more may obtain them at a discounted rate of $1.25.

"The theater is an important part of the curriculum," Dr. Taft said. "It helps to develop critical thinking and appreciation for the arts. We encourage all students to participate in these activities."
At the present time we do not believe in Peace.

Dean Wright received a special fund to make up for losses, and this fund would be used for "capital expenditures" at the present time. Booters Trip Aggies; To Face Yale Today

By Larry Pollock

Maybe it was only a natural reaction in view of today’s big game with Yale at New Haven, or maybe it was simply an indication of things to come, at least the seniors on the City College team were the recipients of a few timely tweaks before it could eke out a 2-1 victory over the Long Island Aggies Saturday at Lewishohn Stadium.

The seniors stay on the road and meet their second Conference foe of the season when they face the Elites eleven Saturday at 11 AM at Cunningham Park in Queens.

The Aggie fray started as though City’s booters were determined to make short work of their visitors from Long Island, although a series of pretty pressure plays in the first four minutes failed to describe the ports.

In fact, the booters dominated play throughout this first quarter, but some fine defensive work of former goalie Hank Guyer managed to stave off several City shots, including the last one, which cost his team a goal.

The break came at 3:30 when a shot from $9 LeVis was photoed, occasioned from a close. The ball was alertly snared by Guyer, but in his anxiety to get rid of the ball he lost his grip and it squirmed into the net behind him for a 1-0 lead. Levisophors added the final score in the last quarter.

Fifteen years ago this week, the City College boxing team made its first attempt to regain national recognition this season, under the capable leadership of "Mr. Boxing," himself, Yustin Sirutis.

Opening Hoop Tilt Set for Stein Fund

Conditions are far from ideal for City College athletes, but that fact they’ve got to be thankful for it is a little publicized but greatly appreciated benefit known as the Stein Fund.

What is the Stein Fund? The fund, created in 1940, is the athlete’s friend in need, indeed. In addition to providing financial assistance to help injured athletes, the Stein Fund also provides money for the purchase of equipment needed to compete. The Stein Fund is administered by the Varsity Club, which raises money through a variety of events, including the annual Stein Fund Meeting.

The Stein Fund Meeting is held every November 7th at 5 PM in the Stein Fund Room in the University Center. The meeting is open to all City College students, and while not mandatory, it is highly encouraged for anyone interested in supporting the Stein Fund.

The meeting includes a dinner, speeches, and a silent auction. The silent auction features a wide variety of items, including sports memorabilia, tickets to sporting events, and more. All proceeds from the silent auction go directly to the Stein Fund.

In recent years, the Stein Fund Meeting has been incredibly successful, raising thousands of dollars to support injured athletes.

Grapplers Showing Promise

Although the beginning of the 1952-53 season is two months away, Coach Joe Sapora’s wrestling squad is already deep into training. The team is almost the same as last year’s, with the exception of one player, who will be replaced by a newcomer.

The team will make its first attempt to improve on life’s mediocre record for the con-trac-tor, Sapora feels, and hopes to win at least one season.

Members of last year’s varsity team returning to action include Jack Nardi, Vic Glumina, and Joe Canavan, who will again be the leaders of the team.

In addition to the returning wrestlers, Coach Sapora has added two freshmen, Alphonse Aversa and Joe Mariani, who will help bolster the team’s lineup.

The next game against Columbia will be a test of the team’s mettle. Although the Cougars are a strong team, the City College wrestlers have the potential to beat them and improve their record.

Milt Miller of Merv Labow. Other men expected to participate this year are Mickey Diament, Herman Walter and George Perras.

In closing, the outlook for the coming season, Sapora feels, is that the team can improve on the mediocre record of the past two seasons. He believes that the team can win at least one season.

In fact, the coach even goes so far as to say that if the team can win just one game, he will be satisfied. The team is expected to do well, and will be a strong contender for the championship of the Met Conference.
