Centennial Fund Dinner Nets $200,000 for Student Center

By Gerry Reiser

The construction of a City College Student Union building came $200,000 closer to reality at a fund raising dinner held Tuesday evening at the Harmony Club, 4 East 50 Street.

Fifty-four prominent alumni of the College listened to after-dinner addresses delivered by Bernard Baruch, class of '89, Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr., and President Buell G. Gallagher.

Each speech praised the need for a hastily completed of the proposed Student Center. Earl Udell, class of '18, preceded the affair.

Dr. Gallagher spoke of the cramped condition both at the Uptown Campus and on the ninth floor of the Business School.

Mr. Baruch said he could not "refuse to do a cause that would undoubtedly benefit the students and to the extent of realizing a greater and more wholesome education."

The City College Centennial fund, inaugurated in 1944 by alumni anticipating the One Hundredth Anniversary of City College, in 1947, was initially a $1,- 500,000 endeavor.

The drive came to an abrupt halt in 1948 when a suitable location for the building could not be found. With the acquisition of the Manhattanville property, it was decided to erect the Student center building at 135th Street and Convent Avenue in proximity to the Uptown Campus.

Students at the Business Center would make use of the development during evenings and on weekends.

It would be available for all social functions.

Dear Editor:

Dear Editor:

Once again, the question of the student union building comes up. It is a question that has been debated for years, and yet it seems that there is no easy solution. The student union building is a place where students can gather, socialize, study, and participate in extracurricular activities. However, the current building is outdated and does not meet the needs of today's students.

The student union building is located in the basement of the Student Union Building, and it is not accessible to handicapped students. The building is also overcrowded, which makes it difficult for students to find a place to study or to participate in events. Additionally, the building is not well-lit, and it is not well-maintained.

There are several proposals for a new student union building. One proposal is to build a new building on a different site. Another proposal is to renovate the current building. However, both of these proposals have their drawbacks. Building a new building is expensive, and it would take a long time to complete. Renovating the current building is also expensive, and it would not provide the necessary space for students.

In conclusion, the student union building is a critical aspect of the university's facilities. It is important to find a solution that meets the needs of students and avoids the drawbacks of the current proposals. The university should work with students to develop a comprehensive plan for a new student union building.

Sincerely,

Double-Time Goalie Not "Punchy" At All

By Morton Weinstein

Soccer ottimes can be a rather punishing pastime, while lacrosse is perhaps the most dangerous of their athletic endeavors. For an individual to perform at the goal position in either of these activities requires a combination of lightning-fast mental and physical reflexes along with a willingness to absorb a certain degree of punishment. City College is the proud possessor of a young man who performs at this station in both lacrosse and soccer.

Harold "Punchy" Friedland is the hardy individual's name. The aforementioned nickname would lead one to believe that he has been rendered senseless by being constantly hit on the head by the propelled object flying goalward. While this is not the case, the story of how he acquired his pseudonym is nevertheless quite interesting.

When Friedland, a Downtown student, went out for lacrosse in his freshman year, Leon "Chief" Miller, Beaver mentor, told him that anyone who becomes a lakeman would be called "Punchy," a name which stuck and was accentuated further when, as a soccer goalie, he used to punch the ball rather than kick it, a tactic that he has subsequently abandoned.

His career as a soccer goalie commenced purely by accident. Last year, the team was well equipped at all positions except goalie. "Punchy," who was an insignificant second string forward, was foiling around the nets a few days before the Kings Point game when Coach Werner Rothschild noticed him, liked what he saw and converted him to goalie. They won the Kings Point fray, 4-3, and, bolstered by their new-found sentinel, went on to win the City championship.

Four City Booters To Speak On "Voice of America" Radio

Four members of the City College soccer team will participate in a series of good-will broadcasts to be piped throughout the nations of Europe via the "Voice of America" radio during the course of the next year.

The four include Co-captain Howard "Pinky" Pinczower, Lucien Dauphars, Gus Necario and Bill Saltes. Each will do a transcribed broadcast in the particular tongue with which he is familiar: Pinczower in German, Dauphars in French, Necario in Italian, and Saltes in Greek.

The recordings will then be delivered to Europe and distributed for presentation to the peoples of that continent, some behind the Soviet zone.

The four volunteered after the State Department had sent a letter to the College requesting the names of any athletes who could aid in the project. The soccer team, a melting pot of nationalities, was able to provide the reply.

The four booters have all been wooed by Bob Propper, director of the College radio department, and each was interested in being a part of the project. The players will be equipped with a radio to listen to the broadcast when not recording.

Date Nearing For Fund Ads

The deadline for reserving advertisements in the Stein Fund program is just ten days off, and ads and organizations who are planning to subscribe are urged to submit their reservations as soon as possible.

The Stein Fund, to aid injured City College athletes, is sponsored by the Varsity Club. All proceeds from the Beacon's open-house game, against Hunter College on November 15, will go toward this fund.

Advertising and patron rates for the 1,000 programs to be distributed are as follows: Full page, $50.00; Half-page, $25.00; Quarter-page, $12.50; Eighth-page, $10.00; and Patron, $2.00.

Reservations for ads must be submitted by Nov. 7. Applications can be obtained from Ross Gowan or Sheldon Friedman in the TICKER office.

First Round Near Completion In IMB Basketball Tourney

Six more games advanced into the second round of IMB semiannual basketball tournament Thursday in House Hall, with final first-round game scheduled for this Thursday, beginning at 12:15.

In the opening doubleheader of last week's card, Cascade 5 downed Phil Lambda Delta by a score of 19-8, while the Losers failed to receive a best two-out-of-three match, with Bob Brandes gaining the first two games. The Commerce basketball team has been put on notice that the Losers will be a team to be reckoned with this season.

Meanwhile, the IMB ping pong tourney is moving along in fine fashion. Entries for this tournament have been extended one more week, and those interested should contact Bob Brandes either by phone or in person.

In addition to Gross and Propper, those expected to carry laundry are Joe Miller, another of the vocal candidates picked by the College athletic department. Each member of the squad will be autographed by a different personality of the world of radio and have the autographs transcribed in the program in which the individual performs. This will be an effort to encourage sales of the program.
