Extend Feinberg Law To Embrace Personnel In Public NY Colleges

The provisions against subversive high school and grade school teachers contained in the Feinberg Law of 1948 have been extended to public college and university faculties through a bill signed Thursday by Governor Dewey.

Although the new statute applies to state teachers colleges and other units of the State University, it is particularly aimed at the four Municipal colleges - City, Brooklyn, Hunter and Queens.

Under the Feinberg Law, the Board of Regents is empowered to make a list of subversive organizations. Membership in one of these groups constitutes prima facie evidence of disqualification for any teaching or other position in the public schools.

Theings are presently being held by the Board to determine whether the Communist party should be designated as a subversive organization.

Dr. Bella V. Dodd, a former Communist teacher in the metropolitan area, and that there were more than 20 Communist teachers in the Metropolitan area, and that there were Communist teacher cells in the municipal colleges.

The Law was previously contested as to its constitutionality, but it was finally upheld by the Federal Supreme Court.

The first Faculty-Student Activity to promote greater and closer student-teacher ties, will be held Monday, April 27-Sunday, May 3. Climaxing the activities, a school-wide picnic will take place Sunday at Clary Lake Park in Staten Island. Planned for the outing is a joint softball game.

Solo, Barber Shop and Community Sings are slated to begin the week's events, Monday in Lounge A from 1-3. The "music" will be supplemented by refreshments.

In an attempt to determine students' unusual occupations, Dean Miriam C. Faries, basketball coach Dave Polansky, Mrs. Beatrice MacBride of the Division of Testing and Guidance, and Mrs. Lillian Kushel and Professor John Wingate of the retailing department will form a panel to participate in a program entitled "That's My Summer Job," Tuesday in Lounge A from 1-3. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Also featured during the week's activity will be a Hobby Display, to be held Thursday in the Parent-Teacher Association Lounge. As a sample of his avocation, Professor Edward Mannen of the speech department will provide floral decorations.

The semi-annual Bowling Party will be held Friday from 2:5-5 at the Gramercy Bowling Lanes, 23rd Street and Third Avenue. As in the past, cost will be reduced and shoes will be provided free.

Statute Limits Shaving Of College Budget

President Bueell G. Gallagher indicated last week that even if the Board of Estimate does not approve the proposed "high fare" transit authority and is forced to cut the City College budget, it could not be sliced more than $1,000,000 because of a statute limiting the budget to that amount.

He further said that it was likely that the Board of Higher Education, if necessary, would file a write of mandamus to stop the Board of Estimate from taking such action.

As viewed by Dr. Gallagher, such drastic cuts in the College budget would mean the elimination of next year's freshmen class, since no present student can be dropped except under extraordinary conditions.

Also, because less students would attend the school, the teacher aid to education program, which provides tutoring for students, would be curtailed.

On the Manhattanville campus, the proposed opening of a student union building will suffer a lack of superintendence and making of student rules for the opening of the building. This cut comes from the $40,000 already deleted from the budget. For the same reason, classes will not open on the Manhattanville campus.

Last Tuesday, a group of educators, including Dr. John J. Tead, president of Queens College and chairman of the administrative council of the four municipal colleges, said that the City Administration must share the blame for the crisis in which the municipalities, schools, and colleges find themselves.

Dr. Tead warned the Board of Estimate that if the transit authority plan was adopted, the colleges would be "close to the point where they would have to close up shop."

At the same time, Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, said the city must provide for an additional 25,000 children entering school next fall.

feinberg law

The four municipal colleges -- City, Brooklyn, Hunter and Queens -- were dealt a severe blow Thursday when Governor Feinberg signed into law the Feinberg Bill.Passed unanimously in both the New York legislature, the law is a reaction to the growing criticism that the New York City Board of Education is too subject to local whim and self-interest.

Weingast and Prop Crew advocate the establishment of a state-appointed school board to replace the present one. The legislation will make the residents of each borough eligible for appointment to the new board in proportion to their population.

Board members will be chosen by the School Board of the New York City Board of Education. The residents of each borough will be eligible for appointment to the new board in proportion to their population.

Nine Trips NYU, 5-1; Held to Tie by Lions

By Herb Nager

Turning in one of his finest performances of the year, pitcher Warren Neuberger gave the City College nine a big push towards that coveted first Metropolitan Collegiate Athletic League championship. He had a 5-1 win over Manhattan as he closed the year with a 16-5 score at the end of the season.

So Moshkin's charges were a bit less successful in their only other appearance of the week, losing 7-6 to Brooklyn at the Queen's Field. Earlier, however, they had taken a 5-1 win over Manhattan on Saturday, but Jope Pluvius intervened.

The NYU game featured a superlative pitcher's duel between City's Neuberger and the Hall of Famer's Vicente Loppe. Loppe was touched for nine hits, but most of them were yielded in the final two frames when City pushed four runs across the plate to tie the ball game with nine.

In the Columbia fray, City trailed early in the contest, rallied to move ahead in the fifth inning, only to lose advantage in the following frame.

Trailing 3-0 in the top of the fifth, the Lions were faced with the difficult task of catching up with pitcher Larry Contillo, whose pulsing serves had held them at bay through the first three frames. Barret opened the inning with a line double to left field. Paul Neubert moved him to third with an infield hit. Barret then tallied on Joe Gavinski's grounder.

The remainder of the game was a struggle for the two teams, with both sides battling for the advantage.

City Runners Face Panzer

City's depleted track team will engage in its first dual meet of the season when it faces Panzer Thursday, at Levison Stadium.

The outcome of this contest and for an ensuing Beaver encounter is in the hands of the 'Lions' infield. Neuberger, hailed as the starting pitcher Bill Keng and Mike Kucinich, both battled in the third third, and were credited on the play.

Bruce Malmuth bunted with the intention of sacrificing the runner, but was jammed up when the ball was pitched wide of the plate, and was caught when left baseman Mike Steltz, third third, fielded the ball out of play.

CCNY Stickmen Routed

By Stevens Tech, 14-4

Trailing 4-3 at the half, City's lacrosse team fell apart completely after the intermission and went down to a crushing 14-4 defeat at the hands of Stevens Tech Saturday, at the victor's field.

Arnie Levinson and Lester Chulley, each of the 45 Club's jaunts has resulted in disaster, from the standpoint of the final score, for City's athletic teams. The last time the Beavers were victorious in an event witnessed by the Club was back in 1950 when the Lavender hoopers routed a strong Temple five.

The 45 Club was founded in 1946 as the result of a rather strange incident. An economic instructor, Mr. Frank "Doc" Thornton, was taking his fourth students on a tour of a coal mine. On the way back the group decided to form a permanent organization in which they would continue to render vocal support to Lavender teams during out-of-town athletic events.

How did the name "45 Club originate? Well, one bright member noted that there were 45 seats on the bus, hence the 45 Club. Considering the last seven years, the Club has traveled as far north, south and west as Chicago, Buffalo, Boston and Philadelphia to name only a few of the many large cities it has visited.

Boro Park-Saxe '57 Vie for Title

By Myron Pelz

After five exciting weeks of play, the field in the IMB basketball tournament has finally been narrowed down to two. The remaining contest will be held Thursday, the Boro Park Boys, whose season was restricted, both squads having gained victories in last week's semi-final round. The final will be held Thursday in the gymnasium.

The Boro Park five, which has made a habit of coming from behind in its games, did again last Thursday. Pushing over for a total of 5-1, the eventual victors forged ahead, with the final score of 12-7, the eventful victories boosted them to the final over last year's champs, the City Jr. 22-20.

Arnie Morgenbesser of the Boro Park Boys, who scored the winning basket in the previous game over the champions, also in the 5-1, repeated his accomplishment against the City Jr, by driving in a dramatic play with only five seconds remaining in the game.

In the afternoon's second game, the Freshman champs, Saxe '57 rolled to an easy victory over Saxe '56, 22-16. The winners grabbed a quick eight point lead in the initial period and lengthened their advantage to a convincing 16-5 score at halftime. Lenny Schnitker sparked the neophyte's attack, by playing a fine all-around floor game. High scorers in the conference were taken by Glue Steinberg and Velma Steinberg.

An IMB handicap tournament is also slated to begin Tuesday, May 9, at the Auxiliary gym. Anyone desiring to play is required to report with meekers.
