Expert Panel Set For Jobbq Game

An all-faculty panel will query students on “What's My Summer Job?” today in Lounge A from 1-3, as part of the first Faculty-Student Week in the College’s history.

Dean Miriam C. Faries, basketball coach Dave Polansky, Mrs. Beatrice MacBride of the Division of Testing and Guidance, and Mrs. Lillian Kohn and Professor John Winship of the retailing department will comprise the panel of experts, and prizes will be awarded to those who succeed in baffling them.

Continuing the endeavor to foster closer faculty-student relations, Sigma Alpha has also scheduled a Tall Story Contest for Wednesday from 1-3 in Lounge C, with prizes going to the winners.

Talk on Chemical Investments
To Continue Finance Forum

Jeremy Jenks, a partner in charge of research at Cyrus J. Lawrence and Sons, will speak on "Analysis of Chemical Company Securities and Finances," today from 1-2 in 1102.

His talk is the second in a series of lectures on "Corporation Finance and Investments," the theme of the Economics Department and Society sponsored Finance Forum. The first lecture was delivered Friday.

Business Colleges
Choose Norton VP

Dean Thomas L. Norton has been elected vice-president of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The Dean of the Downtown Center formerly served as secretary-treasurer of the Association, whose membership comprises 70 schools throughout the country.

Eminent in the fields of education and arbitration, Dean Norton has held an important executive capacity at the College since 1945.

He is past president of the New York State Association of Colleges of Business Administration and a member of the American Association of University Professors.

A charter member of the National Academy of Arbitrators, Dean Norton was a public member of the Wage Stabilization Board, Region II, last year. He recently headed the special committee appointed by the State Mediation Board to settle the gravestickers’ strike.

Elected president of the Association’s annual meeting in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, was David S. Lay, president of the Indiana University School of Business.

School of Business and Civic Administration—City College of New York

Suspension Probable Under Section 903

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

The suspension of Myron L. Hoch, an instructor in the economics department, loomed likely today following his refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.

Protesting that he was being forced "to become an informer," Mr. Hoch would not testify as to Communist membership or party activities. The refusal to answer questions concerning Communist activity, during a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Thursday.
COOC Hits $2000

Cohen to Give Uptown Center Finley Lecture

The 6th annual John H. Finly Lecture will be presented in the Faculty Room at the University of California, Berkeley, Wednesday evening, May 6. Dr. Benigni Cohen, a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and the author of "The Press and World Affairs," will lecture on "The Rise of Newsweek in America." He will be sponsored by the Project of Student Government and the Student Union Commission.

Harry Made Honorary Member of Theatrical

Harry Hargre, who has been an active member of the group, will receive an honorary member of the group's honor award, "Columbia Graduate," at the group's annual meeting and "Homecoming" dinner to be held at the group's 101st annual meeting and "Homecoming." The group is a self-supporting, non-profit organization that is open to all students and graduates who have been members of the group for at least two years and who have shown active interest in the group's activities. The group has been in existence since 1918.

Stadium Summer Symphonies Feature 30 Outdoor Concerts

A total of 30 outdoor symphonic concerts, featuring music of the Metropolitan Opera, will be held in the Metropolitan area. The group puts on two concerts a week, with rehearsals held on Saturday and Sunday mornings. The group is a self-supporting, non-profit organization that is open to all students and graduates who have been members of the group for at least two years and who have shown active interest in the group's activities. The group has been in existence since 1918.

Highlight of the proceedings will be the award of the Grand Insignia to Harry Hargre, who has been a member of the group for at least two years and who has shown active interest in the group's activities. The group is a self-supporting, non-profit organization that is open to all students and graduates who have been members of the group for at least two years and who have shown active interest in the group's activities. The group has been in existence since 1918.

The group is a self-supporting, non-profit organization that is open to all students and graduates who have been members of the group for at least two years and who have shown active interest in the group's activities. The group has been in existence since 1918.

Siegell Givens Major Honor

Staff writer for the Daily News, Siegel Givens, has been selected as the new major honor for the city's community college.

Student Activity Forms Due Before May 14th

Student activity forms which are due to the principal, through their branch, will be handed out at the principal's office and to the principal's secretary. The forms will be due to the principal by May 14th.

Blue Notes to Supply Music for Bear Mountain Boat Ride

Harry Harris and his Blue Notes will provide music for the annual City College Boat Ride, scheduled for the afternoon of June 1st.

Seniors! See the New SCHOLASTICA RING

MEM: Choice of 3 weights 7 5 12 16 Size: $1.750

How much do you spend on the ring of the degree?

Brooklyn Law School

22nd Convocation Tuesday, March 8th, 1955

3:00 P.M. - 4:30 P.M.

The Law School of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute

TEN CHURCH STREET, BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

BRAND NEW Portable Typewriters

MODEL "X" PORTABLE

Ww. A. D. 301 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

For OUCK SERVICE LOW PRICES GOOD FOOD

JIFFY FOOD SHOPS

In order to serve proud of C.C.N. with pride in West Side a JIFFY 113 EAST 33RD STREET
nontenoncy

It seems that the City College School of Business is consistently treated as a non-tenoncy. This topic was covered in a lecture by Professor Smith at the Public Education Society-sponsored event yesterday.

The four municipal colleges—Brooklyn, Queens, City College, and Stuyvesant—were all discussed. City College is clearly the smallest of the four, but it is also the most important. The college is known for its strong business program, which has produced many successful graduates.

Unfortunately, the business program at City College is not without its problems. Many students have complained about the lack of resources and the quality of instruction. However, the college is taking steps to improve the program, and it is hoped that these efforts will be successful.

In conclusion, City College is an important institution, and its business program has the potential to produce many successful graduates. However, more resources and better instruction are needed to ensure the success of the program.

Letters to the Editor

The Ticker, Thursday, April 20, 1972

Dear Editor,

I was very interested in your recent article on the City College School of Business. As a student at the college, I can attest to the excellent quality of the education received there.

The business program at City College is well-respected throughout the city, and many graduates have gone on to successful careers in the business world.

I suggest that you continue to cover the City College School of Business in your future articles. It is an important topic, and the college's business program is deserving of coverage.

Sincerely,

Sarah Johnson

Student at City College School of Business

Blood Drive Sets New Mark

The Red Cross Bloodmobile was set all to collect a record breaking 200 pints of blood over the last two days. The first day, the blood bank was licensed by only 125 pints in itself a new City College record.

The blood drive was held on campus, and the Bloodmobile was parked in front of the main building. Students and faculty were encouraged to donate blood, and many did.

The second day, the blood drive continued, and the Bloodmobile collected another 75 pints of blood.

In total, the blood drive collected 200 pints of blood, a new record for the college.

Boners By Berzofsky

O.K. now...what's the wise guy?

Friday, April 20, 1972

The Quiet Period

The Union Must Dissolve

By Richard A. Kerser

There are periods in a man's life when he comes in contact with people who influence his thinking and mold his opinions.

One of these periods was during the spring of last year, when I stepped off among the ranks of the company and started working for myself. This was a turning point in my life. I had been working for a company for many years, and I realized that my future would be bright if I could create something new.

I knew that I would have to take a risk, but I was determined to do it. I started my own business, and it has been a success so far.

I am now convinced that if we are to develop ourselves and our businesses, we must dissolve our unions. This is not an easy decision, but I believe it is the right one.

In conclusion, I urge everyone to consider the long-term benefits of dissolving our unions. It is a difficult decision, but it is necessary if we are to move forward and achieve our goals.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Kerser
Laurie Wins Sea Nymph
Ice Cream Eat Set by "55ers For Lounge C

Choosing the junior's activities, the Class "C Council will hold an "Ice Cream Jacaranda," Monday, from 6 to 8 in Lounge C. Free to all members of the Class. The council will provide entertainment, dancing and a whole variety of refreshments. Besides the fun, the council requests that members bring spare clothing or money to be used as donations when the collection box is passed around.

Entertaining at the February contest will be members of the Class, including Charlotte Wiser, and from Fashion Class, Anna Ford. Winners will be featured in a special fashion show.

The next Class Council meeting is scheduled for Feb. 1, and plans for the annual dance will be made. There will be a special dance for the Class "C-ettes." The first annual "55ers For Lounge C" will be held on Tuesday after the regular Class Council meeting. There will be music, dance, and refreshments.

Selected Shorts

Photographs are now available at the Department of Student Life, for the profit of the student-athletic association. Requirements for professional cost, at least a ten dollars minimum and a five dollars charge, but there is no charge for student personnel. The professional pictures will be available starting next week.

Dr. Lloyd's defense is set to begin.

Dr. Lloyd, who has been accused of molesting the plaintiff, will begin his defense on Monday. The defense team will be represented by John F. Reilly, Esq., of the New York law firm, Reilly & Reilly. The defense team includes William J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly, and Robert J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly.

Dr. Lloyd, who has been accused of molesting the plaintiff, will begin his defense on Monday. The defense team will be represented by John F. Reilly, Esq., of the New York law firm, Reilly & Reilly. The defense team includes William J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly, and Robert J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly.

Dr. Lloyd, who has been accused of molesting the plaintiff, will begin his defense on Monday. The defense team will be represented by John F. Reilly, Esq., of the New York law firm, Reilly & Reilly. The defense team includes William J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly, and Robert J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly.

Dr. Lloyd, who has been accused of molesting the plaintiff, will begin his defense on Monday. The defense team will be represented by John F. Reilly, Esq., of the New York law firm, Reilly & Reilly. The defense team includes William J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly, and Robert J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly.

Dr. Lloyd, who has been accused of molesting the plaintiff, will begin his defense on Monday. The defense team will be represented by John F. Reilly, Esq., of the New York law firm, Reilly & Reilly. The defense team includes William J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly, and Robert J. O'Brien, Esq., of the law firm, Reilly & Reilly.
Beavers Trip Wagner
In Vital League Contest

With righthander Steve Weinstein firing a three-hitter, the Beavers nine turned back previously undefeated Wagner College by a 5-2 count yesterday afternoon at Babe Ruth Field. In their last four contests played in the past week, the Beavers defeated Wagner 5-2 Conference mark.

The Superiority of the Beavers was quite the reverse. They led 3-0 in the opening period, then fumbled away this advantage. Manhattan, the first team in the Conference to establish a lead, ended with Rutgers in the tournament's final stanza ending a 7-5 victory.

The Beavers were very much in the fray in the first quarter, but Schnitzer once again performed in yeoman fashion. The "Flying Irishman" coped both the mile and the half mile events in the times of 4:49 and 2:08 respectively.

The Scarlet completely dominated play in the third period, and it was not until the beginning of the final stanza that City was able to atone for the attack. The Scarlet tallied twice in the opening minutes to cap the Beavers' best effort of the game.

Runners Rout Panzer
For First Win, 81-59

"I'm happy!" That was the statement uttered by jubilant Harold Anson Bruce, City College track coach after his squad had gained its first dual meet victory of the outdoor season. The Beavers outdistanced Panzer, 81-59, in a meet held Thursday afternoon at Lewishohn Stadium.

Highlighting the triumph of Bruce's squad was the performance of Tom O'Brien. The "Flying Irishman" coped both the mile and the half mile events in the times of 4:49 and 2:08 respectively.

Frank Destefano was also a member of the Saxe club to maintain a formidable team. The Scarlet completely dominated play in the third period, and it was not until the beginning of the final stanza that City was able to atone for the attack. The Scarlet tallied twice in the opening minutes to cap the Beavers' best effort of the game.

Lavender Stickmen Ripped by Rutgers

By Harb Nagel

Coming up against a squad that was superior to them in every department but hustle and ruggedness, the City College lacrosse team suffered its second set-back, 18-4 against Rutgers, Saturday at New Brunswick.

Coach Leon A. "Chief" Miller was managed to hold the Jerseyites relatively close in the opening period, the game ending with Rutgers in front, 3-1. However, the home force's superior manpower, both on quality and quantity, took a toll on the hurling, underrun the Lavender.

Led by Don Stevens and Gerry Gabriel, the area around Wallace Hal Friedman's net became a veritable shooting gal-

Fencing Mentor Montague
To Be Honored at Dinner

As a tribute to his 25 years of meritorious service to the College, dinar mentor Fred Schonefeld will be held for fencing coach James Montague. May 6.

Originally, the fencing team had planned to hold both a dinner and a dance May 3. However, when it was learned that the popular coach would be absent for the College effective August 31, arrangements were quickly made to hold the testimonial affair.

Three students wished to attend the dinner and must submit $5 to Hotel, c/o the fencing department at uptown City College. A charge of $7 has been set for anyone else desiring to attend the affair.

A three-man committee composed of Dr. Dan Bukantz, James Strauch and basketball coach Dave Polansky have taken charge of the arrangements. Both Bukantz and Strauch are noted fencing champions and disciples of Montague. Bukantz, the chairman of the committee, will serve as master of ceremonies at the dinner.

One of the most successful coaches at the College, Montague mentored the fencers to an NCAA championship in 1948. He has also guided many of his pupils to berths on the United States Olympic team.