Baruchians Vote Down Dollar Rise

The narrow margin of votes, the student body decided to pass a resolution for a $1 increase in student activity fees. The resolution is considered a

The plans of Student Activity Fee were discussed. It was suggested to convene the student body of necessity for the raise. The resolution of the ballots was 618 negative votes to affirmative one.

Bob Cord

Four Execs Gain Large Plurality

Unlike the close results of the presidential election, all other candidates chosen for Student Council executive positions won clear-cut victories. Each victor, however, had only one opponent.

Bob Cord piled up a 164 vote plurality in winning the vice-presidency. He had previously served as recording secretary and was regarded as a probable presidential candidate next semester. The treasurer seat was acquired by George Greenberger, a former representative. He and Cord were the only two victorious Beaver Party candidates.

Doris Rabbie became the second female member of the new executive board by polling 147 votes more than her opponent for the recording secretary's position. Miss Rabbie has been a Council representative and is active in Oce of the Affairs.

The candidate elected corresponding secretary was Sam Perlson, editor-in-chief of TICKER, who established a 166 vote superiority over his opponent. Perlson has been active in School affairs and is also a probable presidential candidate for next semester.

Steve Vlais was elected NSA delegate representing the Baruch College. Upon taking office, the new executives will be faced with the continued fiscal difficulties besetting the extra-curricular program, the proposed fee raise having been defeated.

Harriet Guber

ICB to Explain At Meet Today

Inter Club Board will hold a meeting today at 1 in the Faculty Student Lounge. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the newly-elected club officers with the benefits that may be derived from participation on ICB. All new club officers and present office holders are cordially invited to attend.

George Greenberger

Short Time Remaining To Buy Snowball Tix

Tickets for the Baruch Ball on January 31 will be available on the ninth floor until the end of the semester. The affair is slated for the Hotel Statler's Grand Ballroom; the admission price is $3 dollars. The Ball has been specially selected to not interfere with school work.

Headlining the entertainment will be the idol of the playspin, musical aggregation featuring top vocalists. A surprise star from MGM studios will also appear.

If successful, this dance will become an annual event at the School. Ticket sales thus far have been tremendous.

Ticket sellers can be recognized by the white snowballs with the number 3 on them that they wear.
Psych Group Slates Theory Talk by Irani

The Psychology Society will present Professor S. D. Ira" a guest speaker on May 15, at 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium. The presentation is open to the public, and the evening will feature a question and answer session with the audience. Professor Ira will discuss recent developments in the field of psychology, including advances in cognitive science and behavioral neuroscience.

DEAN OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Norton Marks 10 Years; Forsees Enlarged School

Norton who has attended college deans of purpose, narrowly minded residents on college will have new reasons to enjoy their institution, especially those who served in the same position from 1962 to 1972. Norton, the dean who has served in the same position for 10 years, will celebrate this anniversary on May 15th at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. The evening will feature a question and answer session with the audience.

FINALE

This is the final issue of THE TICKER for this year. The staff and managing editor, who make this publication possible, want to thank everyone who has supported us this year. We look forward to seeing you next year.

MANN OVERBOARD

By Steve Mann

A New York Times Publisher's Columnist (Continued from Page 1)

The staff and managing editor, who make this publication possible, want to thank everyone who has supported us this year. We look forward to seeing you next year.

Guber Wins

(Continued from Page 1)

The Charities Carnival held December 21 in Lounge C went over the heads of all those involved...
Thirty

Editions, the Board of Editors and the Editors-in-Chief, and the staff members of the Ticker, are proud to present this unique and diverse content.

The content includes a range of topics such as educational and political discussions, personal reflections, and literary contributions. It is a testament to the richness and diversity of the community it serves.

As you explore this issue, we hope you find something that resonates with you, whether it's a thought-provoking article, a heartfelt personal narrative, or a compelling piece of creative writing.

Thank you for being a part of the Ticker family, and we wish you an enjoyable and enlightening reading experience.

The Ticker Team
Thirteen Elected To Council Seats

Twelve students, from seven classes, have been elected Student Council representatives. Only in three of the seven were there actual contests, the candidates running unopposed in the two upper classes. Neil Waltz, Council vice-president, ran unopposed for the second year, in the lower junior class, while Bernard Cohen, also running unopposed, filled the upper junior class seat.

The new members of the Council are: Candidtes for the upper junior class were: all were unopposed. The candidate for the upper junior class was: for the lower junior class, Jerry Ravnitzky and Richard Spinelli were unopposed.

Twenty-one Class Officers

The twenty-one Class Officers were: for the upper juniors, Harold Daitch, Audrey Albert Shikiar, those in the lower juniors, Neil Weiss, Council vice-president, ran unopposed for the position of the class. David Solomon, in what he termed his last year of eligibility, was elected Secretary of the lower juniors. Kwartler, of the three candidates for the position of Secretary, only one, Jerry Ravnitzky, was elected. David Solomon was elected a member of the Council.

Eleven of the Class Officers were re-elected, and only two candidates ran for the remaining positions. David Solomon was elected Secretary of the lower juniors.

Prizes and Atmosphere

Favorite Eating Mats

Barnes & Noble, Inc.

1864

Three-year Day and Four-year Evening LL.B. Course

Swordsmen Ready For Yale Contest

Swordsmen Ready For Yale Contest

Having won three straight matches in Columbia by the comfortable score of 9-0, the CCNY fencers will look towards tomorrow afternoon for the next match. The meet will be held at the Elite Theatre.

Last season, the Bulldogs stumbled to a 7-2 defeat in the opening match, then lost 9-0 to Yale. This season, however, the Bulldogs have been more successful, having won three of the first four matches. The CCNY fencers have been able to take advantage of the Bulldogs' weaknesses, and have been able to win control of the matches by the score of 9-0.

The meet will be held at the Elite Theatre, and will consist of three matches. The Bulldogs will be looking forward to a return to their winning form, while the CCNY fencers will be hoping to maintain their current streak of success. The meet promises to be an exciting one, with both teams determined to come out on top.

The Tatler

Wednesday, January 5, 1955

Set Final Game Of IMB Contest

The Inter-Mural Sports Board announced today that the IMB Contest will be held this afternoon. The final game of the contest will be between the CCNY and Yale fencers, and will be held at the Elite Theatre.

The IMB Contest is an annual event, sponsored by the Inter-Mural Sports Board. The contest is open to all students, and is held to promote friendly competition among the different sports teams. The contest consists of matches between the CCNY and Yale fencers, and is held on a regular basis.

This year, the IMB Contest has been held in a different location due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However, the contest will continue to be held in the same location, and will provide an exciting opportunity for students to compete against each other. The IMB Contest promises to be a great event, and is sure to be enjoyed by all those who participate.

The Tatler

Wednesday, January 5, 1955

Lavender Grapplers Prep for Lock Haven

"If I'm not wrong, I've had the most fun I've ever had in a single day," said Jerry Ravnitzky, President of the CCNY Fencing Club. "And it's all because of the Lavender Grapplers!"

The Lavender Grapplers are a group of fencers who have been training for the upcoming meet against Lock Haven University. The meet is scheduled to take place this Saturday, and the Lavender Grapplers are looking forward to a successful performance.

"We've been practicing really hard, and I think we're ready," said Ravnitzky. "I'm excited to see how we do against Lock Haven. It's always a challenge, but we're confident in our abilities."
Beaver Five to Meet Virus-Ridden Jaspers

By Dick Rustin

When City College's basketball team meets Manhattan College tomorrow night at 8:30 in the year's CCNY gym (124th Street and 23rd Avenue) in the last of their three weekend games, the team, which has already lost to Columbia and Fordham, will face another virus-ridden team. The Jaspers lost 90-79 and could have won, Norton stated, "If Paulson was healthy." However, he has recovered and will play against City.

But two more Kelly Green regulars, 6-4, heavy-duty rebounder Bob Otten and jumping Jiminy Lake are virus cases and were declared scratch for tomorrow's Jaspers-Binghamton game at the Garden. They may not be ready for the Beaver clash, either.

The other malady concerns Norton's unpolished but developing sophomore. The sickly Paulson, Angelo Lombardi, Johnny O'Connor, and Dan Martinson fall into this category. The Kelly Green mentor feels that these boys still have a lot to learn but are progressing nicely.

"Once they shake off their high school mistake, they will be able to exercise their potential," Norton said. They will be playing along by January and should hit our peak in February. Paulson is the prize of the second year crew. He has a good shot and, as the Jasper's defensive man, will be assigned to cover Jack McGuire who ran wild with 33 in the Bear's win over Scranton last week.

Lombardi, 6-4, is an effective rebounder while Otten is a clever ball-handler and a good shooting threat.

Unfortunately, for City fans, big Ed O'Connor, the relation to Johnny O'Connor and partly and should be ready to do some inflicting of his own. The 6-6 center has always plagued the Lavender in the past, and last year broke the Manhattan seasonal scoring record by tallying 42. He is a part of a 17-point average trio.

Last year, trying to average a 38- to 40-point double, the previous campaign, City carried Manhattan down to the final seconds of a furious battle which the Jaspers pulled out, 58-57, on a basket second from the buzzer.

Saturday night, the Beavers meet Queens College at the Main gymnasium. The attractive Bears will beat City in four previous games.

Playing "its third game within a week," the Beavers will also make a definite point to the East Orange, New Jersey on Monday night, December 12, to face a strong Upsala team.

In verifying the dismissal of Wolfe, who had become Commerce-coach at the start of the fall semester, Dr. Herman Gaver, hygiene department chairman at the Baruch Center, stated that as yet no successor to Wolfe has been chosen.

Wolfe Faces Ouster From Coaching Post

George "Red" Wolfe will be relieved of his post as coach of the Baruch School basketball team. Although Wolfe's dismissal had been expected for several months, official confirmation was not received until last week.

In verifying the dismissal of Wolfe, who had become Commerce-coach at the start of the fall semester, Dr. Herman Gaver, hygiene department chairman at the Baruch Center, stated that as yet no successor to Wolfe has been chosen.

City College’s swimming team was down to the final seconds of a furious battle which the Jaspers pulled out, 58-57, on a basket second from the buzzer.

Baruch Five to Battle Seton Hall Frost Club

The Baruch School basketball team will come out of hibernation tomorrow Tuesday afternoon when it takes on the Seton Hall Frost freshman team. The game will be played at the home court of the Jerseys.

Fayetteville

City College went excavating for its second basketball victory over Scranton University, 88-46, and stuck a rich Jack McGuire-Merv Shorr vein by winning over the Miners in an 87-68 rout.

McGuire and Shorr were the foremen of the Lavender digging crew that sunk nearly 50% of its shots from the floor—McGuire counting 33 points, a new record for a visiting player at the modern Scranton Catholic Youth Center. As a part of the 28 markers, including ten of ten foul shots, in addition to snaring 24 rebounds.

McGuire drilled through the Beavers in Their Element:

Beavers in Their Element: Mermen Renew Title Bid

City College's swimming team will resume the defense of its Metropolitan Intercollegiate dual meet championship Saturday afternoon at 2 in the City Pool on the Utopian Campus. The opposition will be provided by Fordham University. It is a very troublesome victim in the Beavers' sweep of their three meets last season, the Rams are not as strong and are therefore expected to provide any trouble for Coach Jack Ryder's heroes.

In their last meet, the Rams were unfortunate enough to have a towel which was 90 feet of towel thrown in the water in the pool and the Rams were in real trouble when the opposition had one or more "big men."