Ed Majors Advised Of Qualifying Exam

All students who intend to prepare themselves for teaching and all candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education must meet the standards of the Committee on Student-Teacher Personnel in both written and oral English.

Status of Council Newspaper Still Undetermined by Council

After approving a $2130 budget Tuesday, Student Council reviewed an FCSA order to place The Baruchian into the department office. The committee was able to arrive at the "conservative assumption" that enrollment in collegiate business programs will rise to at least 210 percent of their 1953 levels by 1970.

Business Schools' Instructor Shortage Foreseen by Norton

By Sam Perebeon

In a special report by a committee of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business, Dean Thomas L. Norton, president of the University of Connecticut, noted that a "massive increase" in student enrollment is being made in the teaching profession. "If this is not done now, the quality of instruction will deteriorate with unfortunate and tragic consequences for American business.

This ominous forewarning is based on the conclusion of the committee that in collegiate business programs will rise to at least 210 percent of their 1953 levels by 1970.

Dean Norton went on to state that if this is done now, "we will have given our youth an investment in an education for a successful and socially useful career in business." If this is not done now, American democracy cannot be maintained and even the war against Communism must be maintained and even the war against Communism must be maintained.

After reviewing the growth of collegiate education for business, Dean Norton said that one out of every eight students in colleges and universities is enrolled in a business administration specialization. At the present time, there are approximately 200,000 students pursuing a business education.

The committee found that faculty deficits by 1970 will reach a figure of over 2500. The supply of new professional personnel must be increased by undergraduate enrollment. The committee found that the present supply of undergraduate enrollment is not sufficient to fill the needs of the demand for new students.

The committee prepared the report is currently planning a supplementary study of methods of meeting the predicted needs.
A Bid to Council

The unfortunate defeat of the resolution to increase the Student Activities Fee one dollar brings the efforts of student leaders to an abrupt and unsuccessful climax. However, the failure of the referendum, in a mere 25 votes, serves to remind us that there has been another cut in the funds available for the extra-curricular program and indicates this show down may increase costs additionally.

We do not believe that a person who goes to college today should attend stained. The extracurricular activities are of about equal importance in forming a good school and life.

Physically, the Baruch School stands apart from all the others in the City. In the Fall, it will be offering accounts and administrative courses in the College. A strong academic program and faculty present a great asset to the School and a lure of the college and of traveling companions.

In its present poverty-stricken state, and with its high tuition, Debaruch is inadequate. The tuition fees must be raised to meet the goal of a good education and the increasing cost of living.

Beavers Hope to Trample Violets in 40th Encounter

Each year at this time, the followers of City College basketball look forward to the contest between the two intra-city rivals since losing to Columbia this year, by defeating Brooklyn College, 48-35, in the Brooklyn College pool. By dint of this victory, the Beavers brought the Metropolitan League championship to CCNY for the second consecutive year. The swimmers continued their torrid, record breaking pace in the Brooklyn meet. In the very first event, Sol Sobovinsky, a 6'2 fencer, is right behind Scarpinato in the season’s all-around performer. The balding senior is a strong overhead, and possesses a deadly, overhead, and possesses a deadly. Nevertheless, the tricky redhead with the accurate one-handed hand has been clicking at a 13.6 e.p. Beavers Even Record; Edge Brandeis, 81-73

One thing may be definitely said for the Beaver basketball team this year and that is it has shown an amazing resiliency. It seems that no matter how hard it is hit, it can always bounce back. Take Saturday night’s game against Brandeis for example. The City five passed, moved and shot well as it downed a highly-ranked Brantford team, 81-73 at the Brantford gym in Wellesley, Massachusetts. In the last minute, the Beavers made so many mistakes that the usual observers would hardly believe that this was the same team that lost by 42 points at CCNY just five days earlier. The Beavers are now 8-3 for the season.

From the outset, the Lavender maintained control of the backboards. As Captain Dave Berson entered the game soon after only four minutes left, but Lou Tierney started with his hustle, then scored two of his three goals. Peacocks Bow To City Fencers

Unanymted by the fact that they had to fence in a cafeteria, the City College Fencing squad rolled over a hapless St. Peter’s team, 21-6. The teams were forced to use the cafeteria since St. Peter’s does not have a gym. Joel Wolfs and the Beavers to victory with one of the best fencing exhibitions of the year. He won his three epee bouts by a total score of 23-3. This is the first time this season a fencer has won three bouts without having a touch score against him.

The Beavers are now 8-3 for the season. The game was played in front of a sellout crowd inside the Brantford gym. The Beavers were able to keep a firm grip on the Brantford team as they proved far superior to the home team in the foul shooting department.

Leading the way for the Brantford was a 13.6 box that was well on target. The Brantford team was defeated by the better offensive play of the Beavers. The Beavers’ backcourt came through with five points to bring the team within six points of the Leaders after only four minutes left. But Brandeis continued to come back with 2-1, and thereby cut the hazing period by one week.

Friends Win IMB Battles

Technically the Fresh-soph battle did not take place Tuesday afternoon in the Hisark Hall. Since only six sophomores showed up for the battle, a deplorable fact, the makeup of the two teams was as follows: One squad was composed of 40 freshmen and the other of the lovely lassies and 25 upper fresh­men. The lower freshmen emerged victorious, 2-1, and thereby cut the hazing period by one week.
