The exercises will be held in the Lewisohn Stadium on the campus of the school. The events will include a hayride, senior show and numeral lights dance. Package plans that include all or some of these events may be purchased from a class officer in the Lefkowitz office on the ninth floor.
New Chancellor to Wield Wide Influence on BHE

Appointment of the yet-to-be-chosen Chancellor of the Municipal Colleges to the position of New York University's first Chancellor of Higher Education. It is the first time in its history that the BHE has reached this level of administrative leadership. The Board of Higher Education, in its announcement, said that the new Chancellor would have considerable influence in regard to the formulation of official policy and procedure. The Board's statement indicated that the new Chancellor's appointment paved the way for more administrative efficiency and greater coordination of effort in all fields of endeavor, including educational growth, budgeting, and personnel policies. The Board of Higher Education also stated that the new Chancellor's appointment would lead to closer relationship with the Board of Trustees, the University, and the City, providing a single point of contact for the public.

On February 18th of last year, the City College Alumni Association sponsored a special meeting to discuss the appointment of a Chancellor to the New York University. The meeting was attended by a large number of alumni and members of the Board of Higher Education.

The Board of Higher Education, in its announcement, stated that the new Chancellor's appointment would have a great impact on the future of the City College. It added: 'The Chancellor is to administer the overall policies and program of the University.'

'To initiate the process of administrative action, the Chancellor is to be given a report which advocates the appointment of a Chancellor to the position of New York University. The report, prepared by the Board of Higher Education, states: 'The Chancellor is to be given a report which advocates the appointment of a Chancellor to the position of New York University.'

The Board also stated: 'It is expected that the Chancellor will be given a report which advocates the appointment of a Chancellor to the position of New York University.'

The Board added: 'It is expected that the Chancellor will be given a report which advocates the appointment of a Chancellor to the position of New York University.'

The Board of Higher Education's statement was made by Dr. John H. Finley, the Chancellor of the City College.

Young manager handles finances for building of $5,000,000 plant

In the next ten years, demand for General Electric equipment is expected to double. To meet this demand, a giant new plant (costing as much as $50,000,000) is in the process of being built at Shreveville, Indiana.

The plant will cost $5,000,000, and the men responsible for handling the finances of the entire job is 32-year-old R. E. Fetter. He was ready for it. Fetter was educated in business administration at the University of Washington. He got his job in 1931 and has been with General Electric ever since.

Fetter's job is important, responsible. Dick Fetter's work is Financial Manager of the Department of the East Coast. The Department began last fall, when the General Electric started building the plant. He and his group had to estimate probabilities of operating costs and predict whether the plant would be profitable.

Now, during construction, Fetter's chief concern is keeping track of all the expenses, on this multimillion-dollar project. When the plant is completed, he will set up a complete financial section and manage every financial aspect, and every accounting to profits.
