City College Ranks Fourth In Nationwide Enrollment

In a nation-wide estimate conducted by Commissioner of Education Samuel M. Brownell, the City College of New York rates fourth with an all-time enrollment peak of 24,426 students.

Of the ten leading institutions listed, the University of California ranked first with an enrollment of 35,904 and the State University of New York placed second with 28,266. These two institutions which include schools throughout the state, New York University ranked third.

The Commissioner stated that 456 colleges were included in the survey. Men numbered 16,640 and women 16,786.

The Fall of 1955, which saw a fourth consecutive year recording an enrollment increase, saw the total 85.8 per cent more than the previous high of 2,500,000.

The Commissioner added that the fall of 1954 averaged a numerical increase of 221,000 students.

Miss Agnes C. Mulligan, registrar of the College, said that the fall registration figures this semester, about 200 students graduated in January, and 16 entering the spring term, the total registration figure will put under the 2900 mark.

The Commissioner added that the schools of the City College system have a slight drop in the registration figures this semester. About 200 students graduated in January, and 16 entering the spring term, the total registration figure will put under the 2900 mark.

In its annual follow-up report compiled in the spring of 1956, it was found that many students, as usual, are having a difficult time at registration.

The list of complaints was so long that an accurate listing is impossible. Some of the more serious complaints as follows:

1. The dormitory is too crowded.
2. The cafeteria is too crowded.
3. The library is too crowded.
4. The bookstore is too crowded.
5. The administration is too slow.
6. The faculty is too slow.
7. The student government is too slow.
8. The athletic department is too slow.
9. The housing department is too slow.
10. The financial aid department is too slow.

As of Fall 1965, this was the fourth consecutive year record of the enrollment of 75,904 and the State University of New York placed first with an all-time enrollment peak of 2,500,000.

Princeton Prexy Urges Flexibility For Colleges

Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University, has urged that American institutions of higher education reform "flexible" to the "fastest" of higher institutions.

In his annual report to the Board of Trustees, Dr. Dodds said that "it is a mistake for any educational institution to assume that the pattern of higher education twenty years hence will be the same as it is today—that what we have planned for in 1955 is just for more of the same."

Dr. Dodds noted that nothing would be so disastrous to institutions that would be like all the others for any reason whatsoever.

The present immediate task is to prepare enrollments that would at least

Academic Freedom

In winning last semester, Student Council courageously passed a resolution opposing Section 303 of the City Charter, which requires the automatic dismissal of "agitation or criticism". The resolution protected the firing of instructors who refused to testify under the first or fifth amendments.

We reaffirm our editorial stand of last November, when the constitutionality of 303 was questioned. We urge the student body to give academic freedom the zealous support it has always received.

The burning of textbooks at Columbia and the presence of a Communist at Harvard are ominous signs of the increasing radicalization of the educational establishment. It is the duty of every student to protest against the trend away from a free and fearless university system.

In 1908, the student body of New York University passed a $1.50 fee raise last semester, they will again pass that fee raise. The result is the burden of proof will be on the student to prove that their fees are justified.

Today marks the entrance into this halcyon season. We would like at this time to recommend a faculty evaluation program and a typist program. It is necessary to comply with the City's labor and tax laws.

A typist program is necessary to comply with the City's labor and tax laws. Until recently, we were to meet at 9:45 AM sharp, in front of the Administration Building. Whether you yearn to be an illustrator, a top advertising salesman, or a top entertainment promoter, you can be one.

The price of the collective bargaining agreement between Student Council and the University, coupled with the higher cost of living, has made it necessary to charge the members of committees on student attire a fee. The price of the fee is $2.00.

Birth of Revolving Doors

The teacher who does not give homework the first day of classes will not stand a chance. Most students will face the dilemma of whether or not to sell his or her soul to the devil of homework. The third member of our party, the lone female, may have the last laugh.

For some strange, inexplicable reason, many students may have the same moods. The teacher who does not give homework the first day of classes will not stand a chance.
Scholarships Listed In Guidance Office

By Philis Zwisler

Dean Charles W. Eberhardt, of the Department of Student Guidance, has announced that the department has on file a list of scholarships on which students are planning to do graduate work.

The list includes scholarships, fellowships, and internships offered by such institutions as Union College, Amherst College, Rochester Institute of Technology, and other colleges and universities.

Dean Eberhardt said that students who are interested in these opportunities should contact the department for more information.

City Seeks to Avenge Loss to Hunter Five

If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. For the first time since the 1930s, City College was able to avenge its loss to Hunter College.

Last Wednesday night, the City College basketball team defeated Hunter College, 60-49, in a game that was very exciting for the students.

The game was played in the Student Union gymnasium, and the crowd was quite vocal.

City College's winning streak continued as they defeated Hunter in scoring.

The game will be played at the City College swimming pool on Saturday, January 28, as part of the New York City swimming championships.

Last Friday, at Lamport House, President Eisenhower broadcasted a speech via television to the American people.

The speech was delivered by Secretary of the Treasury, and it was watched by a full house.

President Eisenhower's speech was about the importance of education and the role of government in education.

The speech was well received by the audience, and it was seen as a positive step in the right direction.

Ramblings

Every Wednesday, I sit in the third floor of Wrigley Field, the appropriate name for the legendary stadium in Union City College. The stadium, which has been built on a hillside, was originally constructed as an entertainment venue for students.

Since then, it has been transformed into a multi-purpose arena, hosting everything from basketball games to concerts.

The stadium is known for its unique architecture, with its steeply sloping roof and enthusiastic fans.

One of the most memorable events at Wrigley Field was the 1935 baseball championship game, which was played in front of a full house.

In that game, City College defeated Hunter College, 3-1, and went on to win the championship.

The following year, City College repeated its success, winning the championship again.

Since then, Wrigley Field has continued to be a popular venue for sports and entertainment, with many memorable moments in its history.

The stadium is also known for its unique atmosphere, with its steeply sloping roof and enthusiastic fans.

At Wrigley Field, you can see the history of New York City, as the stadium has hosted many memorable events throughout the years.

No matter what happens, Wrigley Field will always be a place of memories and history for the people of New York City.

Rider's 'Hotshots' Trounce Beaver Basketeers, 96-66

Did you ever have a night where, no matter what you did, it just wasn't good enough? The Beavers did and it's one evening they'd be happier forgetting about.

The contest, which occurred last Thursday and it happened out at Trenton, New Jersey, as Rider College, sinking a phenomenal 82% of their shots, romped over City College, 96-66. The defeat was the Lavenders' eighth in ten games and their third in a row.

Rider, making a total of 40 field goals out of 77 attempts, was sparked by Ron Anderson, their 6-4 freshman center, who for the season.

and Ralph Schefflan put some baskets together and brought the Beavers in the game, and Ralph Schefflan took over from there, hitting four of five field goals out of 46 attempts for the season.

Beaver Fencers Suffer Setback Yale But Tumble Against Princeton

In defeating Yale, 15-12, and losing to Princeton, 17-10, the City College fencing team brought their season's record to a 2 and 3 mark, which, according to fencing coach Edward Lucia, is relatively commendable.

“The team was hurt by the graduation of the entire foil squad,” explained Lucia, “and considering that five out of the nine men on my present squad are fencing regularly for the past three games been winning. The City College fencing team brought their season's record to a 2 and 3 mark, which, according to fencing coach Edward Lucia, is relatively commendable.
