in Locker Room Plague

Baruch School Students

A total of eleven lockers have been broken into and student attire stolen. In one incident, student attire was taken from the New York Metropolitan Zoo.

Dean Lewis Mayers, last term's SC chairman, says that the thefts have been continuing for several years. He also states that the recent increase in thefts is due to the lack of security in the locker room.

The move to the amendment before the student body was made by the amendment's author, Richard Ellis '56, and Inter-Club Board Chairman Stu Rosenthal '56. It was passed 11-10-4.

At a meeting of the Student Council, Stu Rosenthal made the following statement:

"This section went on to say that "since our building is located in a business area which is one of heavy street traffic, our students are on parade as they would be in a crowded area." This statement is not true. We have no evidence to support the claim that our building is located in a crowded area."

Paul Douglas defeated Bob Becker by a 2-17 vote for the student council seat in the special election Wednesday. In the lower seat election, Joan Wexell was unopposed for class senator. A three-way race for treasurer of the upper senior class ended with Doris Webb, Howard Jacobson and Lonard Abrams, with 47-51-51. Abrams won that position.

Student Afflire

It was gratifying to learn that the Faculty of the Baruch School has accepted the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs' proposal for the establishment of a faculty-student council.

That some of our students were in poor taste, we believe to be true, but who is to blame? It is quite possible that the intentions of the report was the feeling that those who are interested in student affairs have a right to be heard.

The Referendum

Student Council Friday evening decided to put the Ellis Amendment to a vote at the next Student Council election. We have no reservations with the principle of non-discrimination for it allows Joe Blow to have a final say in matters affecting him. However, should the vote be non-discriminatory for it is of more effect if the Student Council Chair acts as if it does.

But let us look a little further into the matter. For this amendment is being voted on by the students. If we examine the Friday evening's decision, we find that this amendment was voted on by the students.

If Student Council puts the Ellis Amendment on referendum because it feels obliged to the student body—are we all fools? Just think for a moment what has happened to the student body since the last time a referendum was conducted.

We do not believe this to be true. Business men do realize that what they call in school we will wear clothing before the situation and similarly after it. An immediate thought of society and even after it is not what we would call a foolhardy business man. That is the belief stems from the misconception each other.

The Lis

Most of us at this time have read of the proposal of Dr. P. S. Fitton, that the student of today was the student of yesterday. Does this mean that we should accept this proposal without question?

And while we are on the subject of student affairs, we notice that the President of the Society of Columbia Students has decided to continue his plans to materially improve the environment of the student body under the term "proper attire." As-called "proper attire" may be desirable, it is also possible for it to do much for the determining habits of our students.

The development of individual Is Aim of Education—Li

Dr. Pei Chau Li, the Baruch School's central typewriter who achieved national prominence in the past month, was elected to the presidency of the League of Women Voters, which was established to oppose the Nationalist Chinese Government. Dr. Li has been a scholar at Columbia University in February 1947, and was admitted to Columbia University in February 1950.

Dr. Li went out to catch a train in a gnats of uncomfortable places, but the gnats of uncomfortable places, on catching the train, found out on the train with the greatest of ease.

He is a firm believer of the following proposition: "The Chinese have a right to be free and to determine their own destiny."

To the Lis we express our sincerest wishes that the development of individual is an aim of education.
Student Controversies Beset Three Colleges

The meeting of the Education Committee, held Thursday, was presided over by the chairman. It was decided that the Education Committee should be held on a regular basis. The meeting was attended by representatives of the three colleges.

Attire Matters

Professor Stranathan, in his address to the students, emphasized the importance of appropriate attire. He mentioned that the College had received complaints from both students and faculty about the inappropriateness of some students' attire. He suggested that students consider the nature of their classes and the respect due to their professors and classmates.

Tutorial Society Helps Students

The Tutorials Society, which provides guidance and support for students, met last week. The group discussed the need for better coordination between the tutorials and the academic departments. They agreed to work towards this goal in the coming semester.

Job Opportunities

The Placement Office now has positions available for students who wish to gain experience in various fields. These positions include internships in advertising, public relations, and sales. Interested students should contact the Placement Office for more information.

Jensen Stars As Beavers Lose Final Game, 77-69

"Wait 'til next year" goes the familiar cry, and that is just what the Beavers will have to do. They couldn't hang on to their net shooting until it is on a par with St. John's because the Redmen unfurled some pretty nifty set-shooters Saturday night at Wingate Hall when they beat the Beavers, 77-69.

Walt Brandy, of St. John's, was the hero of the night for the winners. He hit seven of ten shots in the first half, mostly from the outside, and accounted for one of the game-high total of 26 points. In one stretch, Brandy and Hal Pas­ cell, who missed only three shots, took turns popping sets to score nine points while City scored only two. This streak enabled the Redmen to hold on to an early lead and cumulate a half-time margin of 46-30.

As the second half unfolded, George Jensen, who scored 21 points while playing his last game for the College, combined with Ralph Schefflin and Bob Silver to score sixteen points while St. John's scored 29. This kept the Beavers in the game at the 10:20 mark. Double Dunker hit a jump shot and Brandy, Bill Cowley and Mike Parent converted shots to make the score 67-48 within a minute and a half.

At this point, Joe Bennardo began driving for the Beavers and single-handedly scored eleven points to bring City to within ten points, 76-66, with 1:32 left to play in the game. Unfortunately, the Beavers did not maintain this pressure for long.

A two-point-er, Bob Silver (12), of City, converted on a rebound for two points in City's, 77-69, loss to St. John's, Saturday.

Tennis Team Opener Set; Queens First On Schedule

"If we can do as well this year as we did last year, it'll be miraculous," remarked tennis coach Harry Karlin, as he readied his Netmen for the 1956 season.

"We lost three of our starters," Captain Walter Thomas, Jim Borner and Steve Hirsch, when you realize that a tennis squad only consists of six men, the loss of half of your team is a big blow."

Last year, the Karlinmen completed a very "successful" season, compiling a 2-7 record. Both defeats were lost by a slim one point margin, 5-4, at the hands of New York University and Fordham University.

Returning from last year's team are Allan Jong, the newly­ appointed captain, and Guy Ferrara who will be battling for the number one and two spots on the team. Fighting for third position are Mel Drimmer, Walter Ritter and Harvey Rothstein. Vic Woodley, Alphonse Gomes, and Andre Schanzer are contending for the sixth and last place on the squad.

The season's opener is April 11 against Columbia College, which was defeated by the Beavers last year, 5-4.

The tennis team will, like last year, play a schedule of nine games.

Silver's Better Than Gold According to City Cagers

By Stew Kampehaner

"Hiyo, Silver, away." This call, reminiscent of the great stallion belonging to the Lone Ranger is often heard at basketball games as Bob Silver reports in for action. However, only the true fan can use the same as the resemblance ends there.

Silver, 6-5, and a rugged 200, doesn't mind the kidding about his name. In fact, he takes it in stride.

The good-looking Baruchian is quite a lady's man but confesses that he doesn't have a steady girl. "I like to talk to girls," said Bob, "but do not like to go out with them. They cost too much." He graduated from DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx and makes his home there. He has been married twice, the second time at the age of twenty-two and a sister of fifteen.

Silver played a year of freshman baseball at last year's baseball team, coach John La­ phins himself in dire need of handballers. All positions are open for contention. Practice and tryouts will be held at the Tech gym, Uptown, Saturday at 11. Applicants must submit medical checks.

Fencers Finish Season With a 121-95 Record

By Lou Pohoryles

With only Marty Wirtleib, Norman Zafman and. Ulens graduating, Coach Edward Lucia can again look forward to a successful season for his fencing team next year. The dambuoted Fencers will now remain for the fencers is the competition in the AAU and National Championships. The swordsmen finished the regular season with a 1-5 record and garnered a 121-95 margin in individual bouts.

Before the current season started, Lucia stated that he would be completely satisfied with a .500 average. He explained that his "hazards meet such powers as Columbia and New York Universities, co-holders of the NCAA fencing championship, and Princeton. He expected to win a bout in each of those meets.

Lucia added that the Beavers will be battling "for the team's champion in the 1955 season." The Beaver sabre squad, which led the team with a 44-28 record, was led by Elliott Mills who had a 14-14 record with 14 victories and 14 losses only Wirtleib who compiled a 13-5 record on the season.

Fencers Vie in Post Season Tourneys

Wrestling coach Joe Sapora, despite a mediocre 4-4 season record compiled by his squad, has already started to make travel plans for next season events.

Sapora will take two of his front line grabbers, Al Taylor and Sol Sorbera, to St. Louis, Missouri, where they will compete in the National Intercollegiate Championships, March 23 and 24. The coach and his two men will then make the trip to Tulsa for the National AAU Championships which are to be held March 29 and 30. Taylor has been unbeaten in his last seven outings and the wrestling coach is counting only on him to continue his streak.

The wrestlers, who earlier this season competed with the New England AAU Championship, will travel in idle while Taylor and Sorbera are off to another part of the country. They will be represented in the Junior Metropolitan Championships which will take place at the King Point Merchant Marine Academy.

Taylor, whose graduation at the school will leave a huge hole to be filled on the wrestling roster, is extremely lauded by coach Sapora. "I think Al Taylor is one of the greatest wrestlers to ever come out of City College in a long time," he said.

Carole Reiss, a newcomer to the squad, is one of next season's most promising contenders for the vacancy to be left by Taylor. Sapora stated that Reiss is "almost as good as Taylor and has looked really well in practice."

Another newcomer, Steve Lukowitz, is expected to fill the gap in the heavyweight division which will be left by Jim Zaubands.
