BOMB HOAX HITS SCHOOL

Classrooms and Offices Cleared During Search By Police Department

By Ruth Cohen

At 3:30 p.m. yesterday, Mrs. May Mahoney, switchboard operator for The College, received a call on the Number Two trunk. An unknown male at the other end of the wire said, "There's a bomb going off in your place today," and then hung up.

Within five minutes, the Police Department, 13th precinct, located on 22 Street, was alerted. Sergeant Fink, Detective Hyland and five men from Emergency Division Number One arrived on the spot.

The 570 rookie policemen, attending their usual Wednesday afternoon classes at The School, were immediately dispersed to comb the building.

Students, faculty and administrative staff were routed from their classes and offices and were forced to vacate the building immediately.

Fortunately, there was no panic or excitement as all persons left. Some were under the impression that this was a false alarm and stayed in the building in an attempt to return to their classes and offices. This was out of order and resulted in an immediate evacuation.

The extension from the telephones through the vertical emergency trunk in the 10 floor stairway and at 5:45 the wireless signal ordering students to leave was given.

As a precautionary measure, the school police set up their operations in an area near the site of the bomb. Two police stations near Paulus Hall and Rosenfield Theatre were thus designated as headquarters.

On 32 Street, a solid block of buildings covered every entrance, forbidding anyone to enter.

In a statement to the Police Department, Detective Hyland said that there was no possible way in which a bomb could be kept in the building, and that they would keep working on the case.

This was the second bomb scare to occur in a week. Last Thursday, classes at Adelphi College were cleared because of a threatened bomb explosion.

On the scene, too, were representatives of the Associated Press and the Daily Mirror. One of the AP reporters cabled the following on the subject of the anonymous caller by stating that evidently this was not the same person who threatened Adelphi—a person who spoke with a distinct German accent.

Letter To The Editor

Representative Discussion

In answer to the letter in the March 19 issue of "The Week" by Mr. S. L. J. in which he discusses the problem of the use of animals in experiments, I would like to express my disagreement with his point of view.

In my opinion, the use of animals in experiments is necessary for the advancement of medical knowledge and the development of new treatments for diseases.

Furthermore, I believe that the use of animals in experiments is ethical and justifiable, as long as the animals are treated humanely and with respect.

I would like to challenge Mr. S. L. J. to provide evidence to support his claim that the use of animals in experiments is unnecessary or unethical.

I believe that the use of animals in experiments is a justifiable practice that has contributed significantly to the advancement of medical knowledge and the development of new treatments for diseases.

IMB Announces Plans For Rest of Semester

Commencing today, the Intra-Mural Board has outlined a list of activities for the month of April which will appeal to male and female students alike.

The IMB schedule this month - which begins on the 12th and will continue through April 28 - features a number of events designed to entertain the student body, ranging from sporty to cultural.

On April 12, there will be a "Women's Play Day." Coeds are urged to attend this activity, since it is a rarity for them to obtain the use of Hansen Hall. The last time "Play Day" was offered, it was a big success. This was partially due, it is believed, to the fact that coeds were offered make-up credit for attendance in their regular gym classes.

At 12 also, in the pool, there will be a men's swimming meet. Relay distance races between individuals or clubs are featured.

Bowling applications for teams may be obtained in the IMB office, 610A.

On April 26, IMB will offer a coed event, "Sadie Hawkins Day." Couples are urged to sign up now in order to participate in the events.

Activities slated consist of square dancing, musical chairs, "Feed the Baby," relay races, etc.

The baseball team's next game is Saturday at Lewishon Stadium against the Alumni.

Baseball

The City College baseball team's first game of the season, which was scheduled for last Saturday against Wagner College at the Wagner diamond, was called off because of unseasonable weather conditions. The contest has not been rescheduled.

The Beaver nine will, therefore, open its season Saturday against St. John's at Fort Park, Queens, at 2.

New Hampshire Rumps

The City College baseball team opened its season, March 30, with a loss to New Hampshire, 7-2. Ronnie Riffle, captain of the team, was absent from the fray and will be absent for the remainder of the campaign.

Riffle, the City College goalie, feared his collarbone and will not be able to play. Mike Cashman played goalie in the New Hampshire contest.

"The New Hampshire team said coach Leon Miller, "is very, very good. They just outplayed us. We ran into a little bad luck, but even so, I think we just too good for us."

City also lost the services of Lenny Fagan who fractured his thumb. Fagan is still awaiting reports of the thumb which will tell if it is broken or not.

City's scoring in the New Hampshire contest was done by Stan Nessin and Morris Hochman.

City also played a practice game over the weekend with the New York State Police. The City, however, were not allowed to participate in this contest the same as the N.Y.S.P. had the opposition. The teams proved to be evenly matched.

Coach Miller had this to say about the team: "We have a very thin bench. We have some similar situations in the past; nothing this bad. The team is improving, but we face a hard schedule."

The lacrosse team's next game is Saturday at Lewishon Stadium against the Alumni.
