As a result of President Harvey Isaacs' tie-breaking vote, Student Council Friday evening passed 11-10 a motion stating that the Department of Student Life must get an authorization from a student before releasing information to his activities folder to prospective employers.

On-Campus ‘Talks Slated for Spring’

The Placement Division of the Baruch School has announced that it will begin mailing questionnaires to all college students this week in preparation for the Spring 1957 'On Campus' interviewing program. The program provides educational institutions with an opportunity to attract the attention of college students during a special season of potential job opportunities after graduation.

The Placement Office has been conducting a series of informal interview meetings at the College to give students opportunities to meet with potential employers on the campus. These meetings also provide a chance for students to learn about the company and the job opportunities available at the College and the reasons why employers are interested in them.

The campus opportunities are to be open to all students interested in the programs and to students who wish to interview with the employers. The meetings will be held in the common areas of the College and will be open to all students with an interest in the programs.

New England Champs Posted 9-0-1 Record During Season's Play

CLINCH MET TITLE: Fred Bonnet "heads" ball to Billy Sund in Tuesday's 7-1 win over Hunter.

(Continued from Page 1) for now: Cortlandt State Teachers College, Wesleyan University, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the University of Bridgeport, Boston University, Hofstra College, Williams University and the University of Connecticut.

Sprfield, a physical education school, registered a 7-1-1 mark last year and, before that, had counted 2 consecutive triumphs.

Supporting the Springfield attack is a staunch defense led by right halfback Dick Tiangley, who had a goal in early action.

Early jn the third period, Al Ojo tallied again for the Brooklyn Heights school. The score came during a scramble in front of the City cage.

Boothees Crush Pratt, 5-2
To End Undefeated Season

By Richie Gurian

Playing in a steady drizzle and on a field covered with loose stones and glass, the City College soccer team beat Pratt Institute, 5-2, Saturday at Red Hook Stadium to close out an undefeated season with a 9-0 league mark.

This was the twenty-eighth consecutive victory for the Beavers—the last team to beat them was Brooklyn College in 1953. A tie with Queens College last year and a tie with Army this season mar the perfect record.

The first score came after Fred Bonnet was roughed while taking a shot and Johnny "Buddha" Paranos tallied on the penalty kick. Paranos placed the ball in the lower left corner of the net, faking the Pratt goalie to the other side. The time was 19:25.

Less than one minute later, Paranos duplicated his feat on another penalty shot, this one taken after Novak Masanovich was tripped while advancing on the cage.

At 7:00 of the second frame, Wolfgang Wostl dribbled to the City goal and, eluding the last Pratt defender, slammed the ball into the cage to make the score 3-0.

Masanovich kicked the ball into the nets later in the period on a spin-around shot from 25 yards out, but the goal was disallowed when it was discovered that the ball had entered from behind the net.

Early in the third period, Al Ojo, Pratt's speedy center forward, broke away from the defense and dribbled in by himself to beat Beaver goalie Charlie Thorne. At this moment, the entire Pratt team chased wildly. This enthusiasm was short-lived, however, when, at 7:06, Novak Masanovich scored from 15 yards out for his sixteenth goal of the season, making the final score 5-0.

Five minutes later, Masanovich added an assist when he passed to Bienstock who placed the ball into the nets.

The Beavers had previously whipped Hunter, Queens and Jona during the regular season.

Eighty-eight runners from sixteen teams participated in the meet, which drew together many of the cross-country teams from this area. T is the brainchild of Bruce, former Lavendar mentor.

Individual winner of the race was Joe Vogel of Hunter, who before this meet had won the City score. Randy Crosfield ran his best time in the season, 27:42, but was twelfth. He was followed by teammate Taylor in 27:59.

This is the first time since the days of the university hill and daiers have entered the cross-country course than 28. Rick Harford, Lavendar captain, finished sixteenth. Tom Dougherty was the top Pratt runner, leading the tape twenty-fifth and wound up twelfth to finish the City scoring.

Two other runners, Mike and Dave Grundy, placed twenty-sixth and thirty-first for their team. Although their times did not figure in the La scoring, their placing among the finishers precluded other runners from gaining low position.

Records Set

Most Met champions: Beat the Beavers' 94. In cross-country, the team with the lowest point score is the winner—total being derived from the finishing position of a team's first five runners.

Hunter College finished third with 129 points, while Queens
