Fertig Selected as Speaker at Charter Day Ceremonies

M. Maldives Fertig will be the principal speaker at the Charter Day ceremonies May 8 in Pauline Edwards Theater. This year’s celebration commemorates the 110th anniversary of the founding of the City College. Classes will be suspended from 10:30-11:40 to enable students to attend the affair, it was announced by Dean Emanuel Saxe.

Fertig, a member of the Class of ’07, was counsel to Governors Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert H. Lehman of New York State, assistant corporation counsel of New York City, New York State Transit Commissioner and a member of the State Assembly.

While as assemblyman in 1916, Fertig introduced a bill to permit the expansion of City College from a liberal arts and sciences curriculum to include curricula for schools of business, education and technology. This bill also provided for the enrollment of non-matriculating students at the college.

After the passage of the bill, the College established a Division of Vocational Subjects and Civil Administration and named Professor Frank B. Robinson as its director.

This Division became, the nucleus of School of Business and Public Administration, the present Baruch School. Professor Robinson became the fifth president of CCNY in 1927.

Other bills introduced by Fer­ tig were the closing of a street that crossed the Lewiston Stadium property; creating the first evening and extension courses at the School of Business. He also backed a bill providing for equal salaries for men and female instructors and promoted the idea of the minimum wage law.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner Monday “strongly endorsed” the plan of establishing an office of Chancellor of the five city colleges.

Deputy Mayor John J. Dingott, on his post as President of the College, will be paid the $25,000 a year, according to sources at City Hall.

The Chancellor will coordinate business and financial policies of the five city colleges, and represent the Board of Education, and the college administrations with outside agencies, including city, state and federal officials.

Joseph H. Cavaliaro, chairman of the CBE, has requested the Board to set up a new office to establish a permanent organization. Mayor Wagner has expressed hope that the Board of Estimate will grant the request at its regular meeting Thursday.

The idea of a Chancellor originated in 1953 in a request made by Dr. George D. Strayer, a re­ named professor of education and a former commissioner of investigations of New York City, after a survey of the educational system of the city. The idea was endorsed in 1953 by Mayor Wagner and the City Council.

Cavaliaro stated that the Chancellor, as the President of the University, will coordinate the activities of the five colleges.

In accordance with space survey plans, the Education Library, 1111, has been officially closed. Books are to be stored in the School of Education office, moved from 1113. Books from the library can be found on the second floor. Several book collections are in 209; required reading texts and reserve section books are in 207; periodicals and general reference books are in 207.

Both sixth floor medical offices have been thoroughly cleaned and repainted. Dean Emanuel Saxe’s office underwent a painting from a harsh green to a light Nile green color.

Changes Made During Easter

While students were on vacation during the Easter recess, Baruch School workmen made several improvements in the College’s physical plant.

New paint-colored flooring was installed in Lounge B on the tenth floor.

On the fifteenth floor, new student chairs were placed in all classrooms. The old chairs in poor condition have been used in replace workroom furniture in other classrooms throughout the building. New gray instructor’s desks have been installed in some classrooms.

Carmine DeSapio from the first assembly district; Daniel J. Riemer, author of the publication “Practical Politics”; and who is President of the National Republican Club; and MacNeil Mitchell, Republican state senator from the twentieth Senatorial District in Manhattan. Senator Mitchell is chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Housing and Multiple Dwellings, a group composed of members of both parties, which has been responsible for landmark legislation designed to improve conditions in safety, comfort and health in multiple dwellings.

The price of the luncheon is $3.50 per person. Those interested in attending the luncheon should contact Dr. Lorraine Col­ liner of the College established a Division of Vocational Subjects and Civil Administration and named Professor Frank B. Robinson as its director.

Censorship Troubles

The cries of censorship and restriction from Brooklyn College are not new to the students of the institution. Under the iron hand of President Francis G. Gates, the faculty have been curtailed in their extra-curricular activities. To the Faculty Council came the following resolution to the effect that there is a certain editorial bias in the paper which may not exist.

In behalf of the Student Council, may I now state our desire that the publication of Miss Albright's column as it appears in the Daily must be censored. We do not think Miss Albright's column has contained any truth in it or that it is of any value. It is an unprofessional and possibly libelous piece of writing and is likely to hurt the paper's reputation.

We have seen some of the talks given by Professor Gates to the students and we feel that there was no necessity for their publication. We have, therefore, asked the administration to re-examine this column and to take it out of the paper.

And, if we hear this column being published again, we will ask the administration to take it out immediately.

Nine Bows to Redmen, 4-3; Still Seeking First Victory

City College's baseball team is still looking for its first win. Yesterday, coach John La Place's charges met St. John's University at Babe Ruth Field and almost played the Redmen to a tie. They lost in the ninth inning, 4-3.

Righthander Al Di Bernardo went all the way for City, yielding five runs on nine hits, scoring was done in three innings, the third, fifth and ninth. St. John's rallied twice in the third, while City scored once.

In the fifth frame, City counted twice while St. John's had one runner cross the plate. The Johnnies went up with a score in the ninth.

Lee Penn went eight innings for St. John's, Ed Berman who relieved him was credited with the victory.

For the first time this year, City played errorless ball. The Beavers' record in the Metropolitan Conference is now 0-5-1.

Six Games

From April 10 through April 17, the Beavers played six times and finished with the following record - no wins, four losses and two ties.

The two came at the hands of New York University, 4-2, April 12, and at Army's West Point, 5-5, the next day.

Two wins were scored over Drexel in the season opener, 15-3; Princeton University, 25-14; Manhattan College, 15-3, and to Fordham University 10-4.

In six innings, Tommy D'Alvernato opened on the mound for City against Wagner. He was shelled for six runs in the first three innings. His finest hitting by captain Ray Holland to stop City, 10-4. Holland had a double, single and two field errors in the game.

In a Metropolitan Baseball Conference game at Babe Ruth Field, Manhattan, behind right-hander Martin McGuire, check-led City 15-3.

Cold weather and darkness caused the calling of the City-NYU tilt at the end of eight innings. Each side made errors in a game that was stopped played.

Olson Paces Track Team

To 81-60 Win Over Adelphi

Carlisle University had Jim Thorpe, Stanford University had Bob Mathias. Indiana University has Milt Campbell. New York University has Mike Herman—and City College has Len Olson.

Although Olson doesn't quite fit into the above named group, he is fast becoming one man wrecking crew for City College opponents in outdoor track and field. Recently, Olson won five field events in a dual meet with Adelphi College of Garden City, Long Island, which City won, 81-60.

Olson was the number two field man until it became known that Jack Kushner, the strong boy who holds the College records in the shot put and the discus, would not compete this year.

Against Adelphi, Olson threw the hammer 58 feet 9 inches, the javelin 150 feet 81/2 inches, the shot put 25 9/16, the discus 192 4 inches and won the 120 yard high hurdles in 18.8 seconds.

Olson had to compete for the headlines with Bo Baratta of Adelphi, however, Baratta copped the 220 in 23.5, the 440 in 61 feet and took the broad jump with a leap of 22 1/2. He also found time to be on the winning mile relay team which covered the distance in 3:41.

City will send a group of runners to the Penn Relays in Philadelphia this weekend, but the team's chances are slim. Its next dual meet will be against Fairleigh Dickinson of New Jersey, May 4, in Jersey.

Drexel Subdues Stickmen

With Last Period Scores

Over the Easter holiday, City College's lacrosse team met one team — Drexel Institute of Technology — a three-game series (including a "no angle" game for "Chief" Miller's stickmen, Drexel) was enough.

The Pennsylvanians blasted the Beavers all over Lawnsoda Stadium Saturday, April 13, to win, 15-3.

Paced by Al Rosenberg, who was playing his first varsity game, Drexel scored five times in the final period to ice the game. Rosenberg tallied six times in the game — his first score coming at the 7:00 mark of the second quarter with the count 3-3.

He scored twice in the third quarter and three times in fourth stanza, his last goal coming at the 7:30 mark.

Ron Bose, who had three goals for City, opened the scoring 2:00 of the first period with assist from captain Len Faustino. Bose came down the left side of the field and beat goalie Charlie Vincent. He was the other starting assignee for the Kingsmen.

Brooklyn is 1-4 in Metropolitan Conference play and one step ahead of City in standings. The Beavers are last place.
