Uptown Council 'Backs' Jerome

The Uptown Student Government, Wednesday evening, adopted a resolution reaffirming "the right of all student council members to follow their own convictions and to say what they please when they deem it appropriate."

The motion was aimed at the alleged actions of SG representatives in section with the Sixth World Festival of Youth and Students in Moscow. He did not attend the Festival.

City College President Buehl G. Gallagher, in his annual report, said: "The test of a constitution is not the case of a few members who cannot get along with the rest of the organization. We are not the American way of life."

IFC Takes No Action On Alleged 'Violations'

The Inter-Fraternity Council, at its meeting Friday, failed to take any action on two alleged "ethical" violations. The two discussions concerned fraternity smokers.

Jerry Arrow, president of IFC, was charged with having sent Inter-Fraternity Council letters to lower classmen together with a smoker's invitation from his own fraternity, Sigma Beta Phi, of which he is the pledge chairman. Dr. Lewis Balamuth, the only witness against Austin, was a member of the Communist Party cell at CCNY in 1955 until he resigned in 1942. Balamuth stated that the cell had about fifty or sixty members during his period of membership.

President

"Flattening," the most pressing equipment present, was "on the job". It was the first report issued by the Board of Trustees.

The report revealed that, in a series of meetings held at the end of 1956, the Baruch School Faculty evaluated the Middle States Association report as "not acceptable to the School."

A 16-page section of the report was devoted to the Middle States Association report. It discussed the evaluation of middle schools throughout the country. It included a discussion of such points as: overall objectives of the College, the library, academic programs, teaching load, and the plant facilities.

Although there was a "modest start in the right direction...our primary needs still remain unfulfilled," the report stated. Cited as "among our present needs" were the following items:

- In terms of space, our building is less than 50% adequate for our present needs.

- Most of our equipment is badly worn or outdated.

- If the Baruch School is to meet the challenge of the public supported educational service of the New York business community, at the college level, it is essential to provide for the erection of a modern, plant of sufficient size to make such an achievement possible.

- We need to go forward vigorously with the newly begun program of repairs and renovation...accompanied by a substantial increase in current maintenance.

Allowances Needed

Allowances are needed to underwrite the cost of planning and executing a program of much needed lectures, conferences and institutes on important economic, industrial, and civic problems.

The report covered the student body, the faculty; the curriculum; the professional departments; the library; the evening classes; and the summer session building; the Middle States Association Evaluation Report; the needs of the School; and the Office of the Dean.

Rosenberg Elected Chairman of BHE

Gustave V. Rosenberg was unanimously elected chairman of the Board of Higher Education. The new body will fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Joseph B. Cavallaro, who died in August.

A 57-year old trial attorney, Rosenberg was appointed to the BHE by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri in 1962.

In 1953, he was named chairman of a three-member BHE committee set up to hear charges of conduct unbecoming a teacher brought against New York City College basketball coach.

The charges came about a reversion of the 1956-57 basketball season. In 1944, the committee, by a 2-1 majority vote, favored Holman's acquittal. Rosenberg and John J. O'Malley voted to dismiss the charges.

Later, in a surprise move, the Board reversed his decision. After a special appeal to the State Commissioner of Education, Holman was reinstated.

Rosenberg has served as chairman of the BHE since the creation of the panel in 1940.

Rosenberg has been active in civic affairs and many Jewish organizations. He is a member of the Hunter College Academic Council and a member of the Planning Commission of the New York City College.

City College President G. Gallagher, at the end of the meeting, moved, "that a former City College president be appointed to the Board of Directors of the Ticker."

"Expresses Hope"

Rosenberg expressed the hope that the community college system would be expanded to include the five boroughs of New York. He stated that a two-year college for the Bronx, in the immediate future of the Board of Education, would have this effect.
President Asks SC To Study Fee Raise

President Sheldon Brand asked Student Council Friday to study the possibility of establishing a raise in the student fee.

The president has said that the student council has been asked to study the possibility of a fee raise due to the demands of the administration for more money to run the institution. The president has also said that the administration has been asking for more money to run the institution due to the demands of the students for more services.

Stop The Nonsense

A two-week long program started yesterday at the Baruch School. It was sponsored by the Student Council, and it was open to all students. The program was designed to introduce students to campus life and to help them adjust to the social and academic aspects of college. The program included workshops on time management, study skills, and social skills.

The program was well-received by the students, who found it helpful in preparing them for the challenges of college life. The Student Council plans to continue the program in future academic years.
28 Students Enroll For Insurance Plan

By Martin Jacobs

Twenty-eight students have enrolled in the Student Accident and Sickness Expenses Insurance Plan sponsored by Student Council.

The plan, which is designed to provide coverage for students against the high cost of medical care, is available to all students enrolled in the College.

The insurance plan covers hospitalization, medical and surgical expenses, and funeral expenses.

The enrollment period for the plan runs from September 25 to October 1.

Six File Suit Against BHE

Richard Austin and Marion B. Austin, former business associates in City College, and four others have filed a suit against the Bank of Higher Education for breach of contract.

The suit, which was filed in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, alleges that the Bank of Higher Education failed to comply with the terms of a contract entered into with the plaintiffs.

The plaintiffs are seeking damages of $750,000.

Sophos, Soccer and O'Malley

By Richard Gurka

Sophos, the popular soccer team, kicked off its season with a 2-0 victory over the O'Malley team.

Sophos, led by Captain John Smith, played with determination and skill, while O'Malley struggled to keep up.

The game was filled with thrilling moments, and the crowd of fans was on the edge of their seats.

The final score was 2-0 in favor of Sophos.

Mathematics Leads In Subject Failures

For the third consecutive semester, mathematics is the subject with the highest percentage of failures, according to recent statistics.

The failure rate in mathematics is over 10%, which is significantly higher than in other subjects.

This trend is concerning, as it indicates a need for improved teaching methods and support systems for students.

New Princeton Head Rapped by Clergyman

The President of Princeton University was summoned to the University last week to account for his administration's handling of certain student affairs.

The President was accused of failing to address the concerns of the students and faculty.

The President is expected to respond to the accusations in the near future.
Bootsie Win, 4-0, In Practice Game

By Mel Winer

Showing little of the form that enabled them to win a state championship last year, City College's soccer team beat Hofstra, 4-0, Saturday in a practice game at Lewishohn Stadium.

Outdistancing their opponents, the Beavers were constantly on the offensive throughout the contest. Moreover, due to poor passing and shooting, the Lavender was held scoreless for almost the entire first half.

With 19:30 gone in the second period, Johnny Paranos attempted to score past Hofstra goalie, Artie Brown. In blocking the shot, Brown moved himself between the net and the open for Gabor Schlissner's rebound shot to go in.

23 Saves by Brown

As the second half started, goalie Brown was forced to leave the contest because of a hand injury. While in the net, Brown had made 23 saves, some of them bordering on the impossible.

In their shooting, the Beavers managed to make it 2-0 when Heinz Minnerop scored on a pass from co-captain Billy Sund.

As the quarter neared its end, the Israeli-born co-captain hit for the third Lavender goal of the game.

The Beavers maintained the offensive in the fourth period. However, they were only able to score once when Marco Wachter, at 49:26, sent the ball into the net.

Asked about the poor passing and shooting of the Lavender, coach Harry Karlin replied that the contest was the squad's first outing and most of the players were still new to each other's style. He felt that the squad in general turned in a creditable performance.

Hofstra coach Paul Lynner said that if the Beavers shooting had been any better, the game would have been a complete romp. He also stated that his team's poor offensive showing was due in part to the fact that two of the squad's top scorers could not make the trip.

Frosh-Soph Contest Slated Despite Sophomore Apathy

After much debate, the Frosh-Soph Battles will go on this semester.

The Battles, to be held faced extinction because of sophomore Visconti, Intra-Mural Board chairman, decided not to go ahead with the contest because of insufficient sophomores, but this request was denied.

The Frosh-Soph Battles consist in three parts. The first is the tug of war, followed by a cage ball contest. The final, and what promises to be the most exciting, is a no-roles-basketball game.

The usual outfit for the Battles is a pair of the oldest dungarees and a shirt which is old enough to have torn off the back and ripped to shreds.

If the Battles are not a success this semester, the Intra-Mural Board will stop sponsoring them.

Despite the fact that the Battles have a long past, it will be necessary to take this action, Miss Visconti said.

Once again, there will be a junior varsity soccer team. It will be coached by Harry Karlin, varsity mentor. The junior varsity team is open to freshmen.

Last year's junior varsity squad played several games. This year's eleven will probably play three or four game schedule. The opponents are as yet to be chosen.

In addition to its outside frays, the squad will scrimmage regularly with the varsity. Coach Karlin issued a call for candidates for the team. He said that no experience is necessary, but spirit and determination are prerequisites.

The 45 Club will sponsor its first trip of the season October 25, to West Point for a soccer encounter with Army. There will be a meeting of the Grov. 9118, Thursday, September 24, 15.

Returning Speedster Will Bolster Harrier

If you happen to be at Van Cortlandt Park on Saturday, October 15, and see a well-muscled young man running you, don't think they're chasing someone. It's just the cross-country meet of the season for the City College Harriers.

The quadrangular meet, met, Queens, Hunter and Brook will be a sure indication of the hill and dale season. Last year, they finished in six scheduled and finished well in the College Track Conference meet and IC4A championships.

Selected as co-captains for squad were returnees from year's team, Randy Crosby.
