Two Presidents Deny Chancellorship 'Rumor'

Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, said Wednesday that he “would not accept the post if offered to me.”

The statement, in reply to an article in THE TICKER last week came after Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of City College, stated Wednesday that the story was a “rumor.”

Gallagher went on to say that since the Administrative Council, composed of the five city college presidents, would have to make the nomination to the Board of Higher Education, has not made any recommendations, yet, there could be no basis for the story.

THE TICKER's story stated that an “informed source” told the newspaper that Dr. Shuster had been named Chancellor of the five-city colleges.

The切尔 president's post was created last May over the strong protests of the Student Alumni Association, which said the office would remove the autonomy of the five city college presidents.

The appropriation for the post totalled $100,000, of which $25,000 will be for the salary of the Chancellor. Included in the appropriation was a provision for two assistants and administrative staff.

The post was originally created for the purpose of advising the college presidents to coordinate municipal college administrative activities.

Last May, Mayor Robert F. Wagner endorsed the idea officially. Dr. Gallagher has approved the establishment of the chancellorship; he has said he would not accept the post if offered to him.

Racial Talk Set for Thursday

An informal discussion of race relations entitled “Big Rock, New York” will take place Thursday at 12:30 in 1103. The event, sponsored by the campus' chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Psychology Society, will be moderated by Dr. John B. Upjohn, president of Hunter College, and Dr. David L. Baurer, director of the NAACP.

Dr. Baurer, professor of sociology at Hunter College, will serve as conference leader for the New York State Student Christian Movement Conference, “America's Burden: Our Involvement in Racial Tensions.”

The discussion is similar to a session held last semester by the NAACP. That event was entitled “The Vertical Negro and the Squatting White Man.” Dr. Baurer moderated the discussion.

Professor Baurer participated in a celebration of Brotherhood Week last semester in a discussion “The Horizons of Brotherhood: Four Points of View.” At that talk, there were three other faculty members presenting their respective viewpoints.

Dr. Baurer said: “Brothers hate each other and the only way they can love each other is to acknowledge that they hate each other and to suppress and control this feeling.”

SC Votes to Ban C-Office Holders

Student Council unanimously adopted a motion Friday evening which will prohibit any organization on campus, from having an elected officer whose cumulative average has fallen below C.

The motion stems from a standing ruling of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities, which has never been enforced. FCSA has jurisdiction over most student organizations.

President Sheldon Brand said yesterday that Council will send a letter to each student group at the Barnard School informing them that they cannot elect officers for the spring semester who have an average below C.

In other matters, Council voted to hire Paul Natal and his Orchestra for the School-Wide Prom, January 22 at the Essex House. The price for the affair was set at $4 per couple.

Student Council received a 30-page report from the National Student Association Committee, informing them of the happenings at the Tenth National Student Congress this past summer.

Student Council, Freshman Plan Special Elections

By Bob Nadel

Spring elections for vacant Student and Class Council seats will be held Friday from 10:4 in Louise C. Because of the prevalence of Asiatic influenza, the deadline for filing petitions has not yet been applied for: Upper 61, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and two seats on Student Council; Lower 50, secretary; Upper 60, president, vice president and secretary; Upper 59, vice president, secretary, and two Student Council seats; Lower 58, secretary, and Upper 58, three Student Council seats.

Freshman Elections Positions which have been applied for in the Lower Freshman class are: president, Syd Gartenberg and Art Schreiber; vice president, Ira Margolias and Terry Schreiber; secretary, Lauree Reiley; treasurer, Jerome Mosen; and Student Council, Joe Killians, Fred Brownfield, Bruce Markosa, Jodi Berkowitz and Joseph Han-kin.

Edythe Miller is running for the position of president of the Upper Freshman class. In the Lower Sophomore class, Mary Auerbach is vying for Harvey Friedman's seat as treasurer. Joel Samit is running unopposed for treasurer of the class of Upper 60.

The class of Lower 69 will have Camille Visconti, Sidney Traum and Gerald Bander as candidates for Student Council. In the class of Upper 69, Irwin Ettinger is running for the position of president, Norman Schraubinger for secretary and Martin Hanel for treasurer.

The freshmen elections will take place Friday in Freshmen Assembly.
The first annual world-wide report of students' activities has been published by the American Council on Education.

The report, which is based on a survey of 1,200 American colleges and universities, shows that the majority of students are interested in the work of the student government, although only a small percentage of them actually participate in its activities.

The survey also revealed that the percentage of students who belong to organizations other than the student government is increasing. However, the report notes that the number of students who are active in these organizations is still relatively small.

The American Council on Education has urged colleges and universities to provide more opportunities for students to become involved in extracurricular activities. It also recommended that colleges and universities should make it easier for students to become involved in student government activities.

The report also contains a section on the current status of the student government at the largest universities in the United States. It notes that the student government at these institutions is generally well-organized and effective, but that there is still room for improvement.

The American Council on Education has been publishing these reports for many years, and they have become an important source of information about the role of student government in American higher education.
Booters Face LIU;
Defeat Alumni, 6-0

By Mel Winer

"Someday City College must be beaten. I hope it will be Wednesday." This statement, made by Long Island University soccer coach Gary Rosenthal last week, indicates the type of contest the Beavers can expect against the LIU Blackbirds, when they begin league competition tomorrow.

The Blackbirds have come a long way from last year's team which posted a 2-7 record and finished ninth in the Metropolitan League. According to coach Rosenthal, this year's squad is faster, more aggressive, and better defensively than last season's team.

Leading the Blackbirds will be their co-captain, "Butch" Nova. Last year, Nova scored four goals, one of them against the Beavers.

Almost Full Strength

Despite this, Beaver coach Harry Karlin does not expect any trouble from the Blackbirds. The Beavers, with the possible exception of co-captain Billy Sund, out with an ankle injury, and George Biruta, injured in Saturday's contest, should be at full strength for the contest.

Saturday, facing a team with no fewer than 11 former all-met selections playing at one time, the Lavender downed the Alumni, 6-0. They were led by Eric Bienstock, who scored three goals.

City Harriers Lose Crown

City College's cross-country team lost the Municipal College crown, it held for two years to Hunter College Saturday.

The Beavers, badly hampered by the loss of their fastest man, Randy Crosfield, finished in second place, scoring 36 points to the Hawks' 35. In cross-country, the team with the lowest score wins.

The leading harriers for the Lavender, who finished undefeated last season, were Bob Cleary and Ralph Taylor, who finished second and third. Leading all runners for the third consecutive year was Hunter's Joe Vogel.

Dear Marcia,

Sweet primrose of the Bronx . . . My little Sputnik . . . Please forgive me. But you know my frail constitution makes it difficult to ride the IRT all the way from Beverly Road to Mosholu Parkway, Dear. I'll pick you up at 4 so we can reach Lamport House by 8 if we walk fast . . . If I buy our tickets in advance on the 9th floor it'll only cost 75c - my House Plan card gets 10c off, so we can have a real CHEAP date.

John

P.S. Wear your blue sheath dress.
