Gallagher’s Report Proposes Voluntary Membership Lists

President Buell G. Gallagher will recommend to the General Faculty Thursday that club membership lists be voluntary rather than compulsory.

The recommendation to the General Faculty, which, under the by-laws of the Board of Higher Education, has control over the extra-curricular program at City College, may end the three-year fight over compulsory membership lists.

Dr. Gallagher noted that the General Faculty has voted to continue the lists ruling in effect for one year, terminating in November 1957. He said that he had consulted “the advice of persons freest” and the College council, reference to this question and the General Faculty expressed its approval of my intent in this matter.

The President’s recommendation declares “the decision to submit a full roster or to refuse from such submission shall be made by majority vote of the persons constituting the council of the membership of the applying group, and the report of such vote shall be certified to by a faculty advisor."

Dr. Gallagher added that a student who is a member of a club that has chosen not to submit a list, may register a statement of his membership, if he desires.

Any application for an initial charter or for renewal of a charter, the President states, must be signed by at least four of the student councilors and the faculty advisor. In addition, the advisor must certify to the President that the officers of the club are in good standing, and that the officers are of a character that those members of the group who are the members of the organization.

President Gallagher said that the faculty of the Baruch School advised that “the faculty of the Baruch School wishes to maintain the same procedures within the framework of its own work provided by the president and the General Faculty.”

Emily Saxe is head of the Baruch School faculty.

Anti-Bias Housing Petition Retracted From Circulation

A student petition in favor of the principles of the Sharkey-Brown-Incas anti-discrimination in private housing bill now before New York’s City Council has been withdrawn from circulation.

Larry Schiff, one of the organizers of the petition, said that “the overwhelming number of fearful and bigoted student made it clear that they had no desire to see this petition succeed.”

A similar petition attracted more than 1000 signatures at the uptown center. It was subsequently presented to Mayor Robert F. Wagner when he made a campaign speech.

The Faculty Committee on Student Activites had ruled that it must have an organization’s name on it and approval of the Faculty advisor before it could be circulated.

Students for Democratic Action and Truth agreed to lend their names to the petition. They were: the Economic Society, Student Council, the 45 Club, the Freshman Orientation Society, Sigma Alpha and the TICKER.

THE TICKER refused because it faculty advisor felt that some friction might develop between the two faculty committees, FCSA and the Ticketer, Association.

Council Discusses NSA Rights Bill

The National Student Association’s Student Bill of Responsibilities and Rights was partially accepted by Student Council at its meeting Friday evening.

The bill provides for the rights and responsibilities for students. It was passed by the N.S.S. Congress last year.

It was not accepted completely because two sections were ambiguously worded. The Council said the sections were returned to the N.S.A. committee for further changes. The two sections will probably be returned to Student Council Friday evening.

The bill was originally presented by the group. It was passed and sent to the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs. FCSA discussed the bill and made recommendations to Student Council for its improvement.

Tomorrow Night:

Senator Case to Address Alumni

By Andy Meppen

Senator Clifford P. Case of New Jersey will be the principal speaker at the seventy-seventh annual dinner of the City College Alumni Association tomorrow night in the Grand Ballroom in the Astor Hotel.

Senator Case, a Republican, is honorary vice president of the New York Democratic Action. City Councilman Stanley M. Isaacs will receive City College’s annual John B. Finley Medal for “significant service to City College at the New York.”

A member of the City Council for the past 18 years, Isaacs was elected last week to another four-year term. He will be the Republican on the Council and will hold the minority leader.

Isaacs was re-elected with Republican and Liberal Party backing.

From 1935 to 1942, Isaacs was President of the New York Times.

Clifford P. Case

During his term of office the Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive was planned and constructed.

The Fiske Medal was established in memory of the late John Houston Finley, president of City College and editor of The New York Times. Past winners include Arthur Hays Sulzberger, publisher of The New York Times, Robert Moses and Bernard M. Baruch. Last year’s winner was Newbold Morris, chairman of the New York City Council.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, president of City College and Harold A. Lifton, president of the Alumni Association, will address the group.

Townsend Harris Medals

Five alumni will be presented with City College’s 1957 Townsend Harris Medals for distinguished post-graduate achievement at the dinner.

They are: George B. DeLuca ’09, Lieutenant Governor of the State of New York; Dr. Morton Gotschall ’13, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences since 1934; Dr. Arthur Master ’16, former president of the New York Medical Society and one of the nation’s leading cardiologists; Abraham D. Beame ’28, budget director of New York City; and Paddy Chayefsky ‘43 Academy Award winning dramatist.

Buell G. Gallagher

Emanuel Saxe

Two Faculty Debate UN

The merits and demerits of the United Nations will be the subject of a debate between Professor Daniel P. Patrick, director of the Government Department and Dr. Arthur Waldhorn of the English Department Thursday at 12:30 in Lounge C.

The debate was postponed two weeks ago due to Dr. Waldhorn’s illness.

Professor Parker will take the negative side of the question, while Dr. Waldhorn will take the affirmative in the debate which will commemorate the fifth anniversary of the founding of the UN charter.
Junior Prom Set For Belmont Plaza
By Ana Sigmond
The Class of '59 has set their junior prom for Friday evening, November 22, at the Modern Room of the Belmont Plaza Hotel in Forest Hills. The event will be held at the hotel and sponsored by Mary Stella's, Merrick, Long Island. Danny Adatto and his orchestra, winners of a dance contest, will play at the event.

Music Contest Auditions Open
Auditions for the College's annual music contest will be held Wednesday, December 4. The contest is for students who have been members of the musical organization for at least one year. Selections may be made in any musical form. The contest will be open to all male and female students. The winner will receive a $50 prize and the runner-up will receive a $25 prize. All entries must be submitted by December 4.

Parents of Freshmen Class To Be Greeted Sunday
By Camille R. Vessoli
The Freshman Orientation Society, in conjunction with the Department of Student Life and the Parent Organization, will host the parents of the freshman class on Sunday at the annual parent's day reception in Pauline Edwards Theater. The reception will be held for all parents of the freshmen class, as well as all students who are interested in attending the event.

The Play
The play, written by Sam and Rose, will be performed on stage. Dennis McLaughlin, a lower senior, will star as Sky Masterson. An Army vet, Feuer has appeared on Broadway, appeared in several films, appeared on television, and appeared in several musicals. He has received several awards, including the Tony Award for Best Performance by a Leading Actor in a Musical.

The group's faculty advisor, Dr. Li, assistant to the Dean of Students in the Music Department—leads the officers.
Across the Nation

Women to have another women's publication optional policy

The women of the University of California have been

The women's publication optional policy at the University of California is set to begin, according to a recent announcement. This new policy will allow students to have a publication of their choice, but it will not be mandatory. The purpose of this policy is to give students more flexibility in their college experience.

Women's publications have been a part of the University of California system for many years, but this is the first time that students will have the option to choose their own publications. This will give students more control over their college experience and allow them to express their own voices.

The policy will be implemented at three different levels: the university, the college, and the department. At the university level, students will have the option to choose a publication that represents their interests or values. At the college level, students will have the option to choose a publication that represents their major or field of study. At the department level, students will have the option to choose a publication that represents their specific program or course.

This policy is a response to student demands for more flexibility in their college experience. Many students have expressed the desire to have more control over their college publications, and this policy will allow them to have that control.

The policy will be implemented gradually over the next few years, with the goal of having all students have the option to choose their own publications by the end of the decade.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TIMES

At the meeting of the Student Council on September 8, 1969, the issue of student representation in the New York State Senate was discussed. It was decided that there should be five representatives from each of the four main student unions to a total of 20 representatives. The New York Times editorial on September 22, 1969, said that these representatives should be elected by the student body to ensure equal representation.

The following letter is from a member of the Student Council who disagrees with the New York Times editorial.

To the Editor of THE TIMES

I disagree with the New York Times editorial on September 22, 1969, that student representation in the New York State Senate should be elected by the student body. I believe that student representation should be appointed by the Student Council, as was previously done.

The Student Council has the expertise to select the most qualified students to represent the student body. This will ensure that the interests of the student body are being represented, and not just the interests of a few students.

I believe that this is a more effective way to represent the student body, and I urge the Student Council to continue to appoint student representatives to the New York State Senate.

Baruchian Spends Summer Working on Banana Boat

Baruchian spends summer working on banana boat

Baruchian spent his summer working on a banana boat. He spent the entire summer on the boat, living on it and working on it. He spent his days painting the boat and his nights reading books. He learned a lot about the sea and the people who work on banana boats.

The banana boat was his home, and he loved it. He spent the entire summer on the boat, and he never wanted to leave. He was very happy to be on the banana boat, and he was very grateful for the chance to work on it.

Baruchian is planning to go back to the banana boat next summer, and he is looking forward to it very much. He is very happy to be on the banana boat, and he is very grateful for the chance to work on it.
President's Report

Stirs Controversy

By Martin Jacobs

A special report prepared by the President's Committee on Education Review Committee is being studied by the faculty and student body.

The Committee suggests that the present system of grading is ineffective and that a new system be adopted.

The report also recommends the establishment of a new faculty membership for the next academic year.

The following are excerpts from the report:

"The present system of grading is ineffective and..."

"A new faculty membership for the next academic year..."

In conclusion, the report states: "The Committee believes that the recommendations made in this report will improve the educational environment at our institution."
City Wins 'State Title,' Downs Brockport, 5-1

By Vie Ziegler
Special to THE TICKER

BROCKPORT, New York, November 9—The City College soccer team took a giant step toward national supremacy today with a decisive 6-0 win over Brockport State Teachers College, at the loser's Memorial Field.

Three inches of snow had fallen and the temperature was below freezing as the Beavers captured their eighth win in as many outings. The weather hurt the Lavender's powerful offense and kept it from rolling up the score as it had done in its 6-0 win over Temple University last week.

Scoring twice in the first quarter and once in every other stanza, the Beavers had little trouble with Brockport's Golden Eagles.

The win was perhaps the most important of the season in that Brockport coach Honley Parker Jr., a member of the national selection committee, pooling the Beavers "the best squad I've seen this season."

Gabrielizer opened the scoring with only three minutes gone when he took a pass from Savino D’Agostino and headed the ball into upper left hand corner of the net. At 1:47 of the same period the Beavers scored again. This time it was Fred Bonnet on a pass from Frank Savino, and his low kicked and he head right hand corner of the net.

The Beavers dominated play in the first quarter with the ball rarely going deep into Lavender territory. In the second stanza, Brockport bore down, and at the five minute mark, had its first real scoring opportunity. A long lead pass brought Beavers goalie Lionel Levy out of his cage. Manfredi tried to grab the ball but the mud and snow had made it impossible for him to handle. The ball bounced around in front of the open net until center halfback Johnny Paranos applied the big boot and "drove the ball out of the net."

With less than two minutes to go in the half, that goal by Savino was blocked by the Eagle defense. However, the Beavers were awarded a penalty kick. Paranos tailed on his third consecutive penalty kick this year to give the Lavender a 2-0 halftime edge.

The upstarts got their lone goal with 5 minutes gone in the second half on a pass from left halfback Fred Taub to outside right Roy Woodard. Redoubling its efforts, Brockport tried desperately to get another goal which would put them but one short of the Beavers.

Johnny Paranos

Silver, Bennardo, Friedman
Selected for Starting 'Five'

City College basketball coach Dean Sapora today tentatively named a starting lineup for the opening game against Columbia, Monday, December 4.

"Starting at center will be the 6-5 British Guiana Hector Lewis. The forward posts will be manned by 6-4 Baruchian Bob Silver and 6-3 Lenno Wallitt. The back court operators will be letterman Joe Bennardo, 5-9, and Fran Friedman, 5-9. All of the men played last year; Silver and Bennardo are the only returning starters."

Silver has been a bulwark under the boards for two seasons, and his work is expected to improve this year. Last year he was second to Levy in the rebound department, and scored at the rate of 7.2 points per game. Wallitt saw limited action last year, but impressed the fans as a hustler, and was rewarded with starting post for his good showing in practice sessions. Although he appeared in but eight games, his shooting percentage was a respectable 45 percent.

Flashy Joe Bennardo was the high scorer and top scorer last season, pouring in 223 marks for an average of 11.7 points per game.

The shifty Friedman was Bennardo's chief understudy last year. This year he has become a starter, showing potential in the early season. He is not for his determination and hustle.

Joel Ascher, who was expected to help the team this season, has been out with the Anistic flu for several weeks, and is not in shape.

Mat Coach Impressed
With Newcomers’ Work

By Mary Levy

Although his wrestling team had an impressive record seven victories and one defeat last season, coach Joseph Savino is hoping to beat that record or at least duplicate it. Since there are only four varsity returnees from last year's squad, Savino's task would appear arduous, but the work of newcomers—147-pounder Royf Wallitt and 150-pounder George Chudinski and Walter Olowsky has impressed him.

The biggest task is to fill the gap left by the graduation of 6-foot 9-inch Syd Levy, who graduated in June. Silver has been a bulwark under the boards for two seasons, and his work is expected to improve this year. Last year he was second to Levy in the rebound department, and scored at the rate of 7.2 points per game. Wallitt saw limited action last year, but impressed the fans as a hustler, and was rewarded with starting post for his good showing in practice sessions. Although he appeared in but eight games, his shooting percentage was a respectable 45 percent.

Flashy Joe Bennardo was the high scorer and top scorer last season, pouring in 223 marks for an average of 11.7 points per game.

The shifty Friedman was Bennardo's chief understudy last year. This year he has become a starter, showing potential in the early season. He is not for his determination and hustle.

Joel Ascher, who was expected to help the team this season, has been out with the Anistic flu for several weeks, and is not in shape.

Mat Coach Impressed
With Newcomers’ Work

By Mary Levy

Although his wrestling team had an impressive record seven victories and one defeat last season, coach Joseph Savino is hoping to beat that record or at least duplicate it. Since there are only four varsity returnees from last year's squad, Savino's task would appear arduous, but the work of newcomers—147-pounder Royf Wallitt and 150-pounder George Chudinski and Walter Olowsky has impressed him.

The biggest task is to fill the gap left by the graduation of 6-foot 9-inch Syd Levy, who graduated in June. Silver has been a bulwark under the boards for two seasons, and his work is expected to improve this year. Last year he was second to Levy in the rebound department, and scored at the rate of 7.2 points per game. Wallitt saw limited action last year, but impressed the fans as a hustler, and was rewarded with starting post for his good showing in practice sessions. Although he appeared in but eight games, his shooting percentage was a respectable 45 percent.

Flashy Joe Bennardo was the high scorer and top scorer last season, pouring in 223 marks for an average of 11.7 points per game.

The shifty Friedman was Bennardo's chief understudy last year. This year he has become a starter, showing potential in the early season. He is not for his determination and hustle.

Joel Ascher, who was expected to help the team this season, has been out with the Anistic flu for several weeks, and is not in shape.