3 Departments Face Split From Uptown

Baruch School Dean Emanuel Saxe said Wednesday that "exploratory" action was being taken for the possible separation of three Baruch School departments from their Uptown parents.

The three departments are the Economics, Government, and Psychology Departments. Of all the "liberal arts" departments at the Baruch School, these three are the only ones which offer a specialization.

City President College President Buel St. John, also said that the discussions were merely of an "exploratory" nature, but that the matter is under "serious consideration."

Dr. Saxe stated that discussion started at his insistence late last semester. He asserted, no positive decisions of any nature have been made.

He said that he favored the split because it would be "educationally sound." Dean Saxe did not elaborate on this point.

It is understood that the procedure for any section of this type would involve studies by both Dean Saxe and Assistant Dean Morton Gottschall. He said that the next action would be a decision by himself. He emphasized that a decision would be reached by the end of the semester.

It is understood that if the split is approved by President Gallagher it would mean more money in the Baruch School's annual budget. It would also give the School added prestige in having three additional independent departments.

Council, Lexicon Ask $4,200 from Classes

By K. Stuart Melviner

Student Council President Irwin Feller and Lexicon Editor-in-Chief Larry Bochner have asked the classes of 1950-57 to release $4200 in dormant funds. Feller contends that the money should be released by the classes to allow Student Council to "increase its scope."

"If we get a substantial part of this money, we (Student Council) will be able to finance a major social event at little or no cost to the students and may be able to help to relieve the financial burden on other major student organizations in the School," he stated.

Part of the funds, $550, were transferred from the Lexicon account to that of the graduating class during the years mentioned. Editor-in-Chief Bochner has hopes of using money any way he gets it, toward the establishment of a Lexicon reserve account.

Letters to the class presidents were sent Thursday asking for the written transfer of the funds to Dean Ruth C. Wright, who will then distribute the money to Student Council and Lexicon.

Lexicon profits went into the class," accounts originally were transferred from the reserve account under the Board of Student Life and that this move would be administratively impossible. At that time, Lexicon was under the jurisdiction of Class O-51. After last year's book was penned autonomously, Bochner plans to start a reserve account to cover losses that may occur in the future.

The presidents to which letters were sent included: Larry Bloch, '57; Robert Silberberg, '56; Stuart Joseph, '54; Fred Agius, '51; Nat Ritzer, '50; Gil Krinsky, '51, and Mike Rosenbaum, '50.

ICB Confederation Passed By SC After Long Debate

In a six-hour debate Friday, Student Council passed by a 21-3-2 vote an amendment to confederate the Inter-Club Board.

Under the adopted portion of the amendment, ICB will, beginning next term, be composed of sections instead of the present representation of individual clubs.

The sections will combine clubs of similar interests and there will be proportional representation. The present membership will be reduced from 39 to 18.

The proponents of the amendment argued that the present set-up of ICB is too unwieldy and as a result is inefficient. In addition, it was felt that in order to avoid further stagnation, ICB must undergo a radical change.

Those who opposed it felt that this change would not ease the inefficiency of the Board and might even further complicate it.

The amendment in its entirety was passed Wednesday by the Board with certain reservations.

One of these, dealing with the distribution of votes to the service organizations, was brought to the floor by Steve Sorkin, ICB Chairman. It was defeated by SC.

Next week, Council will vote on the remaining portion of the amendment. This deals primarily with changes in wording that are necessary for the revised Board to function smoothly.

Charity Drive

The Charity Drive Committee selected the charities to be run this year. Those organizations selected were: Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity, Hillel, Alpha Phi Omega, Le Gras '61, Sigma Alpha and Boosters.

They will respectively donate money collected to the following organizations: World University Service, United Jewish Appeal, MDA, SCL, and the two open charities.

Insignium applications will be available in 921 February 28 through March 8, and must be returned by March 14 at 4.

Insignium awards are granted to graduating seniors for their contributions to extracurricular activities.

Placement Office Says Job Openings Decline

Sharp declines in the number of new job opportunities and salaries available to graduating seniors were revealed by Baruch School Placement Director Lawrence Lannier Thursday. Lannier attributed these results to present business recession.

The term "luxury items" is now applied to the fields of International Trade, Production Management, and Personnel by expense-saving companies. Available openings in these fields have decreased most. Advertising and Secretarial studies have also suffered considerably. For example, Lannier said that last year at this time jobs in Secretarial studies were available at $100 per week, yet these were more openings than applicants.

This year similar positions pay only $85 weekly and there are not openings enough to appeal. "I haven't had a thing in weeks" was his comment on the Marketing Research field. He pointed out that salaries have declined as well as job opportunities...

Ruth Wright:

Dean Attends Washington Talks

Ruth C. Wright, dean of the Department of Student Life, has accepted an invitation to attend a national conference on the "Foreign Aspects of United States National Security," which begins today.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the main speaker at the conference.

From April 1952 through September 1953, Dean Wright was a Cultural attaché representing the United States in New Delhi, India. She served as an educational adviser with the Technical Aid Program of the United States Department from 1953 to 1956.

Conference chairman Eric Johnston, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, said that this meeting is being conducted "to discuss the effect of the exchange program in India on foreign education policy which will be of particular interest to our government."
Bill Introduced in Legislature
To Register All Accountants
By Bruce Markens
A bill to require the accounting profession exclusively to Certified Public Accountants was introduced in the New York State Senate. The Legislation, if passed, will provide for registration of all accountants.

The bill, SB-1370, will be referred to the Ways and Means Committee, and then to the Committee on Commerce, then to the Senate's Joint Committee on Finance, and finally to the Committee on Rules. The bill is expected to be reported by the Senate's Rules Committee and then be sent to the Senate floor for consideration.

The bill would establish a Board of Accountants, which would be responsible for the registration of all accountants in the state. The board would require all accountants to be registered, and would also require all accountants to take a licensing examination before being allowed to practice.

The bill would also require all accountants to be bonded, and would establish penalties for those who violate the registration requirements. The bill is expected to be supported by the accounting profession, as well as by the state's financial institutions.

The bill is expected to be introduced in the Assembly as well, and is expected to be considered by the Assembly's Ways and Means Committee, then to the Committee on Commerce, then to the Assembly's Joint Committee on Finance, and finally to the Committee on Rules. The bill is expected to be reported by the Assembly's Rules Committee and then be sent to the Assembly floor for consideration.

The bill would also require all accountants to be bonded, and would establish penalties for those who violate the registration requirements. The bill is expected to be supported by the accounting profession, as well as by the state's financial institutions.

The bill is expected to be introduced in the Assembly as well, and is expected to be considered by the Assembly's Ways and Means Committee, then to the Committee on Commerce, then to the Assembly's Joint Committee on Finance, and finally to the Committee on Rules. The bill is expected to be reported by the Assembly's Rules Committee and then be sent to the Assembly floor for consideration.

The bill would also require all accountants to be bonded, and would establish penalties for those who violate the registration requirements. The bill is expected to be supported by the accounting profession, as well as by the state's financial institutions.

The bill is expected to be introduced in the Assembly as well, and is expected to be considered by the Assembly's Ways and Means Committee, then to the Committee on Commerce, then to the Assembly's Joint Committee on Finance, and finally to the Committee on Rules. The bill is expected to be reported by the Assembly's Rules Committee and then be sent to the Assembly floor for consideration.
Letters to the Editor

By Arthur L. Goldstein

Thought Waves

By Adrienne J. Mappen

Bertrand Russell Conflicts Stirred College in 1940

By Charles H. Twelke, a reporter for the Educational Record, reported that Bertrand Russell, a philosopher and mathematician, had been appointed to the faculty of the University of Chicago. The controversy that erupted over his appointment was one of the most significant events in the history of higher education.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Student Council

Student Council makes a wise move Friday evening when it passed a chamber amendment to the "detective" Friday evening passing. The amendment was supported by the majority of the council members and was seen as a positive step towards improving the quality of student life at the college.

The amendment included provisions for improving the security and safety of students on campus, increasing opportunities for student involvement in decision-making processes, and enhancing the overall student experience. The council members were also praised for their collaborative approach to addressing the issues faced by the student body.

The editor of the Beacon, the official student newspaper, congratulated TCB Chairman Steve Sorkin for his leadership in bringing about this positive change. The students were encouraged to continue working towards positive changes, and the council was commended for its efforts in promoting a more inclusive and supportive campus environment.

Education

It is not the function of our schools to be mere institutions for the production of students. If this were the case, it would be better to take a student and let him die, rather than to teach him. Education is not merely a means of producing students, but a means of producing useful citizens.

It is not the function of our schools to be mere institutions for the production of students. If this were the case, it would be better to take a student and let him die, rather than to teach him. Education is not merely a means of producing students, but a means of producing useful citizens.

The Beacon's letter started a controversy that soon spread to the student body, and the student council called for a vote on the issue. The controversy was then brought to the attention of the board of trustees, and the issue was referred to a committee for further consideration.

The BHE, however, confirmed that Russell was being considered for a position on the faculty. The controversy, however, continued to rage on, and the issue was eventually resolved when Russell was not offered a position. The controversy highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

The American College

The American College, a private institution located in New York City, has been beset by financial difficulties in recent years. The college's president, Dr. William H. Thomas, has been under pressure to cut costs and increase enrollment in order to stave off bankruptcy.

In an attempt to attract new students, the college has introduced a number of changes to its curriculum. The new courses focus on practical skills and are designed to prepare students for careers in the business world.

The university recognized that Russell had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.

Russell, a British philosopher and mathematician, had been a vocal critic of the Nazi regime and had published a number of works on political and philosophical topics. His appointment to the University of Chicago was seen as a significant victory for the liberal arts tradition and a challenge to the rise of authoritarianism in Europe.

Despite widespread criticism from the religious and academic communities, Russell's appointment was ultimately approved by the university's board of trustees. The controversy surrounding his appointment highlighted the tension between traditional values and modern ideas and the challenges of academic freedom in a time of political crisis.
Mister Roberts' Set As Theater's Show

By Hendy Winer

Mister Roberts, the newest of the summer stock's three shows, opened last night at the Theater with a combination of acting, singing, and dancing. The performance was well received by the audience, and the show promises to be a hit.

The plot of the play revolves around the adventures of a group of midshipmen aboard a battleship during World War II. The action takes place in the ship's wardroom, where the men are quite relaxed and enjoying themselves.

The show features a large cast of actors, including some of the talented young actors from the Theater's summer stock. The acting is excellent, and the singing and dancing are also impressive.

The set design is simple but effective, with the ship's interior clearly visible from the audience. The lighting is also well done, with the ship's lights being turned on and off at different times to create different moods.

Overall, the show is a treat for theater goers of all ages. It is a reminder of the fun and excitement of summer stock, and it is sure to be a hit for the Theater this season.
City to Face Violets, Redmen
In Season's Final Encounters

By Lou Pohoryles

The final week of the basketball season will see the City College basketball team face two traditional opponents in games that will be pivotal to the Lavender, as the Lavender with its toughest contests of the year. Tournament bound St. John's University game is at Wingate Gym and the latter on the neutral Fordham University Court.

The Redmen will try to take the floor against the Violets in its last game of the regular season, both teams will be trying extra hard to win the contest for their respective coaches.

This will be the last varsity game for retiring NYU mentor Howard Cahn, and until Nat Halm chooses to retire, for Lavender coach Dave Polansky.

The Violets will be led into the game with a 9-10 overall record and a 4-4 mark for the second half of the season.

After putting off to a floundering start, amid charges of dissent and rumors of a feud between assistant coach Ray Lump and some of the players, the Violets managed to gain the form predicted for them at the season's outset.

Mainly responsible for their reversal of form is Cal Ramsey, a senior, jumping All American candidate.

Ramsey, in a slump at the outset of the season, is finally realizing his potential. He has brought his scoring average up to a 17 point game, and now rates among the national leaders in rebounding.

Other big guns are Johnny Burke and Tom Sanders. Burke, 6-1 and a superb shot blocker and rebounder, leads the Violets in scoring with a 12.1 point average, and 6-6 Sanders is a solid all-around player who rebounds and shoots well.

Rounding out the Violet starting five will be: Dick Engert, 6-1, senior, and either: 6-2 Russ Cunningham, a speedy floor wizard, 6-3 at D'Napoli, or 6-5 Bob Brown.

Woods Gains Mat Ability
From Brothers' Influence

By Sid Davidsuff

Bernie Woods comes from a family in which wrestling has been an extremely popular sport.

His oldest brother, Tom, was the first to take an interest in the sport when he competed for the College in the 123-pound class three years ago. The next one in the family was Pat, a 147-pounder, who also wrestled for the College.

Bernie, a senior, majoring in Physics, has wrestled for the College since he was a freshman. As a neglected wrestler was selected as the College's outstanding freshman and placed third in the Metropolitan Championships.

With the help of Coach Joe Saporis and through his own determination to become a good wrestler, Bernie spent many hours in the gymnasium practicing his technique.

With the help of his hard work, he was able to make the Beavers in the last part of his sophomore year. Competing in the 187-pound class, he placed second in the New England Amateur Athletic Union Championships.

Last season, Bernie moved into the 147-pound class and went through the season undefeated. In this class he won the AAU Developmental Championships and placed third in the Metropolitan Championships.

Entered in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championships by Coach Saporis, Bernie lost to the Eastern College Athletic Association Champion, Dave Adams of Penn State.

Because of his success last season, he was awarded the College's "Outstanding Wrestler Award."

Lavender Alumni Request Funds for New Fieldhouse

The Board of Directors of the City College Alumni Association has petitioned the Board of Higher Education to seek funds for the erection of a field house on the uptown campus.

The decision to petition the Board came after the Board heard a report by Leo Klauber '23, describing the inadequacies of the present athletic facilities, at its February 19 meeting.

The report stated that because of the inadequate physical facilities for the College's athletic program, it has become difficult to maintain a sound program of varsity and freshman athletics and that other colleges have constantly refused to risk injury to their athletes by competing in the physically dangerous facilities.

Addo Statesure

Advantages to be derived from a new field house were cited as the adding of statures to the College, improvement of the College's presently inadequate athletic program, and the building of a stronger intramural program for the student body.

The Board of Directors also recommended to the BHE that consideration be given to federal financing, as the new field house could be used for BOTC training.

Wagner Defeats Beavers: Lewis Scores 16 Points

TWO POINTER: City's Joel Archer goes up for easy basket in Friday night's 53-50 loss to Wagner College at the Wingate Gymnasium.

Sparked by Harry Orlando's seven point spree late in the second half, Wagner beat City College's quintet. 53-50 at Wingate Gym Friday night.

Possession Ball

City, playing possession ball throughout the game, managed to thwart the scoring of Leomin West, Wagner's high scorer. They were not able, however, to stop the Redmen's two spot playmakers: Eddie Lewis, with 16 points, and Fred Rahn, who scored 14 points.

City to Face Violets, Redmen
In Season's Final Encounters

By Lou Pohoryles

The final week of the basketball season will see the City College basketball team face two traditional opponents in games that will be pivotal to the Lavender, as the Lavender with its toughest contests of the year. Tournament bound St. John's University game is at Wingate Gym and the latter on the neutral Fordham University Court.

The Redmen will try to take the floor against the Violets in its last game of the regular season, both teams will be trying extra hard to win the contest for their respective coaches.

This will be the last varsity game for retiring NYU mentor Howard Cahn, and until Nat Halm chooses to retire, for Lavender coach Dave Polansky.

The Violets will be led into the game with a 9-10 overall record and a 4-4 mark for the second half of the season.

After putting off to a floundering start, amid charges of dissent and rumors of a feud between assistant coach Ray Lump and some of the players, the Violets managed to gain the form predicted for them at the season's outset.

Mainly responsible for their reversal of form is Cal Ramsey, a senior, jumping All American candidate.

Ramsey, in a slump at the outset of the season, is finally realizing his potential. He has brought his scoring average up to a 17 point game, and now rates among the national leaders in rebounding.

Other big guns are Johnny Burke and Tom Sanders. Burke, 6-1 and a superb shot blocker and rebounder, leads the Violets in scoring with a 12.1 point average, and 6-6 Sanders is a solid all-around player who rebounds and shoots well.

Rounding out the Violet starting five will be: Dick Engert, 6-1, senior, and either: 6-2 Russ Cunningham, a speedy floor wizard, 6-3 at D'Napoli, or 6-5 Bob Brown.

Bernie Woods comes from a family in which wrestling has been an extremely popular sport.

His oldest brother, Tom, was the first to take an interest in the sport when he competed for the College in the 123-pound class three years ago. The next one in the family was Pat, a 147-pounder, who also wrestled for the College.

Bernie, a senior, majoring in Physics, has wrestled for the College since he was a freshman. As a neglected wrestler was selected as the College's outstanding freshman and placed third in the Metropolitan Championships.

With the help of Coach Joe Saporis and through his own determination to become a good wrestler, Bernie spent many hours in the gymnasium practicing his technique.

With the help of his hard work, he was able to make the Beavers in the last part of his sophomore year. Competing in the 187-pound class, he placed second in the New England Amateur Athletic Union Championships.

Last season, Bernie moved into the 147-pound class and went through the season undefeated. In this class he won the AAU Developmental Championships and placed third in the Metropolitan Championships.

Entered in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championships by Coach Saporis, Bernie lost to the Eastern College Athletic Association Champion, Dave Adams of Penn State.

Because of his success last season, he was awarded the College's "Outstanding Wrestler Award."

The Redmen, one of the better teams in the East this year, currently sport a 13-6 record after having compiled a 9-0 record at season's outset, and then going into a slump when they lost their six point game, and now rates among the national leaders in rebounding.

The Redmen are led by co-captain 5-10 Al Seiden, a sharp shooting ball handler and playmaker, and 6-5 Bud Pascal, a steady scorer and rebounder. The latter provides the bulk of the St. John's scoring.

The Beavers will meet Rider on the latter's court tomorrow night. The Lavender will be gunning for its ninth victory.

Wagner Defeats Beavers: Lewis Scores 16 Points

TWO POINTER: City's Joel Archer goes up for easy basket in Friday night's 53-50 loss to Wagner College at the Wingate Gymnasium.

Sparked by Harry Orlando's seven point spree late in the second half, Wagner beat City College's quintet. 53-50 at Wingate Gym Friday night.

Possession Ball

City, playing possession ball throughout the game, managed to thwart the scoring of Leomin West, Wagner's high scorer. They were not able, however, to stop the Redmen's two spot playmakers: Eddie Lewis, with 16 points, and Fred Rahn, who scored 14 points.

Wagner Defeats Beavers: Lewis Scores 16 Points

TWO POINTER: City's Joel Archer goes up for easy basket in Friday night's 53-50 loss to Wagner College at the Wingate Gymnasium.

Sparked by Harry Orlando's seven point spree late in the second half, Wagner beat City College's quintet. 53-50 at Wingate Gym Friday night.

Possession Ball

City, playing possession ball throughout the game, managed to thwart the scoring of Leomin West, Wagner's high scorer. They were not able, however, to stop the Redmen's two spot playmakers: Eddie Lewis, with 16 points, and Fred Rahn, who scored 14 points.

Wagner Defeats Beavers: Lewis Scores 16 Points

TWO POINTER: City's Joel Archer goes up for easy basket in Friday night's 53-50 loss to Wagner College at the Wingate Gymnasium.

Sparked by Harry Orlando's seven point spree late in the second half, Wagner beat City College's quintet. 53-50 at Wingate Gym Friday night.

Possession Ball

City, playing possession ball throughout the game, managed to thwart the scoring of Leomin West, Wagner's high scorer. They were not able, however, to stop the Redmen's two spot playmakers: Eddie Lewis, with 16 points, and Fred Rahn, who scored 14 points.

Wagner Defeats Beavers: Lewis Scores 16 Points

TWO POINTER: City's Joel Archer goes up for easy basket in Friday night's 53-50 loss to Wagner College at the Wingate Gymnasium.

Sparked by Harry Orlando's seven point spree late in the second half, Wagner beat City College's quintet. 53-50 at Wingate Gym Friday night.

Possession Ball

City, playing possession ball throughout the game, managed to thwart the scoring of Leomin West, Wagner's high scorer. They were not able, however, to stop the Redmen's two spot playmakers: Eddie Lewis, with 16 points, and Fred Rahn, who scored 14 points.