VSA Proposal Ruled Out of Order by SC

The Board of Higher Education refused last week an Alumni Association offer to formally advise in the selection of a chancellor of the municipal colleges.

The Alumni bid was made in a letter to the BHE by Seymour Weissman, executive secretary of the Association. Acting on a resolution passed by the group, Weissman requested that the Alumni Association act as formal advisors to the Administrative Council, municipal colleges, if the directors of the municipal colleges, which is expected shortly, fail to nominate a candidate for the chancellorship post.

Rejected by the Board, the Alumni will continue to act in an informal capacity; however, their reaction to a Council nominee will be kept off the record.

The purpose of the Alumni bid, most observers believe, is to prevent a possible "political nomination" by the administrative Council.

When the mayor recommended last year that the city set aside money for the establishment of the chancellorship post, the Alumni Association expressed the fear that the position might become "a political football."

The Association opposed the plan because "it does not provide adequate safeguards of the autonomy of the individual college presidents or protect the integrity and distinct character of each of the municipal colleges." "We should have a voice in the selection of a chancellor," Weissman told THE TICKER, "but we do not think we will not approve."

BHE Denies Alumni Request To Aid in Naming Chancellor

Mayor Wagner Names Two Board Appointees

The Baruch School chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the national honorary fraternity of the American Association of Colleges of Business, announced last week the election of 32 Baruchians and one faculty member.

The faculty member elected was Professor Edwin A. Hill of the Mathematics Department. The students elected were: Earl D. Alexander Jr., Stanley M. Besen, Robert F. Blumfeld, Bernard Davis, Gerard Deoul, Alan L. Epstein, Lydia L. Esrevig, Irwin R. Ettinger and Irwin Feller.

Also, Joseph Milano, Joseph I. Naas, Dave M. O'Neill, Emuel N. Protes, Morris Sachs, Joseph S. Tuchinsky, Samuel I. Tucker, Maurice Turtur, Robert D. Uher and Marilyn A. Zachman.

Organized in 1933, the Baruch School chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, which was organized in 1933, operates as an affiliate of the national society.

Placement Survey:
59% of Baruch Students Work

In a survey conducted by the Placement Bureau of the Baruch School, it was found that 59% of the Student Body is now holding part-time jobs.

The survey was the result of a questionnaire distributed to students at registration last semester. Responses from 94% of the entire student population were received.

Conducted by the director of the Placement Bureau, Lawrence A. Lansner, the survey established that 79% of those queried felt that salaries vary directly with the class of the students, with the upper class receiving higher salaries than lower classmen.

It was further found that male employees tended to earn more than females. While 19% of the males said they earned more than $1.76 per hour, 17% of the females made this statement. Only 5% of the males, as opposed to 17% of the females, replied that they received $1 an hour or less.

Regents Board Joins WOR In Educational TV Contract

By Larry Miller

Thomas P. O'Neill, owner of WOR-TV, and Dr. Jacob L. Hiltzman, chairman of the New York Board of Regents' Committee on Television and Education, have reached a tentative agreement on a contract for exclusive educational programming on television in New York City. The contract, which is to be presented to the Regents Board for approval, would require WOR-TV to produce educational programming for the city's public schools.

The agreement, according to Dr. Hiltzman, is a significant step toward the development of educational television in New York City. "This is the first time that the Regents Board has entered into an agreement with a television station to produce educational programming," he said. "We are pleased to have reached an agreement that will allow us to explore the potential of educational television as a tool for improving the quality of education in New York City.

The agreement would require WOR-TV to produce a minimum of two hours of educational programming each week, including programs for children and adults. The programming would be produced in cooperation with the city's public schools and would be aimed at improving the quality of education in the city.

The agreement also includes provisions for the distribution of the programming to the city's public schools. WOR-TV would be responsible for the production of the programming, and the city's public schools would be responsible for the distribution of the programming to the students.

The agreement would also include provisions for the evaluation of the programming. The city's Board of Regents would be responsible for evaluating the effectiveness of the programming, and the results of the evaluation would be used to make decisions about the future of the agreement.

The agreement is expected to be presented to the Regents Board for approval in the near future. If approved, the agreement would take effect immediately, and WOR-TV would begin producing educational programming for the city's public schools.

The agreement is the result of months of negotiations between WOR-TV and the city's Board of Regents. The negotiations have been held in an atmosphere of cooperation and mutual respect.

The agreement is a significant step forward in the development of educational television in New York City. The agreement will allow WOR-TV to produce educational programming that will be of benefit to the city's public schools and students.

The agreement is expected to be a model for other television stations to follow. The agreement will allow WOR-TV to produce educational programming that will be of benefit to the city's public schools and students.

Part-Time College

The survey on employment of Baruch School students (see Feb. Ticker, p. 8) can be viewed with statistical evidence of a situation which every student and faculty member knows is the cause of friction and normal problem of the times and curriculum and extra-curricular affairs of the School.

We consider the fact that 85% of the Baruch students are employed is evidence of need of same part-time students. More important, perhaps, is the 30% figure for those who work more than 20 hours per week, greater than the number hour spent in classes.

We have nothing against part-time employment on our part. But we feel it's a rather unduly destructive effect on college life. The College, however, is under obligation to provide its students with the facilities for the kind of courses which are not available in other places. The College is not responsible for providing 9:12 classes and a minimum wage for the students. The Student Body itself cares more important than College. But we have the problem of the number of books and the facility of those would work if they were given the opportunity.

Who can stand the College for us? Why the necessity for doing so much more work on the part-time jobs? We think it would be too unduly destructive and indulgent.

A number of faculty members are guilty of the same thing. It is not that the Baruch School is a good job of work for the Baruch. We want to know why the quality of learning is being kept down to a minimum.

It is true that the students and faculty are the same. We think it would be too unduly destructive and indulgent.

Irresponsible Action

We should like to point out to the Inter-Club Board the School's recent experience in the past two years in dealing with the situation of the students. The administration at the School has been extremely frequent and reasonable at the end of the school year, and the various activities of the Inter-Club Board are usually responsible.

After cutting the various budget requests down to $200,000 and finding out that the $200,000 would not be enough to cover the costs of a club, the Inter-Club Board decided to go ahead with the requests. This decision was made after careful consideration of the situation and the need for funds.

The Ticker

Today's Ticker features a financial article discussing the current economic situation. The article covers topics such as inflation, unemployment, and the impact of the pandemic on the economy. It also includes a section on investment strategies and recommendations for individuals and businesses.

History Chairman Asserts Importance of Liberal Arts

Dr. Bell, the new chairman of the Baruch School's Department of History, asserts that liberal arts education is essential for the modern student. He believes that students should be encouraged to develop a broad base of knowledge and skills, rather than focusing solely on specialized subjects.

Conference Studies Mid-East Problems
By Adrian Meppen

Problems of the Middle East were the topic of discussion at the fifth Annual Conference on International Education, held at the College Saturday.

Professor Samuel Resell of the Education Department was chairman of the Conference, which was sponsored by the Metropolitan Committee on International Education and the College, in cooperation with the Department of Social Studies.

Entitled "The Middle East," the Conference was one of the most important events of the year, according to Professor Resell. He said that it was the "first time that this problem has been taken seriously by the College and the community."

The Conference consisted of three sessions, the first of which was devoted to the Middle East as a geographical unit, the second to the economic and political problems of the region, and the third to the cultural and religious aspects.

On Thursday, March 23, at 8:30 p.m., a panel from the Middle East will be present to discuss the region.

The New Look

The first presentation Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. will be given by a new member of the staff, Dr. John Smith, who will discuss the new policy of the United Nations in the Middle East.

Dr. Smith will be joined by United Nations representatives from various countries, who will give their views on the New Look policy and its implications for the future of the Middle East.

The conference will be held in the College auditorium and is free to the public.

Theodore to Feature Broadway Performers

Studira, Kato, Peter Pan, and the New York are scheduled for the annual Theodore Rally, Thursday, May 4, at 8:30 p.m.

The three stars of the Broadway musical "La Almohad" will perform in addition to other "surprise" guest stars.

Theater has announced that Prof. Del Po, bronze dust, will direct the show. The production, said Prof., has "a very significant" theme, which he hopes the audience will recognize as "the enemy's." The cast is also expected to include the two leads of "La Almohad," the role played by the two Pullman boys of the show.

"Yourrefs in our production are very active," said Prof. Del Po, "and we are delighted to have them join us in our production of "La Almohad.""

Panel Gets Talk on Bias

At the fifth annual Conference on International Education, held at the College, Saturday, March 25, at 8:30 p.m., a panel of experts on the Middle East will discuss the issue of bias in the media.

The panel, consisting of professors from various universities, will address the question of how the media portrays the region and its people, and how this might be improved.

The conference will be held in the College auditorium and is free to the public.

Sophomore R.O.T.C. Students: "MAJOR IN LEADERSHIP"

With the Advanced Army R.O.T.C. course, you can major in leadership. This program prepares you for an executive position, whether in industry or military service, and offers practical experience in advanced responsibilities.

1. Learn to Lead

With R.O.T.C., you can actually take a course in leadership. Through the program, you will prepare your mind so you can lead on your feet as an executive position, whether in industry or military service, and offer practical experience in advanced responsibilities.

2. Attain Officer's Rank

As an R.O.T.C. graduate, you will hold your military commission in any field, whether military or civilian. You will not only enjoy the rank, pay and privileges of an Army officer, but also be able to advance your career in an important capacity.

3. Receive Extra Income

With the Advanced R.O.T.C. course, you can qualify for a substantial allowance which comes to around $1,000 for the first year. You will also be paid $1,177 for your annual summer camp training and receive a travel allowance of $500 per mile from and to your campus.

But, as far as your youth work is concerned, Walter is a member of the Army Air Force, where he is currently serving as an administrative assistant.
City Places Fourth In Fencing Contest

City College's fencing team finished its medium season in a blaze of glory last weekend, as they finished fourth in the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing tournament, held at the Concourse Plaza Hotel.

The Beavers finished with 59 points, behind Columbia, New York University and Navy. However, the Lavender finished well ahead of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which defeated the Beavers the previous week, 14-13.

The Lavender did best in the saber competition to the immense delight of the fans, who saw them finish second behind Columbia, the overall winner. Leading the squad in the saber were Andy Kenony, who compiled a 9-2 record, and Baruchian Manny Fineberg, who finished with a 7-4 slate.

Coach Edward Lucia singled out Fineberg for his outstanding record during the regular season. Lucia also felt that the loss of experienced Karlout, out with a bad leg, severely hurt the team.

Edward Lucia

He noted that a leading fencer on last year's team, Stan Hochman, was forced to resign, in addition to the loss of the entire foil team through the graduation route. "However, the experienced selection returning to our squad this season far outweighed anything that happened this year."

The coach also had good words for Hal Mayer, who had been fencing only six months. He is one of the best results I've seen in college ranks," Lucia said.

Mayer finished with a 7-4 record in the saber competition during April and May.

Before the meet, Lucia said, "If you equate our win and lost record, it was disappointing, but considering all the obstacles we had to overcome, it was not bad."

Track Team Sets Lineup

The College's track team went into its 1958 season faced with a lack of manpower. Gone from last year's undefeated squad are Lenny Olsen, top shot putter, Dave Graves, the track and field man, and Tom Bertram, the sprinter.

Best, an outstanding sprinter who was in the Army last year, has resigned. However, Harry deGiro and coach have gained enough talent to warrant a successful season. Returning to the squad are Ralph Taylor, Randy Crossfield, both of whom developed into strong performers last season under the guidance of deGiro. Taylor, in his campaign, placed first in the mile event in the College Track Conference.

Two newcomers to the tea are also expected to play a large part in the squad's '58 campaign. They are Stan Dukin, an indoor man who should distinguish himself in the jumping events, and Bill Warden, the latter was track captain at Boys High School in Brooklyn.

The team's first meet of the season is April 9 at Lewisohn Stadium; its first regular season meet is against Harvard University the following Friday, at Lewisohn Stadium. The come with a top team and brilliant prospects for success.

Stickmen to Open Year With Limited Reserves

With the opening of the lacrosse season still three weeks away, it is becoming apparent to coach Leon "Chief" Miller, that his team will once again be handicapped by a weak bench and a lack of experienced personnel.

Although there are from 25 to 30 men on the squad, Miller is only reasonably certain of five starters at this time.

They are co-captains Victor Corr, and Roland Boss, both defensemen, Dave Rosenfeld, also a defenseman, and Willie Rodgers and Mike Miler, both offensive performers. Another probable starter for the Millers is the defensemen, Irene Gottlieb, up from last year's junior varsity side.

Coach Miller, who is still searching for likely prospects for the squad, is doubly handicapped. Since the College does not get any students with lacrosse experience, he must draw on inexperienced men and make lacrosse players out of them.
