Feller's Embezzlement Causes $3000 Loss

Student Council President Irwin Feller, who was SC Treasurer last semester, is the cause for Council's loss of almost $3000 over the past year, THE TICKER learned from highly informed sources last week.

The official reasons given for the losses were that three Council-sponsored social events ran huge deficits. However THE TICKER was told that Feller had embezzled the funds during the term he was Treasurer.

Embezzlement action against Feller is expected to be proposed by seven Student Council representatives at Friday's Council meeting. Feller is expected to rule the impeachment motion out of order.

"Upon questioning by this newspaper, Feller said 'I'm sorry for what I did. It's too bad they caught me. I really didn't mean to do it. Honest.'"

It was learned that the impeachment motion will be ruled out of order and then appealed by the makers of the motion. One of the representatives told THE TICKER that "I really don't care what happens to Feller. What he did was really low. It's the school that I care about."

"The next thing I know is that he was brought in by the police. The police chief and a police officer went in on the zag the way his predecessors did."

One Council spokesman stated that he thought a compromise solution might be worked out. He said "Probably, a letter of protest will be sent to Feller, the Dean, Feller's mother and father, and Feller's girlfriend."

At Friday's meeting, the Council voted to send a letter to President Eisenhower expressing its "dissatisfaction and disapproval with his handling of the current economic slow-down."
The Society for the Advancement of Literature holds the annual "Literary Lunch" on Thursday at 12:15 in the

You think you're so smart because you're so bright. But you don't know it.

You don't even read the newspaper, so how can you know what's going on in the world?

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.

You think you're smart, but you're not.

You think you're special, but you're not.

You think you're important, but you're not.

You think you're unique, but you're not.

You think you're talented, but you're not.

You think you're beautiful, but you're not.
Intra-Mural Board Dissolves After Ticker Wins, 72-50

By Mel Always-Whining

Camille Viccenti, Chairman of the Intra-Mural Board, has announced the dissolution of that group. The drastic move is attributed to the smashing victory of THE TICKER over IMB in Friday's traditional basketball battle between the two.

THE TICKER won the game, 72-50, thereby ending a one-game IMB winning streak. However, the loss hit IMB so hard that they vowed to disband immediately after the face-losing game.

The news of the loss came to Miss Viccenti as she was hostessing a Student Council tea. Her immediate reaction was to drop a plate of cookies, breaking Dean Emanuel Sax's foot. She thereupon ran from the room to the IMB office, 610A, where the fatal meeting was held.

The game itself was marked by the stirring play of a TICKER cub reporter, Mike Moskowitz. Moskowitz led the scoring with 36 points and thoroughly dominated offensive play.

Solomon Tallies 21

Also playing a marvelous game for the Mob from 911B, was Fred Solomon, who tallied 21 markers and snagged many rebounds. Solomon is not on THE TICKER, but was playing in the gym when THE TICKER team came down to practice.

Sid Davidoff, who scored 9 points, provided action when his striped shorts torn down the rear seam. However, Davidoff, true to the cause, refused to leave the game for surgical care. He finished the fracas with both halves of his black and white shorts waving in the wind as he ran the length of the court.

Numerous FoulS

The playing of the game was marked by numerous technical fouls against the "gentlemen" from the sixth floor. Two such fouls were called, in succession, against one player. Needless to say, the fellow was quite perturbed and left the court with his voice modulated at a low scream.

THE TICKER victory was accomplished despite the fact that both referees were from the Intra-Mural Board. It has been rumored that THE TICKER bid to them at the start of the game was higher than IMB's, so they foresook loyalty and remained true to Baruch School materialism.

It was also noted that, if IMB ever returned to the City College scene, these two gentlemen would never be eligible to join.

CUB: TICKER cub reporter Mike Moskowitz goes up for a layup shot in the TICKER-IMB game. Gurian looks on while Mike scores.

Hoop Squad Moving To Garden Next Fall

City College President Buell G. Gallagher announced yesterday that next year's basketball team would play its home games in Madison Square Garden.

"This move is necessary," Gallagher stated, "due to the crowded playing conditions now existing in Wingate Gym.

This means that, for the first time since 1951, Beaver basketball home games will not be played in Wingate Gym often referred to as the "Ebbets Field of basketball.

The statement was greeted with joy by the entire team, but Coach Nat Holman was particularly pleased.

"It will give me a chance to get back into the limelight. I've been sorry for seven years that we're not playing in that Eighth Avenue Bookie Jol-uh, Emporium, and I'm very glad to see the move."

Marty Groveman, who broke into the starting lineup as a soph this year, was also very happy.

"This will give me a chance to take some long jump shots. In Wingate gym, I was confined to a distance a 15 feet. Next year I'll show you some shooting."

Despite the move to the Garden, no change in opponents will take place. The Lavender will still play its usual 18-game slate, facing its traditional opponents.

Arthur desGrey, Faculty Manager of Athletics, said "Just because we're moving to the Garden is no reason for changing our opponents. We don't want to go big-time, you know. It's against our athletic policy."

Ned Irish, Vice-President in charge of basketball at the Garden, said "There are 206,000 City alumni in New York City. At two bucks a head, that comes to..." At this point, THE TICKER's reporter left.

IT'S BIG, BOLD & BRASSY

The Big 1958 Boatride

IT'S NEW AND EXCITING

Prices: Cheap and Very Cheap

FORGET ABOUT LAST YEAR— THESE BOATS ARE GUARANTEED NOT TO SINK!

Sunny Weather Is Guaranteed — We Have A Contract!

SPONSORED BY YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL!

No official connections with City College)