‘War, Peace, Mankind’ Discussed by Gallagher

A plea for “reliance in the deepest character of Man and his cosmic role” was expressed last week by President Buell G. Gallagher as the only “real hope in our hour of peril.”

Dr. Gallagher appeared on the National Broadcasting Company television program “The Open Mind,” April 6. He discussed the topic “War, Peace, Mankind” with Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review. "It is our duty that defeat us in the end,” said Dr. Gallagher, and if there be any relevance of this remark to our national policies, let it be realized that it is only if we place reliance in the deepest character of man and his cosmic role that we have any real hope in our hour of peril.”

Cousins said that the recent Russian decision to suspend nuclear testing "may very well represent a moral disaster for the United States—no such blessing on what Russia itself said when it stopped its bomb testing, but what we ourselves said in response to it.”

He noted that this was the opportunity for the United States “to come to some agreement with something that was morally imaginative and certainly dramatic, that would meet the basic issue of which I am very much afraid that our action was pusillanimous and petulant.”

Dr. Gallagher referred to the Korean War as “the first time in human history a thing that has not been used in the framework of an international ideal. It is unique, and in this I am convinced that human history has this occurred in which we are placed, therefore probably the most hopeful sign in recent human history.”

Cousins at this point suggested that the job of the United Nations is to create an effective police force.”

Dr. Gallagher cited an instance of "breakthrough of the human conscience in the face of immediate power situation” in the French and British “reluctantly, to be sure, but clearly and finally yielded to the pressures of world public opinion” in the Suez crisis. He showed, the President asserted, that they "were susceptible to the insights of ethics and of conscience, mankind was able to do something creative, constructive, if not in the stopping of the conflict.”

"But until something happens before they do anything and then it’s too late.” He likened mankind to "a man chasing a bus, and just missing it at each stop.”

ICB Appropriates $406 For Term’s Club Funds

The Inter-Club Board last week appropriated $405.92 to clubs at the Baruch School. The total amount available for distribution was $450. The difference, less emergency funds, was placed in the ICB Central Services account.

A total of $1009.25 was requested by the clubs. This figure was cut by the Board’s Appropriations Committee.

Sigma Alpha received the highest amount, $45.25. Boosters received $35.00. The former had requested $294.50, but the amount was substantially reduced.

Additional Appropriations

Other clubs receiving funds were: Accounting Society, $17.40; Carolan Guard, $17; Economics Society, $11.50; Education Society, $10; Foreign Trade Society, $30; Gamma Alpha Chi, $22.19; House Plan, $41; Inter-Fraternity Council, $43; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, $17; Pi Alpha Tau, $4.50 plus $5 for emergency funds; Retailing Society, $30; Debating Society, $12.50 in emergency funds; Society for the Advancement of Management, $12.29; Sales Management Society, $17.50; Students for Democratic Action, $12.

The amount appropriated was the lowest in many years. It is the result of the Student Council’s desire to put money to other uses than Inter-Club Board.

SA to Hold Flower Sale

Sigma Alpha, the Baruch School’s honor service society, will hold its Semi-Annual Flower Sale Wednesday. SA, located in the Washington Lobby, Washington Hall, is located at the 23rd Street entrance in front of Pauline Edwin Theatre.

The proceeds from the sale will be used to acquire a statue of a beaver, to be placed in the Washington Lobby. It will be made of stone or bronze and will be placed on a pedestal.

The proceeds from last term’s Flower Sale were used to buy the stamp machines now in use on the ninth floor.

Previous term’s Flower Sales have resulted in the purchase of the ninth floor activities bulletin board.

The Sigma Alpha Textbook Fund has been set up as a result of past Flower Sales.
In an interview with a reporter, the American Ambassador to Russia, Mr. Washington, stated, "This will be the last official visit of President Buell G. Gallagher to Russia before he leaves for Israel to attend the celebration of Israel's 25th anniversary. The trip will include a visit to the city of Tel Aviv and a tour of the country's major cities.

President Gallagher made the announcement at a special luncheon on Thursday, May 11, 1959, at the Hotel InterContinental in Moscow. He said, "The purpose of our visit is to strengthen the ties between the United States and Russia. We hope that this visit will help to promote understanding and cooperation between our two countries."

Mr. Washington added, "I'm confident that the visit will be fruitful and that it will contribute to the mutual interests of both our countries."

Each of these courses will take

The Cafeteria
We have for a long time been

City Beaten by NYU, 7-2; Loses to Lions, Manhattan

Sparked by a ninth inning grand slam homerun by Sy Faitell, New York University handed the City College nine its fifth consecutive loss, 7-2. NYU pitcher Frank Gherardi won the complete game and was credited with the Violet victory.

The first few innings of the game saw NYU with men on base but only one run across the plate. However, in the fifth inning, the Violets of virtue of three singles and a bases on balls registered two runs.

In the final inning, the Violets loaded the bases to set the stage for Faitell who sent the pitch 450 feet to dead centerfield for four more NYU tallies.

With two out in the last of the ninth and two men aboard via walks, the Beavers' Tim Sullivan lifted an easy fly to right; Al Kramer strolled to third and dropped it in his anxiety to end the game and assure a shutout for Faitell. The City baserunners scored on the error.

The line score was: 7-12-1 for NYU and 2-8-2 for City.

Thursday the Beavers were routed 16-3 by Columbia University. It was the Lions' first "38 victory. Last 8-5 in the ninth inning, the Lions scored five runs, topped by a 325 foot homerun by Norm Mann, to bring their lead up to 13-0.

The Lavender nine collected two runs in the seventh on Sullivan's double, a passed ball, a hit batsman, and a Columbia error. In the eighth, Sullivan's doable, a passed ball, a hit batsman, and a Columbia error. Victory. Leading 8-0 in the fourth were won by soph Ronny Ettis, 6-4, 6-1, and senior Ray. :^)

Racqueeters Top Adelphi In Season's Opener, 6-3

By Isaac Sultan

The Beaver tennis team opened its season last week by beating Adelphi College 6-3 on the loser's court.

Fleet to the standards expectations, rookie Bernie Steiner, in the number one spot won 6-4, 6-4. Other singles matches were won by soph Ronny Ettis, 6-4, 6-1, and senior Ray Pestrong, 9-7, 3-6 and 6-3.

At the end of the singles matches the score was 8-3. A Jay Hammel and Baruchians Roy Fleischman ami-Mike Stone lost their respective matches.

In the doubles, Coach Harry Karlin's racqueeters took three victories.

Steiner and Stone combined talents to win 6-2, 6-4; Hammel and Ettis showed a 6-3, 6-3 victory and Fleischman and Pestrong a 2-5 and 6-3.

The surprise of the afternoon was the "come from nowhere" triumph of Ronny Ettis who was a last minute replacement for Seymour Silver. Ettis played in the number three position.

This season coach Karlin "likes the team" and he is optimistic about the team. Last year the netmen finished with a 6-7 record and only two lettermen from that squad have returned this season.

Karlin's idea is to carry freshmen with the varsity is working out well. Its main purpose is to have the frosh get the experience of playing against the varsity during practice sessions. Looking ahead to the future season he believes that this is the best way to perpetuate winning tennis teams.

The team feels that New York University and Fordham are the teams to beat.

FSCIA Approves Budget; Supports Alumni Proposal

The Faculty-Student Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics approved the athletic budget for the coming athletic year at a meeting prior to the Easter vacation. The approved budget was $53,848.64, an amount which was $2,675 more than that of last year; the increase was due to the inclusion of the freshmen baseball and track squads.

The Commitee also discussed and approved the Alumni resolution to the Board of Higher Education concerning the proposed City College fieldhouse. The resolution recommended that consideration be given to securing federal financing of the proposed fieldhouse.

FSCIA also approved a Student Athletic Association board recommendation that the athletic fee be increased from one to two dollars each term in order to provide money for the reestablishment of additional freshmen teams and salaries for their coaches. The proposal, if passed by the General Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and the General Faculty Committee, will then be sent to the BEH for its final approval.

The Committee also approved a request from track coach, Prof. decia-McManus for authorization to enter two relay teams in the Penn Relays scheduled for April 25 and 26.

Stickmen Halted In Two Outings

The College's lacrosse team found itself on the short end of an 8-5 score on two occasions over the Easter vacation. The first was April 4 at Lewisham Stadium against Harvard University; the second contest was Wednesday afternoon against Stevens at the latter's field.

The Harvard contest, as was the one against Stevens, proved to be a tough one for the Millermen to lose. Trailng 4-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Beavers, suddenly playing bel and checking hard, scored twice in the second period to bring the score to 6. The goals were scored by Stu Libre and Fred Shwetman.

The third period saw both teams score once with Willie Steiner doing the honors for the Millermen and Tony Piacitello striking close to the bag with his glove ready for a pickoff.

Inexperience No Block To Lavender Infielders

Experience is usually one of the assets needed to achieve success in any field. However, in some instances people are able to achieve success without experience. Two examples of the latter type are baseball co-captains John Whelan and Bobby Demas, both of whom are bright spots in a not so familiar position.

Whelan, never a member of his high school team, was the Beaver starting shortstop last season as a sophomore. The good fielding shortstop led the team in batting during the '77 camp­aign and at 'season's end was awarded honorable mention on the All-Metropolitan Conference team.

The team's leading hitter attributes nearly all of his baseball skill to sandlot league competition in his home borough of Brooklyn. The Beaver short­stop has also been successful in baseball, when, as a freshman, he received an award as a re­sult of his play in Intra-Mural competition.

Whelan, now a junior, is ma­joring in physical education and plans to add a teach and coach in college.

The team's other co-captain, Bobby Demas, is a 5-10 second baseman who received all of his baseball experience at James Monroe High School in the Bronx, when, as a senior he played reg­ularly. He believes that he was very fortunate to have played the sport because his coach, Steve Ray, was also the Journal American staff writer. He helps the second baseman acquire some of the skill he now possesses.

Like his shortstop counterpart, Demas also made the Lavender squad in his sophomore year. Last season, which was won by the 5-10 infielder batted 28th in Metropolitan League play.

The commitee of 12 in the Beaver baseball squad, both fel­low that although the team had been losing, the experience gained during the season by themselves and other City players will ultimately pay off in several Lavender victories.

Soccer

There will be a meeting of all prospective candidates for next fall's varsity soccer team Thursday, April 18, at 7:15 in the Faculty Center. All interested in trying out for the squad should try to attend the meeting or otherwise get a look at the team coached by Harry Karlin, Uppers.
