College Asks Money For New School Site

By Bruce Markens

A request for $500,000 to be used in acquiring a new site for the Baruch School has received "first priority" in the 1959-60 City College budget, announced City College President Buell G. Gallagher at his press conference April 3.

Acceptance or rejection of the proposal will be made at the next Board of Higher Education meeting, May 19. The Board of Estimate must finally approve the request.

It is estimated that a total of $5,000,000 is needed to complete acquisition and construction of a new Baruch School. Dr. Gallagher stated. Therefore, an additional request must be included in the City College budget in the future.

Dr. Gallagher said: "Those items in the budget given 'first priority' are ultimately approved."

Also included in the proposals is a request for standard rehabilitation of the Baruch School building and an additional $90,000 for the change of wiring from DC to AC as the original request was understated.

The total City College request in this year's budget is for $28 million. A part of it over $1 million, will be requested as the partial cost of a new Drama and Speech Building.

This new building, as in the case of the new Baruch School, has received "first priority" and partial requests will be included until the building is complete.

Earlier this term, it was announced that the search for a new building had been deferred because the required $2 million was forced to be cut by $400,000.

Old Stuff

An old and used camera has been fire—temporarily, we hope—before Stu­dents' Court, because it is a direct threat to the student community. The camera, which is a valuable tool for photographing the campus, was taken from the law library and is being used by the editors of the college newspaper. The camera, along with several rolls of film, was stored in a locked cabinet in the law library when it was first discovered, but later that day it was found in the hands of a student who was using it to take pictures of students. The editors of the college newspaper have asked the police to investigate the matter and to retrieve the camera.

City Beaten by NYU, 7-2; Loses to Lions, Manhattan

Sparked by a ninth inning grand slam homerun by Sy Faitell, New York University handed the City College nine its fifth consecutive loss, 7-2. NYU pitcher Frank Ghezardi was the winning pitcher in the inning and was credited with the Violet victory.

The first few innings of the game saw NYU with men on base but only one run across the plate. However, in the fifth inning, the Violets of three singles and a bases-on-balls registered two runs.

In the final inning, the Violets loaded the bases to set the stage for Faitell who sent the pitch 450 feet to dead centerfield for four more NYU tallies.

With two out in the last of the ninth and two men aboard via walks, the Beavers' Tim Sullivan lifted an easy fly to right; Al Krausel, the pinch-hitter for Faitell dropped it in his anxiety to end the game and secure a shutout for himself. The City baserunners scored on the error.

The line score was: 7-12-1 for NYU and 2-8-2 for City.

Racqueteers Top Adelphi In Season’s Opener, 6-3

By Isaac Sultan

The Beaver tennis team opened its season last week by beating Adelphi College 6-3 on the loser's court.

Cliff Peshong, the tournament director, his partner, and Schonberg, his partner, were the only singles players of the six who won. At the number one spot won by Ronny Ettis, 6-4, 4-6, 4-6; Hammer and Baruchians Roy Fleisichman and Mike Stein lost their respective matches.

The doubles pair of Harry Karlin's racqueteers took three victories.

The match was won by Ronny Ettis, 6-2, 6-4; and senior Ray Peshong, 9-7, 9-7, 6-3.

At the end of the singles matches, the score was 3-3. As a Jay Hammel and Baruchians Roy Fleisichman and Mike Stein lost their respective matches.

The surprising outcome of the afternoon was the "come from nowhere" triumph of Ronny Ettis who was a last minute replacement for Seymour Silver. Ettis played in the number three position.

This season coach Harry Karlin "likes the team" and is optimistic about the team. Last year the netmen finished with a 4-5 record and only two batters from the top team have returned this season.

Karlin's idea is to carry freshmen men with the victory is working out well. Its main purpose is to have the freshman get the experience of playing against the varsity during practice sessions. Looking ahead to the future, the team believes that this is the best way to perpetuate a winning tennis team.

The team feels that New York University and Fordham are the team to beat.

Inexperience No Block To Lavender Infielders

Experience is usually one of the assets needed to achieve success in any field. However, in some instances people are able to achieve success without the benefit of experience. Two examples of the latter type are baseball co-captains John Whelan and Bobby Demas, both of whom are bright spots in a not so bright Lavender baseball picture.

Whelan, never a member of his high school team, was the Beaver starting shortstop last season as a sophomore. The good fielding shortstop led the team in batting during the '73 campaign and at season's end was awarded honorable mention on the All-Metropolitan Conference team.

The team's leading hitter attributes nearly all of his baseball skill to sandlot league competition in his home borough of Brooklyn. The Lavender shortstop has also been successful in baseball, when, as a freshman, he received an award as a result of his play in Intramural competition.

Whelan, now a junior, is majoring in physical education and plans to attend teacher and coach college.

The team's other co-captain, Bobby Demas, is a 5'-10" second baseman who received all of his baseball experience at James Monroe High School in the Bronx and when, as a senior he played regularly. He believes that he was very fortunate to have played on the school because his coach, Steve Ray, was also the Jags' American sandlot. He helped the second baseman acquire some of the skill he now possesses.

Like his shortstop counterpart, Demas also made the Lavender squad in his sophomore year. Last season, which was won by the 5-10 infielder batted 23rd in the Metropolitan League.

The Beaver baseball squad, both field and bat, has been losing, the experience era ending with the season by themselves and other City players will ultimately pay off in several Lavender victories.

FSCIA Approves Budget; Supports Alumni Proposal

The Faculty-Student Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics approved the athletic budget for the coming athletic year at its meeting prior to the Easter vacation. The approved budget was $35,848.54, an amount which was $57.69 more than that of last year; the increase was due to the inclusion of the freshmen baseball and track squads.

The Committee also discussed and approved the Alumni resolution to the Board of Higher Education concerning the proposed City College fieldhouse. The resolution recommended that consideration be given to securing federal financing of the proposed fieldhouse. FSCIA also approved a Student Athletic Association board recommendation that the athletic fee be increased from one to two dollars each term in order to provide money for the establishment of additional freshmen teams and salaries for their coaches. The proposal, if passed by the General Faculty Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics and the General Faculty Committee, will then be sent to the BEC for its final approval.

The Committee also approved a request from track coach, Prof. St. Thomas, for authorization to enter two relay teams in the Penn Relays scheduled for April 28 and 29.
