Placement Office Director Says: 'Summer Jobs Will Be Scarce'

By Adrian Meppen

"The present business recession has had a bad effect on opportunities for jobs in the city this summer," Baruch School Placement Director Lawrence Lanner told THE TICKER last week. "The bill for summer jobs in the city this year, but we hope to get a better share of what's available, we will most likely have a lower amount of jobs than last year," Lanner stated.

Lanner stated that there is a good opportunity for summer work in the city for those who are willing to work for firms which have made sales peaks during this season, particularly retail firms.

"We do have several hundred jobs for students as camp counselors," he said, "but the pay might not be as high as last year."

Opportunities for bus boys and other hotel jobs are coming in and we are filing them almost as soon as they come in.," the Placement Director stated. "Students interested in working in the country should register at the placement office as soon as possible." Concerning employment for graduating students, Lanner stated that the placement office had a number of openings for Accounting majors, for which there is a great call. Retailing is as good a field as any, he stated, for graduating students. Lanser continued.

"In the sales field we have 150 sales trainees who willing to re-openings with textile firms for Accounting majors, for which there is a great call. Retailing is as good a field as any, he stated, for graduating students. Lanser continued.

SC Defeats Amendment To Unseat ICB Chairman

A charter amendment to take away the Student Council seat of the Inter-Club Board Chairman was rejected by Student Council, 19-3-2, Friday.

The proponents of the motion felt that since the ICB Chairman was not directly elected by the Student Body, he should not have a vote in matters concerning the Student Body.

ICB Confederation

The opponents of the motion argued that this amendment had only a destructive effect and, in light of the recent ICB conference, would add insult to injury.

In other business, Council voted to table a proposal to change the current Insignium awards and procedure.

The Faculty Committee on Student Activities held a special meeting Tuesday to discuss the Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities passed by SC last term. All of the "rights" were sent back to Student Council for consideration of the faculty objections.

The Bill, taken from the National Students Association Congress, was first approved by SC in 1948 and sent to FCSA. Discussion was not completed because there were various faculty objections.

A.S.A. Conference

Last term, Council, with the aid of its A.S.A. committee, discussed and amended the Bill in accordance with some of FCSA's objections. The amended Bill was presented to SC last Tuesday.

The future of the Bill remains uncertain due to the number of objections expressed Tuesday by the Faculty members of FCSA.

Government Seminar:

Three Politicians Speak Thursday

The "Government Seminar: Three Politicians Speak Thursday" was held in conjunction with the Bernard M. Baruch Distinguished Lecture Series, and will take place in Edwards' Theater. Senator Javits will be the third distinguished lecturer. Senator Javits will be the last speaker.

The lecture will be given by Senator Javits, a Democrat, who is the only Republican to the Senate in 1954, Javits was last year's Distinguished Lecturer. He spoke on "Rapt Giantism in American Industry."

Other lecturer's have been British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America; Thomas J. Watson, Jr., chairman of the board of International Business Machines, and Frank Pace, Jr. chairman of the board of the General Dynamics Corporation.

M. Malvin Fertig was principal speaker at the 1957 Charter Day proceedings. His address traced the events leading up to the Baruch School's establishment in 1917.

This is the first time the Distinguished Lecture Series and the Charter Day Celebration will be combined.

Council, HP State Dance

The "Downtown Strutters' Ball" jointly sponsored by Student Council and House Plan, will be held Saturday at 8:30 in Hansen Hall.

Music for the affair will be provided by Roger Nell and his orchestra. Neil's group played at last year's Mardi Gras and other School events.

Tickets for the "Ball" are at $1.75 for a single and $3.50 per couple for those who will travel and/or travel.

The dance is the House Plan's substitute for the annual Mardi Gras Ball this year due to the change in current student interest in Mardi Gras activities.

Gallagher Deplores Forced Budget Cut

The Isadore Brown Foundation has announced that it will continue the program of sending scholarships to business school students in management and business administration for a third year. The program is again supported by Ford Motor Company and is expected to result in 100 scholarships at $3,000 each.

Mr. Gallagher said that the $400,000 "cut" referred to by Dr. Gallagher is the $400,000 in state funds cut from the Board of Estimate, April 12, 1958. "The Isadore Brown Foundation will not be cut," he said, "because it is a private foundation, not a state agency." He said that he did not know what the state funds were for.

The Isadore Brown Foundation is a private foundation, not a state agency, and is therefore not subject to the state budget. The $400,000 cut from the Board of Estimate was a cut in state funds, and the Isadore Brown Foundation has no control over that. The Isadore Brown Foundation is supported by the Isadore Brown family and does not receive funds from the state.

Our Last Hope

This week's edition of "Academic Freedom Week" has been overshadowed by events that have made even the most optimistic of us despair. The hope that is supposed to come with freedom of expression seems to have been co-opted by a spirit of submissiveness.

In fact, the New York Student Assembly has voted to put the quota system into effect. This decision was made without consulting the student body. The representatives were not even aware of the decision until after it was announced.

The quota system is unfair and an infringement on academic freedom. It is time for the students to stand up and demand their rights. The quota system must be abolished and the student body must have a say in decisions that affect them.

Last Laugh

"What have you done to me and why?

To some people, the above sentence means the foremost form of expresses freedom in the United States. For others, it means the most severe form of censorship.

The fact that some people find this funny is, in itself, interesting. It demonstrates the difference in values that exist between individuals. However, it is important to remember that humor is subjective and that what one person finds funny, another may not.

However, there is a danger in using humor as a means of expression. It can be used to mask deeper issues and to avoid confronting the real problems that exist in society.

The most recent example of this is the controversy surrounding the re-election of President Reagan. Many people find it funny to mock the president and his policies, but it is important to remember that this is a serious issue that needs to be addressed.

It is time for the students to stand up and demand their rights. The quota system must be abolished and the student body must have a say in decisions that affect them.

Baruchian Visits Israel; Finds Kibbutz Defective

"I visited Israel last summer to see the way of life, not just the tourist sights," states Baruchian Gerald Pinsky.

The Baruchian who visited Israel was so impressed that he has decided to bring a delegation of Baruch students to Israel for the first time in September. The group will spend three weeks in Israel and will visit a variety of sites, including the Kibbutz and the Palestinian Territories.

The Kibbutz is a commune where people live and work together in a socialist community. The Baruchians were impressed with the Kibbutz's dedication to education and its emphasis on hard work and cooperation.

However, the Baruchians were also struck by the fact that the Kibbutz is not as idealistic as they had hoped. They were disappointed to find that the Kibbutz is not as self-sufficient as they had been led to believe.

Proposed CPA Law Backed by DeFlies

By Jack Kalee

Proposed changes in the CPA, requiring candidates to pass an examination before being admitted, were made public statements in a talk by Assistant Secretary of Accounting in Washington, D.C. on Monday, April 22, 1958.

The Commission has met with the leaders of the Institute of Accounting and the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy to plan for the revision of the Act.

Proposed changes provide for a two-year period of study before the candidate is allowed to sit for the examination. The Commission also suggested that the examination should be given once a year by a national testing company.

The plan was announced at a meeting of the House Committee on Education and Labor, where it was discussed by a number of experts in the field of accounting.

The Plan was endorsed by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, which has been working on the question for several years.

The Commission feels that the proposed changes would make the CPA examination more accessible to those who are interested in becoming certified public accountants.

Tennis Team Triumphs in刷es, 9-0

By Isaac Bland

On a balmy Sunday afternoon, the City College Tennis Team achieved a feat that many teams deemed beyond their reach: the 9-0 victory over Adolphus and Franz, given the current competition.

In the second set, Adolphus led 6-2, 6-1, then in the third set, Franz took over 6-3, 6-2, and the win was given to the City College team.

The doubles matches saw the City College team win 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, and the final score was 9-0.

The victory incited some excitement in the stands, and the players were seen congratulating each other.

Baseball Team Turned Back For Ninth Consecutive Time

The College's baseball team came out on the short end of an 8-5 score yesterday afternoon at Macombs Dam Park in a battle of two previously winless teams. The Beavers, still winless at game's end, were outscored by the Ravens, who hold seven straight wins prior to the game, had lost seven straight contests since this season.

The Kingsmen opened the game scoring three runs off Leiden starter Wally Weins in the first frame. The score remained 3-0 until the fourth inning when Beaver shortstop Bobby Demas singled for the first City safety of the contest.

Demas went to third on a wild throw by the Brooklyn catcher, but was out with two outs when Ronnie Weiss on first base was stranded on second due to a double play. Leiden second baseman Fred Krisp, out with a lower back strain, did not score for the final Brooklyn tally.

Meanwhile, Beaver hurler Weiss appeared to have the Brooklyn batters befuddled as he faced only ten batters in the middle three innings of the game.

The Kingsmen came back to life in the seventh inning and scored on the second pitch of the at bat, before he was relieved by Nick Mascia. Mascia

Teachers Triumph in Test; Millermen Trounced, 13-7

Failing to put two good halves together in one contest, once again, the College's lacrosse team lost its third game of the season, Saturday at Lewishohn Stadium.

The Beavers were beaten by Cortland State Teachers College, 13-7 and consequently remained without a victory this season.

The Lavender, for the first time this year, took the lead in the initial period of the contest, scoring two quick goals in the first stanza. The Beavers held their Upstate opponents scoreless in the second half and as a result, fell 5-4.

In the second quarter, the future teachers gave the Lavender an inkling of what was to come by scoring five goals while holding the Beavers to two tallies. As a result, the teams were tied at half-time with the Millermen on the short end of a 5-4 score.

The second half of the contest proved to be one in which both the Beaver offense and defense collapsed completely as the Upstate, combining superior passing and blocking with sharp shots, scored five times while holding Chief Leon Miller's charges to three goals.

The Lavender collapse was due mainly to the inability of the Beaver netmen to block and pass effectively as they had done in the first half.

High scorers for the Millermen in the losing effort were Ronald Dean, who tallied three times, and Vito Cutrera, who tallied twice. The other

CO-ED SWIM SET BY IMB

The Carnival of Champs was held for the spring semester, and the carnival judges were George Privack and Rocco Mondo. A trophy will be awarded to the winner in addition to their being eligible for the Athlete of the Month award.

Pennants

The sports staff, in a daring mood, has decided to publish its pennant picks for the 1958 baseball season. Going out on a not too dangerous limb, the staff has picked the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves to run away with the pennants in their respective leagues. Going along with this consensus are Edwin Helms, Kurt Kastempel, and a loyal Yankee fan who does not believe anyone can beat the Yankees.
