BHE Chairman Makes New Appeal For 'Aid'

Gustave G. Rosenberg, chairman of the Board of Higher Education, made a strong plea for State aid, Wednesday. He spoke at a public hearing on the State budget. "I am here to ask you to help the municipal colleges salvage our national power, the State and nation need.

We say that we respect trained intelligence, that we know our survival as a free people may depend upon it.

But the measure of our respect is shown by our willingness to aid the colleges that discipline and train the brain power of young men and women, and make them able to contribute in every quarter, that touches a citizen's personal life."

As an illustration of the combination of young people from the Board of Higher Education, Mr. Rosenberg offered the case of Dr. Jonas Salk.

When Dr. Salk entered City College, a high school average of 112 gained a student admission. When he left he had an average which probably means good grades.

Mr. Rosenberg said that last year Congress, "in administering the student newspapers at City College, put into a communiqué statement which included this: 'It is my firm conviction that financial aid by the State to the municipal colleges is in the best interests of the people of the State.'"

He also said that "in the interest of all the people of the State" it was "not to deny the budget include an amount to be made available to the colleges according to formula to be agreed upon.

Plan Adopted to Give Money To Political, Religious Units

A new Baruch School plan has been put into effect to permit social action, political and religious groups to receive money for their activities. This money will not come from the Student Activity Fee, but from the student Council Bostrade Reserve. (According to SC President Bob Nadel, there is $2000 in this Reserve.)

The plan was decided upon at a meeting Friday of student leaders, Secretary of the General Faculty Robert K. Stranathan and Clement M. Thompson.

Dr. Stranathan said he saw "no legal way" for these organizations to receive funds, so he proposed the above method.

The organizations which are affected by the ruling will file appropriations applications, with Inter Club Board after requesting a regular appropriation. After the ICB procedures are followed, Council will then have the power of veto over the application.

At the meeting, it was stressed that the plan was a stopgap one and would last only until a permanent procedure could be set up, either under the present Faculty ruling or the ICB rule which was to be adopted.

The Baruch School organizations which come under the Faculty's ruling are the Christian Association, Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Newman Club, Students for Democratic Action, Student Zionist Organization, and the Young Republicans.

Dr. Stranathan also said that he did not request exemption for the Baruch School from the Faculty ruling. Applications had been written by Student Council about membership lists, giving the impression that the system then in force was not satisfactory.

"Perhaps as he could not tell the Faculty that the Baruch School was satisfied and could make its own ruling, claiming "no fees were cut out from under me."

Uptown Groups to Receive Fees Under SFCSA Rule

The Uptown Student Faculty Committee on Student Activities has drawn up a plan which will give political, religious and social action groups Student Activity Fees for those activities which are educational, cultural or social in nature.

The drawback in this plan is that those organizations so receiving Fees will be required to submit membership lists like every other organization on campus. (Under the plan adopted at the Baruch School, no membership lists will be required for those groups receiving grants from Student Council.)

Professor Robert K. Stranathan, secretary of the General Faculty, said he saw "no legal way" to give these organizations money from Student Activity Fees.

He asserted that any money these groups were to receive must be non-Fee funds. The motion proposes a special fund of $100 for those clubs proposing new membership lists, or with the intention of eventually doing so.

In the latter, no Student Activity Fee money would be given to those groups, required by General Faculty ruling.

Stranathan explained any money which Council has accumulated in its Bostrade Reserve for several years. Uptown Fee allocations were made last week and several of the organizations which were originally prohibited from receiving funds did so, apparently after submitting membership lists.

Students vs. Seats

The above fact, combined with the lack of new initiatives, points toward the conclusion that the Student Council has failed in its duty to the students of the university. It has not fulfilled the expectations of the students and has not shown the ability to lead the Student Council towards a better future.

In discussing this issue, we must consider the reasons why this failure has occurred. The Student Council has failed to address the concerns of the student body and to work effectively with the administration and the faculty.

One reason for the failure of the Student Council is the lack of effective communication. The Student Council has not been able to listen to the needs and concerns of the student body and to take action to address these concerns. The Student Council has also failed to communicate its plans and goals to the student body, which has led to a lack of support and participation.

Another reason for the failure of the Student Council is the lack of accountability. The Student Council has not been held accountable for its actions and has not been subject to the same scrutiny as other university organizations. This has led to a lack of transparency and a lack of trust among the student body.

In conclusion, the failure of the Student Council is a result of the lack of effective communication, the lack of accountability, and the failure to address the concerns of the student body.

The University of California has taken steps to address the concerns of the student body and to improve the effectiveness of the Student Council. The university has established a new program to provide students with the opportunity to participate in the governance of the university. The program includes a new student liaison to the Board of Regents and a new student representative to the faculty. These steps are expected to improve the effectiveness of the Student Council and to increase the participation of the student body in the governance of the university.

Across The Nation

During the past week, the college papers throughout the nation have been reporting on the activities of their respective schools. The following are summaries of some of the more notable events.

Merger Thrush Brooklyn, Win Nine Straight Events

Putting on a tremendous performance, the Beavers from Brooklyn College wrapped up the swimming season with a 65-3 at the Brooklyn pool, Saturday night.

The Brooklyn squad moved into first place on the final meet, and with this victory, they have won nine straight events. The Brooklyn team is currently ranked third in the nation.

Recalls Holman's First Year at City

By Bob Signer

The 1959 season was the first year that Nat Holman coached at City College. He took over the team after his predecessor, Jack Reznick, left to coach at the University of Wisconsin.

Holman's first season was marked by several high points. He led the team to victory in the national championships at Madison, Wisconsin. The Beavers finished second in the Eastern Conference and third in the nation.

Basketball

By George Privacy

SATURDAY, February 1, 3:30 p.m. at the gym was another exciting basketball game between CCNY and Kings Point. The final tally was 54-32 in favor of Kings Point. The game was marginally hampered by injuries to several of CCNY's players. The most likely replacement for Holman will be Dave Polansky, who is currently coaching the freshman basketball team. But, there are several things to be kept in mind. Holman is an institution. He has a vast knowledge of the game. His qualifications to coach are backed by what he engineered in the past and it's a magnificent past.

Beavers Top Knights, 69-65; Lose Met Crown to Brooklyn

By Mike Goldberg

Sparked by Marty Groveman's 21 points, the CCNY basketball team recorded its second straight victory over the Queens College Knights, 69-65, last night in Wingate Gym.

M.I. Goldberg, 5-11 was Queens' high scorer for the night with 23 points. A disappointment for Queens was Al Hevesi, the third high scorer in the City who scored only 4 points.

Hector Lewis, who had 11 tallies and 19 rebounds, also sparked the City attack. M. Ascher scored 12 points and had 10 rebounds.

The Beavers had a 37-37 halftime lead, and soon moved ahead by 46-22, sparked by Goldberg. The Knights went ahead with four minutes to go, 57-56.

The teams exchanged baskets until the score at 63-63, Groveman and Lewis put in back-to-back baskets to break the Knights drive.

As in the first Queens game, which City won, 66-64, height was the big difference. With Ascher and Lewis in the City lineup, Queens had no one to cope with M. Smith. Hevesi is the tallest man on the squad at 6-3.

N.Y. City College

After blowing a 17 point lead, Brooklyn College edged the Beavers, 80-77. The game played Saturday at the Wingate Gymnasium was a result of three consecutive jump shots by Groveman.

BASKET: Julio Delatorre (25) scores a basket against Brooklyn College Saturday night. Delatorre was high scorer with 21 points.

Fordham

As expected, a red-hot, speedy Fordham quintet outclassed CCNY, 89-50, in a basketball game, played on the winner's court.

The Beavers took a 2-0 lead on a jump shot by Marty Groveman but they never led again in the game. Groveman ended up as Fordham's top scorer with 17 tallies, while John Brady sparked the Fordhamen with 22 markers.

Hector Lewis scored 11 points, but he did not hit often enough to really help the cause.

Even though the Beavers lost the game, they still lead the Rams, 28-18 in their long rivalry.

The Commerce Basketball team

On Saturday February 7, City nipped St. Francis, 66-63. This was the 600th contest for Holman as head coach of the quintet for the past 60 years.

FROSH-SOPH BATTLES: The annual Frosh-Soph Battles will take place February 26, in Hasen Hall. We urge you to wear old clothes.

IMB Sets New Schedule; Basketball Tops Activities

In a contest staged at Brooklyn College, City Solomon handed the Kingsmen a 23-14 defeat, Saturday, February 7.

February 14 - the fencing squad opposed MIT in a contest originally slated for March 9. The Lavender team under the auspices of coach De LaCruz won the meet.

Although this just appears to be a battle between the two teams, there are underlying factors pointing to a close game.

Herb Sutter's crew has an 8-11 record, while the HoI-men are 8-8.

However, in recent games, City has defeated St. Francis, which rose from the Beaver beating to trounce Seton Hall; Wagner was leading Villanova in the closing minutes, only to lose the game in the final ten seconds. Villanova has, since been invited to the National Invitation Tournament.

There is not one senior starting on the Island five. The leading scorer is sophomore Bob Parner, who has been hitting for 16 points a game.

Co-Captains Harry Orlando and Milfred Pierce will start against City as they did last season, when Orlando led his team to a 53-50 victory in the closing seconds.

Farrell Blackwell, and 6-6 Harold Junta are the other starters and the top rebounders.

The number one substitute in Joey Pete Pass, who scored 18 points in a Wagner win over Brooklyn College. Another boy who will see action frequently is Ronny George.

Coach Sutter indicated that he will pair Blackwell with Hector Lewis, Pierce with Marty Groveman, and Orlando with Guy Marcot. Sutter said: "If we are defeated, I will take the blame." However, in recent games, City has defeated St. Francis, which rose from the Beaver beating to trounce Seton Hall; Wagner was leading Villanova in the closing minutes, only to lose the game in the final ten seconds. Villanova has, since been invited to the National Invitation Tournament.

Guy Marcot: His Scoring Increases As He Grows

By Al Revkin

Three and a half years ago, CCNY eager Guy Marcot was making his decision as to which college he would attend. Marcot had averaged 16 points per game on Lafayette High School's quintet while keeping a 90% scholastic average. Marcot felt that he could not try for a basketball scholarship since he was only 5'6" tall.

Marcot is 5'9 presently, and can be considered Nat Holman's "sleeping." When City was having trouble winning games early in the season, Holman found Marcot asserting himself in big time action.

Little Marcot responded well; he was the key man in CCNY's upset victory over Fordham, a game that resulted in Marcot scoring 18 points in a Wagner win over Brooklyn College. Another boy who will see action frequently is Ronny George.

Coach Sutter indicated that he will pair Blackwell with Hector Lewis, Pierce with Marty Groveman, and Orlando with Guy Marcot. Sutter said: "If we are defeated, I will take the blame." However, in recent games, City has defeated St. Francis, which rose from the Beaver beating to trounce Seton Hall; Wagner was leading Villanova in the closing minutes, only to lose the game in the final ten seconds. Villanova has, since been invited to the National Invitation Tournament.

experience while playing on a club team at a Brooklyn community center and at Camp Wayne, a summer camp in Pennsylvania where Marcot worked this past summer. Marcot proudly asserts that he is the 27 points scored by Wayne in an inter-city game was the highest in his basketball career.

Marcot decided not to play basketball during his first two years at City because he want to devote most of his time to studying. He was taking an Engineering course at the Upton Center. When Marcot switched to Liberal Arts, he decided to try out for the basketball team, thinking highly of his coach.

According to Marcot, "Mr. Holman knows his basketball, applies my mistakes and thereby helps me play better."
