Charter Day Speaker Set

Joe Ferdinand Peora, former State Supreme Court Justice, will speak at the Charter Day celebration.

Peora is presently the Dean of Tulane University School of Law.

He previously served as recently as acting head of the New York Law Journal and as an editor of the New York Law Journal.

The event will be held at 10:30 a.m. in the large auditorium of the School of Law.

President Roosevelt's Visit

Past Saturday's Mardi Gras, Miss Suzuki will take the stage in a major role in "The Chrysanthemum and the Sword," one of the New York State Drama Society's major productions.

Pat Suzuki, star of Rodgers and Hammerstein's smash hit "Flower Drum Song," will appear in the show at the Mardi Gras. Miss Suzuki will take the stage in the role of Tetsu.

The show will be held at the School of Drama, and Suzuki will be joined by other members of the cast, including Stella Adler, Lucille Ball, and Ethel Merman.

Professor Bernard Bellush, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and Prof. William Turner Levy

"Twenty-Six Years of Responsible Freedom" Baruch School of Business and Public Administration—City College of New York

Tuesday, April 28, 1959

Only Two Spots Contested in Student Council Elections

As of yesterday at 4, there were only two contested races in Student Council's May 13 elections. Both of these are for lower class Student Council representative positions.

Joe Figuerelli, present SC Treasurer, is the only candidate for the Presidency, while this term's Recording Secretary, Philip Drickoff, is the only student to take a petition for the Vice-Presidency.

The Class of '62 has seven candidates for positions in the Student Council, five of whom are in the Upper Class.

Increasing the number of candidates for the various positions on the Student Council will be an attempt to increase the number of students who are involved in the Student Government.

Flowers

The semi-annual Sigma Alph, Alpha Phi event will be held tomorrow. Proceeds will be used to purchase a flag for the new Student Center.

QC Council Delays Move

The Queens College Faculty Council, which was to vote on its proposals to end the present tax-exempt system, has delayed action until Thursday on the matter.

Action was to have been taken last Tuesday, but the meeting was adjourned before a decision could be reached.

The proposal, made by the QC Faculty Committee on Student Activities, called for the replacement of the two present student papers with one new paper whose editor was to be chosen by the student body, voting in the regular school-wide elections.

Although this provision was changed in an amended version of the plan, other provisions, including the payment of the editor and business manager, and a decreased teaching load for the faculty adviser, were maintained.
The TICKER

April 19, 1958

NYU Newspaper Loses Adviser in New Move

The faculty adviser of the New York University journalism student newspaper, The Tiger, resigned today in protest against the new administration's attempt to take control of the newspaper's editorial policy.

The adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, said that the newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, was attempting to "infringe upon the rights of the newspaper and its staff.

Dr. McCloskey also indicated that he would not cooperate with the new editorial policies of the newspaper.

In a statement released today, the newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, said that he was attempting to "provide a more accurate and fair presentation of events on the campus.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, also said that he would continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has also indicated that he will continue to publish articles critical of the administration.

The newspaper's former adviser, Dr. John McCloskey, had been a strong advocate of free speech and a critic of the administration's policies.

Dr. McCloskey's resignation comes at a time when the newspaper is facing a number of challenges, including a decline in circulation and a decrease in advertising revenue.

The newspaper's new editor, Frank H. McCloskey, has stated that he is committed to increasing the newspaper's circulation and improving its financial situation.
Baseballers Lose Two Games To Met Conference Opponents

By Bob Shapiro

John LaPlace’s baseball team found itself in a slump at a very inopportune time last week, dropping two Met League games—both to Wagner, and 14-1 to Manhattan. These two losses moved the Beavers to fourth place in the Met competition, with a 2-3 record.

In the Wagner game, City never got off the ground as Wagner took an early lead and held off repeated Beaver rallies. Outfielder Tim Sullivan connected for two of the seven Beaver hits.

The Manhattan game was a heartbreaker of the worst sort, as the Beavers were behind by a score of 10-1 as early as the third inning. Making seven errors as contrasted to two in the Wagner game, they did not help matters any in the field. At bat, they came up with only seven hits. Tim Sullivan led the Beaver attack with three hits.

The main reason for the losses is the numerous hitting players who are still held in check by Tommy Leder, who pitched for the Jaspers. Manhattan’s hitting was broken up only at the third-inning frame, when the Jaspers scored four runs. Manhattan was ahead 14-1 by the fifth.

John LaPlace’s baseball team found itself in slump, at a very inopportune time last week, dropping two Met League games—both to Wagner, and 14-1 to Manhattan. These two losses moved the Beavers to fourth place in the Met competition, with a 2-3 record.

In the Wagner game, City never got off the ground as Wagner took an early lead and held off repeated Beaver rallies. Outfielder Tim Sullivan connected for two of the seven Beaver hits.

The Manhattan game was a heartbreaker of the worst sort, as the Beavers were behind by a score of 10-1 as early as the third inning. Making seven errors as contrasted to two in the Wagner game, they did not help matters any in the field. At bat, they came up with only seven hits. Tim Sullivan led the Beaver attack with three hits.

The main reason for the losses is the numerous hitting players who are still held in check by Tommy Leder, who pitched for the Jaspers. Manhattan’s hitting was broken up only at the third-inning frame, when the Jaspers scored four runs. Manhattan was ahead 14-1 by the fifth.

THINKLISH

English: MILLTOP HASH HOUSE
Thinklish translation: This diner is perched on a mountain peak, which makes it a "restaurant!" The view is tops—but from there on, things go downhill. A typical meal includes a puny melon (cantaloupe) and your choice of sandwiches (hamburgers or rankfurters). It's all served up, naturally, on 50-yr.-old dishes—presently.

Best course for light up a Lucky ... enjoy the honest taste of fine tobacco. There's no tip at the end!

HOW TO MAKE $25

Take a word—amplifier, for example. With it, you can make a wet microphone (amplifier), a torch singer's mike (amplifier), a boxing-ring loudspeaker (amplifier) or a P.A. system in an army post (amplifier). That's Thinklish—and it's that easy! We're paying $25 for the Thinklish words judged best—your check is itching to go! Send your words to Lucky Strike, Box 67A, Mt. Vernon, New York. Enclose your name, address, college or university and class.

Get the genuine article
Get the honest taste
of a LUCKY STRIKE

The real stay-awake tablet—
Available everywhere.

Product of The American Tobacco Company—Nicotine is our middle name.