Sweatshirts Face Williams College Today in First Round of NCAA Playoffs

Despite Defeat by Hunter.

A request to increase the maximum wages allowed student employees has been included in a budget report to the Board of Higher Education. Mr. Aaron Zweig, Business Manager of the College, said the report recommends a $1.25 maximum for student employees.

"We have been trying to get a higher maximum for the last few years but have been unsuccessful," the President said.

During his chairmanship of the Administrative Council of Municipal College President, that group attempted to gain approval of the wage increase, but did not succeed. "The Administrative Council will continue to work for the wage increase," said President Gallagher.

"There is a maximum in these areas so we will have no bidding back and forth" among the different branches of the College, said President Gallagher.

The request will be made in a report by Mr. Zweig to the New York Budget Director Abrahams in January. The committee hopes "to get the raise this time" since all four Municipal Colleges have asked for it," said Mr. Zweig.

"The proposal for next year of a $1.25 maximum," said Dean Allen, "is reasonable. I personally would hope it might rise higher than that. But with the Budget Director's austerity program, to expect more would be unreasonable."

There has been, however, some sentiment for requesting a $1.50 maximum, and this may be the final amount proposed in the report said Mr. Zweig.
Letters to the Editor

Dear Dr. Primer,

I enjoyed reading your article in The Ticker about the importance of ethical values in education. I completely agree with your points and I was delighted to see that you discussed the values of fairness, honesty, and respect for others.

The college system should be a place where these values are instilled in students from an early age. As educators, we have a responsibility to teach our students how to behave in a fair and just manner.

Sincerely,

Dr. Norman Primer, speaking at the Hillel lecture this month, was received with all the usual emphasis. The warm reception which Hillel has given to its speakers is again proving itself, for while the people who came had to pay a small entrance fee, the enthusiasm was enough to drain the bank of the college with no complaint.

The Ticker's article on the lecture was well written and gave the right amount of information for the interested reader. I am sure that they will be pleased to have received such a compliment from Dr. Primer.

Soccermen Bested by Hunter College; Six Year Unbeaten Streak Shattered

"Unbelievable...unbelievable..." were halfback John Costakis' only words as the Beavers walked slowly off the field Wednesday suffering from a 1-0 defeat at the hands of the University of New York's Hunter College. The Beavers had dominated play for three periods, continually pressing the Hunter defense, and had lost. The fact that the Beavers had not scored a goal did not go unnoticed as they walked to their dressing room.

Hunter; on the other hand, had scored early in the second half and held the ball in the goal, thereby increasing the Beavers' frustration. The Beavers' attack was stopped by three defenders, and the game was over.

"We should have won," said Bill J. O'Brien, "but we didn't." O'Brien, who has been coaching the Beavers for three years, said that the Beavers had played well, but had not scored. "We had the ball in the goal," he said, "but we didn't score." The Beavers had one shot on goal, and that was blocked by the Hunter goalie.
