President Buell G. Gallagher said Thursday that City College is "for the most part" in a "political and social spectrum" of the left side of the "Silent Generation." In a speech entitled, "The 'Silent Generation':" held at the Uptown Center, and titled "The "Social and political orientation of our past and the faculty and the faculty is generally between the age of the Fair Left." added, "I do not regard this as a bad thing—or a good thing. It is just the way we pointed out through that student, talking into account: aspect of our collegiate and academic progress which are as in few places.

Gallagher traced the history of the Communist movement at the college. He said that the coming of the "non-socialist" into campus life—"probably the greatest single influence in our society," and the Fair Left. There was something quite different about the group, "the basic thing was not for the common good, the individual freedom," were driven by an over-riding spirit for power. The college considered this an invasion of the campus. A student, "the President Gallagher rehashing this history," added that, "I am thinking the faculty members.

President Buell G. Gallagher of City College anything they do not already know... They will continue the fact that this campus was marked as a prime target by the American Communist Party. "Let no one level a slander of criticism at CCNY for having borne the brunt of Communist attack. Instead let it be recognized that CCNY won the Purple Heart for its front-line and continuing battle against Communist."

In other business, Council by a vote of 21-2, approved a motion to allot $200 for the Lamport Planning Commission in response to the former body's letter to the Commission concerning a de definition of $500,000 from the 1961 Capital Budget, proposed by the BHE for research into the expansion of the Baruch School.

The Commission's response stated that "President Gallagher and the Baruch School have provided the City Planning Commission with the necessary information concerning the school. We wish to assure you that the Baruch School will again receive our careful study in preparation of the proposed 1968 Capital Budget." Council also passed a motion, 19-2, to raise the price of student count tickets for Broadway and off-Broadway shows, 10c per ticket. This increase would alleviate the expenses incurred during the process of obtaining the tickets.

Electricity Inspection Made In Student Center, Friday

The Baruch School Student Center was closed for four and one-half hours Friday as inspectors and electricians swarmed through the building in search of faulty AC electric circuits, the most recent one having occurred last Tuesday afternoon from 5-6. The lights in numerous offices and hallways throughout the center went off for the better part of an hour. During which the building was closed, from 8 until 12:30, temporary repairs of faulty AC circuits were made. There was never any fire, but at several occasions wires gave off the pungent smell associated with fires.

At some future date, permanent repairs on the wiring will be made in order to prevent overloading of the circuits, and any recurrence of last Tuesday's "blackout."

Also, the likelihood exists that, when funds are available, the entire center will be converted to AC wiring. Dean Clements, who is associated with the "City Hall," informed the Board of Higher Education concerning a deletion of $500,000 from the 1961 Capital Budget. Funds for the new Center that are now using AC wiring are the main floor offices, the two large lounges on the second floor, and several other offices and hallways scattered around the Center. Funds for the rest of the Center that are now using AC wiring will have to be allocated by the Center, which previously received the original $110,000 for the renovation of the Center.

Applications Offered For Intern Program

Applications are now available for the Intern Program at the Baruch Library. Interested students are encouraged to apply. Applications can be obtained from the Office of Student Life.

The Student Center

The idea of a Student Center was not new. It had been suggested many times by students, faculty, and administration. In the spring of 1963, the City University Board of Trustees approved an appropriation of $110,000 for the construction of a Student Center. This appropriation was the result of a long and difficult process, which included numerous delays and setbacks. The Student Center was finally completed and opened in 1965.

The Student Center

The Student Center consists of many facilities, including a library, a cafeteria, a bookstore, and a theater. It is a hub of student life and serves as a gathering place for students. The Student Center is also home to many student organizations, which provide opportunities for students to get involved and make a difference on campus.
Center Evaluation

The acquisition and planning of the Student Center is a significant undertaking. It is crucial to consider the needs and desires of the student body. The center should serve as a hub for cultural, social, and educational activities. It is important to ensure that the center is user-friendly and accessible to all students. The evaluation of the center should consider factors such as accessibility, flexibility, and the integration of technology.

The Wrong Decision

The City Planning Commission's decision to approve the extension of the Baruch School's library in the next six months is a major step forward. The library plays a crucial role in the educational experience of students. The extension will provide additional space for books, study areas, and other resources. It is important to ensure that the library's expansion does not disrupt the existing campus facilities.

Letters to The Editor

In response to the comment about the library's expansion, I would like to express my agreement. The library is a vital resource for students, and its expansion is a positive development. I also support the commenter's suggestion for increased diversity in the curriculum. The incorporation of different perspectives and viewpoints can enrich the learning experience.

City College's booters were eliminated from play-off contention by bowing to undefeated Brooklyn College, 3-2, in a hotly contested game Saturday on the winner's wet field. The game—which took on the stature of an old-time CCNY-NYU basketball game—was played before a crowd of approximately 1000 cheering spectators.

The Beavers were leading 2-1 in the third quarter when BC's outside left Ben Gibbs scored at 22:10 to tie the game. An immediate protest was voiced by the CCNY bench, claiming that the goal should have been nullified because each period is of 22 minutes duration. However, Brooklyn claimed that before the game City had agreed to play 22:30 periods. The NCAA Solicitor Sideia Bittle stated that "The duration of the game shall be four equal periods of 22 minutes each; otherwise, it shall be nullified." However, easily in the second half Gibbs broke away from the City defense. Goalie Andy Houtkruyer came out of the net to meet the attack and made a spectacular save by throwing himself in front of the ball.

A moment later a Beaver played the ball to the front of the net, giving BC a direct kick. Fred Warrenc failed to score, but the refereee called that Houtkruyer had moved before the ball was kicked and the Kingmen were given another direct kick. Alex Brunvass made this second goal and Brooklyn led, 1-0. The Beavers were not to be disheartened as they came back with two goals: one by Earl Scarlett; the other by Aldo Gambardella.

The third period saw the two teams play the game to a standstill. City's chances for a successful bid were dimmed by a loss to BC.

The victory gave Brooklyn a 15-2-0 record (7-2-0 in the league) in 1959 to hold a 1-1 tie with the Lavender last season. Pratt, which had a 13-2-0 record (7-2-0 in the league) in 1959 was held to a 1-1 tie by the Lavender last season.

Pratt opened its season with a convincing 7-1 win over a strong Army team and won three more games to stretch its non-losing streak to 21 games, before losing to Brooklyn College 1-0. However, the Cannoneers have won 7 consecutive contests since the Brooklyn game.

Although the Cannoneers lost...
