CUNY Bars U.S. Communist speakers

Policy Statement Issued
By Administrative Unit

Members of the Communist Party of the United States are forbidden to speak at any of the city colleges, according to a seven-page policy statement released by the Administrative Council Thursday. The former temporary ban now assumes the status of a permanent policy.

The council, composed of Chancellor John R. Everett and the heads of the seven colleges with city college representation, also issued a ten-page appendix containing legal opinion instrumental in the decision.

The report stated, "As long as the existing laws are in force or until different judicial decisions change their interpretation, no unit of The City University can approve an invitation to a known member of the Communist party of the United States if the council is based upon the best and most competent legal advice the council could obtain.

The policy statement left speaker policy at each campus up to the responsible educational authorities — with the understanding that no invitation will be approved unless every one of the four principles stated in this memorandum are violated.

Each branch of the university must consider the following principles in determining its policy:

1. "The university commitment to the independent search for truth."
2. "The preservation of an atmosphere of free inquiry."
3. "The preservation of the university's intellectual integrity."
4. "The necessity of all parts of the university to obey the laws of the state and nation."

A request for a review of the speaker policy will be considered in light of "each of these considerations."

Republican Candidates for City Posts
To Address Political Forum Thursday
Between 12-2 in Baruch Auditorium

The Republican candidates for mayor, controller and City Council president will speak in Pauline Edwards Theater Thursday at 12. State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, John J. Gilhooley and Paul A. Fino will speak at a political forum sponsored by Student Council and the Young Republican Club.

Attorney General Lefkowitz graduated cum laude from Fordham University School of Law in 1942 and was a member of the State Assembly in 1928, 1929 and 1930. In 1941 he was appointed a Justice of the Municipal Court of New York by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

In 1942 Lefkowitz was a counsel to the New York State War Finance Commission and from 1942 to 1946 served as counsel to Joint Legislative Committees to Recodify the Revised Election Law. He was elected attorney general in 1946 general election.

John Gilhooley graduated from St. John's University in 1942 and received his law degree from Cornell University in 1949.

In 1953, James P. Mitchell, then secretary of labor, named Gilhooley as his executive assistant. Four years later he was sent to Berlin to represent the United States at the International Labor Organization Conference. In 1946 he gave the great satisfaction for the termination of the United States of America sympathy" said the letter.

"It gave me great satisfaction to refer to the people of East Germany and to their fate and that they may end so unequivocally the terror that was taken by the Soviet regime," said the letter.

The special resolution stated in part that U.S.S.R. condemns the order closing, and the denial of access to the Free University of Berlin of East German and East Berlin students. The denial of East Berlin travel rights was the last step toward the end of order to those students.

Berlin Mayor Praises NSA For Border Closing Stand

By Steven Eagle

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt has praised the "Berlin resolution passed at the 14th National Student Association Congress in a letter to N.S.A. President Edward Garvey.

Jeffrey J. Garvey, N.S.A. President, said Friday that the Administrative Council's speaker policy statement "represented the thinking of eight people who were groping for an answer to the question: What should the policy be?"

At a special press conference which the acting president called for the student newspapers, Dr. Rivlin said that the search had "begun with an open mind."

Dr. Rivlin stated that "What the council wanted to do was to try to formulate principles which would apply to all the institutions of the City University system. He added that this was not a document to be accepted or rejected."

"Dr. Rivlin pointed out the responsibility of an "obeying constitution" to "obey the laws of the state and the nation." Thus, he said, the council relied "upon legal advice from those people it had a right to rely upon for such advice."

He pointed out that Benjamin Davis, national secretary of the Communist Party, had been sued to supply legal advice. But that "by the time the report was ready," Davis had not replied.

It was the "legal report as a whole which suggested that it would be contrary to the laws of the state and the nation," Davis had not replied. It was the "legal report as a whole which suggested that it would be contrary to the laws of the state and the nation." Thus, he said, the council relied "upon legal advice from those people it had a right to rely upon for such advice."

President Harry N. Rivlin clarified the council's stand.

In regard to possible changes in the statement he said that "This is not a decision for me to make. The council must review its decision, said Dr. Rivlin."

When asked about the criteria for determining whether a "known" Communist, Dr. Rivlin stated that this problem was step two of the policy.

He said that the policy statement was part one, since it represented the formulation of the procedures. This, he said, "is the formulation of the procedures."

President Rivlin stated that this decision was at the discretion of the responsible educational officials at each college, but that in the case of "doubtful" Communists, the "obvious answer" is to ask the Administrative Council.

Dr. Rivlin emphasized that the council had a "basic respect for our students as people" when it considered the situation.
Christian Association Heals Walker Speaking At College

The Reverend Brook Walker told the Christian Association on Thursday that Americans are prepared for a new kind of leadership and that such a leader must be Christ-like in his approach to the world. "The reign of Christ is not the reign of a king," the Reverend Walker said. "It is the reign of the meek and the humble, who will bring about a new world." The American public, he went on, is prepared for such a leader because of the current social and political climate. "We are in a time of great change," the Reverend Walker said, "and the American people are ready to embrace any leader who can guide us through this change." He added that the American public is also prepared for a leader who is willing to sacrifice himself for the good of the nation. "The American people," he said, "are ready to follow a leader who is willing to make the ultimate sacrifice for the sake of the nation." The Reverend Walker's message was well-received by the Christian Association, who expressed their agreement with his views.

Dean Saxe’s Triennial Report

Dean Emanuel Saxe declared that "it is time for a new era" in the school. In his speech, he criticized the current educational system for being too focused on standardized testing and too little on the development of critical thinking skills. "We need to change the way we teach our children," he said. "We need to focus on the whole child, not just on test scores." He called for a curriculum that is more relevant to the real world, and for a system that values creativity and innovation. "We must give our children the tools they need to succeed in the 21st century," he said. "We must prepare them for a world that is constantly changing." The speech received a positive response from the students and faculty, who expressed their agreement with the Dean's views.

Public Accounting Majors Top In 1961 List of Specializations

The public accounting specialization claimed the largest number of June 1961 graduates, according to statistics released by the New York State Board of Examiners. The specialization was followed by business administration, marketing, and accounting. The statistics also showed a significant increase in the number of graduates in business administration and marketing.

Jeff Brosh, chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York State Board of Examiners, noted that the public accounting specialization has become more popular in recent years. "This specialization is now one of the most sought after," he said.

Society Discusses Walker’s ‘Trip of Cancer’

A great chuckle, "fascinatingly gross," "just great," were some of the comments received by a large crowd attending the book reading of Jeff Brosh’s book, Walker’s ‘Trip of Cancer.’ The book, which is a memoir of the作者's experience with cancer, was praised for its honest and witty portrayal of the disease.

Student Council: Speakers’ Ban Motion Approved

Student Council voted 19-0 Friday evening to pass a motion to ban the speaker, a social studies professor, from making speeches on campus. The motion was passed by a vote of 19-0.

The Debating Society would like to express its appreciation to its officers who have visited Israel. The Tournament will be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, November 13 in the Student Center.

The Dean seems, in my opinion, to be wholely beside the point. What counts is, that when high or middle school students have been involved in a subject, they will continue to be involved in the subject even if the school has been closed by the "Thoms."

You took an American history class in which the students themselves are best capable of being taught and writing who should have been involved in the subject even if the school has been closed by the "Thoms."

I wish I could say that I have seen for some time that the students themselves are best capable of being taught and writing who should have been involved in the subject even if the school has been closed by the "Thoms."

In his lecture, the second of Hilltop's series, Professor Aaron Levenstein discussed the role religious values can play in the preparation for tomorrow's world. He stated that "most who plan to be merchants must have sincerely deep-rooted religious values, and have a broad knowledge of other faiths and religious observances. Such awareness requires not only a broader knowledge and a deeper understanding of Judaism, but I feel that the study of comparative religion is not only desirable but necessary for the study of other religions and our own."

The joint statement of Reinhart, Kleinhouse, and Kleinhouse stated that "many students do not have the same knowledge of other faiths and religious observances. Such awareness requires not only a broader knowledge and a deeper understanding of Judaism, but I feel that the study of comparative religion is not only desirable but necessary for the study of other religions and our own."

Kelly States Problems of Catholic Marriages
By Harvey M. Oppenheim
The problems of Catholic marriage today are as many as they were fifty years ago. This introduction to the work of Dr. Joseph V. Kelly, at Holy Mass this morning, Thursday, October 17, will be a brief preview of the complex issue facing the Catholics of today.

Dr. Kelly, a Jesuit priest, is a member of the Catholic Church. He was appointed for the position of director of the Catholic Information Center, which has been held in the United States for many years.
The lecture began with a prayer said in a hospital. It was then stated that the problems of Catholic marriage are manifold and complex. The audience was asked to consider the wisdom of the Church in the days of King Solomon, when marriage was arranged by the King. The audience was then asked to consider the wisdom of the Church in the days of Jesus, when marriage was arranged by the Church. The audience was then asked to consider the wisdom of the Church in the days of Paul, when marriage was arranged by the Church. The audience was then asked to consider the wisdom of the Church in the days of the present, when marriage is arranged by the Church.

Loss Hurts Chances Of NCAA Playoff Bid

By Harvey Pensky

The Booters' hopes for an NCAA soccer playoff bid were dimmed Saturday when Brooklyn College edged Iona, 3-1, in a crucial Metropolitan Conference battle at Lewisohn Stadium. However, the Booters' chances of reaching the NCAA playoffs are not gone. With one-half of the season completed, the youthful Booters have already made their Metropolitan Conference opponents pay for their mistakes. The Booters have a 2-1-1 record and have played well in the first half of the season. However, City's recent loss to CCNY has knocked the Booters out of the Metropolitan Conference race.

The Booters travel to Garden City on Saturday to play the Panthers, who have a 2-0-1 record. The Booters have played well in the first half of the season, but they need to improve their play in the second half if they want to make the NCAA playoffs. The Booters have played well against the Metropolitan Conference's top teams, but they need to improve their performance against the lower teams in the conference. The Booters have a chance to make the NCAA playoffs if they can improve their play in the second half of the season.

Queens Trips CCNY Frosh

Queens College freshman soccer team lost in a conference match at Lewisohn Stadium. However, the Frosh has a 6-2-1 record. Before the match, the Frosh had been preparing for the match at Lewisohn Stadium. The Frosh had been practicing on the field and had been working on their techniques. The Frosh had been preparing for the match for weeks, and they were ready to play their best against Queens.

Billy Hill:
Talented Runner Is Versatile Athlete

By Alvin Revkin

Speedster Billy Hill, a mainstay on City's cross country team, was formerly the editor of "Beaver Tales," the Uptonis intramural newspaper, equivalent to "The Leader." Hill is a versatile athlete, as well as a good student. In addition to his ability as a runner, Billy Hill is a good student. In addition to his ability as a runner, Billy Hill is also a good student. He has maintained a "B" average in electrical engineering. Billy is a modest young man. He has self-confidence, but will not boast or overstate himself. For example, when he went out for the cross-country team, Billy said to the coach, "I'm not so fast as my teammate." The coach tried to tell him that he was a good sprinter and a half-miler, while Hill thought differently. Hill added, however, "Maybe the coach was using psychology." Billy feels that Francisco Castro is an excellent coach who "will sweat as much as his players." Billy also says that Coach Castro takes a lot of interest in his athletes.

Upon being notified that he was going to be featured, Hill felt that other players on his team were more deserving of the publicity.

Riflemen Win

By Leonard Furman

The Beaver riflemen, def. Metropolitan Conference king, opened their campaign at Brooklyn College and Stuyvesant, 10-7, Thursday at the Lewisohn Stadium. Both teams had good performances, but the Metropolitan Conference king had the better of it. The riflemen's shooting was excellent, and they were able to win the match.
