Council Approves Picket to Protest Ban
If Impartial Legal Opinion Not Sought

Student Council passed a conditional motion, 11-3-6, Wednesday evening, to picket the Board of Higher Education office, 535 East 80 Street, Saturday at 2 in opposition to the motion. The motion, presented by Bob Brooks, corresponding secretary of Student Council, noted that if the picket was not to take place if the Administrative Council indicated that it would lead to an impartial body of lawyers before Saturday. The Administrative Council is holding a meeting tonight. Dr. John R. Everett, chancellor of the council, was not in attendance. If picketing occurs, it would be against the Student Council's rules. The motion also added that the president has called the first special joint meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members for the S.C. president will serve until the end of the semester.

Dr. John R. Everett will be at large seats and upon receipt of any application for at least six of the S.C. president will call another special meeting of this body.

Other parts of the amendment discussed the votes that the class council and the new chairmen of the fall and spring semesters and noted that the "class vote" would be divided among the class officers or executive board members who attend the meeting. In the fall and spring semesters, the president shall issue the deciding vote, but at no other time must he be allowed to cast a vote.

Complete Council
Those in favor of the motion contended that this was an excellent means of almost assuring that a vote would be taken that the body could work effectively in its legislative meeting and its committee system.

The opponents of the charter amendment argued that the passage of the motion would destroy the concept of class representation. This was followed by the rebuttal that class representation was not being infringed upon since all the class executive boards were voting and the members at large would be representative as in 1221.

Proponents' Position
The proponents also contended that it is better to have these members at large than to have an undermanned Student Council.

The motion also added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The motion also added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.

In other business, the motion added that the president has called the first special meeting of the class executive boards for the purpose of appointing at large members who will serve until the end of the semester.

The proponents of the motion argued that there were many students in the school who would like to attend more than one event or meeting on Thursdays, but were unable to do so because they were scheduled for the same time. They also pointed out that in order to prove the need for the additional break, the support of the student body was not enough time to effectively coordinate a picket and a failure of the program in opposition to the picket.
Theater Group Production Slated for Weekend Nights

Theater's student-faculty production will be presented Friday and Saturday nights April 3 and 4 in the Student Center's Theatre Booth. A ticket booth will be set up at the entrance to the theatre for a $1 admission.

Professor Stanley Tunick, chairperson of the Accounting Department, an announcement.

Professor Stanley Tunick, chairman of the Accounting Department, has announced that the Student-Faculty Theatre will present a program of art and entertainment staged by students of the Accounting Department.

It is hoped that the programme will present a diversity of the student body and will provide a unique opportunity for students to showcase their talents and creativity. The production will feature various forms of art, including dance, music, theatre, and visual arts.

Activities Fair ALL DAY THIS THURSDAY

SECOND FLOOR STUDENT CENTER

FILM ON STUDENT ACTIVITIES 12:00-2:00

FREE REFRESHMENTS FREE PRIZES

Announcing THE VENETIAN

THE NEIGHBORHOOD'S NEWEST FOR EATING AND MEETING

FEATURING: HEROES, SNACK BAR, HOMEMADE DONUTS, DELI COUNTER

COUPON

This coupon worth one drink with the purchase of a sandwich.

Southern Freedom Fund Established for Students

The Southern Freedom Fund has been established to provide financial assistance to students who are unable to pay their tuition fees. The fund is open to all students who meet the eligibility criteria.

SAM Company Nets Millions In College "Simulation" Game

The Society for Advancement of Management's "Simulation" game, after its successful debut in 1960, has been introduced to S.A.M. and the Baruch School of Business Administration by S.A.M. Officers. The game provides an opportunity for students to learn about management principles in a fun and interactive way.

SAM Company Nets Millions In College "Simulation" Game

The Society for Advancement of Management's "Simulation" game, after its successful debut in 1960, has been introduced to S.A.M. and the Baruch School of Business Administration by S.A.M. Officers. The game provides an opportunity for students to learn about management principles in a fun and interactive way.
Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

The editors of THE TICKER have written an editorial which is not only misinformed but also encourages a biased viewpoint that is completely unsupported by any rational justification. The editors of THE TICKER have chosen to argue for an editorial stance that is not only inadvisable, but also potentially harmful to the university community. Their argument is not based on any empirical evidence, but rather on a disregard for the principles of academic freedom and the importance of unbiased information.

The editorial in question focuses on the issue of student governance. The editors of THE TICKER argue that the Student Council is not fulfilling its role efficiently. They claim that the Student Council is not providing the necessary leadership and that the university community is not being effectively represented. The editors also mention that the Student Council is not engaging with the student body in a meaningful way.

The editors of THE TICKER then go on to suggest that the university should consider an alternative form of student governance. They argue that a council with a different composition would be more effective in addressing the issues facing the university community.

However, the editors of THE TICKER fail to acknowledge the complexity and diversity of the issues facing the university. They do not take into account the perspectives of different student groups and the potential consequences of any changes to the current system of governance.

In conclusion, the editors of THE TICKER have not provided a coherent or well-reasoned argument for their stance on student governance. They have instead chosen to present a biased and potentially harmful view.

 Yours truly,

[Signature]

---

Frances G. Frank, President

THE TICKER

Tuesday, November 23, 1961

Friday Night!

By Bob Brooks

Picasso and Cubism Talk Scheduled by Sigma Alpha To Investigate College Paper

Student Council has been confronted with many problems during the last few weeks. The most pressing one, however, is the issue of academic freedom. The council is trying to balance the rights of students to express their opinions with the need for an environment that is conducive to learning.

The issue of academic freedom is not new to the university. It has been a topic of debate for many years. However, the current situation is particularly acute because of the recent controversy over the publication of an article in The Ticker, the university newspaper.

The article in question was written by a student who expressed opinions that were critical of the university administration. The administration was concerned that the article was not in line with the university's policies and threatened to ban the publication of any further articles that expressed similar opinions.

This has led to a debate about the role of the university in regulating the speech of its students. Some argue that the university should have the right to prevent the publication of any articles that are not in line with its policies. Others argue that the university should respect the rights of its students to express their opinions, regardless of the content of those opinions.

The council is currently considering how to respond to this issue. It is likely that the council will take a stance that supports academic freedom, but that it will also consider the need to ensure that the university's policies are respected.

---

Charity Drive Set by APO

While the university has seen a decline in the number of students, the APO (Associated Students of Baruch) has decided to set up a charity drive to support the Student Council. The APO has been faced with a difficult decision, as it is not entirely clear how much support it can provide to the Student Council.

The Student Council has faced financial difficulties in recent years. It has been difficult for the council to maintain its programs and to provide the necessary support to its members. The APO has decided to set up a charity drive to help the Student Council by providing much-needed funds.

The APO has set up a donation box in the student center, and it has also organized a series of events to raise money. These events include a benefit concert and a bake sale. The APO has also asked for the support of the university community.

---

Professor John W. Wingate:

BA Teacher Known for Versatility

By T. William Lambard

Professor John W. Wingate is a BA teacher who is known for his versatility. He has taught in a variety of disciplines, and he has had the opportunity to work with students from different backgrounds.

Professor Wingate has taught courses in literature, art history, and business administration. He has also taught courses in linguistics, philosophy, and psychology. His teaching style is dynamic, and he is able to engage students from a variety of backgrounds.

Professor Wingate has also been involved in a variety of extracurricular activities. He has been a member of the University's literary magazine, and he has also been involved in a variety of community service projects.

---

Restriction on Planet

The Ticker staff has decided to restrict the publication of Planet, the university newspaper. The decision was made after a careful review of the newspaper's policies and after consulting with other members of the university community.

Planet has a long and proud history of supporting the rights of students to express their opinions. However, the Ticker staff has decided that the newspaper's policies should be consistent with the university's policies on academic freedom.

The Ticker staff has decided to limit the publication of Planet to articles that are not in line with the university's policies. This decision has been made in an effort to ensure that the university's policies are respected.

---

Page Four

Page Five

THE TICKER

Tuesday, November 23, 1961

Page Four

THE TICKER

Tuesday, November 23, 1961

Page Five
ALADIN COFFEE SHOP
(NEXT DOOR to CCNY)

Welcomes

All City College

* give the new
Parker 45

A "Convertible" Fountain Pen
with a 14K gold point

Available at your Authorized Zenith Dealer

20% DISCOUNT ON Order anything with this ad — PLUS —
20-30% DISCOUNT ON ALL Lines & Brands of Photo Finish with This Ad

INTRODUCTORY OFFER
A Miniature Comb & Brush Set Given FREE — With All Student Purchases — Only at...

BARKEY PHOTO SERVICE
45 E. 20 St. (Bot. Park Ave. & Broadway)
4-2224

(Affiliated with Zenith)
Veteran Team to Open Slate Against Lion 'Five' Saturday

By Mel Bernhardt

The experienced Beaver hooper opens their 1961-62 campaign against a young Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

This is the annual Stein Fund contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other home games. The game starts at 8, preceded by a freshman game at 7.

Proceeds from the game are used to pay for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes who suffered injuries during the course of competition.

The Beavers have performed well in practice scrimmages, making over 50% of their shots. Dave Polansky, Beaver mentor, notes that Columbia is a well-coached, hardworking team. Polansky's starting five will come from 6-4 Irving Cohen, 6-2 Don Kiel and 6-4 Ray Lamsdell at forwards, 6-4 Tor Nilson at center and 6-0 Howie Wilkov, 5-10 Jerry Gyniken and 5-8 Mike Winstein at guards.

The annual Stein Fund basketball contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other Beaver home games.

The1961-62 season will be Dave Borah's first as coach. Borah, the mainstay of last year's team, won the 123-pound title in the Metropolitan Championships last season. Kaplan competed in the lightweight (112-pound) class.

In the 123-pound class, veteran Jerry Robinson is a tentative starter. Senior Paul Amsden and junior Al Fein and Morty Hockmeyer are vying for the position on the 145-pound team.

Continued on page 10.

University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown. The game will be played against Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

The experienced Beavers open their 1961-62 campaign against a young Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

This is the annual Stein Fund contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other home games. The game starts at 8, preceded by a freshman game at 7.

Proceeds from the game are used to pay for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes who suffered injuries during the course of competition.

The Beavers have performed well in practice scrimmages, making over 50% of their shots. Dave Polansky, Beaver mentor, notes that Columbia is a well-coached, hardworking team. Polansky's starting five will come from 6-4 Irving Cohen, 6-2 Don Kiel and 6-4 Ray Lamsdell at forwards, 6-4 Tor Nilson at center and 6-0 Howie Wilkov, 5-10 Jerry Gyniken and 5-8 Mike Winstein at guards.

The annual Stein Fund basketball contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other Beaver home games.

The 1961-62 season will be Dave Borah's first as coach. Borah, the mainstay of last year's team, won the 123-pound title in the Metropolitan Championships last season. Kaplan competed in the lightweight (112-pound) class.

In the 123-pound class, veteran Jerry Robinson is a tentative starter. Senior Paul Amsden and junior Al Fein and Morty Hockmeyer are vying for the position on the 145-pound team.

Continued on page 10.

Wrestlers Battle Lions; Quakers Meet Fencers

Five lettermen and seven talented sophomores constitute the nucleus of the City College grappers who will attempt to improve last season's 3-4 record when their campaign begins Saturday at Columbia.

The only two lettermen lost are Dave Borah and Jerry Kaplan. Borah, the mainstay of last year's team, won the 123-pound title in the Metropolitan Championships last season. Kaplan competed in the lightweight (112-pound) class.

In the 145-pound class, veteran Jerry Robinson is a tentative starter. Senior Paul Amsden and junior Al Fein and Morty Hockmeyer are vying for the position on the 145-pound team.

Phil Rodman is a starter in the 147-pound class, while Barry Goldstein and George Fishbein are batting for the 150-pound position.

Students interested in seeing the game may reach the upper stand by the IRT to 137th Street or the IND to 145th Street. Tickets for the game can be purchased at the gate.

Baruchian Ballplayer:

Egol Enjoys Practice Sessions

Morty Egol, 6-6, 210 lb. Baruchian senior basketball player, is excelling in his third year of varsity basketball for City, claims that he doesn't miss sitting on the bench most of the time since he enjoys practice as much as the games.

Mathematics of Basketball

"It's foolish to let sitting on the bench bother you. We play eighteen games, four minutes per game giving a season total playing time of twelve hours. Meanwhile, we practice two hours per week. It isn't ridiculous to let sitting on the bench bother you," he declared.

One reason that big Morty doesn't play too often is that he doesn't fit into Coach Dave Polansky's pattern. To play for City, Morty states that you have to be able to "do everything." Egol is a good shooter; however, he lacks that "extra" (especially speed) which would make him a starter.

Egol expects to play more this season than he has in the past. Coach Polansky is giving him extra work, such as wind sprints. "May be I'll be a pro by the time I'm thirty-five," asserts Morty.

Some observers have stated that Egol is a good shooter but he's inexperienced. Morty has stated that he is inexperienced is "true." I've been on the team three seasons and I played high school ball at Columbia," he says.

Morty never started a game, but as he put it, "came close." As a sophomore he was the sixth man on the team. Morty not only attends classes and plays basketball, he also works part-time for a millinery firm as an accountant.

Best Game

Morty's best game occurred on a cold and snowy December 22, 1959 evening at Queens College. He really wanted to get into this game as he had invited a girl to attend the contest. When he entered the contest, City was losing by two points. By halftime the Beavers were up by twelve, due in large part to Egol's excellent passing to Marty Groveman.

Morty was originally scheduled to graduate in January but because of how plans to graduate in June and take post-graduate work in English he will be available for the entire season.

Egol is both a member of and the originator of Post 63, a Baruchian Booster Club.

Fund Buttons Now on Sale

Stein Fund buttons will be on sale today through Thursday. Proceeds will go to the fund which provides for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes who suffered injuries during the course of competition.

The annual Stein Fund basketball contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged will be donated to the fund, will be played against Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

The experienced Beavers open their 1961-62 campaign against a young Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

This is the annual Stein Fund contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other home games. The game starts at 8, preceded by a freshman game at 7.

Proceeds from the game are used to pay for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes who suffered injuries during the course of competition.

The Beavers have performed well in practice scrimmages, making over 50% of their shots. Dave Polansky, Beaver mentor, notes that Columbia is a well-coached, hardworking team. Polansky's starting five will come from 6-4 Irving Cohen, 6-2 Don Kiel and 6-4 Ray Lamsdell at forwards, 6-4 Tor Nilson at center and 6-0 Howie Wilkov, 5-10 Jerry Gyniken and 5-8 Mike Winstein at guards.

The annual Stein Fund basketball contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged will be donated to the fund, will be played against Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

The experienced Beavers open their 1961-62 campaign against a young Columbia University squad Saturday in Wingate Gym, Uptown.

This is the annual Stein Fund contest and the only game on City's schedule where a one dollar admission is charged. Admission is free to all other home games. The game starts at 8, preceded by a freshman game at 7.

Proceeds from the game are used to pay for medical expenses incurred by the College's athletes who suffered injuries during the course of competition.

The Beavers have performed well in practice scrimmages, making over 50% of their shots. Dave Polansky, Beaver mentor, notes that Columbia is a well-coached, hardworking team. Polansky's starting five will come from 6-4 Irving Cohen, 6-2 Don Kiel and 6-4 Ray Lamsdell at forwards, 6-4 Tor Nilson at center and 6-0 Howie Wilkov, 5-10 Jerry Gyniken and 5-8 Mike Winstein at guards.