Baruchians to Vote Tomorrow For Next Term's Executives

The student body will elect next semester's Student Council executive board tomorrow in the semi-annual school-wide election to be held at the Student Center from noon. The cafeteria snack bar. To be chosen also are the National Student Association (N.S.A.) delegate and a member of the Insignium Committee.

Rivlin Hosts Student Council

President of CCNY Chats With Students

Student Council spent Sunday evening at the home of City College Acting President Harry N. Rivlin, located in the Forest Hills section of Queens. President and Mrs. Rivlin served refreshments and provided the aura for what was described as an unadulterated evening in the Baruch School's history. There was no planned format for the evening. Conversation was the rule as students chatted in groups with President Rivlin and his wife.

A portion of the conversation was devoted to problems of the foreign student. President Rivlin stated that he would like to see foreign students at the College have the opportunity to stay at the homes of New York college students.

Executive Board Action:

City Calls Off Model United Nations

By T. William Lombardi

The Mock United Nations program originally scheduled for an April date was cancelled at the Student Council executive board meeting.

In a later report, Mock United Nations Committee Co-Chairman Tom Silverberg '62 cited poor student participation as the leading cause for the cancellation of the program. He said that both he and Colman Benbow '62 had made every effort to save the program. It continued, stating that "no definite date has been set for the program." However, he felt that there was a possibility of a future meeting.

In a later committee report, Student Council Treasurer Ken Klein '62 stated that he had secured the Peter Stuyvesant for the Baruch School's annual spring boat regatta. Klein stated that a later date would result in a conflict with class examinations while an earlier date would put the boat's season at a loss.

Honor Group Chooses 22 For Induction

The following students have been admitted into Beta Gamma Sigma, a business school equivalent of Phi Beta Kappa:

Bernhard Josef Abrahamsson, William C. Bridges, Jr., and Joseph L. Sturrock, members of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The School's chapter, Epsilon of the national society, has over thirty-four members in seventeen schools in seven-dozen chapters of the national society.

In addition, George W. Ritter, Historical, and Joseph M. C. Sturrock, have been named to the Beta Gamma Sigma society. The society has been designated honorarily by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The School's chapter, Epsilon, was installed in 1949 as the first chapter in the New York area. The local organization operates the chapter of the national society.

The Beta Gamma Sigma is the offi- officially designated honorary fraternity of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. The School's chapter, Epsilon of the national society, has over thirty-four members in seven-dozen chapters of the national society which has over thirty-four members in seven-dozen chapters of the national society.

The first part of Pitler's motion, as amended by Ken Perlman '62, stated: "If the reading of the A.C.B. minutes Council does not accept particular items, that item and only that item shall not be accepted; while the remaining minutes will be accepted as read." This part of the motion passed with a 17-14 vote. At the close of its meeting at midnight Council was still debating the second half of Pitler's motion, which would allow the President "to state that in order to be a duly authorized person of any club or organization to appeal directly to Student Council, any individual to point in the A.C.B. minutes, which concerns the organization they represent. Student Council should have the power by majority vote to affirm, disaffirm, or change in any way they see fit, the appeal which has been brought before them."

Proponents of the amendment cited the lack of existing appeal procedures and challenged Council to accept full responsibility for the curricular program. Those wishing to defect the motion called for a return to the former Council of Presidents appeal board.

Furthermore, a referendum appears on the ballot concerning the proposed additional club break between 12-2 Tuesdays. Students must present their cards at the polling places in order to be eligible to vote. Other means of identification are not acceptable.

Professor Stanley B. Tunick, chairman of the School's Department of Accountancy, will retire January 1962. Professor Tunick is both an alumnus and a faculty member of the City College. He received his A.B. from the College in 1941 and a Masters of Business Administration in 1943. He has also studied law and is a Certified Public Accountant.

Professor Tunick has been with the Baruch School for over thirty years. He started as an instructor in the Evening Session in 1930. He began teaching in the Day Session in 1931 and became chairman of the department in 1936. Professor Tunick remembers the days when only about 1,500 students were enrolled and the faculty was a small, intimate group.

Professor Tunick is the author in commendation Medal.
Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

I am writing in reference to the remarks of a fellow member of the Student Council last week. He said that there is no use in trying to get people to the meetings of the Student Council because the meetings only consist of talking about the same thing over and over again. This is not true.

The meetings of the Student Council are held on Thursday nights and consist of discussing important matters affecting the student body at large. Only the Student Council can meet and vote upon the candidates for the Student Council, and therefore, only the Student Council can determine how the meetings will be conducted.

I am writing this letter to correct the misconception held by the Student Council member. If the student body were present at the meetings of the Student Council, the meetings would be more effective and productive.

Yours sincerely,

[Student's Name]

Elections Tomorrow

The semi-annual Baruch School election will be held tomorrow at 8:00 p.m. in the Student Center. The election will consist of the election of Student Council members and members of the insurgent committee.

The Student Council is composed of students who are interested in the student body and the candidates for the Student Council are elected by the student body. The students are given the opportunity to vote for the candidates of their choice, and the candidates are elected by the student body.

I therefore maintain that to change the meeting time is more conducive to the effective organization of the student body if the present meeting time is not changed.

Yours sincerely,

[Student's Name]

No Presents Please

City College students have been asked to send for the second straight year not to give presents to their teachers. This is because the teachers are not allowed to have anything that is not for classroom use at the school. City College students were also asked to send for this purpose, among other purposes, that the school can remain open and that the teachers can remain in their jobs.

But the Student Council is now more than ever a necessity to the student body and this is why we needed to give them our permission to send for presents to their teachers.

Yours sincerely,

The Student Council's platform presents a balanced program for the coming year. The platform is based on the following principles:

1. The Student Council must improve its communication with the student body. This improvement will be achieved through increased participation in campus events and through effective use of the Student Council newsletter.

2. The Student Council must be more responsive to the needs of the student body. This will be achieved through active involvement in student organizations and through the formation of new student groups.

3. The Student Council must be more effective in solving student problems. This will be achieved through the formation of a grievance committee and through the establishment of a central information office.

4. The Student Council must be more active in community affairs. This will be achieved through increased participation in local and national community organizations and through the establishment of a community relations committee.

5. The Student Council must be more active in national and international affairs. This will be achieved through increased participation in international organizations and through the establishment of a foreign relations committee.

6. The Student Council must be more active in educational affairs. This will be achieved through increased participation in educational organizations and through the establishment of an educational affairs committee.

The Student Council's platform is designed to ensure that the Student Council will be an effective and responsive organization that will serve the needs of the student body.

The Student Council candidates are ready to serve the student body and are prepared to work for the benefit of the student body. They are committed to carrying out the principles of the Student Council's platform and to serving the student body in a responsible and effective manner.

Adelphi Hosts Cagers In Tri-State Meeting

By Ronald S. Berlin

Adelphi's hoopsters host undefeated C.C.N.Y. in a Tri-State League game tomorrow at Garden City, Long Island. Starting time is 8:30, preceded by a freshman contest at 6:30.

The teams are evenly matched in many respects. Each has eight returning veterans and has lost its leading rebounder: Shelly Bender for City and Jimmy Clemons for Adelphi. Both are also about even in the height department.

High scorer for the Panthers is Joe Woltering, a 6-1 senior, who is averaging twelve points per game. Another veteran, 5-10 Ed Cabill, is right behind him with thirty-four points in three games.

Doug Dyer, also a senior, is averaging ten points per game. He is followed in the scoring lineup by 6-6 Howard Gulker, who has scored thirty-nine points in four contests.

The Beavers have been using a switching man-to-man defense, while Adelphi has used a zone defense. The Panther have not gained a win in their first four outings, losing to Maryland State, Pratt, Mount St. Mary's and American University.

Winning Weekend

Three Beaver teams saw action this weekend and all scored victories.

The swimmers opened the season Friday, topping Manhattan from the undefeated ranks 53-42. City took six of the eleven events.

Coach Bernard Kelly's nine extended their three-year winning streak to thirty-five, whipping Hofstra (1,388) and C.W. Post (1,226). The winners made 1.

Yale lost a close match to Adelphi, 14-13, Saturday. Tor's "Uncatchable" extended his engagements
