Jug Club Membership Approved At Meeting

Membership in the Jug Club, a portion of the Baruch school blood bank program, was formalized and approved by student Council by an 85-1 vote Wednesday night.

Paul Zarrett '66 presented the motion to Council. The substance of Zarrett's motion was that upon distribution of four pints of blood during his undergraduate years, he matriculated student and members of his immediate family, aid, draw upon the School's bank for five years after graduation.

Students holding Jug Club membership prior to December will derive the benefits of life membership. That is, he granted to them before the expiration of the new procedure. Time was spent debating an amendment proposed by Danny Baumgarten. The amendment would have granted membership to life blood bank members.

The Board of Higher Education approved a record-breaking operating budget request for the next academic year for the City University. Submitted by the board's Committee on Finance and Facilities, the $70,560,945 tentative appropriation is a rise of 16.5 percent from this year's budget, announced B.H.E. Chairman Gustave Rosenberg.

The times require us," Dr. Rosenberg declared, "to make a record-breaking educational effort to extend the services of the City University. Current events make it all too clear why there is an emergency demand for a great many people of exceptional educational background and with highly trained abilities.

The City College share of the request is $16,820,065. The largest increase included in this budget is for the City University graduate program, which will rise $2,796,195.

The new budget reflects an increase in enrollment of 1,200 students in the day sessions at the four municipal courses. Also, 127 additional day session instructors are provided for in the budget.

The City University budget request will be submitted to the Council in January. Next June, the board will announce fees and tuition rates where applicable, for the coming school year.

C.C.N.Y. Alumni Association Fetes 1912, 1937 Classes

The Alumni Association of the City College of New York held its eighty-second annual dinner at the Hotel Astor Tuesday evening. The affair celebrated the golden anniversary of the Class of 1912 and the sliver anniversary of the Class of 1937.

Saul J. Lance, 2nd president of the association, hosted the dinner. He noted that the Alumni Association's goal this year is $750,000, twice the amount that was raised last year. "I have no doubt that the fund will reach its goal this year," he stated.

Mr. Lance stressed that he was proud of the fight of the Alumni Association "to maintain higher tuition in City College." We are fighting to take away from the school. We are fighting to take away from the Board of Higher Education a 90 percent increase in tuition. We are fighting to take away from the Board of Higher Education a 90 percent increase in tuition. We are fighting to take away from the Board of Higher Education a 90 percent increase in tuition.

Gustave Rosenberg. Dr. Rosenberg expressed his support for the Alumni Association. He noted that the Alumni Association has played a significant role in the development of City College. He thanked the association for its support and expressed his hope that the Association will continue to support the University in the future.

Students State BM Machine Location Poor

A trio of students are campaigning for the post of Council, Schoolwide election will be held Wednesday, December 12. In the Class of '63, Joyce Siegel and Alan Silverman are the only ones that took out petitions for Student Council representatives. George P. Knox and Howard Horn have announced their candidacy in Class of '64. They are Ronald Nuss, Sandi Schiff, Cathy Vander, and Barry Epstein. Each student and faculty member in the Student Council is eligible to use the blood bank.

The blood drive is coordinated by Student Council with the assistance of Boosters and Alpha Phi Omega. This term, free hamburgers and hotdogs will be given to those who donate blood. If you, or a member of your immediate family, need blood, contact the Department of Student Life at once.

Elections

Once again, Student Council and Class Council elections are approaching. They will be held on Monday, November 12, and we urge all students to take an active part in them, whether running for office or just voting.

Cafeteria

We look with satisfaction on the School’s purchase of an IBM computer. There can be no doubt that the School cannot function to its fullest capacity without such a machine.

Blood Drive

The semi-annual blood drive has arrived, and with it comes another opportunity for all members of the student body and faculty to contribute to the advancement of medical science. Each member of the School, whether or not he has contributed in the past, is urged to lend his support to this important project.

Letters

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

We feel deeply the need to consider a friend. Yes, a very dear friend. Our classmate, Richard Tudor, has been suffering the effects of a disease that we all hope will soon be cured. We are writing to extend our sympathy to him and his family and to express our appreciation for the many kind words and deeds that have been done for him.

Your sincerely,

Veteran Cagers Oppose Upsala in First Contest

A predominantly veteran team will start for City College Saturday as the Beavers open their basketball season against Upsala in Wingate Hall at 8. The freshman teams meet at 6.

The game is played for the benefit of the Stein Fund, which provides medical aid for C.C.N.Y. athletes injured during intercollegiate competition. A one dollar admission charge is being made, but all other home games are free.

Coach Dave Polansky plans to start only one sophomore, Steve Goldstein, a 6-4 center. Probable starters at guards are seniors Jerry Greenberg and Johnny Wyles. Jump shot ace Don Sidat will start at one forward. Juniors Ray Camisa and Alex Blatt will battle for the other spot.

Upsala, which has not defeated City in four tries, has seven freshmen on its twelve man team. At Upsala, freshmen are eligible for varsity competition.

Coach Fred Wieholtz, referring to the freshmen, said, "This is the best bunch of recruits I've had in my six years at Upsala. How well we do this year will depend upon the way these fellows fit in with our varsity schedule. Four or five could be in the starting unit."

The Vikings will depend upon three novices, 6-3 Pete Johnson, 6-2 Sheldon Kaplan, and 6-2 Bill Szanka for rebounding chores.

Upsala's leading rebounder and scorer, Bob Brandew, was graduated. He says the Beavers plenty of help in the boards.

Only four players are returning from last year's team which compiled a 7-17 record. They are Gene Ekholm, 6-5 Ron Gates, 6-0 Gary Loper, and 6-3 Tom Jackson.

City Harriers Get 5th Spot

The Beaver Harriers ended their season successfully by tying for fifth place in the "B" division of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America (I.A.C.A.) championships November 30 at Van Cortland Park.

City and La Salle had 112 points each. Maine, the winner, scored 126 points.

Mike Dreyfus ('71) and Ed Coven ('70) paced the Harriers.

Pennsylvania Meets CCNY Fencers

All-American Vito Mannino will lead the City College fencing team into action Saturday in the season's opening match against the University of Pennsylvania at Wingate Hall at 2.

Coach Ed Lucia noted that the team has been working hard in practice, although not definite opinions of its capabilities can be given until the first match is completed.

The Beavers, with a 5-4 record last year, playing one of the toughest schedules in the country, have Columbia and N.Y.U. which consistently rank in the top ten are once again on the slate.

Last season City finished eighth in the National Championships at Ohio State.

Missing from the team are Bernie Eichenbaum and Ray Fields, who were of all-American calibre and had competed in two national championships.

Lucia is fortunate that he has over thirty players trying to break into the starting lineup. The main sources of new material are last year's freshman team and the special fencing physical education class.

Practice is conducted three times a week and distance swimming, water polo, and weight lifting are done at the College. The outstanding new sophomores are of all-American calibre and had competed in two national championships.
