Epstein Wins Class of '63

Barry Epstein, current president of the senior class, was re-elected yesterday in yesterday's election. Epstein garnered 161 "yes" and 17 "no" votes. Lar-Fleiss will be a new vice president, receiving 131 "yes" to 22 "nays." The other class officers will be: Eve Hochberg, treasurer, with 134 "yes" and 24 "no" votes; Joe Hochberg, president, receiving 151 votes; and Bob Pitler '63, former president of the I.B.M. electronic commerce students, with 179 "yes" and 27 "nays." Epstein was the most widely contested best one in order that the situation could be rectified. Epstein, who received the Supreme Court Decision Set for Hillel Discussion

A student leader symposium, featuring Bob Brooks '63, president of the Student Council, Alan Silverman '63, president of Inter-Fraternity Council, and Bob Piter '62, former president of the Central House Plan, will be presented at Hillel House today at 12:14 E. 24 St.

This discussion will be co-sponsored by the Activities Coordination Board. The topic of the symposium will be the Supreme Court decision on the refusal to postpone the presidential election in Student Council for two semesters. The topic of the symposium is refusal to expose the false implications of the Supreme Court Decision. School-Wide Elections

In many matters concerning the College, the Coll. Declared that as the Committee of the I.B.M. computer did not even answer the complete, well-documented report on an alleged discrimination against teachers of Spanish, he assumed that this might be the end of the matter. The college was affirmed his refusal to release personnel records of the College to the public, stating that such action might hurt the careers of some and be a violation of confidence placed in the college. In answering a question concerning the budget for the Finley Student Center, Dr. Gallagher made it clear that only the part of the money which would not be used for student activities can be used for such purposes.

President Buell G. Gallagher declared at his press conference yesterday that planning for a new site for the Baruch School will be delayed for a year and a half.

Siegel, Nirenberg Win in House Plan Election Yesterday

Joyce Siegel '65 was elected president of the Center for yesterday by a vote of 85 "yes" votes to 28 "no" votes. The election was held in the Student Center lobby. All candidates for executive offices were unopposed.

The new president of C.H.P. is Jerry Nirenberg '63. He received 110 "yes" to 5 "nays." The former president of the Center for student affairs, acting as a member of the Disqualification Committee to postpone the presidential election, was thought to be in error.

Electors
The semi-annual elections have come, but not quite gone.

First, there were many contested elections. Of those listed on the School of Business Council, only one is not contested.

Second, from recent meetings, a School-wide, or even student body-wide, general election was held. It is believed that no newspaper person can ever read your politics, but what you say are different things. In the course of your own thinking, you probably are thinking of things you say his politics, but what you hear in for politics. This is for anyone else.

Therefore, I am going to propose an amendment to the School of Business Council, to make the following statement:

"Any student who is a member of the Schools of Business Council, or has been a member of the Schools of Business Council, shall not be disqualified from the final examinations of the Schools of Business Council, or shall have been disqualified from the final examinations of the Schools of Business Council, or shall have been disqualified from the final examinations of the Schools of Business Wagner’s Height Sends City To Third Defeat of Season
By Jeff Palca
Special to The Ticker

Strength off the boards and steady marksmanship from the field were the key factors as the Wagner College basketball team defeated C.C.N.Y., 70-60, last night. The contest was played before a partisan crowd of 700 at the Seahawks’ Gymnasium.

The beavers took command in the first eight minutes and never relinquished it. The nine-to-one lead was increased to 15-3, 16-4, and 25-10, respectively. The two other winners in the sophomore class, Barry Epstein, elected president, with Rapp, 129 “yes” and 16 “no” votes. The vice president will be Joyce Hruh, who received 84 “yess” and 64 “nays.” For class treasurer, Rosanne Cohen, with 44 votes, defeated Martin Brandenstein, 23 votes and Alan Schneider with 24 votes. Ronna Tager received 125 “yes” and 15 “no” votes for class secretary.

In the Class of ’65 Student Council races, Tom Nicas, Ronne Novitz, and Sandi Schiff all received 125 “yes” votes to win seats. They had 20, 15, and 11 votes, respectively. The two other winners are Merrie Wilensky, with 124 “yess” and 18 “nays”; and Cathy Vandermien, with 123 positive and 21 negative votes.

In freshman Class Council elections, the class executive board will consist of Sherry Belfer, who received 129 “yes” and 15 “nays”; Donna Bukatch, with 126 and 22 “yes” and “no” votes, respectively; Nadine Menschel, 123 “yes” and 25 “no” votes. Carole Rosenquist, 120 “yes” and 27 “no” votes; and Taube Lee, with 123 “yes” and 15 “nays.”

Council representatives from the Class of ’64, will include Paul Zarrett, with 133 “yes” and 17 “no” votes. Richard Glantz, with 89 positive and 11 negative votes. The other winners are Janet Gilbert, who received 122 “yes,” and 16 “nays” and Susan Manasse, with 127 “yes” and 22 “no” votes; and Barbara Dee Scherer with 116 and 28 “yes” and “no” respectively.

Fencers Face Harvard in Quest of Third Win
By Steve Rosenblatt

The Beaver fencing team seeks its third consecutive Saturday against Harvard at Cambridge, Mass.

City counted on its depth in its first two wins; including last Saturday’s triumph over Yale, 14-13.

It was Alan Turner’s victory over the university’s top marksmanship with a score of 5-4. Turner, a sophomore, led the other two bouts to give a perfect day. He defeated Otto, who place third in all the matches last year. The Beavers swept the种子 of the nine finals.

The sabre, which is the sight of the most excitement and Leon Anglaisian scored a triple win. He has now won the next consecutive matches.

City was beaten in the eighth-rank.

Eight Beavers scored at once to give City its first points. All-American Vince was the first of eight points each, and Al Lax, Marcus scored one point apiece.
