Baruch Students Protest Johnson Vietnam Policy

JOEL FELDMAN
WASHINGTON, D.C., April 17: Equipped with picket signs and packaged lunches, about forty sleepy Baruch School students piled into a Washington bound bus at 6:30 this morning to demonstrate their opposition to the Vietnam War. The only one to be picketed Thursday, the Twenty-third Street branch of First National City Bank, will be addressed by the students.

Baruch students leave school at 6 a.m. for trip to Washington to protest American military action in Vietnam.

Baruch Students Protest Johnson Vietnam Policy

The rally and demonstration were sponsored by Students for a Democratic Society, in which participation was coordinated by the Committee on Human Rights.

As the marchers walked slowly around the chief executive's mansion, counter-picketers demonstrating against the war were confronting one group of members of the American Nazi Party, whose signs read, "Students Go Home" and "The Peace Corp is Communist, Peace is Communist."

"Just a few feet away from the Nazis, another group also protested the students presence. This demonstration was made up of many organizations, one of which was Young Americans for Freedom. Their signs were similar to the Nazi's, one reading, "We Must Fight for Peace."

At a rally held in the shadow of the Washington Monument, guest speakers, including I. F. Stone, editor and publisher of The Nation, and Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska addressed the students.

The demonstration was called from as far as Colorado and Michigan, marched to the Capitol to present a petition to the Congress. It was a thrilling sight to see thousands of people in front and behind you. One knew that if these students would stay and work together, they could make it a better world.

Picketing of First National City Called To Protest Sale of Mississippi Bonds

Picketing of the First National City Bank has been scheduled for Thursday and Friday to protest the bank's underwriting of a Mississippi bond issue. The demonstration was announced by Howard Yahn '65, president of the Baruch School Committee on Human Rights, which accused the bank of unethical conduct in underwriting bonds to finance segregated Mississippi colleges, three white and two Negro.

The demonstration will be held in front of the Twenty-third Street branch, which is divided between the School of Business and the School of Human Rights. During the demonstration, students will be handing out leaflets.

"Faculty members will join the picketing," Mr. Yahn stated Thursday at 1, students, members of the faculty, and neighborhood merchants will withdraw their funds from the bank. At that time they will present a statement to the branch manager explaining the reasons for the withdrawal.

"Immorality in business will be stressed during the protest, Mr. Yahn said.

His organization is working in conjunction with the Committee on Banking and Civil Rights, which is composed of approximately twenty-five civil rights organizations.

Executive members of the Committee met with Representatives of the Bank two weeks ago, at which time First National City refused to refrain from underwriting future bond sales of the state of Mississippi.

The committee will be picketing branches of the First National City Bank Friday. The Twenty-third Street branch will be the only one to be picketed Thursday.

S.C. Presidency Contested; Yoskowitz, Katz Opponents

For the first time in over two years, the presidency of Student Council is being contested. Candidates for the position in the May 12 election are Mel Katz '66, now vice president, and Irving Yoskowitz '66, editor-in-chief of Lexicon, the School yearbook.

Other contested executive posts are treasurer, for which Mr. Katz '66 and Norman Lipton '66 are vying, and corresponding secretary, for which Lucille Yarber '66, and Ronald Schoenberg '66 are the candidates.

Running unopposed in the election are Martin Slaw '66 (vice president), Marc Sperman '66 (recording secretary), Phyllis Milli '66 (Student Council Activities Committee chairman), and David Goldberg '66 (vice president of the Athletic Association. He is also unopposed.

In the only contested election for Student Council representative, nine members of the Class of '68, Charles Alton, Max Berger, Jack Goldin, Harry Binder, Margaret Farko, Jerry Kaplan, Steve Leighton, Harvey Tenenbaum, Susan Weinstein, and Alan Wiener, are running for six available seats.

Candidates for that post that have been announced are Mr. Lipton, Thomas Murray, and Ian Reech. There are six seats open.

Mark Chernoof, Lenny Diener, William Solomon, and Steve Brubin are running unopposed for four of the six available seats in the Class of '67.

With six seats also open in the Class of '69, David Levinsky, Herbert Marks, and Harry Pace are the candidates.

In the race for president of the Class of '69, Barry Haberman is the only candidate for president of the Class of '69.

Sheila Ornstein and Irving Becker are candidates for vice president and treasurer of the class, respectively.

Five members of the Class of '69 are running for Class Council representative. The students are Douglas Lederman, Jack Mandel, Beth Pantale, Schareane Shapiro, and Benno Weiss.

Mardi Gras

The election for the queen of this term's Mardi Gras will be held today and tomorrow. The voting will take place in the Student Center lobby.

The four finalists, Angela LeRe, Lillian M. Weis, and David Newkoo '68 and Susan Weinstein '68, were chosen by a panel consisting of Associate Dean of Students David Newton, House Plan Director Anita Pernell, two members of the Department of Student Life, and three members of House Plan Association.

All students may vote for the queen. The winner will be announced at the Mardi Gras on May 1.

Tickets for Mardi Gras are on sale this week in the Student Center lobby for $1.50 each.
Books Needed

Many Negro colleges and universities in the South have not been accredited because of a lack of books in their libraries. A recent report from the Library of Congress show that over 1,000,000 Negro and colored books have been catalogued; of these, over 1,000,000 are not available to Negro students. The Negro Education Association has launched a campaign to put books into the hands of Negro students. The campaign is supported by the Southern Negro College Fund, the National Negro Business League, the National Negro Chamber of Commerce, and the National Urban League. The campaign has been endorsed by many Negro colleges and universities.

Council Elections

Student and Class Council elections will be held May 22. The election will consist of 12 members for each of the 12 classes. The election will be conducted by the Student Council. Students are urged to vote in the election, as the Council is responsible for the welfare of the school.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recentralization of the administration. I believe that this trend is detrimental to the welfare of the student body. The centralization of the administration has led to a loss of autonomy for the individual departments. This has resulted in a decrease in the quality of education. I urge the administration to take steps to reverse this trend.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Thieves

It has come to the attention of THE TICKER that there have been several instances of theft on campus. These incidents have occurred mainly in the Student Center but thefts have also been reported in the dormitories.

It is up to all the students of the School community to do something about this problem. The police are not able to stop the thefts, as the students are not cooperating. The school administration needs the help of the students to prevent this problem from worsening.

All thefts should be reported to 104 S.C. If this is done, it will help the school administration to take the necessary steps to combat this situation.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]
Learning About Yourself Can Lead to Better Job and More Satisfying Life

By MORTIMER R. FEINBERG
Associate Professor of Psychology

Most of us at some time or other, have had the experience of understanding certain other people, to our own surprise and disappointment. Psychologists point out that we really hold a great many people, in our minds, images of them that are entirely different from what they really are. This can be a great source of misunderstanding, and often causes us to misinterpret the behavior of others. It is important to keep in mind that even the people we know best can be misunderstood, and that even our own actions may be misinterpreted by others.

One of the best ways to get a better understanding of yourself and others is to study your own behavior. This can be done by keeping a diary of your daily activities, and by observing your reactions to different situations. It is also important to study the behavior of others, in order to understand how they think and feel.

The more you understand yourself, the better you will be able to communicate with others. This will help you to make better decisions, and to solve problems more effectively. It will also help you to deal with conflicts more constructively, and to develop more effective relationships.

In this essay, I will discuss some of the major tools for studying personality. These include self-analysis, self-interpretation, and self-reaction. I will also discuss some of the major techniques for studying personality, including observation, introspection, and imaginings.

Most of us, at some time or other, have had the experience of understanding certain other people, to our own surprise and disappointment. Psychologists point out that we really hold a great many people, in our minds, images of them that are entirely different from what they really are. This can be a great source of misunderstanding, and often causes us to misinterpret the behavior of others. It is important to keep in mind that even the people we know best can be misunderstood, and that even our own actions may be misinterpreted by others.

One of the best ways to get a better understanding of yourself and others is to study your own behavior. This can be done by keeping a diary of your daily activities, and by observing your reactions to different situations. It is also important to study the behavior of others, in order to understand how they think and feel.

The more you understand yourself, the better you will be able to communicate with others. This will help you to make better decisions, and to solve problems more effectively. It will also help you to deal with conflicts more constructively, and to develop more effective relationships.

In this essay, I will discuss some of the major tools for studying personality. These include self-analysis, self-interpretation, and self-reaction. I will also discuss some of the major techniques for studying personality, including observation, introspection, and imaginings.

Most of us, at some time or other, have had the experience of understanding certain other people, to our own surprise and disappointment. Psychologists point out that we really hold a great many people, in our minds, images of them that are entirely different from what they really are. This can be a great source of misunderstanding, and often causes us to misinterpret the behavior of others. It is important to keep in mind that even the people we know best can be misunderstood, and that even our own actions may be misinterpreted by others.

One of the best ways to get a better understanding of yourself and others is to study your own behavior. This can be done by keeping a diary of your daily activities, and by observing your reactions to different situations. It is also important to study the behavior of others, in order to understand how they think and feel.

The more you understand yourself, the better you will be able to communicate with others. This will help you to make better decisions, and to solve problems more effectively. It will also help you to deal with conflicts more constructively, and to develop more effective relationships.

In this essay, I will discuss some of the major tools for studying personality. These include self-analysis, self-interpretation, and self-reaction. I will also discuss some of the major techniques for studying personality, including observation, introspection, and imaginings.
Business: Touched by Comic Madness

Ritz Crackers in Apple Pie

By EDWARD W. MCMANUS
Professor of Speech

The field of comic entertainment, once a land of clowns, hurdy-gurdys, and comedians, has become so much more. It is not just the vaudeville acts of old that are but a part of the world of comic entertainment.

The English society in a backward and declining state, after years of stagnation, is in a state of decay. This is the case with the English society in a backward and declining state, after years of stagnation, is in a state of decay. This is the case with the English society in a backward and declining state, after years of stagnation, is in a state of decay. This is the case with the English society in a backward and declining state, after years of stagnation, is in a state of decay. This is the case with the English society in a backward and declining state, after years of stagnation, is in a state of decay.

But business is different. Ritz Crackers, for example, has a new advertisement. The advertisement has a new advertisement. The advertisement has a new advertisement. The advertisement has a new advertisement. The advertisement has a new advertisement.

Mock Apple Pie

In Apple Pie

Professor of Speech

For a short period of time, the church has begun in the last twenty years to identify itself with the social and economic problems that are facing it.

“...the church to Latin America in the last forty years, however, is very much the product of the social and economic problems that are facing it.*

Revolution...

(Continued from Page 8)

What sort of records do they think I keep?” I asked, startled.

But then I realized that this was probably a good thing, a good sign that the records were in the hands of a good person. I asked further to be left in charge of the records, and I promised to take the place of my missing colleagues.

I think it's important for us to remember that the problems of Latin America are very much the product of the social and economic problems that are facing it.*

GIVE BOOKS for EQUAL EDUCATION

(April 26 through May 7)

THETRAN presents READING FROM THE WORKS OF ROBERT FROST

$20 Balance Due On Senior Prom Deposits

It's Still Not Too Late To Buy Your Ticket In THE LOBBY OF THE STUDENT CENTER - BUT HURRY!

Runners Show Improvements

The return of Bob Bender, a versatile track star of Cambridge, has led to a new revitalization of the Harvard track team. Bender has gained strength in his tired muscles, the Harvard track team has gained strength and will improve.

Pitching...

(Continued from Page 4)

The Lancer split with Temple Friday night in the opening round of the fall league, 5-2. The pitchers were both outstanding, but the Lancer, in the last twenty years to identify itself with the social and economic problems that are facing it.*
Beavers Top Iona, 2-1
As Meyreles Goes Nine

BY BOB STERN

The Beaver baseballers got back on the winning track by edging Iona, 2-1, at the Gaels field, in New Rochelle Tuesday, April 30.

The game was highlighted by the fact that Bart Mandel, who allowed only seven hits as he went the distance. The defense was sharp again, as an off-fensive performance was posted by the N.Y.U. Coach Mishkin said. "The defense was really great, especially for the fine pitching of Beaver.

By the fine pitching of Beaver Mishkin commented, "in the first two innings, after a score of three by the Gaels, there was no more hit and the game was over for the Gaels. The score was 2-1 and we were able to score as a team.

The Beavers capitalized on sloppy fielding by Iona in the third. Danny Schneider and Lou Gatti were safe on errors. A wild pitch and Bernie Martin's two-base single scored two runs for the mark of victory.

After the game Coach Mishkin commented, "today we got the result of errors." "Today we got the crossing of the Gaels, and Bernie Martin's two-run home run put us ahead for the rest of the game.

The Beavers are hoping that the tally will be in their favor. This time, a walk, a stolen base and throwing error did the damage.

The Beavers attempted a comeback in the third and fourth innings, but this was not enough, as the rally fell one run short at the game's end.

One unusual aspect of the game was the fact that the Beavers output the Gaels by a small margin. When asked about this, Coach Mishkin replied, "You can't win a baseball game by a small margin. You must play nine innings of good, solid baseball, and we played poorly first inning. That is what hurt us.

Meyreles, Smith, That's It

A generation ago, the Boston Braves won the National League Pennant with a pitching quad of "Spahn, Rain, and then pray for rain." The 1965 Beavers expected to make a strong bid for the Metropolitan Conference crown. If it does, its rallying cry may well be "Meyreles, Smith and that's it.

Meyreles, Smith and Roland Meyreles can carry the burden of their team.

Top D.F.U., 11-2

Lacrosse

BY ANDY WISNER

"Going ahead and then losing the game is the story of our lives." These were the words of Iona's coach, George Baron, after one of the stickmen's many defeats.

It took the Beavers half a season, but they finally were able to prove that even coaches can be wrong. They trounced Fairleigh-Dickinson University, 11-2, Wednesday at New Jersey.

The Beavers' record is now 1-1. They had been defeated by the Army, 3-0, Tuesday, April 14, at the West Orange field.

In the F.D.U. game, good performances were turned in by Isi Jovanic, Dave Hirsch, and middlefielder Rudy Chaloupka, who each scored three goals. Goaltie Sagi Niski also played well.

Against Army, City was leading at the half, 5-1. But, as Coach Baron said: "They just couldn't be stopped."

Middlefielder Jovanic played well in a losing cause. Once again, he had a chance to be a defensiveman and Mary Sandbur also looked good.

"I don't know what tolls the experience is a major reason for the team's losing record. "We are always starting to play when we are not. We are not going, but when the second half comes we just collapse."

There are two tough games com-

Penn Relays

Parced by the second place sprint medley relay team, coach Francisco Castro's trackmen gave a creditable showing at the Penn Relays. Vincent Berger led off with a 22.6 clocking in the	quarter, and Dave Sibulskie and Bill Wildfogle ran the intermediate 220 yard leg in 23.3 and 23.4. Pete Ziemba ran the anchor leg, the half mile, in 2:01.5.

The Triple jumper Bob Bogart jumped 45'7 1/4" at Franklin Field, to place eighth. Jimmy O'Connell set a new scholastic mark in the two mile event with a 9:28.3 time. This time earned him fifteenth place out of seventy-six long distance men.

Violets Edge City, 5-4,
Miscues Cause of Defeat

Playing their second league game of the season, the Beaver 'Nine' was defeated by the N.Y.U. Violts at Ohio Field, Wednesday, April 14.

The game was the result of sloppy fielding by the Beaver outfields.

The defense collapsed. After a hit and a walk, Gatti played a ground ball, loading the bases. A hit followed, putting two men on, and keeping the bases filled. After a sacrifice fly brought in the third run, a single and an attempted double play scored the fourth run of the inning.

In the Beavers' game, how Iona singly and stole second. Lou Gatti then scoed him with another singel.

The Violts matched the tally in their half of the inning. This time, a walk, a stolen base and throwing error did the damage.

The Beavers attempted a comeback in the third and fourth innings, but this was not enough, as the rally fell one run short at the game's end.

One unusual aspect of the game was the fact that the Beavers output the Violts by a small margin. When asked about this, Coach Mishkin replied, "You can't win a baseball game by a small margin. You must play nine innings of good, solid baseball, and we played poorly first inning. That is what hurt us.

Meyreles, Smith, That's It

A generation ago, the Boston Braves won the National League Pennant with a pitching quad of "Spahn, Rain, and then pray for rain." The 1965 Beavers expected to make a strong bid for the Metropolitan Conference crown. If it does, its rallying cry may well be "Meyreles, Smith and that's it.

Meyreles, Smith and Roland Meyreles can carry the burden of their team.

Killed Appointed Soccer Coach;
Karlin Pleased With Selection

Dr. Hymen Krackover, Chairman of City College's Department of Physical and Health Education, has confirmed the appointment of William Killen, twenty-four year old graduate of West Chester State College in Pennsylvania, as the Beaver's new soccer coach.

Killen will replace Harry Kar-
lin, who was nearly thrown from a half century at City College and eleven years as the mentor of the Beaver Boys.

Coach Karlin is pleased with the department's selection. He says, "I am not only a soccer fan, but I have had the necessary leadership qualities to make an excellent coach. As a player I was very good at both defense and attack.

When asked if he thought that Karlin would be a liability, Prof. Karlin said, "I think that his youth will help him. Being near the age of most of his players, Bill should have no trouble getting his ideas across to them.

Killed was selected as an alternate halfback in the early season, for the United States Pan American and Olympic teams. In addition to his soccer select-

Violets Edge City, 5-4,
Miscues Cause of Defeat

Playing their second league game of the season, the Beaver 'Nine' was defeated by the N.Y.U. Violts at Ohio Field, Wednesday, April 14.

The game was the result of sloppy fielding by the Beaver outfields.

The defense collapsed. After a hit and a walk, Gatti played a ground ball, loading the bases. A hit followed, putting two men on, and keeping the bases filled. After a sacrifice fly brought in the third run, a single and an attempted double play scored the fourth run of the inning.

In the Beavers' game, how Iona singly and stole second. Lou Gatti then scoed him with another singel.

The Violts matched the tally in their half of the inning. This time, a walk, a stolen base and throwing error did the damage.

The Beavers attempted a comeback in the third and fourth innings, but this was not enough, as the rally fell one run short at the game's end.

One unusual aspect of the game was the fact that the Beavers output the Violts by a small margin. When asked about this, Coach Mishkin replied, "You can't win a baseball game by a small margin. You must play nine innings of good, solid baseball, and we played poorly first inning. That is what hurt us.

Meyreles, Smith, That's It

A generation ago, the Boston Braves won the National League Pennant with a pitching quad of "Spahn, Rain, and then pray for rain." The 1965 Beavers expected to make a strong bid for the Metropolitan Conference crown. If it does, its rallying cry may well be "Meyreles, Smith and that's it.

Meyreles, Smith and Roland Meyreles can carry the burden of their team.

Killed Appointed Soccer Coach;
Karlin Pleased With Selection

Dr. Hymen Krackover, Chairman of City College's Department of Physical and Health Education, has confirmed the appointment of William Killen, twenty-four year old graduate of West Chester State College in Pennsylvania, as the Beaver's new soccer coach.

Killen will replace Harry Kar-
lin, who was nearly thrown from a half century at City College and eleven years as the mentor of the Beaver Boys.

Coach Karlin is pleased with the department's selection. He says, "I am not only a soccer fan, but I have had the necessary leadership qualities to make an excellent coach. As a player I was very good at both defense and attack.

When asked if he thought that Karlin would be a liability, Prof. Karlin said, "I think that his youth will help him. Being near the age of most of his players, Bill should have no trouble getting his ideas across to them.