Electoral Campaign Is Set As Tuition Fight Resumes

Students of the City University will continue their struggle to restore the free tuition mandate bill vetoed by Governor Nelson Rockefeller earlier this year, announced Mel Katz '56, president of Student Council.

Preliminary plans, as outlined by Mr. Katz, include the sale of campaign buttons, recruitment of Student Council, and an intensive campaign against one assemblyman who voted against the mandate bill as a still to be chosen election district.

The purpose of the House campaign, according to Mr. Katz, is to demonstrate the political power which City University students can bring in order to preserve free tuition.

The sale of campaign buttons is expected to raise money to support the other-planned activities. Their sale at the Baruch School began during registration, when a booth was set up outside Building 4.

The free tuition battle is expected to continue through next year's gubernatorial election, at which time the campaign's emphasis will be on defeating Governor Rockefeller.

In the current Mayoral race, the City of New York, Free Tuition Committee is working with the candidates to stand on the issue before taking any action.

During the fall '63 term, many Baruch students participated in a campaign against six Republican assemblymen who were opposed to the free tuition bill. This resulted in the defeat of one and reduced the margins of victory of four others compared with the previous election.

New York City representatives voted against releasing the tuition bill from committee and sending it to the Assembly floor for debate and formal vote. When the Democratic gained control of the legislature in the November election, the bill was released and passed by the Assembly and State Senate. However, it was then vetoed by Governor Rockefeller.

"Because the Supreme Court ordered reapportionment of the legislature, all of its members must run for re-election this November, permitting the Free Tuition Committee to wage another election campaign.

Free tuition first became a political issue when an amendment to the State Education Law passed."

Baruch Leaves 1.75 Million To School That He Attended

"The passing of Mr. Bernard Baruch is a great loss to our nation, as well as to this college community which he loved so well," said Dean Emanuel Saxe upon the death of the statesman.

The noted financier, philanthropist, and "adviser to Presidents," as he preferred to be called, died of a heart attack June 29 at the age of 94.

The City College renamed its school of business in honor of Mr. Baruch at a convocation October 8, 1963, in the School auditorium.

It was to this School that Mr. Baruch left the majority of the fortune that he accumulated during his life. He bequeathed over $1.75 million to the School that bears his name.

(Continued on Page 5)

Tutors To Help Children Form Reading Skills

Baruch School students will be able to tutor underprivileged children in remedial reading, beginning Tuesday, September 28.

A Student Council committee has recently been formed for the purpose of coordinating this program, announced Gail Cardinale '57, chairman of the committee.

Volunteers will tutor one elementary-school child for an hour and a half each week. Tutoring will take place at the Church of the Crossroads, Fourteenth Street and Second Avenue.

The new tutorial program will (Continued on Page 9)

Baruch Leaves 1.75 Million To School That He Attended

"The passing of Mr. Bernard Baruch is a great loss to our nation, as well as to this college community which he loved so well," said Dean Emanuel Saxe upon the death of the statesman.

The noted financier, philanthropist, and "adviser to Presidents," as he preferred to be called, died of a heart attack June 29 at the age of 94.

The City College renamed its school of business in honor of Mr. Baruch at a convocation October 8, 1963, in the School auditorium.

It was to this School that Mr. Baruch left the majority of the fortune that he accumulated during his life. He bequeathed over $1.75 million to the School that bears his name.

(Continued on Page 5)
Book Selling Prohibited In the School Corridors

College regulations prohibit the buying or selling of books in the halls. This regulation is aimed at protecting and maintaining order in the building.

Applications

Applications for student groups are accepted for community events, educational activities, educational programs, and educational programs sponsored by the university. The applications are available from the Student Life Office in the Student Center. Applications must be submitted by the first of the month prior to the date of the event.

Public Administration

Public Administration seminars will convene on Tuesdays, with Tuesday's schedule, for the Department of Public Administration. All seminars will convene in accordance with the department's schedule. A copy of the schedule will be distributed to students.

USED BOOKS

BARNES & NOBLE, INC.
132 E. 23RD STREET NEW YORK 10, N.Y.
ACROSS THE STREET FROM CCNY.

New Books At Reduced Prices

FAST EFFICIENT SERVICE

FREE: Book Covers, Shopping Bags, Bookmarks and Program Cards

Goldberg New Editor-in-Chief; Newspaper Guild Honors Ticker

New Editorial Staff Chosen for Term

David Goldberg '67 has been appointed as the new editorial director of The Ticker for the Fall term. Goldberg, a senior English major, replaces David Osborn, who has been named as the new editor-in-chief of The Ticker. Goldberg will be assisted in his duties by Mary Ann Rose, a senior English major, who will serve as the managing editor of the newspaper. Goldberg will also be assisted by Dan Fink, a junior English major, who will serve as the assistant editor of The Ticker.

Paper Second Best Weekly in NYS

THE TICKER has been named as the paper of the year in New York State by the Newspaper Association of America. The newspaper was also named as the best weekly in the state by the Newspaper Association of America. The newspaper was chosen out of a total of 60 weekly newspapers in the state.

Doctor Gallagher Reveals Changes in Master Plan

The High School of Music and Art will not be available for use in the Master Plan of development for the City College, according to Robert A. Gallagher, director of the city's Department of Education. The statement was made during a meeting of the Board of Education. The department has been working on a new plan for the school, which will be announced later this month.

2600 Are Registered; New Lectures Offered

Approximately 2600 students, including over 600 women, are registered at the City College. This is an increase of over 1000 students over last year. The increase is due to the increase in the number of women students.

Enrollment Peak Set at City University

The City University of New York will be open for the first time this spring with approximately 1000 students. This is an increase of over 200 students over last year. The increase is due to the increase in the number of students.

Baruch Student Enrolls For Peace Corps Duty

Charles H. White, a graduate of the Baruch School, has enrolled in the Peace Corps. He will be sent to India to work as a Peace Corps volunteer. This is the first time that a graduate of the Baruch School has enrolled in the Peace Corps.

New Freedom of India

The new freedom of India, which was achieved after a long struggle, is being celebrated. The government of India has announced that the country is now free from foreign rule.

Volunteers Contributing to Peace Corps

The Peace Corps volunteers are working hard to assist the people of India. They are providing medical and educational services, as well as helping to build schools and hospitals.

THE TICKER

Page Two
Reforms Begun by National Student Assembly

Vietnam War Is Discussed

(Continued from Page 1)

As finally passed, it criticized the United Nations. It voiced the feeling that the United Nations is a "closed corporation" and a "junior partner of the world's great powers," and that it has failed to give the freedom-loving masses of the world, before the United Nations.

The student leaders were a big factor in the reorganization of the Student Movement, as they faced the task of registering philosophy, emphasizing the need for a strong, militant movement.

Some freshmen felt that registering for the fall term was a unique experience, as it demanded the ability to prioritize and prioritize coursework. Others found the process to be overwhelming, as they struggled to balance the demands of their coursework with the pressures of their personal lives.

The majority of freshmen, looking back, said they were bright, well-prepared students. But they also noted that the freshmen registration was a unique experience, with its own set of challenges and rewards.

The freshmen registration process, in some ways, was a microcosm of the larger political and social changes that were taking place in the United States at the time. It was a time of great uncertainty and change, and the freshmen registration process reflected that uncertainty and change in its own way.

The freshmen registration process was a time of great change for the university, as well. It was a time when the university was struggling to adapt to the demands of a rapidly changing world, and the freshmen registration process was a reflection of that struggle.

But despite the challenges and uncertainties of the freshmen registration process, the freshmen who went through it emerged stronger, more prepared, and more ready to take on the challenges of college life. They were the future of the university, and they were ready to take on the challenges of the world.
Student Council

Responsibility

The Student Council is responsible for the planning and execution of various events and programs on campus. It is made up of elected representatives from each department, and meetings are held regularly to discuss and address student concerns.

Class of '69

Cleanliness

The Student Center after the assembly was made clean by students and the custodial staff. No litter was left and the room was spotless.

President Speaks

The TICKEr

Long, Hot Summer in Asia

What Measures Success?

Art Display

The artwork on display is part of a larger exhibition by local artists. The exhibit includes a variety of mediums, ranging from paintings to sculptures.
FIGHT FOR FREE TUITION

Buy Your Button And Sign Up For The Campaign Now! Buttons And Applications May Be Obtained In The Student Council Office [416 S.C.]

Ticker Editors...

Join Ticker?...

Enrollment...

Award...

Tutorial Program...

SUPPORT YOUR SCHOOL
JOIN STUDENT COUNCIL

FIGHT FOR FREE TUITION

Student Council Will Elect 2 Members of the Class of '67 to the Ticker Association & 4 Students to The Charity Drives Committee Thursday. All interested students must submit a letter by 3 P.M. Thurs. to Martin Schlow or the Student Council Office [416 S.C.]
Soccermen Shoot for Title
As Many Starters Return

Prospects are bright for the upcoming men's soccer season. Leading the banner of last year's champion Jim O'Connell's team are four starters who established themselves as the ans.

"We have a lot of experience and a lot of returning players," said Coach Karlin. "But we also have a lot of new talent coming in."

IC4A King, O'Connell, To Lead Hill 'n Dalers

Coach Karlin has named the Hill 'n Dalers as his team for the upcoming season. The team is expected to be competitive and has the potential to win several games.

Tryouts

Any student wishing to try out for the men's soccer team should report to Coach Francis on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:00 p.m. at the tennis courts. The tryouts will be held on Friday and Saturday as well.

Highlights

The team will have several home games during the season, including matches against the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia University, and New York University. The team will also travel to several tournaments throughout the country.

Wrestling

The wrestling team is expected to have a strong season, with several experienced wrestlers returning. The team will face tough competition from other top teams in the conference.

You can't afford to buy the wrong book!

Support Your Official

Non-Profit

College Store

and be sure of...

- Lowest Prices
- Support Your Official

College Store

- Latest Editions
- Support Your Official

College Store

- Tremendous Savings
- Support Your Official

College Store

- Full Refund Guaranteed
- Support Your Official

College Store

- Refund Policy Posted in Bookstore

Coming Soon

A Complete New Line of Records

Featuring

Great Classics
Discotheque
Folk
Stereo Hits
Freddie - Dolly etc.

10% Discount on all Paperbacks
95c & up

City College Store

Owned by the CITY COLLEGE OF NEW YORK

Located in the Center Student

There is an option to purchase the book in the wrong book! You can afford to buy it.

Sure there is room for the quick little guard, who can handle the ball and move the team when the going gets rough, but such a player would not be enough to make up for the loss of a star player like Barry Edelstein.

The only requirement for admittance is reasonably high grades. Any student wishing to try out for the team should report to Coach Francis on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:00 p.m. at the tennis courts. The tryouts will be held on Friday and Saturday as well.

The team will have several home games during the season, including matches against the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia University, and New York University. The team will also travel to several tournaments throughout the country.

The wrestling team is expected to have a strong season, with several experienced wrestlers returning. The team will face tough competition from other top teams in the conference.

The logic of this phenomenon may be debated, but the experience of the past two years has proved that it is true. The bookstores that offered textbooks over $200 at list price have experienced a decline in sales.

This fall could be directly attributed to the policies of the administration. Whether or not this fall could be directly attributed to the policies of the administration, there has been a steady drop in its athletic fortunes. There are no athletic grants offered. They would be useless since there is no tuition or boarding facilities. There are no athletic grants offered. They would be useless since there is no tuition or boarding facilities.

The legal question that would have to be raised is whether the school is discriminating against Negro students by failing to provide them with the same opportunities as other students.

The question that remains to be answered is whether the school is discriminating against Negro students by failing to provide them with the same opportunities as other students.

The administration wants to improve City's athletic reputation. However, it can be said that the administration has not been able to improve City's athletic reputation. Whether or not this fall could be directly attributed to the policies of the administration, there has been a steady drop in its athletic fortunes. There are no athletic grants offered. They would be useless since there is no tuition or boarding facilities. There are no athletic grants offered. They would be useless since there is no tuition or boarding facilities.

The only requirement for admittance is reasonably high grades. Any student wishing to try out for the team should report to Coach Francis on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:00 p.m. at the tennis courts. The tryouts will be held on Friday and Saturday as well.

The team will have several home games during the season, including matches against the University of Pennsylvania, Columbia University, and New York University. The team will also travel to several tournaments throughout the country.

The wrestling team is expected to have a strong season, with several experienced wrestlers returning. The team will face tough competition from other top teams in the conference.

The logic of this phenomenon may be debated, but the experience of the past two years has proved that it is true. The bookstores that offered textbooks over $200 at list price have experienced a decline in sales.
Soccer

The Beaver booters, besieged by injuries and a series of bad breaks still managed to register their best record in the N.Y.C. Metropolitan Conference. The 1965-66 version narrowly missed receiving an invitation to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championship.

In the Metropolitan Conference, one of the toughest leagues in the country, the Beavers narrowly missed finishing second to Long Island University. Overall the Beavers were 9-1-1 in the regular season, finished with a league record of 8-3-2 in the conference, and won the Metropolitan Conference. They finished with a league record of 10-6-1.

The league championship was not easy to win, but was there the racers were. The race was won by the City College of New York with a 1-0-1 record. They won the Championship Tournament, defeating Long Island University in overtime. However, no one who had followed City all year could deny the fact that the team had played well.

Baseball

The Beaver "nine" took top honors in the Met Conference, the team was named to the first-All-City team. Sophomore Mike Pearl (12.822 ppg) showed promise. He was the only player to average in double figures.

Fencing

The Beaver fencers, led by senior Alan Zuckerman with 10-4 ppg, although he is only 1-5-0, was also the second leading scorer on the team. Coach Lucic's "nine" performed their fencer's motto to a saw that saw great improvement in the new Beaver men. "It was a young team and experienced all they needed," said Lucic.

Beaver's special Al Darrin won a starting berth in the National Epee Championship Tournament. Bob Cornish and Joe Maksich were named alternates.

Prof. Lucia was appointed director of the University of North Carolina's Olympic Development Camp for 1966.

Rifle

The City College riflemen had another excellent season as they finished in the Western Division of the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Rifle Conference. They finished with a league record of 16-6-1.

The league championship was not easy to win, but was there the racers were. The race was won by the City College of New York with a 1-0-1 record. They won the Championship Tournament, defeating Long Island University in overtime. However, no one who had followed City all year could deny the fact that the team had played well.

The fencing team finished eighth in the nation, the riflemen were also ranked in the top twenty, the netmen won the Metropolitan crown. Beaver Jim O'Connell took the IC4A cross-country championship, the rifle team narrowly missed an invitation to the national championships.

Track

In the fall '64 season, Jim O'Connell established himself as the greatest cross-country runner in City College history. He lowered his own CCNY record five times to 25:20, becoming the first Beaver to earn the IC4A Gold Medal since 1951. Overall, the team fared well, finishing second in Metropolitan Conference Championship. In the spring, the Beavers did not do as well, mainly because of their weakness in weight and field events. However, O'Connell maintained his fine form and finished first in the three-mile run in the Met Championships.

Tennis

In his first season as coach of the tennis, Robert Cire brought the Metropolitan League, Championship to City College. The Beavers dominated the league play. Sophomore Joel Litov, Arnie Kasak and Maurice Wollard showed great improvement as the season progressed.

Lacrosse

Despite the pre-season optimism of Coach George Baron, the Beavers were true to their form as they showed in overtime, finishing with a 1-0-1 record. Their only victory came over a poor Farleigh Dickinson team.

The stickmen lost a number of close games and did show some improvement in the annals of C.C.N.Y. basketball.

The City College could be a sports powerhouse. What? No, I'm not crazy. I have the facts to prove it. How well do you think most of the City College athletic teams did last year? Pretty bad, huh. Well, that's where you're wrong. Except for the basketballers it was another banner performance for most of the Lawrence teams.

The fencing team finished eighth in the nation, the riflemen were also ranked in the top twenty, the netmen won the Metropolitan crown. Beaver Jim O'Connell took the IC4A cross-country championship, the rifle team narrowly missed an invitation to the national championships.

Why are most C.C.N.Y. students unaware of the fact that the College has one of the best athletic programs in the metropolitan area? The answer is that you are confused about only one sport—basketball. If the cases do well, then everything is fine, if they don't, well then "wait until next year." Right.

We don't have these giants and we are not about to get them. The time when a team could rise to a championship caliber on the talents of a couple of little men (such as Al Zuckerman and Mike Pearl of the 1964-65 Beaver team) is gone.

These are the days of big, fast moving players, of 6-4 all-American guards. David doesn't have a chance any more; there are too many Goliaths.

In addition to his soccer activities, Killen has also played baseball and basketball. In fact, he was co-captain of both his high school soccer and basketball teams.

Tennis

The tennis team finished with a 7-2-2 record. Previously, he had been an assistant at the University of North Carolina.

Tennis

In the fall '64 season, Jim O'Connell established himself as the greatest cross-country runner in City College history. He lowered his own CCNY record five times to 25:20, becoming the first Beaver to earn the IC4A Gold Medal since 1951. Overall, the team fared well, finishing second in Metropolitan Conference Championship. In the spring, the Beavers did not do as well, mainly because of their weakness in weight and field events. However, O'Connell maintained his fine form and finished first in the three-mile run in the Met Championships.

Tennis

In his first season as coach of the tennis, Robert Cire brought the Metropolitan League, Championship to City College. The Beavers dominated the league play. Sophomore Joel Litov, Arnie Kasak and Maurice Wollard showed great improvement as the season progressed.

Lacrosse

Despite the pre-season optimism of Coach George Baron, the Beavers were true to their form as they showed in overtime, finishing with a 1-0-1 record. Their only victory came over a poor Farleigh Dickinson team.

The stickmen lost a number of close games and did show some improvement in the annals of C.C.N.Y. basketball.

The City College could be a sports powerhouse. What? No, I'm not crazy. I have the facts to prove it. How well do you think most of the City College athletic teams did last year? Pretty bad, huh. Well, that's where you're wrong. Except for the basketballers it was another banner performance for most of the Lawrence teams.

The fencing team finished eighth in the nation, the riflemen were also ranked in the top twenty, the netmen won the Metropolitan crown. Beaver Jim O'Connell took the IC4A cross-country championship, the rifle team narrowly missed an invitation to the national championships.

Why are most C.C.N.Y. students unaware of the fact that the College has one of the best athletic programs in the metropolitan area? The answer is that you are confused about only one sport—basketball. If the cases do well, then everything is fine, if they don't, well then "wait until next year." Right.

We don't have these giants and we are not about to get them. The time when a team could rise to a championship caliber on the talents of a couple of little men (such as Al Zuckerman and Mike Pearl of the 1964-65 Beaver team) is gone.

These are the days of big, fast moving players, of 6-4 all-American guards. David doesn't have a chance any more; there are too many Goliaths.

In addition to his soccer activities, Killen has also played baseball and basketball. In fact, he was co-captain of both his high school soccer and basketball teams.

Tennis

The tennis team finished with a 7-2-2 record. Previously, he had been an assistant at the University of North Carolina.

Tennis

In the fall '64 season, Jim O'Connell established himself as the greatest cross-country runner in City College history. He lowered his own CCNY record five times to 25:20, becoming the first Beaver to earn the IC4A Gold Medal since 1951. Overall, the team fared well, finishing second in Metropolitan Conference Championship. In the spring, the Beavers did not do as well, mainly because of their weakness in weight and field events. However, O'Connell maintained his fine form and finished first in the three-mile run in the Met Championships.

Tennis

In his first season as coach of the tennis, Robert Cire brought the Metropolitan League, Championship to City College. The Beavers dominated the league play. Sophomore Joel Litov, Arnie Kasak and Maurice Wollard showed great improvement as the season progressed.

Lacrosse

Despite the pre-season optimism of Coach George Baron, the Beavers were true to their form as they showed in overtime, finishing with a 1-0-1 record. Their only victory came over a poor Farleigh Dickinson team.

The stickmen lost a number of close games and did show some improvement in the annals of C.C.N.Y. basketball.

The City College could be a sports powerhouse. What? No, I'm not crazy. I have the facts to prove it. How well do you think most of the City College athletic teams did last year? Pretty bad, huh. Well, that's where you're wrong. Except for the basketballers it was another banner performance for most of the Lawrence teams.

The fencing team finished eighth in the nation, the riflemen were also ranked in the top twenty, the netmen won the Metropolitan crown. Beaver Jim O'Connell took the IC4A cross-country championship, the rifle team narrowly missed an invitation to the national championships.

Why are most C.C.N.Y. students unaware of the fact that the College has one of the best athletic programs in the metropolitan area? The answer is that you are confused about only one sport—basketball. If the cases do well, then everything is fine, if they don't, well then "wait until next year." Right.

We don't have these giants and we are not about to get them. The time when a team could rise to a championship caliber on the talents of a couple of little men (such as Al Zuckerman and Mike Pearl of the 1964-65 Beaver team) is gone.

These are the days of big, fast moving players, of 6-4 all-American guards. David doesn't have a chance any more; there are too many Goliaths.