Petitions Due For Student Council Seats

By MARTIN FLANK.

Response to the availability of petitions for Student and Class Council positions was termed "fair to good" by Martin Schlow '66, vice president of Student Council.

"Two seats are open for which no petitions have been filed as yet," Mr. Schlow noted. Positions for Student Council representatives are open in all classes. Class officers are needed in the Classes of '66 and '69.

Petitions are available at the information desk in the Student Center and are due Thursday at 12. A meeting of all candidates will be held that day at 3 in 903. Four Student Council seats are available in the Class of '66. Charles Drabkin, Steve Horner, and Lucy Zelner have petitioned out for those seats. The office of treasurer on the Class Council for the Class of '66 is open, too, and one of the positions for which no petitions have been filed.

Four seats have been filed as a petition for president of the Class of '67. The position of vice president of that class is being sought by Bruce Thenes. Joan Green is a petitioner for the only open seat on Student Council for the Class of '68.

Jessie Rubin, Carol Rosen, Marcy Stockfield, and Barry Berger are all petitioning for four open seats on Student Council for the Class of '69.

Elections will be held Wednesday, October 13, 9-3. The Community Affairs Committee reported that meetings to discuss the free tuition campaign were held Saturday at the Alpha.

(Continued on Page 7)

SC to Distribute Text Of Minutes in School

By HERBERT MARKS

A motion to distribute the minutes of Student Council meetings for the year were passed Thursday by Council.

Copies of the minutes will be placed in the library and in the Student Council information booth in the Student Center lobby, and in display cases in selected parts of the School.

X. Berger '68, the sponsor of the motion to make the minutes available to students, stated, "I hope that students will take an interest in what their student government is doing."

An additional motion, which concerns the current library problem, was reported to be still in committee. Sponsored by Max Berger '66, chairman of Council's Special Library Committee, the motion proposes a survey of the Student Center lobby and the administration center. The location-of the tutorial program has been changed to Twenty-Fifth Street and Twenty-Fifth Avenue.

(Continued on Page 7)

Free Tuition Calls To Highlight Campaign

By MARVIN FLANK.

Telephones have already been installed in the Student Council office, as this semester's free tuition program gets underway.

The campaign will be continued primarily to the Student Center, where telephones are set up in 416 (the Council office) and 412 (the Council executive office) for volunteers to phone constituents of Assemblyman Sedgwick Green (seven—second A.D.). Speeches will be provided for callers.

A decision by the City University Free Tuition Committee to cut back on its campaign against Assemblyman Paul Curran (seventeenth A.D.) may not be reversed. Mr. Curran is expected to make a statement tomorrow in which he will come out in favor of an amendment to the State Constitution making free tuition mandatory at CUNY.

Both legislators favor the free tuition mandate bill last year.

A list of voters in Mr. Greene's district will be available Thursday, when the telephone campaign will begin.

To help raise money for the campaign, a dance, featuring the Byrds, will be held November 5 at the Hunter College Playhouse. Tickets may be purchased at $2 each from Mr. Berger in C156.

At Uptown City, a "kick-off"

Full Auditorium Expected For Congressman Lindsay

"When mayoralty candidate John V. Lindsay speaks at the School next Thursday at noon, I do not believe that there will be a vacant seat," stated Mir Katz, '66, president of Student Council.

All students, whether directly affiliated with a political party or not, should be interested in what the candidate has to say about the issues of this campaign, Mr. Katz declared.

Congressman Lindsay, who has spoken before students taking Political Science 1 on numerous occasions in the past, is scheduled to make a brief campaign speech and then, for the bulk of the time allotted him, answer any questions posed by the audience.

Volunteers may tutor for as many hours as they have available, Mondays through Thursday, 3:30 to 6. However, one hour is required each week to tutor at the designated time.

Students desiring to volunteer their services as tutors in time to take advantage of the orientation program should see Miss Garfinkel in the TCHER office, 418 S.C., for further information.

(Continued on Page 7)

Tutoring Program Site Changed; More Hours Slated for Tutoring

The location of the tutoring program has been changed to Twenty-Fifth Street and Twenty-Fifth Avenue, announced Gail Garfinkel, '67, chairman of the Tutorial Committee.

The reason for the change, Miss Garfinkel explained, was to make more hours available for tutoring, since the administration of the Church of the Crossroads, the previous location of the program, had only requested tutors for Monday afternoons from 3:30 to 5.

The program that Baruch School students will now be tutoring in is called the School Goldilocks Den, which has been set up entirely for the purpose of tutoring elementary and high school students who have fallen behind in school.

The study den also has a "Read start program," in which pre-school children from deprived areas are introduced to the materials that they will use upon commencing their education.

Currently, an orientation program for tutors is being organized to acquaint them with methods of tutoring and to tell them about the type of children with whom they will be working.

"Thus far," she stated, "approximately twenty-five people have volunteered to tutor, but the need for tutors is still great. Everyone with one hour to spare each week could not possibly devote it to a better cause."
Swingline Tot Stapler

98c

This is the Swingline Tot Stapler. It is designed to offer convenience and reliability in your office or home. Its lightweight design and easy-to-use features make it ideal for stapling a variety of documents. Whether you are stapling letters, reports, or other office materials, the Swingline Tot Stapler provides a simple and efficient solution for your stapling needs.

---

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of THE TICKER:

I was asked about the use of NoDoz to preserve alertness when covering the Vietnam War. I was told that the use of stimulants would only serve to preserve awareness and not to improve it.

Terminology and Polonization

I was referred to the word "Polonization" by a teacher of mine. It seems to me that the word is used by some to suggest an occupation by the Poles of an ethnic group. However, I have never heard the word used in this manner.

The meaning of "Polonization" is unclear to me. I would appreciate any information or clarification on this term.

J. Smith

---

Scholarships Are Offered To Students

Several scholarship programs are being offered by the Baruch School.

- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.

---

Arkin Notes

Revisions In Curriculum

Curriculum revisions are being made in the Baruch School of Business. These changes are aimed at providing a more relevant and modern education for students.

- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.

---

Elective Cards

Elective cards are available for students to select courses that align with their interests and career goals.

- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.

---

Scholarships and Financial Assistance

The Baruch School offers a variety of scholarships and financial assistance options to help students achieve their academic goals.

- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
- SIGMA ALPHA LARGEST SIZE CUB DESK INC.
Elections

This semester's Student Senate is undertaking projects in three major areas. It is continuing the fight for free tuition, it is organizing a labor project, and it is endeavoring to strengthen student-faculty-administration relations. For this purpose there are three Senate committees, each of which has been assigned to one of these areas.

There are currently six vacancies in the Year of '69, four in the Class of '70, two in the Class of '71, and one in the Class of '72. The Senate will be elected next month. Each candidate will have the opportunity to present a statement to the Senate candidates' meeting, which will be held on October 19th in the Student Center Auditorium.

Justice

Last week, the American judicial system was disproven when a Haywood County, North Carolina, family was able to negotiate a charge of assault and battery against a county sheriff. The family used the services of a local civil rights attorney, who negotiated a settlement with the sheriff, resulting in a charge of assault and battery.

State Attorney General Richard F. Meekins attempted to have the county sheriff arrested on a charge of assault and battery. However, a material witness in the case and also a civil rights worker, was released on $250 bond after a brief court hearing.

While Attorney General Richard F. Meekins refused to comment on the case, a local civil rights worker, who had been released on $250 bond, expressed relief that the sheriff had been released.

International Trade

United States officials approved the proposed treaty between the United States and Vietnam, which will allow for the sale of goods and services.

On October 3, the United States and Vietnam reached an agreement on trade relations. The treaty will allow for the sale of goods and services between the two countries.

However, some politicians have expressed concern about the treaty, arguing that it could lead to a trade imbalance.

Peace Activists Begin With War of 1812: Movement Still Continues in 20th Century

Peace isn't a luxury. Peace is a human need. And we need it now more than we've ever needed it before..." said John F. Kennedy.

From a song by Mahalia Jackson

By NORMAN A. ROSS

What is most exciting about the American peace movement is the fact that it exists. The United States is, and has always been, a war-making nation. The history of our country is one of conquest and expansion, of conflict and domination. We have fought and won wars, and we have continued to fight and win wars, to this day.

But there is another side to this story. There is a movement, a movement of people who believe in peace, who believe in non-violence, who believe in the power of love. This movement has existed since the War of 1812, and it continues to exist today.

The movement began with the War of 1812, when the United States and Great Britain went to war. The war was fought over the issue of naval supremacy, and it ended in a stalemate.

The movement continued after the war, and it became more active in the years that followed. The movement gained strength during World War I, and it continued to grow in the years that followed.

But the movement was also met with resistance. The government, the military, and the business community were all opposed to the movement, and they worked to suppress it.

But the movement continued. It grew stronger, and it became more determined. The movement fought for peace, and it fought for justice.

The movement continues to this day. It has grown in size and in strength, and it continues to fight for peace.

For more information on the American peace movement, please contact the Peace Action Committee, 123 Main Street, Anytown, USA.

(Continued on Page 2)
Peace Campaign: From the War of 1812 Through the War in Vietnam

Peace, Groups," headed by Henry Alsobrooks, Linus Pauling, and the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy (SANE), began emphasizing the need to end the arms race.

The various committees (there are twelve in New York), established in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.

Within a year the peace demonstration movement began. The first major demonstration was held in April 1963, following the January 27, 1963, demonstrations. It was attended by over 1,000 people, and the organizers urged the government to seek a peaceful solution to the Vietnam conflict.

The American Peace Society, founded in 1828, led the way, and it is distributed, discussions are held, and demonstrations are planned. The various committees (there are twelve in New York) and others in cities all across the country, including Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Detroit, have these things done in their name. The Vietcong, a Communist guerrilla group fighting for the reunification of Vietnam, has occupied and controlled large areas of the country since 1960.
Youth Leads Modern Day Peace Efforts in U.S.

In 1960 a new youth was emerging in America, a youth who had inherited the turmoil and the bitterness of the past. This new youth was the product of the post-war period, a time of prosperity and optimism. But there were also signs of unease and discontent, signs that would soon give rise to a new kind of activism.

One of the major events of this period was the Civil Rights Movement, which sought to end racial discrimination and segregation. The movement was supported by many young people, who saw it as a cause worth fighting for. They organized protests, sit-ins, and other forms of direct action to draw attention to the issue.

Another important movement of this period was the Women's Movement, which sought to end gender inequality. Women were active in a variety of organizations, such as the National Organization for Women (NOW), which was founded in 1966 to promote women's rights.

The peace movement was another major force of this period. It was concerned with ending the Cold War and the threat of nuclear war. The movement was supported by many young people, who saw it as a way to create a more peaceful world. They organized protests, demonstrations, and other forms of direct action to draw attention to the issue.

While these movements were often seen as separate, there were also important connections between them. For example, many women's rights activists also supported the peace movement, and vice versa. This is because both movements were concerned with creating a more just and equitable society.

The modern peace movement was also influenced by the counterculture of the 1960s. This was a time of rebellion against the norms of society, and many young people rejected the values of the Establishment. The peace movement was one way to express this rebellion.

The peace movement was also influenced by the idea of non-violence, which was seen as a way to end the war and create a more peaceful world. This idea was based on the work of Mohandas Gandhi, who had used non-violence to end colonial rule in India.

The peace movement was also influenced by the idea of the power of the people. This was based on the idea that the people, not the government, are the true source of power. The movement was seen as a way to give voice to the people and express their views.

In conclusion, the modern peace movement was a major force of the 1960s. It was concerned with ending the Cold War and the threat of nuclear war, and it was supported by many young people. The movement was influenced by the counterculture of the 1960s, and it was based on the ideas of non-violence and the power of the people.

---

Excerpt from the New York Times: "Youth Leads Modern Day Peace Efforts in U.S."

(Continued from Page 9)

that refrain from violence in their demonstrations and in the way of living of the members. The reason for this is that the leaders of the younger generation are more aware of the need for non-violence in the struggle for peace. The younger generation is more aware of the harm that violence can cause to people and the world. They are also more aware of the power of the people and the ability of the people to bring about change through non-violent action. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of unity and cooperation among all people who are working for peace. They believe that only by working together can we achieve a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of education and the need for educated people who are committed to the cause of peace. They believe that education is the key to creating a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of international cooperation and the need for cooperation among all nations who are working for peace. They believe that only by working together can we achieve a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of non-violent action and the need for non-violent action to bring about change. They believe that non-violent action is the key to creating a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of the role of the media and the need for the media to be used in a responsible and non-violent way. They believe that the media can play a valuable role in bringing about change and in creating a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of the role of religion and the need for religion to be used in a non-violent way. They believe that religion can play a valuable role in bringing about change and in creating a world that is free from war and violence. The younger generation is also more aware of the importance of education and the need for educated people who are committed to the cause of peace.
Free Tuition Plans Slated

(Continued from Page 11)

Students at Bernick can learn where their future plans take them one of the four week-long programs, or the ticket office in the Administration Building for more information.

Saturday 3rd Place.

Can't Miss!!!

Some of the most popular programs are:

1. Retired IFC Athletic Trophy-winners three years in a row.
2. Scavenger Hunt Award—Two terms in a row.
3. Most Improved Chapter Award TAU EPSILON PHI National Fraternity (75 Chapters)

We must be doing something right!

Congratulations to Our Brothers at LIU. On Setting, The Corner 17th Street, One Block East of Park Ave. South ALPHA PHI

3. Most Improved Chapter Award TAU EPSILON PHI National Fraternity (75 Chapters)

We must be doing something right!

Congratulations to Our Brothers at LIU. On Setting, The Corner 17th Street, One Block East of Park Ave. South ALPHA PHI

Sigma Alpha Mu

51 IRVING PLACE
GR 5-9508
(Corner 17th Street, One Block East of Park Ave. South)
Near All 14th St. Stations

SMOKER

Refresments — Entertainment
October 8, 1965
8:00 P.M.

Congratulations To Our Brothers At L.I.U. On Setting The 100 Hour Motorcycle Endurance Record,

But, What About Your Classes?

Jewish to love LEVY'S

You Don't Have to be

JEWISH to love LEVY'S

You Don't Have to be

CRAYZY to love ALADIN

THE ALADIN

150 East 23rd Street

"Where Good Foods Get Together"

Joining More Fraternities and Enjoying Them Less?

SMOKER: Thursday, Oct. 7, at 12:00 P.M.

BREAK THE HABIT AND GO CREATIVE WITH PSE

PROFESSIONAL MARKETING FRATERNITY

In Room 403 (Student Center)
Soccermen Suffer Their First Defeat

By BOB STERN

The City soccermen were soundly defeated by the New York University Violeta Saturday, 4-0. The Beavers were outplayed by the Violeta in all aspects of the game, the Violeta completely controlling the game from the very beginning.

The Beavers were unable to capitalize on the Violetas' errors. They were outscored 1-0 in the first half, the only goal coming on a free kick. In the second half, the Violeta scored three goals, the Beavers managing to score none. The Beavers were unable to get any shots on goal, while the Violeta had numerous attempts, including several from the penalty box.

The Beavers will face the Wagner College Seahawks on Sunday, and the Long Island University Blackbirds on Tuesday. They are hoping to bounce back from this defeat and continue their season.

City 'Nine' Performs Admirably But Attains Only Tie and Loss

By WARREN HALM

Facing a seasoned Iona team, City 'Nine' surprisedly held the first game of a doubleheader, and lost the nightcap, 2-0.

Iona has a strong team and it showed in the first game. Ron Rizzi, a senior right halfback, was named the team's Most Valuable Player, and the Violetas' defense was solid. It seemed as though City could win the game, but in the seventh inning, the Violetas added another run to win the game.

The second game was expected to be a repeat of the first, but this time the Beavers faced a different team. City 'Nine' performed admirably, but were unable to win the game.

Harriers Run Over Adelphi As Jim O'Connell Starts Fast

By STEVE GLUSBAND

Starting the season off on the right foot, the Beaver harriers defeated Adelphi 15-49, Saturday, at Van Courtlandt Park. Leading the City runners, Jim O'Connell covered the grueling five-mile route in a respectable time of 27:11. While the time is not near his top mark of a little over twenty-five minutes, it was a good start. Last year, Jim, on his way to a great season, started at about the same pace.

Coach Francis Castro's pre-season plan fared well as the City runners ran in a pack and came in closely bunched. Six Beaver harriers finished the finish line before a Panther came across. The five Beaver finishers after O'Connell were Abe Assa (28:34), Al Hanso (29:17), Neil Leibowitz (30:20), Vincent Barzer (31:12), and Marcel Sierra (31:51). Joseph Friedman came in eighth with a 31:57 clocking.

A bright note is that Hansen, Leibowitz, and Friedman are only sophomores. Leibowitz is a Baruchian who travels uptown daily to practice with the squad.

The next outing for the Beavers will be a triangular meet against Fairleigh-Dickinson University and Queens College. Both teams are comparitively weak. However, F.D.U. will offer more opposition than Queens.

Hard Times Ahead?

By JOHN FAMULARI

Coach William Killen's soccermen face two powerhouse clubs this week in what is shaping up as another exciting season for the Beavers. The championship L.I.U. team faces City Saturday in a 2 o'clock game. They will be followed by a strong team from Fairleigh-Dickinson Tuesday, October 12.

Both games will be played at Lewisohn Stadium and will be the first two home contests for the Beavers this year. L.I.U.'s squad is especially strong on offense. For this reason, the Blackbirds are favored to repeat their performance of last year when they captured the Metropolitan Conference title and went on to the national play-offs.

The team is spearheaded by Dave Marcus, Marcus, an Israeli citizen, scored four goals in a recent game against Bridgeport University. Coach Gary Rosenthal's team has a fine goalie in Eddie Schlemmer.

The Beavers are looking to improve on offense this season. They have a strong lineup, with Marcus leading the way. The Beavers are hoping to reverse their situation this week.