BC Journals Stop-Printing Under Stress

The 15-year-old college newspaper that has been a source of controversy among students, faculty, and administrators has been forced to stop printing after a series of issues published by the faculty adviser, the editor-in-chief, and the college president.

Dr. Grimes, the editor-in-chief, said, "I am not a man of words, but rather a man of deeds."

Dr. Grimes charged that the College's Board of Trustees was responsible for the present situation. He noted that many of the projects under consideration were "unrealistic and impractical." The Board of Trustees was "not interested in the College's future, but only in the present." He went on to say, "The Board of Trustees is not interested in the College's future, but only in the present."

Letters to the Editor

Year Terms

A motion will be debated at the next Student Council meeting, which is scheduled for one year terms, instead of one semester. The change would take effect in September.

One of the major reasons for the motion's being forward is that many more students appear to be interested in taking part in student government than usual. We do not believe that this would actually be the case. While the number of representatives has increased significantly, with some polls predicting a 200 percent increase in terms of students who want to join Council, the last two or three people. The representation would be haphazardly holding an election every term, with the possibility of running candidates for terms of one, two, or five years...

Although the 1966-67 student government will include 13 representatives, there are additional members of the Student Council. Thus, the Student Council is not the only one to be actively involved in student government. The Student Council is working very hard to make sure that no one has the right to overrule the decisions of the student government and that of the student...

Football Finally Comes Back to Beaver Country

By ALAN WIENER

With mist hovering over the country, fall has made it's mark. Summer's soothing breezes have receded into the past as winter's nippeing winds prepare for the long season ahead.

With its multi-colored leaves dotting the landscape, fall brings more than the wonders of nature to America's colleges. Along with the withering of plants, fall brings out the strengthening of the football spirit in everyone's heart.

On Ivy League campuses throughout the country, the sound of leather against fallen leaves and crunch of spikes against gridiron, can be heard at almost any given moment. But in Beaver country there are no such sounds. There is football spirit, but it is suppressed into each individual's heart. As Ken Geller, Sports Editor of Observation Post, puts it: "The body lay dead and motionless."

DAYS OF PAST GLORY: A scene scoreless tie. Scenes like this may be a thing of the past as winter's nippeing winds prepare for the long season ahead.

For those pigskin diehards who can no longer allow their spirit to be suppressed, an opportunity for the liberation of their feelings now offered. Members of the Beaver football club are ready to exhale the body, to revitalize a sport which once flourished at City College.

Before the body was laid to rest from A599 because of financial disease, there were many exciting moments. The Lavender first kicked off in 1873. Of course, the happenings on that chilly day are not remembered by some of our lower freshmen.

But, we must remember the time that the team found themselves in a bit of trouble. For their lone pigskin, battered and broken for a decade, was in desperate need of a replacement. After an attempt to purchase another ball failed, the next best thing was done: the old one was repaired.

In 1895, the gridiron, paced by their captain, scored a 12-6 upset over N.Y.U. This field leader later became a United States senator. His name is probably on the lip of your tongue right now, but to help your memory it was Robert F. Wagner, Senior.

According to the record, City's gridiron record from 1922 to 1960 (Continued on Page 7)

The high powered Beaver rifle team successfully opened its season with a 1502 - 1127 triumph over Cooper Union, Friday at Lewisohn Stadium. This victory lengthened the simpsons' consecutive home winning streak to eighty-seven matches. This phenomenal record should be extended further this season by the team which Coach Noah Ball says "is as good as any squad that I have ever coached."

It must be quite a team, since the riflemen's mentor considers this squad superior to his son's team, which posted a perfect 15-0 record.

The team will be paced by returning lettermen Jerry Urywsky, Bruce Goltin, Alan Feit and Matt Cardillo. These four will be counted upon weekly when the competition gets tougher during the latter part of the season.

One of the main problems that the simpsons may face will occur in December when Sergeant Hall leaves for Germany. He is being sent there by the Army, and as a result of this will not be here for a good part of the riflemen's schedule.

Co-Champion Scores Five Times

The only thing Cliff Soas needed to complete election day was to be named mayor.

The halfback-turned-forward put on a great scoring display as he led the Beaver booters to a 6-0 victory over Seton Hall Tuesday at Lewisohn Stadium.

Cliff didn't settle for a hat-trick or four-ragger. Mr. Soas powered FIVE goals through the goalposts.

Jaspers Nip Lavender Harriers 26-29, CCNY Seventh in Met Championships

Beaver Jim O'Connell captured the individual honors, but the City College harriers lost to Manhattan, 26-29, at Van Cortlandt Park, Saturday.

O'Connell covered the five-mile course in 25:44. That time defeated his closest rival, the Jaspers' Jim Kearney, by over a minute. City's Abe Assa placed fourth with a good time of 27:51.

Assa was trailed by sophomore Gus Marinos who crossed the line in 28:12, Al Hansen and Barbara chian Neil Liebowitz garnered the ninth and tenth, places in 28:04 and 29:06.

The Beavers finished seventh in the Metropolitan Championships Tuesday, O'Connell finished second and set a City College mark with his 39:14 time.

The Lavender is picked to repeat the City University cross-country championship they won last year Thursday, O'Connell, one of the top harriers in the nation, could also place in the top five.

The opposition from Queens, Hunter and Brooklyn should not be too strong. Queens offers four fairly good runners. The top man runs the course in around twenty-five minutes.

It may be possible for entire Beaver squad to place in the top twenty. This would ensure a victory over the other two teams.

Monday, Coach Francisco Castro's harriers will compete in the intercollegiate Athletic Association championships (the IC4A).

Last year, Jim O'Connell was first in the meet, but this season he may have a rough time in trying for his second straight victory.
