TA Authorizes Publication After Delay of One Week

The Ticker resumed publication today after its editors admitted that they had caused "unwarranted damage" to faculty members and the School by publishing a teacher evaluation three weeks ago.

"The resumption of publication was authorized by The Ticker Association, as well as Deans Emanuel Saxe and David Newton, "acted most fairly in this matter," the controversy stems from the publication of an evaluation of the merits of fifty-one required-course instructors in the first edition of The Ticker for the spring term. The issue appeared on January 27, the first day of registration.

The rating was done solely by members of The Ticker's staff, and a front-page editorial in the issue stated that "its aim is to aid the student during registration by giving him one additional criterion on which to select his professors." Thirty-six Freshmen Attend Colloquium; Class of '70 Introduced to Baruch School

Entering Students See College Life

By ROBERT ARENAS

Thirty-six entering freshmen were introduced to the college and its facilities during the Roll Call of the New Student Colloquium held at the College building on Tuesday afternoon.

Twenty-five of these students were introduced to the college, its facilities, and the various activities of the Student Council by Frank W. Paul; student leader. The other ten were introduced to the college by Robert Arenas, a member of the Student Council.

A full program of intercollegiate activities was also begun at the College with the introduction of the class of '70 to the college by Mr. Arencs.

The purpose of the colloquium is to acquaint the entering students with the various activities of the Student Council and the college, and to acquaint them with the college and its facilities.

The colloquium was held in the main building of the College and was attended by all entering freshmen.

Students were divided into groups of three or four and were led by a member of the Student Council.

The groups were asked to visit the following places:

- The Student Council office
- The Student Activity Center
- The Library
- The Student Union
- The cafeteria
- The auditorium
- The gymnasium
- The classroom
- The science laboratory
- The art studio
- The music room
- The chapel

At the end of the colloquium, the students were asked to return to the main building, where they received a copy of the Student Council Handbook and were given an opportunity to ask questions.

Cafeteria Imperiled

The hot food counter in the tenth floor cafeteria has been gaining popularity among students, but new problems may be faced if operating expenses are not reduced.

According to the student leaders, the cafeteria is being run on a break-even basis, and the food counter is the major contributor to the school's finances.

"Nobody has been through the cafeteria," said one of the student leaders. "It's a large high school and we need the money."

The student leaders have been meeting with the cafeteria manager to discuss ways of reducing the operating expenses.

The cafeteria is open from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Student Leaders Teach Small Orientation Groups

Small orientation groups will be taught to the entering freshmen, all of whom are required to attend them.

The students in the groups will be divided into small groups of five, and each group will be led by a student leader.

The groups will be held in the auditorium from 10:30 to 11:30.

A Time for Change

As much as we might like to stand off and let the actions of the people in the situation in the School be effective, we cannot do so. We must sit back and watch it happen. We must do more than just allow it to happen. We must actively work toward making the situation what we want it to be.

We cannot simply sit back and watch the situation develop. We must actively work toward making the situation what we want it to be. We must take action to ensure that the situation is what we want it to be.

The Ticker, therefore, will attempt to fill the existing vacuum and, hopefully, working with the administration, create a new atmosphere of quality higher education.

The Ticker will attempt to improve the quality of instruction. We will work to ensure that the administration takes action to improve the quality of instruction. We will work to ensure that the administration takes action to improve the quality of instruction.

Summary of Games

February 8, 1966

If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen. That was how Fairleigh Dickinson University's head basketball coach, Bob Catlin, felt the pressure of his team's early season.

By Friday night, the Mermen had defeated both two in-state rivals, as per the schedule, and had brought the team to within a half-game of the top spot in the A.A.U. League.

The Mermen's win against New York University, 69-55, was the team's third consecutive victory and proved to be the final game of the season. The team had started the season with a 1-7 record but improved to 10-3 by the end of the year.

The Mermen's win against City College, 81-65, was the team's third consecutive victory and proved to be the final game of the season. The team had started the season with a 1-7 record but improved to 10-3 by the end of the year.
Cagers Win Game In Triple Overtime

Bob Kissen
Kippy Bowers Alive in Final Half

A suspense packed story unfolded before the eyes of Saturday night’s audience as the City hoosters defeated the University of Rochester, 77-71, in triple overtime.

The first half of the game was slow and poorly played. Rochester was losing 34-27 at half time as Alan Zuckerman, who led the Beavers with a 16.8 ppg. average, scored only four points, hitting one of five from the floor. Mike Pearl and Bob Kissen kept the Beavers in the game scoring eight points each. Pearl's drive and history seemed out of place amid the 10-oiler play of City.

The second half was better played on the part of the Beavers, as they came back. At one point Pearl scored four consecutive points to pull the Beavers out front, 47-41, forcing Rochester to call a time-out. Barry Kissen started rebounding, and Pat Vallance did a great defensive job on Bill Delle. Rochester's candidate for Little All-American honors. Rochester finished with only ten points.

Facing two formidable opponents, the City College fencing team triumphed twice, defeating Rutgers, 17-10, and Princeton, 15-12, bringing its record to 3-3.

The Beavers had no trouble with the Jesuitites Saturday, as Al Darian became a triple winner; defeating Rutgers' Paul Peskty, Peskty is an Olympic fencer, national epee champion, and son of the Rutgers' coach; Lavender coach Edward Zuckerman, who leads the Beavers with a 16.8 ppg. average, scored only four points, hitting one of five from the floor. Mike Pearl and Bob Kissen kept the Beavers in the game scoring eight points each. Pearl's drive and history seemed out of place amid the 10-oiler play of City.

Fencers Beat Rutgers, Princeton To Bring Their Record to 3-3

The Tiger's were headed by Steve Harwood, who finished second in the Inter-collegiate Fencing Association's Championships held last March. However, they were trounced by City in the epee competition, 8-1, with both Al Darian and Bob Cherrnick finishing as triple winners.

The Beavers lost both the foil and sabre competitions, 4-5 and 3-6, respectively. Captain George Weisner was a triple winner in the foil competition. Ed Lucia Jr., son of the Lavender's coach, won a sabre bout.

The team's next meet is scheduled for Saturday at Penn State. Last year's record was 9-4, and the team can better that mark, since an extra meet was added to this year's schedule.

Matmen Bow To USMMA

The big news for City College wrestling fans this week was that Beaver grappling coach Joe Sapora was nominated for entrance into the Wrestling Hall of Fame. This news came on the heels of two Lavender-deaths, which had been preceded by three consecutive victories.

The Beavers were defeated by the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point Saturday, 6-3. The only winner for City was heavyweight Al Peculcich. Coach Sapora thought that this meet was both competitive and enjoyable. The team's next meet will be against Brooklyn, Sunday, 2-3.
