Referendum On Elections Voted Down

A motion to have a referendum, before the one-year trial period set last semester on adopting year terms for all City College faculties, was defeated, 19-8-0, at Thursday's Council meeting.

Bud Gians, president of the senior class and maker of the motion, stated, “In considering this motion I am not saying I am for the year terms or against them. However, just a year and a half ago the students indicated in a School-wide referendum that they were against the adoption of year terms.

"Nevertheless," he noted, "Student Council has decided to institute year terms for a one-year trial period during which the student body would have a chance to observe the change they have been voting upon.

In other business, Council accepted seven of nine applications for charity drives. The applications of the Human Rights Movement to Students and the Graduate Students' Student Council, and numerous other clubs, were turned down. Council can only hold seven charity drives each semester. (Continued on Page 2)

Kugler, O'Reilly to Speak At Discussion on St. John's

Professor Aaron Levetshtein (Mag.), chairman of the Baruch chapter of the Committee to Defend Academic Freedom at St. John's, will speak at 8 p.m. Monday night at St. John's University.

Dr. Israel Kugler, president of the United Federation of College Teachers, and Reverend Peter O'Reilly, chairman of the St. John's chapter of the U.F.C.T., will also address the group.

The Baruch chapter of the American Association of University Professors had previously voted to endorse the rally. However, it withdrew its support after it was learned that Norman Lipton '67, the Student Council president, will speak on the alternatives at St. John's.

Although repeated attempts have been made, the organizers of the lecture, the School's U.F.C.T. chapter, Sigma Alpha, the undergraduate honor-society, Student Council, and numerous other clubs, have failed to obtain any speakers who would represent the St. John's administration's point of view.

Father O'Reilly is one of the thirty-one instructors who were dismissed by the St. John's administration earlier this year.

Dr. Kugler stated in a previous interview with The Ticker that the aim of the rally is to gain both moral and financial support for the thirty-one dismissed professors and the instructors who, in sympathy, have refused to return to class since January 4.

College Urges No Exams On Albany March Date

President Buell G. Gallagher and the deans of all the schools in the City College have urged that no examinations be held on March 22, the day of the march on Albany for "education's survival.

The decision was reached at a cabinet meeting of all the administrators. Each dean is sending his own letter to the faculty of his school. Faculty cooperation is vital.

President Gallagher noted that there will be no excused absences on the day of the march.

Meanwhile, Steve Sandell '67, coordinator of the event at the Baruch School, noted that the drive to enlist student participation was progressing satisfactorily.

He said that the cost per student will probably be reduced from $3 to $2 because of the money raised from the sale of free tuition buttons. The buttons, being sold for one quarter, are an open at a booth in the lobby of the main building,.

The Graduate School is cooperating in the march, announced that students with questions about the event should call 926-9634 for information.

Reformer To Remain as Chancellor

Dr. Albert H. Bowker revealed last night that he will remain as chancellor of the City University.

The statement was released after the report of the Board of Higher Education's Financial Committee for the Study of Administrative Relationships and Functions.

The report concerned an investigation of the tangled relationship which has led to an open split between the policy-making board and the administrators of the University.

The text of Dr. Bowker's public reaction to the report was as follows:

"We have made significant progress tonight on many of the important problems which have vexed us. This makes it possible for me to continue to serve as chancellor of the City University of New York."

Dr. Harry A. Levy will continue to serve as the University's dean of studies.

The committee made the following recommendations:

Administrators Approve Report of BHE Committee

The board should have a staff of experts to assist in the discharge of its responsibilities. (Such a staff would consist of a legal counsel, who would also be available for consultation by the chancellor, and the Administrative Council, and a public relations officer.)

All other functions should be under the supervision of the chancellor.

The committee adopted a tentative undergraduate student government from the chancellor," February 22. The Administrative Council "confirmed," he is taken from the "new, constructive spirit March 1.

After taking these comments into consideration the committee adopted a revised report March 1 and submitted copies to the chancellor.

The Administrative Council accepted the report and in a communication to the board Monday suggested that the question of the "allocation of the Legal Council be set aside." The "The moment the board complied with this wish."

A "decision of the administrator, the definition of its functions, and the question of the relationship of the chancellor and the presidents, particularly in the field of graduate education, were put aside."

Earlier yesterday, President Buell G. Gallagher noted that there was a "conflict here because of "overlapping authority."

The "undergraduate colleges of the University are presently under the jurisdiction of the individual presidents and the graduate school is run by the chancellor.

Dr. Gallagher believes that there is a "conflict here because of "overlapping authority."

The "undergraduate colleges and the graduate schools should be both under one jurisdiction, he noted."

At present the graduate division is a "parasite" of the undergraduate division, the president said. $300,000 dollars is being taken from the undergraduate budget and given to the graduate division.

In addition, when a professor is dismissed from the undergraduate colleges and given to the graduate division, (Continued on Page 3)

Letters to the Editor

Dr. Bowker's Decision

The City University will benefit by Chancellor Albert Bowker's decision to make it a better University. For, according to Dr. Bowker, that is the main thing that the Board of Higher Education has been looking for. I am sure that Dr. Bowker will not be disappointed in the Board's response.

Mr. Lipton, the President of the University, has had long experience as an educator and administrator. He will not allow the City University to be a failure. More, he will not let the City University be a failure. At any rate, I am sure that Dr. Bowker will not be disappointed in the Board's response.

Baruch Cagers Finish Season;
Team's Record Stands at 6-5

The Baruch School basketball team finished its season Friday as it bowed to Pratt Institute 74-60. Coach George Wolfe's cagers concluded the year with a 6-5 record, an improvement on last year's 6-7 mark.

During the season the team had a well-balanced attack, with five players averaging in double figures. Guard Danny Howard led all scorers with a 14 point per game average. Danny likes to drive, and had a high game against Pace College, scoring 26 points. Howard is considered to be the floor leader of the team, as he directs the squad's attack.

Next in the scoring honors is six-foot forward Marty Hutners, who averaged 14 ppg. Marty came on real strong towards the end of the season, and against Kingsboro Community College, Hutners scored 26 points. Back courter Mitch Drobnar tallied over 15 ppg. With the aid of his jump shot from outside, Mitch set a modern Baruch record as he pumped in 28 points against Catholic College.

A surprise addition to the team this year was 6-3 Richie Goldwater. Richie joined the team late in the season, but during his stint he averaged 12 ppg. Richie shared the center job with Stanley Ginsberg, an uptown student. Ginsberg, also 6-3, lives in Stuyvesant Town, and does not find it difficult to travel to Baruch to play.

This year's captain, George Anderson, was a stand-out performer. Howard averaged 10 ppg, but his real contribution came in the rebounding department. Although he stands at only 6-3, George managed to jump above many taller opponents. In the last game of the year, George scored twenty points, as he pulled down a total of thirty rebounds.

For next season the team looks strong. Forward turned guard, Marty Hutners, may be the one destined to fill Zuckerman's shoes. hutner averaged almost 10 ppg. Vallance will be converted to a guard, and will play alongside Pearl. Eisemann is eligible to play only until January 1967, and until that point he will probably remain in his forward position. Kaiser will most likely start at the center spot, leaving a vacancy up front. If no one can take the job, Vallance will have to move back and center or Mulvey will start with Pearl in the backcourt.

However it turns out, it looks like another good year for the City College basketball team.
