Chairmen Will Participate in Next Talk-out; Students and Clubs Invited in Open Letter

Business Teachers To Attend Event

The chairman of three of the largest departments in the School have said they will participate in the second talk-out.

PROFESSIONAL EVALUATION

The evaluation committee which was passed last spring will be held on the 3rd of April. An election-meeting, the results of which are due Wednesday, April 20, will be held. The election will be held Wednesday, May 4.

PREVIOUS EVENT: This talk-out, held last December, has been called a “hearing” by the coordinators of the student-sponsored talk-out. It has been tentatively set for May 4th, according to Professor Samuel Ranhand (Chairman, Mt. B,). He also suggested that the coordinators of the talk-out take place at the 3rd of May.

The first session will be devoted to informally airing ideas of the student body, and all students and faculty have been invited.

The second session consists of a formal presentation of the coordinators’ position papers and a report toward discussing problems of the talk-out. All faculty members have been invited to this session.

Committee Wants ’Free Exchange’

The Talk-out Committee of Student Council is preparing a letter to be sent to all clubs asking for their cooperation in cooperating to prepare a talk-out which will be held Wednesday, April 20, in 4S.

In an open letter to all students published on page six of today’s Ticker, the committee expressed that in order for a meaningful and truly “free exchange,” it is necessary that every student attend the first session.

Students at School Form Party for Coming Election

A group of students have formed the first political party at the Baruch School. The party, which will nominate candidates for the May 4 election for Student Council, was begun in order to “extend and fight for student rights and to try and destroy the leadership of Student Council” according to Alan Wiener ’66, one of its organizers.

Mr. Wiener, who is currently the Council’s recording secretary, announced the formation of the group, to be called the Student Rights Party, last week along with Penny Deshner, a Student Council representative from the Class of ’67.

Mr. Wiener said the party’s organizers, who are known as the administrative committee, are “watching the manner in which the administration has been dealing with the student body.”

“Certain student rights and demands,” he stated, “should be accepted, not dismissed.”

Steve Herman, chancellor of Sigma Alpha, Ronald Schoenberg ’67, president of Student Council, and Norman Lipfein, former president of Council, have announced their support of the party.

Other individuals supporting the party include Steve Billings, president of Iota Sigma; Joseph A. Buss, a member of the ’67 student body. The national professional-advertising fraternity, Sigma Chi, also supports the party.

Other individuals supporting the party include Steve Billings, president of the Inter-fraternity Council from the Inter-fraternity Council; Robert Kaiser, president of the Young Republicans; Mary Lewis, president of the National Education Association; Mr. Wiener, president of the Student Council, and Charles Terrabella, vice-president of the Inter-fraternity Council, was elected as the first chairman.

Errors Seen in Yearbook

Lexicon, the School yearbook, has had “the same copy, the same pictures, and the same layout” for several years, according to Stuart Breidtart ’66, the editor-in-chief.

“It is curious to note,” Mr. Breidtart said, that the same things appear in the 1954 and 1955 books. "And that sometimes pictures of the faculty go as far back as the 1957 edition."

Mr. Breidtart stated that he will put out a complete original edition, the largest ever, 228 pages.

Starting this week, Mr. Breidtart added, any club or student desiring to order a book may do so at the price of $10 for a hard cover, $5 for a soft cover book.

Mr. Breidtart enumerated the following differences in past Lexicons:

The copy and pictures in the sports section were very similar in 1964 and 1965. The introductory text was exactly the same. A picture of the 1964 Basketball...
Free Tuition Mandate Pending; Ohrenstein Offers Final Proposal

A free tuition mandate is being proposed by Mr. Andrew Ohrenstein who has been appointed to the position of Undergraduate Business by the University. The mandate will be brought to the attention of the Board of Trustees for approval. The mandate will be on the agenda at the next meeting of the Board.

The mandate will be presented to the Board of Trustees for approval. It is hoped that the mandate will be approved at the next meeting of the Board.

A Student Rights Party

We welcome the formation of a political party to address the problems of the Baruch School. Such a party is long overdue. The School, a community of about 3,200 students, is divided into many different groups, each with its own interests and goals. It is up to us, the students, to form a political party that will represent the interests of all students.

In addition to addressing the problems of the Baruch School, the political party will also serve as a vehicle for the students to participate in the political process. By organizing and running for office, the students will be able to have a voice in the decisions that affect their lives. This will help to ensure that the students' interests are represented by those who represent them.

We encourage all students to join the political party and to participate in its activities. Together, we can make a difference in the Baruch School and in the world.

We welcome anyone who wants to join the political party. It is open to all students of the Baruch School, regardless of their political beliefs. We believe that all students have a right to participate in the political process and to be heard.

We look forward to seeing you at the next meeting of the political party. It will be held on [insert date and time].

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
AN OPEN LETTER TO STUDENTS

Dear Baruchian:

On April 20 a Talk-Out will be held from 4 to 9 in 45 by a special committee of Student Council.

In contrast to the "hearing" which was held by the Faculty Council Ad Hoc Committee last December, which only committee members and twenty-three selected students attended, all members of the faculty and student body are invited to attend this Talk-Out.

This Talk-Out will be devoted entirely to giving students an opportunity to give their views in the areas of curriculum, instruction, and student rights at the Baruch School. The student Council Committee will coordinate the Talk-Out and record the views of the students.

A second Talk-Out will be held Wednesday, May 14th. At this session the Talk-Out Committee will present the views expressed by the students, along with the views of the Committee, to members of the faculty and student body.

In order for the Talk-Out to be a success, it is necessary for you, the student, to take an active part. This is your chance to be heard, don't miss it.

Baseballers Open Season With Two Losses and a Win

When the pitchers are not effective, and the sluggers cannot compensate for lost runs, a baseball team loses games. This is what happened to the Beaver baseball team as they lost to St. John's and Columbia, and managed to defeat Hunter during the recess.

The St. John's tilt was the first home game, and the first league encounter for the Beavers this season, which proved to be a bad omen. City was edged 15-7, although the Redmen were out-hit 7-8.

Beaver backstop Steve Angel continued his display of power, hitting his second and third home runs of the young season. Outfielder Bill Miller also connected for the Lavender.

City pulled to within two runs of the Redmen at 7-5, before the team's six errors started catching up with them, and the relief pitching fell apart.

Ron Rizi went the first five frames for City, and allowed seven runs. Baruchian Larry Best took over for Rizi, whose record now stands at 0-2. Best pitched the next two innings, and was relieved by Bob Engels, who was bombed in his one inning stint. Engels gave up six hits, including a grand slammer by Tim McCombs Dam Park in the Bronx.

Ronnie Quin picked up nine hits and nine runs, including a grand slammer. Dave Minkoff hit a solo homer, and one and struck out seven.

City garnered its first victory of the year against Hunter on Wednesday. The Hawks lost 15-7, as Barry Edelstein went the distance for Army.

Tennis Team Continues Winning Streak; Netmen Triumph In First Four Contests

It looks like another their first four contests during good season for the Beaver tennis team. The netmen won their opening meet of the season the baseballers finished with a 4-6 league slate, and were trounced 12-5. The half-time score read 3-1, in favor of New Hampshire, with Beaver Abe Ruda, a midfielder, playing excellent defense. But in the second half the roof fell in and City could score only four goals to New Hampshire’s nine. Pandoliano scored a goal and had two assists. Steve Leiderstein—tallied twice for the Lavender, and Mark Klein and Richard Ravner each scored once for City.

City mentor George Baron looks at his squad as one “with a lot of experience.” The bulk of the team is composed of sophomores, with very few players having more than one season’s experience.”

Trackmen Start Outdoors; Divide First Two Contests

The City track team lost to Farleigh Dickinson University, 68-86, Saturday, after having won its opening meet of the outdoor season last Saturday, 89-65, against Montclair State College.

The Beavers almost defeated the Jerseyites, but were disqualified in the relay event, which cost them eight points and the meet. Harold Simons was a standout performer for the Lavender, as he scored nine points, with victories in the one-mile run, high jump, triple jump, broad jump, and 120 yard high hurdles. Distance runner Rob O’Connell won the one-mile and two-mile events, as Don Schlesinger won both the one-mile and two-mile individual races, and aided on another with an assist. Mike Colucci and George Steinman each tallied for City.

The stickmen played host to their first match of the season, and were trounced 15-5. The half-time score read 3-1, in favor of New Hampshire, with Beaver Abe Ruda, a midfielder, playing excellent defense. But in the second half the roof fell in and City could score only four goals to New Hampshire’s nine. Pandoliano scored a goal and had two assists.
