Independents Set New Organization

A second political party has been formed at the School by Joe Lafayette '69, Barry Hatch '66, and two others. The party's statement, which has been approved by the administration, is as follows:

Why Miss All The Fun Come To To Do!

To the Editor of The Tickler: I should read in The Tickler that the Human Rights Society has announced to the community that they will be holding a play titled "The Father" on May 8. I should have the opportunity to purchase tickets for the performance. How much do I wish I could see it! I am hoping that I will be able to attend this show and contribute to the cause. I believe that it is an important opportunity for students to learn about human rights and the importance of their role in society.

Comments on the Book "Social Psychology" by D. E. B. Johnson

I have just finished reading "Social Psychology" by D. E. B. Johnson. I was impressed with the author's ability to make complex social psychological concepts accessible to the reader. The book is well-organized and incorporates numerous examples from real-life situations to illustrate key points. I particularly enjoyed the discussions on social influence and the role of social norms in shaping behavior. Overall, I would highly recommend this book to anyone interested in gaining a deeper understanding of social psychology.

Challenging the Hierarchy

By STEVE FOWLER

When our generation deals with another, the inevitability comes into full effect. We are approaching a stage in our lives where we must take an active role in our society. We must not only think about what is happening around us, but also take action against it.

This is not to say that we should not be involved in the political process. Politicians are only a part of the problem, not the solution. We must be the solution. We must be the change we want to see in the world.

Mardi Gras

This year's Mardi Gras, to be held on Saturday, April 8th, is planned to be a huge success. The theme this year is "The French Quarter."

One of the highlights of the night will be the parade, which will start at 6:00 p.m. and end at 11:00 p.m. The parade will feature floats, music, and entertainment.

Toward a Free Exchange

Master Plan May Provide Higher Education for All

A new master plan for the development of a community college in the area was outlined by the Board of Higher Education Monday.

Atracities on the Home Front

By Paul Bossy

I have been influenced and all attention is directed to the fact that the government is not doing enough to promote peace and understanding. The people are very upset and the situation is getting worse.

Defending Student Rights

There appears to be a significant decline in the number of articles being written about student rights. This is concerning because we must ensure that students have their rights protected.

A number of incidents have occurred recently that highlight the need for student rights protection. For example, the recent controversy surrounding Professor Al, who was not allowed to speak at the recent graduation ceremony, raises concerns about freedom of speech.

We must continue to stand up for our rights and demand that these issues be addressed. Only then can we hope to create a society that truly values the importance of student rights.

Hofstra Edges Nine: Relievers Are Weak

The Beaver "nine" bowed Saturday, 7-5, at Macombs Dam Park, the Lavender's home field.

City, streaked to a 5-2 lead, but lost its edge in the final, requiring the Dutchmen to go into extra innings. One extra stanza was all the Flying Dutchmen needed to secure their victory.

The Lavender's offensive attack was once again proved stronger than that of the opposition, as they out hit the Dutchmen 8-6. Over-shadowing this display of power was a marked propensity towards striking men on base, and a poor showing by the relief staff.

Barry Leifer started the game for City, and once again he was impressive. Leifer entered the game with a 2-0 record, and pitched six innings of two run ball. Ron Rizzi, the club's number two starter, took over in the seventh and was unhittable during his three innings. He allowed the three runners.

Bob Engels relieved Rizzi in the tenth, and was promptly tagged with the loss. Engels has made three appearances this season, and has been battered each time. Tom Terlizzi, the team's number three starter, replacing Engels, Bob Trimmer, a Hosa, reliever who entered the game in the ninth, was the winning pitcher.

The City relief staff has sent nine men to the plate in the three of the five games played. Unhappily, at three games were lost. The firemen have not put out a match, let alone a fire, thus far.

Seven home runs were hit in the game, with two of them coming off the bat of Beaver third baseman Dave Minkoff, who last year finished the season with a .188 batting average. Frank Petrelli, Hofstra's catcher, also connected twice, the last one accounting for the winning pair of runs.

City College dropped below the .500 mark for the third time in the early going. The baseballers own a 2-3 record, with both victories belonging to Leifer. The sophomores inherited the number one starting position as a result of two strong performances against Hunter and Brooklyn Colleges. He maintained it with his fine efforts in both of the two outings. Terlizzi had been number one, but has been shaky, and holds an 0-2 record. Bob McGivney, next game to start for Beavers against Iona College this afternoon at Macombs Dam Park.

Last season the Lavender emerged victorious in a closely fought 2-1 battle. The visitor's last appearance, Saturday, saw them lose to Manhattan College 6-5.

On Saturday the Beaver baseballers will play host to Baruch College on Monday, will face N.Y.U. at home.

Mentor Has Professional Experience

One thing that no one can ever say about Sol Mishkin, the Beaver baseball coach, is that he lacks experience. Because coaching at City College Mishkin played professional and minor league baseball for many years.

After graduating Phi Beta Kappa from Occidental College in 1937, Mishkin signed to play professional ball with San Francisco. For the next seven years the baseball mentor also played for Jersey City and on the metropolitan circuit, where he worked towards his masters at Teachers College, Columbia University. Mishkin received his MA in 1932.

After Montreal Mishkin went to the Brooklyn Bushwicks, a semi-pro team, from 1941 to 1943. He starred for the Bushwicks, which often played before crowds larger than those which witnessed the then Dodgers games. When Mishkin retired from his active participation in 1943, he found it hard for himself to leave the game, so he signed to manage Wellsville in the Pony League, Erwin Wells ville the freshmen coach, moved to the Canadian American League. In 1949, Mr. Mishkin became the baseball coach at City, and until 1954 he posted a 67-62-3 record, including a Metropolitan Conference Title in 1953 - Mishkin did not coach the Beaver "nine" again until 1963, when he served as an interim coach for a few games. Overall Mishkin's record as a coach of the baseball team is a winning 75-85-2.

Last year the squad compiled a 4-6 league record, as it finished 6-6 overall. There is much talk this year that the City College Mushroom can draw from the Metropolitan Conference, due to the increasing strength of the other schools in the league, as many of them offer athletic scholarships, which City does not.

Concerning withdrawing from the league, Mishkin would first like to see the professional player-turned coach have a hard time ahead of him, especially when his team's pitching is poor, and the hitters are just not connecting. The most that the School can hope for is that Sol Mishkin continues his winning ways while remaining at City.

Netmen Continue Streak; Defeat LIU For Fifth Win

The Beavers make up in tennis what they lack in basketball. Although City lost to LIU, on the wooden courts, it defeated them on the Finley clay courts Saturday, 7-2. This victory was the fifth straight for the netmen this season, and extended their perfect string started last year to 10.

City was defeated only in the five singles and first doubles competition, as they ran over the Blackbirds in all the other matches.

Neal Spanier started the Beaver off in fine fashion as he won the number one match. Spanier is thus far undefeated this season. Alan Parks wins his sets for City, did Baruchian Amie Garfan, co-captain Joel Lutow, and Ed Wein- stein, who is also undefeated this year. Pete Willman lost a singles match for City, as he was Pitted against Fred Solomon, who has lost only once in two years.

In the doubles competition the Beavers won the numbers two and three. Previous co-captain Pete Shaffer teaming up with Garfan to win one, and Wilson Wong and Jerry Safford winning the other. William and Charles Magnum, a student at Baruch, lost a doubles match. That was the first loss so far this year, for the latter pair.

Robert, the team's sophomore mentor, is "very pleased with the team's play. I believe that we have a very fine squad." The coach also made it known in a telephone interview that he was offically claimed the Municipal Championship, The Lavender has defeated both Brooklyn and Queens this season, and in the fall they defeated Hunter 12-1 in a practice match. City does not face Hunter during the regular season, and this was the only chance for the two schools to meet.

The stiffest competition for the team lies ahead. This Saturday the team will clash with Hofstra, and the following weekend, they will face N.Y.U. Other top contenders for City's Metropolitan Championship title, which is held annually by Iona, are Adelphi and Iona. Both of those schools have been hurt by the loss of graduating seniors, and the Beavers look strong in the odds.

Tomorrow the team will meet again at Pace College at City's home courts. The game against Te- foreva University, which was originally scheduled for last Wednesday, has been postponed till Monday, April 25.
