Talk-out Is Held Here:

attendance is 'poor'.

Fifty-five students and fifteen faculty members gathered in 4S last Wednesday to discuss student rights, curriculum, and student-faculty-administration relations at the first session of the student-run talk-out.

All members of the School community had been invited to the talk-out, and the turnout was considered "poor" by Frank Cassidy '67, chairman of the Student Council committee which organized the event.

Mr. Cassidy, who acted as moderator, described the purpose of this session as to "give the student a chance to state his views."

Mr. Cassidy said that the second session, to be held next Wednesday, will present researched positions on student rights, curriculum, and instruction to the faculty.

All instructors have been invited.

Study Slated On Library

A three-man student committee to work jointly with the library staff, which has now been given faculty status, has been created by the faculty Library Committee.

The purpose of the committee will be to discuss, define, and formulate solutions to library problems.

The new committee, with a student as chairman, will investigate the feasibility of a consultant to improve the library. After the study is made, the chairman will release a report to be printed in The Ticker.

In other business, the faculty committee decided that the most feasible slot for a new library would be 4N. Professor Thomas Kari (Dept. Rep. Polit. Sci.)

Monetary Deficit Causes Cut in CUNY Admissions

Mayor John Lindsay has called for the immediate enactment of a bill by the State Legislature that would revise the formulas for the city colleges.

Mr. Lindsay, along with Senators Manfred Ohrenstein of Manhattan, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Higher Education, and Jack E. Bromley of Queens, said that the legislature holds the key to unlock the doors of the City University to the 2,278 would-be freshmen, who were shut out Friday.

City College President Buell G. Gallagher noted last week that the College is mailing out 2,278 acceptance letters for the fall on the assumption that the funds will come from somewhere.

The mayor called for an increase of $11 million for the coming academic year. Senator Ohrenstein noted that the announcement Friday that the city's four senior colleges and six community college would admit 2,278 fewer freshmen this fall was "an educational tragedy," especially since "they will have almost no opportunity to seek admission elsewhere for the fall term."

Senator Bronstein added that he would ask the upper house to immediately consider the college enrollment cutbacks, which he called "a tragic development."

Berman, Broslovsky, Wiener Vie For Student Council Presidency

Three students have handed in petitions and will contest the presidency of Student Council this semester.

The students, Marc Berman '67, Allen Broslovsky '67, and Alan Wiener '68, began their campaigns Friday.

The election will be held next Wednesday, and the winner will, for the first time, serve a one-year rather than a six-month term.

A total of sixteen students will vie for Student Council executive board positions and the post of National Student Association delegate, and all offices except that of Student Council Activities Committee chairman, for which Morrow '68 is running unopposed, are being contested by at least two candidates each.

In a three-way race for vice-president, Max Berger '68, currently Council's corresponding secretary, and Lewis Dicner '67, and Harvey Wacht '67, both Council representatives, are the opponents.

Ronald Schoenberg
President of Council

Berman, Broslovsky, and Mr. Berger is running independently.

Bob Fiambetti '67, editor-in-chief of The Ticker and a member of the Student Rights Party, is opposing Mark Kline '67, the candidate of the Students for Unified Action Party, headed by Mr. Broslovsky.

In another three-way race, Harry Pape '68 (independently), a Council representative, Kenneth Rubenstein '68 (Students for Unified Action), also a representative, and Stuart Shikler '68 (Student Rights) are vying for the corresponding secretarieship.

The candidates for recording secretary are Paul Namm '68, editor-in-chief of The Greek Way, the newspaper of the Inter-fraternity Council, and Kathy Scharenberg '68, vice-president of House Plan Association.

Mr. Namm is running on the Student for Unified Action ticket, and Miss Scharenberg has been nominated by the Student Rights Party.

In the race for the only position on the Student Council executive board which will be filled in the election, Frank Cassidy '67 (independent) news editor of The Ticker will oppose Joe Slater '68 (Students for Unified Action), a Council representative, for delegate to the National Student Association summer congress to be held in August at the University of Illinois.

The election campaign began following a meeting Thursday between 3 of Council's Disqualification Committee, which reviewed each candidate's petition, on which fifty signatures were required, and the election rules.

At the meeting it was decided by the committee, headed by Council's president, Ronald Schoenberg '67, that students would be allowed to put the name of the party on whose ticket they were running on the ballot, or else have the name of the party "independently" placed after their name if they preferred.

A proposal that students running with a party have their names placed on the bottom ballot was voted down by the committee.

Boatride to Be Conducted In Spite of Service Exams

Student Council has decided to hold its annual boatride on one of the dates for the draft deferment test was reached at Council's Thursday meeting.

Ronald Schoenberg '67, Council's president, had commented the previous week, after consultation with members of the executive board, that the boatride would be cancelled because of the conflict with the examination.

After Thursday's meeting, Mr. Schoenberg said Council had decided to take a very decisive gamble.

He noted that, in order for the event to be a success, "we must have maximum participation, students must support the event more than they have ever done before."

S. A. M.

I was greatly disturbed by the omission by The Ticker of any reference to the special dates for season tickets which have been accommodated. This I shall endeavor to ascertain prompt and attentive consideration for studenta' rights which yet have not been accomplished. This for students' rights which yet have not kept pace with rapid changes. (emphasis supplied) This and have not considered them worthy of discussion. (emphasis supplied) This administration would listen (to student proposals.) This would not benefit the School because of institutional misguidance. (Such a decision on any student proposal.) This would not be misguided. It would, however, be regretted if a meeting of the Curriculum Committee would not be attended by the establishment of workshops in order to have students' rights not be in need of legislation. (emphasis supplied)

Building Inspection Shows Many Violation Hazards

For a public building, the Fire Prevention Division has issued its second policy change, which is likely to have made the building much safer.

Although the works of the Building Inspection Division are determined by the conditions at the School, this policy change is significant.

The Inspection Department has been studying the building for many years and has reported the following:

1. The building is not in compliance with the Building Code.
2. The fire prevention procedures are not adequate.
3. The fire prevention system is not adequate.
4. The emergency procedures are not adequate.

The Inspection Department has made recommendations to the administration, which have been accepted.

The building inspection shows that many violation hazards exist. The administration has been informed of these hazards and is taking steps to correct them.

Mandate Bill is Approved

The bill mandating free tuition at the City University was passed by the State Assembly earlier this week by a vote of 90 to 40. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman John Sillings, the director of the Ticker, noted that the bill had been sponsored by Governor Nelson Rockefeller personally.

Club to Visit Mr. Costello
On May 19th the Student Council of City College will present a lecture by Mr. Bernard Costello, President of the American University in Cairo. The lecture will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Council Chambers. Mr. Costello's lecture on "The Role of the American University in Cairo" will be of great interest to students interested in international relations and Middle Eastern studies.

Policy Change Proposed: Accept no Credit,
Mr. Berman, an independent candidate, has been the student government’s executive board position of Student Council.

They were prepared by a committee consisting of Gil Goffeit '67, Alexander Wolf '67, and Paul Rogoff '68, associate editor.

Mr. Berman has shown in the past that he understands the important role of the executive board position of Student Council.

The need for Council is for "responsibility and reasonableness." The student body has indicated that it wants the Council to be more responsible and reasonable in its actions.

The Council must deal with the serious problems facing the students, the faculty, and the administration.

The importance of the element of leadership in the Student Council activities is evident.

Mr. Berman has shown an ardent advantage of being a member of the executive board position of Student Council.

The Council must take into account the importance of leadership and be led by someone who is responsible and reasonable.

Mr. Berman has contributed much time in the past to the Student Council activities.

The problems which he has faced and those already solved are a testament to his leadership abilities.

This year he has shown that he is capable of leading the Student Council activities and making decisions for the betterment of the student body.

We believe that Mr. Berman is the right person to lead the Student Council activities for the upcoming year.

Are you tired of Barry School, who has decided to continue his work in inspecting reports, and tell us what you think about the issues? Barry does not want to hear what you think, he just wants to know that you disagree with him. The National Student Association is trying to improve the administration policies. I shall consider your views and make a decision on the issues.

While I am in full agreement with the intent of this motion, I do not agree at the present time. I don't think that fighting would accomplish almost nothing. It is no more than a statement, of no value in one's cumulative average, to improve student relations. I shall consider your views and make a decision on the issues.

Although I was extremely opposed to the idea last term, being on the faculty to -coerce students to attend various programs during their free hours is wrong. In my opinion, I believe that the best way to improve the administration is to have a subcommittee of the Student Council to study the proposal and make a decision on the issues.

The corresponding secretary will work for funds to improve the administration policies. The National Student Association has agreed to consider the proposal and make a decision on the issues.

SOPHOMORE MEN:

Want to be a leader and double your chances for success in life? You can, by earning both a degree and an Army officer's commission at the same time—enlist in ROTC.

Through a new program, your Army ROTC will be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant after attending four years of college. You can qualify for this program by attending a special six-week training camp after your sophomore year in completing the ROTC Advanced Course in your junior and senior years of college.

Here's how ROTC training and an officer's commission will do for you:

- You will be a leader and double your chances for success in life.

You will learn to be:
- Organized, motivated, and lead others.
- Overcome leadership challenges that many college men miss—self-discipline.
- You will develop leadership qualities that many college men miss—self-discipline, self-reliance.
- Personal poise.
- Time management skills.
- Quality work.
Boatride to Be Conducted In Spite of Service Exams

The First Student Council

The First Student Council of the College was a poor financial position. Those who are familiar with the event itself are aware that the boatride was very successful. The boatride was conducted in the early fall in an effort to aid the students who were in need of financial assistance. The boatride was taken by various students who were interested in attending the event and who wished to support the boatride.

I think this is an opportunity to do so.

As treasurer of Student Council, I would like to state that I feel responsible for part of that change. I consider the job of Student Council treasurer to be an important one and I feel that I have fulfilled the duties of the position to the best of my ability. I have worked tirelessly towards instituting a system of proper financial management, which I feel will be of great benefit to the students of the Baruch School.

I believe that the boatride was a success and that it should be scheduled, and the efforts of the council should be continued. I am confident that we can create a system of proper financial management, which will serve the students of the Baruch School well in the future.

Thank you.

Baseballers Lose Two Contests; Succumb to Seton Hall and Iona

City’s baseball team fell into the Met Conference cellar last week, as the Beavers dropped two league encounters. On Saturday the team was shut-out by Seton Hall 6-0, and last Tuesday the Lavender bowled Iona 4-1.

Saturday’s loss to the Hall was a complete rout. S.H.U held a 2-0 lead after the first inning, all that was necessary for the victory. The visitors pounded out fifteen hits—off three Beaver hurlers.

Barry Lefter, coming off three fine performances, was tagged often and hard by the invaders, while Ron Rizzi, succeeding him—Terryzzi and Louis Weinberg—turned in commendable stints. Lefter lasted three innings, but just barely. In the first three innings he allowed five runs, and the three-run Hall outburst in the fourth finished Barry for the day. Terryzzi worked four innings and Weinberg two, as Seton Hall managed only one run in the reliever’s six innings.

Home runs proved the downfall of the Beavers, as has been the case much of the season. An astounding number of six round-trippers were smashed by the Hall, with a pair coming off the bat of big catcher Tom Bongiaro. Tom Scott blasted a solo home run, in addition to three other hits. In the third inning, Jim Dermody went the route to pick up the Hall’s third Met Conference victory in four starts.

Tuesday saw the Lavender batting attack appear non-existent, as Iona College picked up two insurance runs in the ninth to down the Beavers 4-1.

Ron Rizzi was tagged with the loss for City, his third against no record. The game against Pace College, Wednesday, was rained out and has not been rescheduled as of yet.

Hofstra Defeats Netmen; Winning Streak Stopped

The make-up game was fine for the tennis men but meet which gave them troublesome last week.

Playing against Yeshiva College on Monday, the team was making up the rained out contest of last Wednesday. The Beavers won the rescheduled event 9-0, for their second shut-out of the season, and their seventh win in eight games this season.

Scoring for City in the individuals were: Neal Spanier, Peter Willman, Baruchian Arnold Garfan, Alan Marks, co-captain Joel Litow, and Cabries Matte, a Dutchman. Spanier has not lost a match so far this year. In the doubles competition Mattie and Litow won the first contest, as Ed Weinstein and William Wong teamed up for the second victory. Gerald Jaffe and co-captain Peter Shaffer won the third doubles match for the Lavender.

On Saturday the netmen squared off against Hofstra College, and were edged 5-4. This was the first defeat for tennis team this year in six contests.

The game against Pace College, which was scheduled for last Wednesday, was rained out and has not been rescheduled as of yet.

Lacrossemen Victors Over Armed Services

The lacrosse team completely reversed their trend of last year as they won two games last week, bringing their winning streak to four games. The Beavers defeated New York Maritime College on Saturday, 7-5, and defeated the United States Military Academy “B” squad on Wednesday, 5-2. Last season the team had a 1-8-1 record.

Other stickmen scoring for City include George Grinstein, who tallied twice, and Steve Linderstein.

Coaches and Soothes of the Same Time

On the field a terror, off the field a soother—these are the two faces of George Baron, coach of the City College lacrosse team.

Mr. Baron was graduated from City in 1948, after having won letters in football, swimming and lacrosse. In 1947 the Beaver goalie was named to the all-American team.

As soon as he was graduated, Mr. Baron stayed at his alma mater to coach the freshmen lacrosse team. At the same time he studied for his Master’s degree, which was awarded to him from Columbia College in 1949. He remained with the Beaver Beavers through the campaigns of 1951, 1955, and 1960.

In 1960 Leon A. “Chief” Miller, the College’s lacrosse coach, became ill and was forced to retire. Tom Rizzi, who had been graduated, was called in to fill the shoes of a man who had coached the City stickmen for thirty years and who had been elected to the lacrosse Hall of Fame. Before Mr. Baron took over the reigns Baruchian Abe Ruda, and co-captain Pat Vitalone had each scored a point for the Beavers.

Against the Cadets City continued its fine mixture of a tough defense and a fast offense. Last year Army had edged the Beavers 7-5, but this time around City took the upper hand in a 5-2 contest.

This afternoon the team will travel to Revere College with hopes of extending its undefeated streak to five. On Saturday the Beavers will play host to Rensselaer Polytechnical College.
