Old Council Comes Alive

By CHARLES TERRANELLA

Well, spring is here, and the signs of spring are everywhere. The flowers are blooming, the animals are coming out of hibernation, and, if you look closely, the members of Student Council have once again awakened from their deep sleep to take up their duties in the hallowed halls of Baruch with their famous call, "My name is__ and I am running for__ vote for me."

This spring, however, there is a distinct Harvey Stacks '67 (Students for Unified Action) defeated Frank Cassidy '71 (Student Rights Party) in the race for treasurer. Gaining plurality in all classes, Mr. Stacks, a senior representative, defeated Mr. Cassidy, a junior representative, by a vote of 586 to 396. Miss Scharenberg, was re-elected, with a margin of 225 votes over her opponent, Mr. J. H. Zehnder. The number of students who voted, 858, was less than the total of last semester.

Running in a three-way race for vice president, Mr. Beranek, an independent candidate, polled 412 votes. Harvey Stacks '67 (Students for Unified Action) and Manny, Diener '67 (Student Rights Party), the other aspirants in the race, obtained 297 and 179 votes respectively.

Mr. Klein (Students for Unified Action) defeated Bob Fishel '68, while Mr. Davis, a member of the Student Council, received only 250 votes.

More than a hundred people are the basis of an important element in the educational process, and the student is the most important among them. This is the first time such a system is being used at the School and we have had many reservations about how good it is, and how well it works.

Another Important Election

On May 18, the same day as the Student Council elections, a Special Election for Student Council President was held. The election was held to determine which student would represent the student body and work for the changes in the School. The election was open to all students, and the candidate who received the most votes would be elected President of the Student Council.

The Role of Class Council

The Class Council is an important part of the Student Council structure. It serves as an elected body of the student body, representing the interests of the students in the various classes.

The Ticker

The Ticker was the student newspaper of the School. It was published weekly and covered a variety of topics, including news events, student opinions, and campus life.

The Motto

The motto of the School was "The Pipkx, a Word Heard in the Passing of Time." The motto was chosen to represent the School's commitment to excellence and tradition.

The Picnic at Hanging Rock

The play "The Picnic at Hanging Rock" was performed at the School. The play was directed by Frank Cassidy and starred several students in leading roles.

The Role of the President

The role of the President is to represent the student body and work for the changes in the School. The President is also responsible for chairing the Student Council meetings and representing the Council in external relations.

The Election

The election was held on May 20. The candidates for President were Mark Friedman, Steven Goldstein, and Susan Harris. The election was won by Steven Goldstein, who received the majority of the votes.

The Ticker staff was pleased with the election results. They believed that Steven Goldstein would be a strong leader for the School and would work to improve the student experience.

Any promises. He is running on the slogan "honesty is the best policy" and "my name rhymes with his name."

There are two candidates running for treasurer. This made it easier to decide whether to vote for,
since coins have two sides.

Heads is a serious candidate. He notes that "the treasurer must approve all appropriations to the clubs and organizations." We didn't have the heart to tell him that "treasurer" is only a fancy word
for "bookkeeper."

Tails lists him as one of his qualifications — editor-in-chief of The Ticker.
We didn't have the heart to tell him that everyone thinks of it as a disqualification.

The next position is that of exalted corresponding secretary. Each candidate promises to do as well as that of the "Merry Mail Clerk."

The recording secretaryship, another tremendous responsibility, writes down the names of Council members and records their votes.

any candidate. That's because the other person who could meet Counel's qualifications decided not to run. There are more qualifications of the United States. But this is justifiable, because you have to be a real whip to decide who can hang signs in what square of which room in what building. Right?

Look carefully at all the candidates — this may be the last time you see them with their eyes open.
