President Berman's Statement

After review of the Student Council Charter 1 have come to the realization that the Student Council has no power to suspend Mark Klein as treasurer of the Student Council.

Mr. Klein remains in contempt of a Student Council mandate but, nevertheless, the Student Council will not see any apparently illegal tactic in pursuit of its goals.

The situation as it now remains is that Mr. Klein, as chairman of the Fees Committee, represents a more powerful and compelling organization than the Student Council, and therefore points towards the Student Council claim that the Fees Committee is a second Student Council on campus and has inserted Student Council's most important enumerated power—that of reviewing club budgets.

It is asked that Mr. Klein reconsider his position and comply with the resolution passed by Council Thursday and therefore act in the best interests of the student body as per his obligations.

Board's Asche Visits Physical Plant Here

The Baruch School's physical plant was reviewed Friday by Dr. David Asche, chairman of the City College Committee of the Board of Higher Education. Some recommendations to the Administration were made concerning the adequacy of space for the Baruch School to become a separate college in the City University.

According to Dr. Asche's committee's report the building of a new physical plant for Baruch, whether it be on the Uptown campus or in downtown Manhattan, will help him in determining the necessity of new physical facilities.

Mr. Asche was escorted through the School by Dean Saxe and Professor Herbert Arkin (Chairman, Stat.).

The committee chairman had no comment concerning his findings.

Dr. Asche suggested that the committee report will reinforce the possibilities of building a new physical plant for Baruch, whether it be on the Uptown campus or in downtown Manhattan. They help him in determining the necessity for new physical facilities.

City Defeats Upsala With 75-42 Victory

By LARRY BROOKS

City's hoopsters ushered in the new year in the same manner as they saw out the old one-with a convincing victory this Saturday night the Beavers overwhelmed Upsala, 75-42, for their first home victory of the season. In doing so, the Beavers raised their record to 5-4 before taking their midseason break.

Once again it was the lethal one-two punch of Mike Pearl and Barry "Duke" Eisemann that did most of the early damage. Pearl, though rested only five minutes in the second half, connected for 19 points. Eisemann, continuing a surge that began in Bridgeport last month, controlled the boards with 17 rebounds and scored 14 points in the first 5 minutes of the game, giving City a 9-0 advantage. Upsala never caught up.

After 10 minutes had elapsed, City had opened up a 21-9 lead which swelled to 35-22 at halftime. City led 36-33 at halftime. In the first half, Tech switched from a man-to-man to a zone defense forcing George Wolfe's team to shoot from the outside.

Gil Fishman and Danny Howard led the Lavender scorers with 13 apiece, as Stan Ginsburg tallied 11. Elliot Rosen and Mike Drobner scored 8 each, as Dave Hirsh and Richie Goldwater pumped in 4 apiece. Stan Weber finished the game with 2 points for City.

Upsala was led in scoring by Eisemann's 26 points. Eisemann's 14 were followed by Clifton and Pearl with 10 and Knel with 8. Unsung hero, Pat Vallance again assumed the leadership. Paul Apostol, national sabre champion, and Davis, national foil champion, and Steve Bernard and Steve Leiber, national sabre champions, were beaten by Tech's Steve Bernard and Steve Leiber.

City lost the foil event 5-4, and was defeated in the epee competition by a similar score. The sabre team was beaten 7-2.

The Fencers Lose

After a great showing in the first round, the Beavers' fencing team succumbed to national champion New York University as the Violets won 17-10.

The undefeated swordsmen from Washington Square Center began the match by having Al Drobner, national foil champion, and Paul Apostol, national sabre champion, defeated by Beavers Steve Bernard and Steve Leiber.
