Talks Held for L.I.U. Center; C.U.N.Y. Considers Purchase

Dr. Albert Bower, chancellor of the City University, announced Thursday that negotiations for the purchase of Long Island University's Brooklyn Center have been under way for over a month.

Dr. Bower said that the University plans to use the center as a four-year undergraduate college specializing in business, liberal arts and teacher education.

Dr. Bower noted that a final decision on the sale has not been reached.

Although the Chancellor of L.I.U., Dr. R. Gordon Hoxie, refused to publicly acknowledge the transfer talks, he confirmed their existence at a closed meeting of L.I.U.-Faculty Senate.

The Brooklyn Center of L.I.U. is located at Flatbush Avenue Extension and DeKalb Avenue and includes the old eleven-story Brooklyn Paramount Theater building, which is expected to be completed by December 1.

It has been reported that the University is prepared to pay L.I.U. $30 million for the center, which also includes three university-owned apartment buildings at 175 and 191 Willoughby Street and 122 Ashland Place.

Sources have reported that Dr. Henry Heald, former president of the Ford Foundation, in a comprehensive study of L.I.U., advised them to consolidate the office of the University of the Brooklyn Center, C.W. Post College in Brookville and Southampton College.

He noted that he would like to see a "Theatron Board" to check the finances of Theatron, the student-run theater, under Student Council control.

Sandy Leung '71, president of Theatron noted that he would like to see a "Theatron Board" to check the finances of Theatron, the student-run theater, under Student Council control.

The chancellor noted that he would like to see a "Theatron Board" to check the finances of Theatron, the student-run theater, under Student Council control.

The uncontested election in the Class of '69 will see Stuart Haberler elected president and vice president, respectively. The treasurer elected was Fee Gee '71 and the secretary elected was Sandy Leung '71.

Elections for eleven vacant student Council seats and one Ticker Association representative will be held tomorrow between 9 and 3:15 in the lobby of the main building.

Students must present their "Furnas's and Identification Cards in order to vote in the three contested and two uncontested races.

The eight freshmen running in the Class of '71 are George Bel, Joel Gaze, Debbe Leichter, Paula Rizzo, Jerry Rothman, Ronald Scheuer, Jay Simcoff and Harvey Waggab.

The two students running for the one seat in the Class of '70 are Glenn Davis and Barry Wexler.

The uncontested election in the Class of '68 will see Stuart Haberler run on a "yes-no" ballot for one of the three open seats.

Don Birnbaum '68 and John Meitner '69 will compete for the vacancy on the Ticker Association.

Sandy Alan Eagen is the only student running for one of the three vacant seats in the Class of '68.

SC Elections Tomorrow; Longest Meeting Staged

Is Established

Much Enthusiasm

By MARVIN E. SCHECHTER

The Student Council adjourned Thursday after eleven hours of lengthy debate in what was the longest meeting in City Council history.

During the time Council approved its budget after making considerable change, the constitution's Finance Committee will now consider the Student Council's budget, making whatever changes it deems necessary.

A motion co-sponsored by Sandy Eagan, Marvin Schechter and Joseph Slater, all in the Class of '68, called for the establishment of a Theatron Board under Student Council control to restrict the drama society's production to the center's main building.

The resignations of Pat Morrow '68, Steve Ginsberg '69 and Barbara Lechner '71 were announced. Corresponding Secretary, Dave Treager and representatives for the Class of '68 Dave Levinson were elected to the Charity Dryers Executive Committee, which is responsible for the approval of various charges, including the sponsorship of various organizations with the Student Council.

After passing the election rules, it was finally adjourned at about midnight.

Theatron Plans Halt During Fiscal Crisis

The presentation of the show which Theatron, the school's drama group, traditionally produces each semester, may not be staged this term.

According to Dr. Irving Greger, coordinator of student activities, "Theatron has problems." The difficulty arose over outstanding bills of about $1,600 which Theatron owes the Uptown business office.

Mr. Greger noted, "The administration of this School is attempting to change the policy of a club and force it to change its policy by using money as a weapon." Sources have said that the change in policy, which was discussed at the December 16 meeting of the Student Council, was the result of the school's concern with the amount of money coming into Theatron's budget after making considerable changes.

Draft Deferments

The last chance to file for a draft deferment is this week. The student must file a new form, SSS 109, with his local draft board in addition to the old form, SSS 109.

Both forms are obtainable at the Selective Service Office, 411 S.C.

The complete families pass for about 97 per cent of the population, and the remainder of the student body are members of Theatron, the School's Day Session drama society, are being punished, and the payment of a debt to society. Although A basic objective of the co-curricular Board will only attempt to curb any over-professionalism and will seek to have the Long Island University's Brooklyn unit located at DeKalb School and the College should abandon the determination of each student's ability to perform as a liberal artist, and—professional business, and would not be able to hold the University's reputation...

"There are 12 runners in the field," said Bowie, who had given up two runs until the bottom of the fourth inning, and the Orioles took over the lead for the first time, 3-2, when Bowie hit a three-run home run off of reliever John Montefusco in the third inning. The key play of the doubleheader, however, was Bowie's two-out, two-run home run in the ninth inning that gave the Orioles a 5-3 lead and the series sweep.
