Several Groups Sponsor 'War Game' Screening

The War Game," the controversial, British Broadcasting Corporation produced, Academy Award winning film will be shown today at 12:30 and 5:15 in 306 of the Shepard Hall.

A preliminary screening to help select candidates to represent the City College on the "General Electric College Bowl" will be held today.

The first session will take place from 12:30 to 1:30 in 306 of the Shep-ard Hall.

The "date of the showing of the movie" will be set for February 25. This program pits teams from leading colleges and universities in an "intellectual football game" calling for instant responses on questions.

Beginning in January, the show will be aired Sundays from 6 to 8:30 on the National Broadcasting Corporation Television Network.

"Prospective participants should display a broad range of interests and general knowledge as well as the capacity for quick recall," commented Bernard Sohmer, assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

When the College last appeared on "College Bowl," $6,000 in scholarship funds was won by the team.

Cagers Lose Opener to Columbia, 79-46

Keizer Scores 20 Points—Outrebounded Newmark

By LARRY BROOKS

It is not an easy task to open the season away from home against a potential national power. The task becomes that much harder when you’re an inexperienced ball club. The Beavers confronted this challenge City’s home opener gave Columbia a scare before finally knuckling under 79-46 at the University Gym last night.

The Beavers played a strong first half which ended with the Lions leading 29-27, but was once again a losing cause if there is such a thing. Jeff Keizer, the leading scorer in the contest was held to 12 points and a near-zero outside shooting suffer a hit in the final period but his hustle was a necessary contribution.

Craig Marshall, who came in with seven minutes left in the first half along with a bigger team and muscled the Beavers off the court at various points in the second half. Poor shooting from the Lions in the final period but his hustle was a necessary contribution.

Yesterday the C.C.N.Y. Junior Varsity basketball team hosted to Queens Community College. The Burros played a good game of attractive cheerleaders with them. Unfortunately for City, they also brought center Pete Kowalski, who contributed 21 points to give Queens a 72-65 overtime victory.

The Burros’ last outing Queen's snapped a quick lead, but the accurate shooting and inspired rebounding of Stan Ginsberg, who contributed 31 points, was too much for the Beavers to handle.

With one minute left, Kowalski tapped in a rebound and gave anchorman Mark Rothman a three point lead. Rothman won the 50-yard freestyle relay in a time of 26.2.

Boxing Tournament to be Held Today

An arm’s length brought the College swimming team from the clutches of victory to the midnight of defeat yesterday in the season’s opening dual meet with Long Island University in Wingate. A loss in the final event—the 440-yard freestyle relay—gave L.U. a 131-121 victory.

A scene from the 6th-floor gym. Yesterday the roof was empty. As the sun’s reflection made its way through the window pane and into the gym, no sound could be heard. Today the appearance changes as Burroughs’ tasting swallows control for school-wide horrors under the supervision of Professor Yurita Sutris, sub-chairman of the Physical and Health Education Department. Punches will fly and pain will be felt. At the end one man will stand above the rest. He will be the champion.
