Newman Charges ‘Duplistic’ Actions

Just when the philosophy grades dispute appeared to have been resolved, new conflict erupted as students sought explanations for the “changes made in their grades.”

Dean Emanuel Saxe, at a Thursday meeting (403) with twenty of the sixty-eight students who were in Dr. Fred Newman’s sections last term, told them that the grades that had been submitted would be accepted by the School.

Dr. Newman revealed that Dean Saxe would not accept the grades that he originally recorded, which was “extremely close to last week’s Ticker report of fifty-eight ‘A’s’ and two ‘B’s.’” (Dr. Newman did not have his records with him when interviewed yesterday.)

“In light of all of the factors concerned in the matter,” said Dean Saxe, “the only equitable solution was to accept the grades.”

However, students checked their grades in the Registrar’s office and discovered that some students said they were to receive.

Several of the students who discovered the discrepancies have decided to take the matter to the Committee on Course and Standing.

The grades that were accepted and filed on the students’ record were, according to Dean Saxe: seven “A’s” and twenty-five “B’s” in philosophy 1C (Introduction to Philosophy), and ten “A’s” and twenty-three “B’s” in 2Q.

Uptown Faculty Reaches Compromise Over Deputy

A compromise was reached Thursday afternoon among Uptown faculty members over the nomination of a man to fill the newly created position of provost. The provost will serve as vice-president to Buell Gallagher, president of City College.

The struggle revolves around the techinicalities of how to suggest a candidate to Dr. Gallagher. He had proposed that a specially elected faculty committee suggest candidates, while a substantial number of professors instead urged that a candidate be determined by a vote of all faculty members.

The faculty decided Thursday, 259 to 83 out of 752 possible votes, to hold a ballot and also elect a nomination committee.

The dispute began last fall after a group of some twenty-five faculty members, including eleven department chairman, decided to make an issue of selecting the new provost as a vehicle for attempting reforms at the College.

The major issue at hand is the role that the provost will serve. Faculty members seek represen-

Regents Vote Is Expected

The State Board of Regents will meet for the fourth time Thursday and Friday to consider once again the Board of Higher Education’s proposal for the formation of the Baruch College.

The Regents have failed three times in the past to approve the new college.

A spokesman for Dr. Robert McCandlish, the assistant commissioner for higher education planning, stated that “action should be taken on the proposal at this meeting one way or another.”

The proposal has been under advisement for one month, but it has not been actuated at this meeting, the spokesman added.
Dear Editor of The Ticker:

I would like to congratulate Mr. David Hart on the fine position he has given to the Ticker Association. His attitude of favoring publication is perhaps a more frugal in their budgets. I was not aware that the Ticker Association had such a generous attitude and perhaps the Ticker could be a bit more frugal in their budget in order to better serve the students.

Sincerely,

Doctoral Work To Be United At Individual CUNY Colleges

Buell Gallagher, president of City College, disclosed Thursday plans to unit all individual CUNY colleges in a single academic work that is now scattered among four colleges—City, Brooklyn, Queens and Hunter. Gallagher said the University's Board of Regents has given him his first major task as the new university president.

Gallagher's decision to unite the programs at all the individual CUNY colleges is in accordance with the goals of the administration in unifying the colleges. The administration is also planning to create a new university campus in the Bronx next year.

Gallagher has long been a proponent of unification and has been working towards it for several years. His plan involves the creation of a new university campus in the Bronx next year, which will bring all the individual colleges under one roof.

The plan is expected to be implemented in the fall of 1968 and will involve the transfer of all academic programs to the new campus. This will include the departments of arts and sciences, education, business, and social sciences.

Students Act Up in Class Under Influence of Synaesthesia

Every Tuesday and Thursday, twelve business students at the New York University School of Business gather to act out scenes from plays and articles in class, under the influence of synaesthesia.

The students have been gathering for months in the classroom, and the performances have been described as "sensational." The students, who are all business majors, have been given the opportunity to perform in their own way, and are enthusiastic about the experience.

Tinker News Briefs

Dr. Martin Showa, who is a member of the CUNY Board of Trustees, has announced that he will run for re-election later this year.

Showa has been a member of the Board of Trustees for several years, and is known for his work in education. He has been a strong advocate for the expansion of higher education in the city, and is expected to continue to work towards this goal if he is re-elected.

Priority Gap: ‘American Money Must ... Cure the Ills of America’

(From the following is the first of several articles written by the author of this column.)

A Rationalization

What was at stake in the march of the May 1st generation in the United States of America was not just a question of students’ rights or the right of the press to report on events, but a challenge to the very foundations of American society. The young people who participated in this movement were not just fighting for their own rights, but for the rights of all people to participate in the democratic process. The demands made were not just for the removal of certain barriers, but for the fundamental re-evaluation of the role of money in society. The American money system was seen as a tool of the rich and powerful, and as a means of controlling the lives of ordinary people. The protesters were demanding a radical change in the way society is run, a change that would put the needs of people before the needs of profit.

Logic and Ethics

Administration is an agency of the state. It is impossible to run any system efficiently without the use of some form of social organization, or the creation of a hierarchy of power, and the redefinition of rights and duties of individuals. It is impossible for a man to have the right to demand that he does not have the power to demand. The democratic process is not a means of seeking individual rights, but a means of seeking social rights, and making society more just.

The issue of American society is not just about the right to vote, or the right to free speech, but about the right to a fair and just society. The administration of the state is not just an expression of power, but an expression of the will of the people. The administration of the state is not just a tool of the rich, but a tool of the people. The administration of the state is not just a means of control, but a means of empowerment.

The administration of the state is not just a tool of the rich, but a tool of the people. The administration of the state is not just a means of control, but a means of empowerment.

Joo Seasons, Joo Sad

With nothing to do on this cold winter day,
Until then I'll wait for the icy snow to clear.
Green bud on the trees, flowers on the ground,
Now I wait for the spring to renew my being.

No one to love, no one to hold.
I searched for a reason and then I knew,
Our personal cost in the quality of life. From the immortal General
Hersey, renowned head of the Selective Service System, a memo written by the man who managed the draft and the draft-age men who were called to serve in the armed forces of the United States,
I was to write a letter of protest, I was to write a letter of refusal.

If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,
If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,
If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,
If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,
If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended.

If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,
If the war was not to be stopped, if the draft was not to be ended,

If your major is listed here, IBM would like to talk with you March 15th.

Sign up for an interview at your placement office—even if you're headed for graduate school or military service. You can help our customers solve problems in such diverse areas as government, business, law, education, medicine, science, and the humanities.

Whatever your major, you can do a lot of good things at IBM. Change the world (maybe). Continue your education (certainly, through plans such as our Tuition Refund Program). And have a wide choice of places to work (we have over 300 locations throughout the United States).

What to do next

We're on campus to interview—for careers in Marketing, Computer Applications, Programming, Research, Design and Development, Manufacturing, and Finance and Administration. If you can't make a campus interview, send an outline of your interests and educational background to P. J. Knowles, IBM Corporation, 425 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022. We're an equal opportunity employer.
Fencers Top Scarlet; Lion Meet Postponed

The City College parriers, in the midst of a mildly dis­appointed rest this weekend, came to the winning road with an easy 19-1 triumph over New York University before the Scarlet's grum on February 10. The visitors swept the epee division, with Ron Linton, Bill Cher­nick and Simon Alsher finishing first, second and third, respectively.

Steve Lieberman led the sabre­men to a 7-2 triumph. Lieberman went through three matches un­scathed. The follists had their problems, though. Only Bill Bor­kowski (2-1) came through with a winning mark, as Rutgers gained a 6-3 verdict.

The triumph over Rutgers in dual Penn­NYC went by as an anticlimax in the Nittany Lions' den. However, a dearth of officials necessitated the postponement of the match. It is unknown whether the meet will be rescheduled for another date.

The Lavender parried back to the winning road with an easy 20-0 triumph over Southern Connecticut. It was the third consecutive victory for the City parriers, who are looking forward to the Eastern and National Championships, which will take place in M.I.T. on Saturday, March 1.

Harriers Bridesmaids to Host Queens in CUNY—Birns and Davis Gain Wins

Despite taking two individual gold medals and a victory in the mile relay, the Beaver tracksters were unable to break the indoor monopoly Queens has held over the rest of the City University schools.

The riverfront, 67-63 points, outdistanced City (42) for their fourth consecutive City University championship, Brooklyn (32) and Hunter (27) trailed in Saturday's meet, which was held at Queens College Saturday.

The freshman, led by Jeff Wid­fogel, took team honors, beating Queens, 61-32.

The Beaver's' reliable, Karl Birns, took the gold medal in the shot-put with a heave of 42 feet, six inches. Earlier, in the Madi­son Square Garden Invitational on February 3, Birns set a School mark of 47 feet, six inches, a throw which bettered his own standard by 34 inches.

City's other individual winner was Don Davis, who captured the mile relay with a time of 3:04.4. Earlier, in the Madison Square Garden Invitational on February 3, Birns set a School mark of 47 feet, six inches, a throw which bettered his own standard by 34 inches.
