Student Council Creates Interim Government

Current Setup Revamped; Petitions Available Today

Student Council, seeing an urgency for early planning, completely revised its organizational structure Thursday in the hope of lightening the problems that it expects to generate once again assuming the powers of a new student constitution to be presented to the entire student body next semester for approval.

He must have served at least one year as a junior officer of the organization in question, and the student government in question must have been approved under his jurisdiction. The student government in question must have been established under the jurisdiction of the student government for at least two years.

Requirement Raised For Admission To Fifteen Units of City University

Applicants to the City University of New York are required to have a minimum of fifteen units of college credit. The average of these units must be at least 2.5. This requirement applies to all applicants, regardless of their academic standing or personal characteristics.

Dr. Albert Bowker
Chairman of the Board
New York, New York

Dr. Bowker and the Board of Trustees are pleased to announce that the requirement has been raised effective immediately.

Frimer Runs For Position

Harold Frimer, '69, is running for the position of Student Council President. Frimer is a senior at the School of Business and Public Administration and has been a member of the Student Council for three years.

Frimer believes that the Student Council needs a leader who is dedicated to the needs of the students and the school. He plans to work closely with the administration to improve the student experience and make the school a better place to be.

Frimer is a political science major and has been involved in campus politics for several years. He is a member of the Student Government Association and has been a leader in several campus organizations.

Frimer is running on a platform of greater student involvement in decision-making and a commitment to improving the student experience. He believes that the Student Council should be more responsive to the needs of the students and that the school should be more accountable to the students.

Frimer is looking forward to meeting the students and hearing their thoughts on the future of the school. He is confident that he can lead the Student Council in the direction that the students want to see.

Tragedy in Memphis

The world was struck with tragedy Thursday night when Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was gunned down while sitting in a Memphis motel parking lot. The death of the civil rights fighter for equal rights touched a nerve in the nation. The sacrifice, the hard work, the struggle, can never be undone. That is the way it was for all of those who peacefully sought freedom, those who peacefully died for freedom. If Dr. King lived not for the Civil Rights Act, he died for the Civil Rights Act.

The same bullet that violently took the life of Dr. King damaged the lives of several other people. It is not to say that the bullet was not guilty but it is to say that it is the people who caused the bullet to be fired. The people who fired the bullet, those who fought him, those who jeered at him, must be mourned with the people who died. For the lives that are lost are not the lives of criminals, but the lives of those who worked so hard to bring about justice and freedom for all Americans.

Individual students on the new structure, Martin Luther King, must be mourned with the people who died on his day of burial. This did not occur. In- stead of two courses strung out for the 10 o'clock hour, there was nothing. Foreen and why classes were to be suspended was a question. The talk was of a policy concerning the suspension of classes. But the omission of Baruch School, which will go down in the annals of history as the crime that was committed, was definitely made. Calling the administrative offices did no good as we got the idea and could not help us. The student, left to his own resources, had the school been closed. The objections and protests of his colleagues were ignored. The determination of the Baruch School was definitely made. Calling the administrative offices did no good as we got the idea and could not help us.

Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Family
Atlanta, Georgia.

Dear Mrs. King:

We were shocked and dismayed at the murder of your husband, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

We express our deepest sympathy to you at this very sad and trying time.

Your husband devoted himself to the betterment of mankind throughout his life.

His pledge to non-violence was a proof of his deep respect for his fellow human beings.

His leadership and guidance will surely be missed by all Americans.

We can only hope that his work will be continued and he shall not have died in vain.

Respectfully yours for the cause of peace and brotherhood,

The Student Council of the Baruch School of the City College of New York
"I was wrong about IBM. You can get into the mainstream here with a liberal arts degree!"

"I used to think IBM was a place for engineers, scientists, and machines.

"But not for liberal arts graduates. And definitely not for American History majors, like me. (This is John Robohm, an IBM Marketing Representative specializing in banking.)"

"Then I talked with an IBM interviewer. He explained that much of the work at IBM is solving problems. So if you have a logical mind, you could go into areas like programming or marketting. Both of which are in the heart of IBM's business."

"My job is helping banks use computers. Which is nearly as technical as it sounds. You deal with people a lot more than with machines."

"At first, the idea of sales appalled me. You know, you think of Willy Loman and so on. But marketing at IBM is entirely different. You're a problem solver. You have to come up with new solutions for every customer."

"I guess that's what makes the job so interesting. That and the level of people you deal with. I usually work directly with the president of the bank. You get a lot of responsibility in this job very soon after you start. And if you're good, your income goes along with it."

What John has said covers only a small part of the IBM story. For more facts, visit your campus placement office. Or send an outline of your career interests and educational background to E.L. Knowles, IBM Corporation, Dept. C, 425 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y.10022. We're an equal opportunity employer.
The Dodgers, like the Giants, always seem to have enough to win. Bunning, notwithstanding, the Pirates will finish sixth.

The Cubs, Braves and Dodgers seem to be a notch ahead of these two and a notch below the top two. The rising Cubs should slip to fifth despite the fact that they will be a better baseball team than they were last year. The dross of the Mississippi River, from whom are expected nothing, may finally show something. The talented Dixies for fourth.

The improved Dodgers should challenge for the flag, much through the genius of Walter Alston. L.A. for third.

The Cards have it all: hitting, pitching, speed and a championship swagger. They are the best team in the league. The Red Sox have nearly as much. I don't pick repeaters in the National League. Cincy to beat out St. Louis.

The American League—a study in mediocrity in 1967—should be jumbled again.

Despite a new environment and genuine improve- ment, the Oakland Athletics should finish in the basement.

The Gil Hodges-less Senators will slide down a bit though they really have not gotten worse. Such is the fate of baseball clubs. Washington for ninth. Here we come to the Yankees. Should the big men recapture their glory days and the pitching holds up, this team could be "Red Sox" to a high position. However, this prudent columnist pegs them seventh.

The pitching-rich Indians come from the Giant-Pirate mold. The Indians for seventh.

Detroit, a club which has beaten the expansion woes, should finish a strong fifth.

The Angels, a club which has broken the expansion curse, will be the surprise team of 1968. As three teams remain, the clarity with which I see the picture is frightening; I see one team being better than the other two.

The Orioles and Twins should finish third and second respectively, the White Sox.

Baltimore, trying to come back, has the best player in the American League in Frank Robinson and the Twins are generally solid. But I don't believe either can match Chicago.

The Chisox, with an unbelievable pitching staff, have bolstered their attack with the additions of Tommy Davis, Luis Aparicio and Russ Snyder. Should the pitching falter, Eddie Stanky will take care of the rest.

So the Reds will meet the White Sox. Okay? Idiot.

Too much N.Y.U. hitting, too much N.Y.U. pitching, and too much of N.Y.U.'s fabulous center-fielder, Jim Cardasis, was for the Mets.

Cardasis was a one-man wrecking crew. In six appearances at the plate he collected four hits, including a towering 410-foot home run, a walk, drove in four runs and scored twice.

Cardasis was having his big field day, the N.Y.U. mound corps was having a day of its own. Elsewhere "They do it all" and K. Peterson combined to limit the Beavers to six hits while striking out thirteen men on base. N.Y.U. scored two runs in the first of Cardasis', homer and two

Netmen Win

The netmen are off and running and this can mean nothing but trouble for the rest of the Metropolitan Conference members.

The Lavender ripped its first two foes, Fairleigh Dickinson (Tuesday) and Yeshiva (Thursday), by convincing 9-2 scores. The latter, a road clash, was the Beavers' first league match of the campaign.

Yesterday's clash against Iona and Saturday's encounter with Brooklyn Poly were postponed in deference to the death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Captain Richie Ravner and Sophomore Dave Goldstein, coupled in both triumphs over Drexel, one of which was earned on for eigth-inning heroics.

The scoring was well-distributed in the club seemed to jell as improvement over their opening day performance.

Though they won 9-1, an Wednesday, the stickmen's performance was less than scintillating. Playing against a patsy, the Lavender had trouble getting together and functioning as a team, the score notwithstanding.

Curtin, playing his first varsity game, netted three goals and two assists. Ravner had 2 goals with 3 assists.

Harper was excellent in the cage with 16 saves, 12 in the first half. His shutdown was stymied with less than four minutes remaining in the game as the visitors scored following an horrendous defensive mixup. The Beavers led by 8-0 at the time.

Curtin's diamondmen lost to the Beavers' Ohio Field. The Lavender was again the fifth inning, when the Beavers sent 13 men to the plate and scored twice. Four runs were earned. Bernie Martin eluding a towering 410-foot home run, a walk, drove in four runs and scored twice. Bernie "Gump" Halper was a one-man wrecking crew. The rest of the team was, for the most part, ineffective. The Lavender opened the sea- son right with a 9-1 triumph over Marist in the season opener.

An all-around fine team performance was the key as the City College lacrosse team defeated Drexel, 13-4, Saturday afternoon.
